Jan. 31 Deadline Wheat Insurance

Wheat growers in Maryland who applied for crop insurance policies on their 1939 winter wheat crop will have until January 31 to pay the premiums which will put their policies in force, according to Paul E. Nystrom, State crop insurance supervisor.

"All crop insurance premiums must be paid by January 31," he stated. "The only exception to that deadline is in the case of those growers whose premium notices expire after the closing date. In that case the expiration stated on the premium notice will be the final date at which premium payments may be received in county offices."

Morethan 1,500 wheat growers in Maryland have applied for insurance protection on their 1939 crop under the new wheat crop insurance program which guarantees either 50 or 75 per cent of the average yield against all unavoidable losses, Mr. Nystrom said.

Practically all growers have now received notices of the amount of premium due, he pointed out, emphasizing that the crop insurance protection is not operative on a farm until the premium has been paid, and that growers will not be able to get insurance on their 1939 wheat crop if premiums are not paid within the time limit announced.

Farm Bureau Ask Two Per Cent Flat Income Leavy

Delegates to the twenty-third annual meeting of the Maryland Farm Bureau last week indorsed a flat income tax of two and a half per cent on individuals and one and a half per cent on corporations.

The indorsement came at the end of a debate on the report of the tax committee of the meeting, which was held at the Lord Baltimore Hotel. The delegates recommended also that a referendum on the graduated income tax be provided for at next year's election.

The session also voted opposition to the Patman anti-chain-store bill, an increase in the tax on beer to $1 a barrel, and the elimination of the present tax on intangibles with the substitution of a five per cent. tax on income from intangibles.

The thirty-four resolutions adopted during the morning session ranged from public safety to reciprocal tariff agreements. It was recommened that jail sentences be imposed on those convicted of driving while under the influence of liquor, and that the magistrates courts be reorganized "to the end that our traffic laws would be more efficiently administered."

The State was urged to appropriate $200,000 for the eradication of Bang's disease and $60,000 for the control of the Japanese beetle.

In addition to the resolutions the delegates elected a successor to H. H. Nuttle, president of the bureau for the last three yearss, who announced that he was forced to resign because of private business.

P. C. Turner, former vice-president, was advanced to the presidency, and C. C. Phillips became vice-president. C. E. Wise, Jr., was elected secretary-treasurer.

At the afternoon meeting of the Maryland Agricultural Society, Mr. Turner and Mr. Phillips were elected to the same offices in that organization. Dr. T. B. Symons, acting dean of the University of Maryland, was reelected treasurer.

The delegates to the bureau meeting also urged the passage of a State grading law during the present session of the Legislature in order to raise the producers prices for fresh fruit and vegetables.

They resolved a State law to permit the voluntary establishment of grades and standards would prevent the dumping of low-grade produce and do much to improve the situation.

They also adopted a resolution condemning the diversion of motor revenue to other than road use, and urged the increased use of convict labor for the construction and maintenance of farm to market roads.

"Now, sir, you can hear the watch ticking. Are you satisfied that it is in the handkerchief?" asked the conjurer.

"More than satisfied," was the reply. "The watch I gave you hasn't gone for six months."

Primitive Indeed!

Explorer: "I have made a remarkable discovery: a tribe of human beings that possess no weapon of warfare."

Listener: "Is that so? Didn't think there was any part of the world that uncivilized."
