POETRY.

LITTLE CHILDREN.

Little children!—bright ideals,
Glancing in a poet's dream,
Fancy's fairest magic picture,
So beautiful they seem.
The sculptor's rarest grouping,
Of soul-lit eye and brow,
Moulded form and chiselled feature
Are smiling on you now.

Little children!—budding flowers,
Pure and fresh with morning dews,
Hiding in your leafy bowers,
Glancing out with sunny hues.
Fresh young flowers peeping up
To deck life's thorny way,
With folded leaf and rosy cup,
To bless you day by day.

Little children!—bright young angels,
Bending from their homes above,
Pure companions, lovely teachers,
Winning by their trusting love!
Heed their messages from Heaven,
Lisped in accents soft and mild;
With loving smile and guardian care,
Cherish each little lov'd child.

Miscellaneous.

ADVICES TO PARENTS.—"An Anxious Father" writes thus:—"What am I to do with my boy? he is one of the d—l's unaccountables. Steals his mother's sweetmeats; worries cats, dogs and girls; fights all the small boys; plays truant four days out of five; and threatens to set the house on fire, if I do not quit thrashing him." My very dear and afflicted Sir, the only remedy that we wot of, in such a distressing case, is to have him run over by an omnibus, or blown up with gun powder. He will immediately become a fine, intelligent, interesting, and amiable boy; and should he not survive the operation, you will have the satisfaction of learning from all the papers that condole with you, that his loss was deeply lamented by a large circle of loving and mourning friends and acquaintances.—Knickerbocker.

THE EXTENT OF OUR COUNTRY.—It has been computed that the United States have a frontier line of 10,750 miles, a sea coast of 5,430 miles, a lake coast of 1,160 miles. One of its rivers is twice as long as the Danube, the largest river in Europe. The Ohio is 600 miles longer than the Rhine, and the noble Hudson has a navigation in the "Empire State" one hundred and twenty miles longer than the Thames. Within Louisiana are bayous and creeks, almost unknown, that would shame by comparison, the Tiber or Seine. The State of Virginia alone is one third larger than England. The State of Ohio contains three thousand square miles more than Scotland. The harbor of New York receives the vessels that navigate rivers, canals, and lakes to the extent of three thousand miles, equal to the distance from America to Europe. From the capital of Maine to New Orleans is two hundred miles further than from London to Constantinople, a route that would cross England, Belgium, a part of Prussia, Germany, Austria, and Turkey.—Washington Intelligencer.

SCHOOL DISCIPLINE.—In Coleridge's time, the discipline at Christ's hospital was ultra Spartan; all domestic ties were to be put aside.—"Boy!" Coleridge remembered Bower saying to him once, when he was crying the first day after his return after the holidays, "Boy! the school is your father! Boy! the school is your mother! Boy! the school is your sister! the school is your first cousin, and your second cousin, and all the rest of your relations! Let's have no more crying."

PUFFING.—It is said the cost of the cigars daily smoking in New York city, is $10,000.—Supposing the population of that city to be half a million, and that of the United States 20,000,000, which is near enough to the truth, the expense of all the smoking in the country, will be $400,000 daily, or $146,000,000 annually. Deducting one-third of this sum for miscalculation or overstatement, the balance will construct the Pacific railroad and telegraph, and buy the cars. Let the smokers hold a convention, and turn their puffing into railing, and the work is done.

A GOOD WIFE.—When a daughter remarks: 'Mother I would not hire help, I can assist you to do all the work in the kitchen,' set it down that she will mrke a good wife.

A MATTER OF FORM.—A distinguished physician protests in these words, against the practice of tight lacing:—

"Ladies, with corsets tight, do pray have done,
Lest fell disease precipitate your face;
The nymph who truly cares for 'Number 1,'
Should never seek to look like 'Number 8.'"

MORALS OF MANNERS.—The following epigram, though writien long ago, has lost none of its applicability by time:

"What's fashionable, I'll maintain,
Is always right," cries sprightly Jane;
"Ah! would to heav'n!" cried graver Sue,
"What's right, were fashionable too!"

