LOCAL MATTERS.

An Apology.—If there are any errors in the TRANSCRIPT this morning, or if there are not just as many news items as usual we trust that our readers will overlook the defects this week and remember that we have recently installed a new press and it requires some little time to properly adjust its machinery. The putting in of other new machinery during the week has necessitated a curtailment of type setting and this we offer as our apology to our readers for whatever defects the paper may have this week.

Will Take Pasteur Treatment.—Mr. James Hickey, who was bitten by his dog last week as reported in the TRANSCRIPT, has, upon the advice of his physician, Dr. H. G. Simpers, gone to Baltimore to take the Pasteur treatment.

Vessel Beached.—The schooner Pioneer, Capt. Jack Nickerson, sprung a leak at the mouth of Southeast Creek last Friday, and had to be beached. She was beached with 6,000 bushels of corn, which has been gotten off without damage.

Found Dead in Bed.—Frank Carroll, colored, who for sometime had been hostler for Hope H. Barroll, Esq., was found dead in bed at his home on Court street on Christmas morning. His wife, Martha Carroll, awoke at six o'clock and called her husband, but received no answer, he having sometime during the night died without her awakening. An inquest was held which decided that death was due to apoplexy.

We Are Moved.—The TRANSCRIPT office and fixtures have been moved during the week to the new building on Court street recently erected on the Westcott lot. The editorial rooms and offices are located in the offices formerly occupied by Charles T. Westcott, Esq., and more recently by Mr. R. Snowden Thomas. Our friends and patrons will please bear this in mind. We shall be glad to see all our readers whenever they desire to call. You'll always find a welcome at the TRANSCRIPT office.

Serious Fire Averted.—The home of Mr. and Mrs. George B. McWhorter, on Washington avenue, narrowly escaped destruction by fire on Christmas night. The family had finished their evening meal and had retired to the sitting room, when a few minutes later the dining room was discovered to be a mass of flame and smoke. It is supposed that the coal oil lamp was upset by a pet dog playfully pulling at the table cloth. Only the timely discovery of the fire and prompt assistance by some gentlemen who happened to be passing averted a serious loss and the destruction of the property. Much of the furniture of the room was badly damaged.

Wedding Anniversary.

Thursday night of last week was the scene of a wedding anniversay at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Hayes, in honor of their being married forty years without a week's separation. The beautiful home near Galena was tastefully decorated by the five daughters, thus making it an occasion worthy of publication. Mr. and Mrs. Hayes looked young until there was seen beside them six children, the youngest 21 and oldest nearly forty. This is one case in many where six children are living and enjoying good health, four being away from home and two home. Yet those away often sing the song, "There is no place like home," and they thus find it so whenever they go. Mr. and Mrs. Hayes were recipients of many and usefel presents which naturally made an addition to their happiness.

Those present were: Bride and groom and children, Mr. and Mrs. L.C. Hayes, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Money, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Petticord, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Weer, Misses Annie and Bessie Hayes and L. J. Hayes, the only son, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hicks, Rev. T. C. Smoot and wife, Mr. and Mrs. J. F.M. Woodall, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Bolton, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bolton, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Todd, Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Powell, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Caldwell, Dr. E. A. Scott and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Caldwell, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rosin, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Redding, Mr. and Mrs. Merchant, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Ford, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Kelley, Mr. and Mrs. Chas Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Redding, Mr. Dempsey and daughters, Misses Carrie and Gertie, Misses Annie and Jennie Parr, Misses Annie and Ruth Bramble, Miss Mary Walters, Mr. Raymond Prettyman and lady friend, Miss Merchant, Mr. G. E. Hicks and lady, Miss Whitaker: Messrs. Henry Parr, F. P. Cochran, J. T. Shallcross, Capt. Benj. Walters, Tilden Shafer, R. A. Shallcross, Edw., Robt. and Thomas Bramble, Edw. Jones and Mr. Merchant, and Charles and Thomas Appleber, and three grand children. Rev. Smoot made an address very appropriate for the occasion. A sumptuous supper was served.

