
Imagine the happiness of the women who get Hoosier Cabinets this Holiday season

Think of the joy of preparing over a thousand meals a year with a saving of half the time and energy.

Your wife will appreciate this Hoosier Cabinet as a million other women do.

You may not know why the Hoosier has such a marvelous sale—but she knows.

She knows about the sanitary sliding table of pure aluminum or porcelain—the spotless white cupboards uncluttered by partitions. She knows how the utensil tray and deep metal drawers save time, how the shaker flour sifter avoids grit and won't wear out; how the metal caster sockets make it easy to move without breaking casters. The food guide, calendar and pencil holder are among the 40 labor-saving features that give the Hoosier unrivaled supremacy for her.

So we gladly guarantee that if she isn't delighted with the Hoosier for Christmas we'll refund every penny.

And you can start now on the remarkably liberal terms of $1 down and $1 per week.

[COMMUNICATED ARTICLE]

ARTICLE IV.

TO THE EDITOR:

Members of the Seventh-day Adventist denomination in this town have been apprised of a movement that has been started toward organizing all the far eastern lands into one division conference similar to those in North America and Europe, which would mean the co-operation of the local constituency in increasing the funds of the whole General Conference for missionary purposes to between $800,000 and $900,000 a year. The believers have cheerfully contributed toward raising about $600,000 for foreign mission endeavor last year, and they will gladly add their proportionate increase in order to see the advent movement penetrate further into the dark corners of the earth.

The local followers have been notified that a petition has just recently been received at the world's headquarters of the denomination in Washington, D. C., from Shanghai, China, asking that Japan, Korea, Manchuria, China, Mongolia, India, the Philippines, the Malay Peninsula, Siam, Australasia, the East Indies, and other countries in the Orient be set off into what would be known as the Asiastic Division, and that the constituency in North America be asked to give financial support to the plan to extend the denomination in all these places in a more organized way than ever before.

The plan, if adopted, would require the sending out of a large number of ministers, Bible workers, school teachers and other gospel laborers, as well as an increase in the missionary appropriations of $200,000 a year over what it was last year.

The petition asking that these plans be made at the coming Fall Council of the General Conference was signed by Elder A. G. Daniells, president of the General Conference, who has been on a tour among the mission stations of the far east for the past year; R. C. Porter, superintendent of the Chinese, Japanese, and Philippine Island fields; J. E. Fulton, president of the Australasian Union Conference, and H. R. Salisbury, superintendent of the India Union Mission.

"Nearly all of these teeming millions are heathen," says the petition. "They are intensely religious, but they grope in the darkness of superstition and idolatry. In many respects this is unquestionably the most difficult field in the world to evangelize. But this work, as great and as difficult as it is, must be done, and Seventh-day Adventists have put their hands to the task."

In mentioning the pressing demands, the petition urged that suitable places of worship where the ministers and other gospel workers could be brought together for instruction, encouragement, and organization, be erected; that more training schools be established and teachers sent out for the training of young men and women who have accepted Christianity and are anxious to carry the "good news" to their own people, that printing plants be provided where literature in the native languages might be prepared for distribution.

The field now known as the Asiatic Division, which includes China, Manchuia, Japan, Korea, the Philippines, the India Union Mission, and Australasia are operated separately. In asking that all be united in one division, the petition states there will be more efficiency in administrative work if such were the case.

The petitioners believe that by uniting these fields in one division the leaders can be united in one administrative body, which would enable them to hold regular meetings for counsel regarding their most difficult and perplexing questions, and so have the decisions of a larger and more experienced body to guide them in making requests to the home mission board and in formulating policies for local fields.

Rock Hall Items.

(Held from last week.)

A bill which is now in the House of Representatives in Washington and up for publication has been received by the Waterman's Protective Association, and copies were made of the same and published through the town. Any comments or suggestions to the secretary, James T. Taylor will be recorded and carefully considered. Should action be deemed necessary steps will be taken for the disposition of the bill in so far as it is in the power of the association to adjust it.

Raymond and Walter Lewis went to Baltimore this week where they have accepted a position with the Swift Packing Company.

John Downey has opened the Chesapeake Hotel and invites the patronage of their old customers.

Uncle Jim Jones has moved from the old postoffice building to that vacated by Snowden Maslin and will continue to conduct his ice cream and soft drink store.

Quite a number of Rock Hall's people have heavy colds and symptoms of la grippe. We hope the Philadelphia type does not hit this town.

The Mechanics have installed a new Powers' motion picture machine and erected a storm shield in front of their hall. A big improvement, we'll assure you.

The Sanitary Commission has again held up the School Board on the sewerage question, thus making another change in the plans of moving in the building at this time.

There is a rumor afloat to the effect that the School Board hasn't sufficient funds to open the new school. This is a mistake, as every step is being taken to put in every department those things which will make this a modern-equipped school in every way, and there is nothing further than the sewerage to be completed.

Benj. Ashley, of Gratitude, moved his family to Baltimore for the winter last Wednesday. His large house will be closed.

Russell Downey has received the famous "bear cat racer" which is to be given as premiums at this store. It has attracted children from all over this section of the county. This racer is one of the neatest and most complete toy autos ever seen in this town.

Sterling Downey was a Baltimore visitor this week.

Mr. Milton Jones and family are at their home near Wesley Chapel for a week. During this time a house party was tendered to their many friends of Rock Hall and neighborhood.

R. N. Greenhawk spent the Christmas holidays with his family here.

Miss Mattie Hannah spent the holidays with her sister, Mrs. William Taylor, and Rock Hall friends, returning to her home in Baltimore Monday morning.

Miss Mary Davis resumed her duties at the People's Bank in this town after an absence of ten weeks caused from a fall, which fractured her ankle. Miss Davis was much missed from the bank and her many friends were glad to see her out again.
