Come to the Store

When a man comes to the store to buy his paint, he needs impartial, intelligent and friendly advice. A wrong selection of material is often a serious mistake, and a mistake in paint lasts a good while. We make it our business to know as much as possible about the goods we sell, and our customers are welcome to the benefit of this imformation. Perhaps we can give you some useful hints about color and decoration, as well as some general knowledge on the subject of paint. Our staple stock includes

HUNTING ROCK HARES.

A Fleet Little Animal Found Among the Sand Hills of Arabia.

How long the Arab has inhabited the deserts of the near east is a much discussed question. How long he has indulged in the old time sport of falconry it is equally difficult to say. Sure it is that this keen blooded race has not lived all these centuries in those sun scorched wastes without some sort of recreation, and his delights today are probably much the same as those of his ancestors a couple of thousand years ago.

Curious to see what natural sport these barren regions could afford, the writer accepted an invitation to join a party of Syrian Arabs for a week's hunting. Our quarry was the rock hare, an animal about the size of an English rabbit, but with very fine developed ears, which frequents these deserts in small numbers, living on what scanty herbage it can find.

We started straight away in search of it by forming a chain about a quarter of a mile long and drawing likely tracts of desert in long semicircular sweeps. The herbage was very scant indeed. These sand hills, being scorched by a tropical sun and having a yearly rainfall of only some three inches, support but few plants of any kind. I noticed a few insectivorous birds pursuing their prey with keen voracity, as though they found it hard to make a living, but saw no trace of wild animals.

On we marched in silent order, merely following the lead of our falcon bearer, whose face seemed invariable, his manner unmoved. Hours passed by. It was now 11 o'clock. The sun was hot above us, drying up our parched lips. I began to think that rock hares must be a myth when suddenly the hound leaped forward with a great bound, our horses instinctively following at full gallop. But we had not far to go. It was only a "garbour." The hound was soon up to it, and I thought it was all over; but, no—the little creature leaped, as it were, right out of his mouth.

One spring brought the greyhound alongside again, but again this agile quadruped had slipped out of the grasp of his sharp teeth. The speed of the tiny thing was so great and its actions so sudden that it was as much as the eye could do to follow it at all. Again its great pursuer sprang upon it; again this nimble animal slipped from his very jaws. But it was no good. It was outclassed in size. These great leaps shook the very life breath from its frail body.

At last it fell an easy prey to its relentless enemy, and one crunch put an end to its miseries. It was an interesting little beast, its body about the size of a rat. It carried a fine long coat, was gray on the back, with white under the belly, having a long bony tail with a pretty tuft at the end. But its hind legs were its great feature. They were very long, being, like those of the kangaroo, specially adapted for jumping. I noted, too, that each hind foot was provided with only three toes, whereas on those of the fore legs, which were very short, there were the normal five. Altogether it was a most interesting and sporting specimen.—"Near East."

Descendants of David.

The history of the Sassoons is one of the most dramatic in the very dramatic story of the Hebrew race. The original Sassoon was a Bombay merchant, but the family is descended from a group known as Ibn Shoshan, who at one time held the position of nossi of Toledo. The name Shoshan, which signifies "lily" in Hebrew, was gradually transformed into Sassoon, signifying "gladness." The family claim Davidic descent, and Abraham Sassoon, who flourished in the seventeenth century, stated that he was a direct descendant of Shephatiah, the fifth son of David. Not only are there many references to the name in Hebrew mediaeval literature, but mention of it is made in the Talmud.—London M. A. P.

Three Tightwads.

Speaking of tightwads, a Texas paper says: It is reported that three of the stingiest men in the state were in town yesterday. One of them will not drink as much water as he wants unless it is from another man's well. The second forbids any of his family from writing anything but a small hand, as it is a waste of ink to make large letters. The third stops his clock at night in order to save wear and tear on the machinery. All of them decline to take their county paper on the ground that it is a terrible strain on their spectacles to read newspapers even in the daytime.

FAIRFIELD FED FOWLS FEEL FINE

Changes of season affect cattle because their digestive organs have to become accustomed to the change of diet. This causes milk production to decrease. Forced feeding makes matters worse. Fairfield's Milk Producer fed regularly will prevent all these troubles and keep up production.

Don't blame the hen when she doesn't lay. She can't manufacture eggs unless you supply her with the material. Get busy now and begin feeding her Fairfields Egg Producer regularly and see how quickly she gets down to business.

The Four Stomaches of the Cow will surely not respond to the elements intended to act only upon the One Stomach of the Horse. That is why there is a Separate Fairfield's Blood Tonic for each of these animals. Also separate Tonics for Poultry and for Hogs. (Ask for Fairfield's Free Stock Book.)

"Lung Fever," the Veterinary said. A Post Mortem proved it to be Worms. This happens in thousands of cases every year, all over the country. But Horses that are regularly fed Fairfield's Blood Tonic for Horses Only, never have Worms and never get Lung Fever.

Thirty-five per cent, of an egg is composed of mineral elements. The hen's regular food seldom contains these in the proper proportions. Fairfield's Egg Producer contains every element in the right proportions and proper combinations, and in a form easily assimilated.

Hog raisers in many sections of the United States have completely driven Hog Cholera from the cummunity by the regular use of Fairfield's Blood Tonic for Hogs Only. Fairfield's Hog Tonic makes the blood pure and drives disease from the system.

Feed will be high this Fall. All undigested food is wasted. Save money and increase your horse's health by the regular feeding of Fairfield's Blood Tonic for Horses Only. It perfects digestion, so that all the nutriment is secured from the food.

Make large profits now. The price of eggs is rising. Fairfield's Egg Producer is garanteed to increase the egg output by perfecting the hen's digestion, keeping her in health, thus hastening the development of her eggs. (Ask for Fairfield's Free Book).