Letter to Stam Drug Co.

Chestertown, Md.

Dear Sirs: We suspect you'd like the tale, how a woman beat two hardware dealers in Girard, Pa.

We tried our best to get those men to sell Devoe lead-and-zink in that bright town; and failed. Reluctantly took Mrs. E. R. Bowman, druggist.

They said they couldn't sell paints for more than $1.25 a gallon. Mrs. Bowman can. She has sold about all the paint, that has been sold there since.

She knew Devoe; had sold our artists' materials. Had some sense and force, besides; she easily learned that cheap is dear in paint, and told the people.

Mr. Burt Young bought a gallon Devoe for rooms that had always taken a gallon of other paint; had half left.

Mr E H Hiller, jeweler, painted Devoe, and says it goes further—no particulars.

Mr John Hanna, grocer, thought it expensive before he bought it: brought back nearly half of his paint, and said it was the cheapest job he ever had.

Mrs Bowman reports universal satisfaction. So much for a cheap-paint town with a bright woman in it.

Yours truly
F W DEVOE & Co

DON'T NEGLECT A COLD.

Neglected Colds Lead to Consumption.

PE-RU-NA CURES COLDS AND COUGHS.

How Pretty Miss Powell Was Restored to Health by Pe-ru-na.

Miss Lillian Powell, Aurora, Ind., writes:

"Last spring I caught a severe cold from getting my feet wet and being out in the rain, and in a day I had a most miserable cold, but I neglected it, thinking it would soon leave me. But it hung to me for two weeks, when I felt something must be done, as my condition was serious.

"I had heard so much about Peruna and in its praise that I bought a bottle and began taking it regularly. I was gratified to find that in a week the cold and cough was broken up, and three weeks' treatment completely restored my usual good health."—Lillian Powell.

How Consumption Develops.

Nine cases of consumption out of ten occur in this way:

A person catches cold. The cold is not properly cured, and another cold is caught.

This cold is dilly-dallied with, either by no treatment whatever or some treatment that is ineffectual, and the cold continues.

Then another cold is caught and a cough develops. Cough syrups are resorted to, but they give only temporary relief.

By and by the patient gets tired of taking medicines and cough syrups and gives up in despair.

The cold continues to develop and the cough grows worse.

Then the doctor is called in, only to discover that the patient is in the first stages of consumption.

It was just in this way that Miss Powell, of Aurora, Ind., became sick. She caught a cold, and not considering it serious, neglected it, thinking as many others do, that it would "wear off."

However, it clung to her tenaciously, and in two weeks she found her health in a serious condition.

Fortunately, Peruna had been brought to her notice, and she took a course of this remedy before it was too late.

In a week the cough and cold were broken, and a three weeks' treatment completely restored her to health.

This is what Peruna is doing all the while. Not a day, and probably not an hour passes in which some one does not have a similar experience with Peruna.

Cure the Slight Colds and Avoid Consumption.

The first step toward consumption is a cold. The next step is a failure to cure it promptly. The third step is the development of catarrh, which gradually becomes chronic. The fourth step, the catarrh begins to spread from the head to the throat, then to the bronchial tubes, and finally into the lungs. It is then consumption in the first stage.

At any time during the progress of catarrh, from the first onset of the cold to its final settlement in the lungs, Peruna can be relied upon to stop the disease. If you have taken a cold, buy Peruna without delay. One bottle in the beginning will do more good than a half dozen bottles after the catarrh has fastened itself on the lungs.

Thousands of Testimonials.

We have on file thousands of testimonials from people who have been cured of catarrh of the lungs by Peruna. We can give our readers only a slight glimpse of the vast array of unsolicited endorsements we are receiving every month. No other physician in the world has received such a volume of enthusiastic letters of thanks as Dr. Hartman for Peruna.