LANGUAGE.—There are three thousand six hundred and sixty-four known languages now used in the world. Of these, nine hundred and thirty-seven are Asiatic; five hundred and eighty-seven European; two hundred and seventy-six African; and one thousand six hundred and twenty-four American languages and dialects.

☞The Richmond Whig tells a pretty fair story of a Virginia negro boy who professed to be dreadfully alarmed at the cholera. He took to the woods to avoid it, and was there found asleep. Being asked why he went to the woods he said "to pray." "But," said the overseer, "how was it you went to sleep?" "Don't know, massa, 'zackly," responded the negro, "but I spec I must over-prayed myself."

☞Nothing sets so wide a mark between a vulgar and noble soul, as the respect and reverential love of womanhood. A man who is always sneering at woman, is generally either a coarse profligate or a coarser bigot.

MARTIN & WHITLEY'S NATIONAL TONIC—A certain cure for Ague and Fever and Dyspepsia.—In our summer and fall months, many people of our country are prostrated by Bilious Fever and Ague and Fever. It has been our particular study to find out some remedy to stop that dreadful scourge, and think, in this TONIC, we have effected the great object. It is also, we think, the very best remedy in Dyspepsia, and if our directions are followed, will not fail to effect a cure.—Read the pamphlets which you can get from one of our Agents, gratis, and we think you will be convinced we are right.

READ THE FOLLOWING.

Baltimore, January 11th 1849.

Messrs. Martin & Whitley:

Gents.—I have used your National Tonic for Dyspepsia, which has troubled me to a great extent for some years, and am pleased to say to you it has cured me effectually, I had taken a good deal of medicine hoping to be relieved, but nothing has done me any service till I took your Tonic.

DR. MARTIN'S Universal Purgative Pills.—A remedy for all seasons, and safe at all times. The most superficial observer is aware that one great cause of disease is COSTIVENESS and that by the timely taking of a PURGATIVE, the system is often restored to its usual health.—By such a course, the lives of hundreds are saved, who would otherwise have fallen victims to disease. These Pills remove all irritating matter in the bowels, and excite the biliary functions to a healthy action. The press is teeming with the recommendations of Purgative Pills, gotten up by men who know nothing of the effects of medicine on the human system, and hence are endangering the lives of thousands, who are daily using them. In offering, therefore, these Pills, we think are doing a public benefit, as they are the prescription of a regular physician, who has used them in his practice for ten or fifteen years, and with great success

DR. MARTIN'S Compound syrup of Wild Cherry, is the best Medicine for Coughs, Colds, Consuption, Asthma, spitting of Blood, &c. Read the following:

Baltimore, October 28th 1848.

Dr. Martin—Dear Sir: Having received such great relief from the use of your Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry, I have determined to send you a statement of my case as it was when I commenced the use of it. I had had for some weeks a violent cough, and was under the care of my family physician, the late Dr. R. A. Durkee whose experience in such matters no man ever doubted, yet my cough continued to increase and I was so much reduced in flesh; I as well as my family, became alarmed. In December last I called on you, as I knew you had for many years back attended my brother, the late Dr. Charles Tilden of Caroline county Md., whose wife and two children and himself have since died of consumption You seemed very doubtful of my case, as I thought and remarked you knew of nothing that would benefit me more than the free use of your 'Syrup of Wild Cherry,' if I would observe a rigid diet such as is laid down in your pamphlet on consumption, which accompanies each bottle of the Syrup Upon due reflection I at once commenced following your advice and soon found a great change for the better, and in a few weeks I was enabled to attend to my business. My children have had violent colds, attended with a cough—such is my confidence in the syrup I immediately resort to it, and always with success. Parents I think, should always keep it in their houses, as it will relieve the worst cough if taken in time. You can make use of this statement in any way you see proper.

Yours respectfully,
THOMAS E. TILDEN,
Merchant Tailor.
