THE BEST TEST

Is the Test of Time.

Years ago this Chestertown resident told of good results from using Doan's Kidney Pills. Now Mr. Robinson confirms the former statement—says there has been no return of the trouble. Can Chestertown people ask for more convincing testimony?

S. F. Robinson, stationary engineer, Front street, Chestertown, says: "Besides being troubled with my kidneys, I suffered from backaches. The most annoying trouble was irregular action of my kidneys and it was accompanied by pain. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and found them the best medicine I had ever taken. They gave me entire relief." (Statement given May 27, 1911.)

On August 15, 1916, Mr. Robinson added: "You can still use my testimonial as you have been doing in the past, as I have had no trouble since I was cured. I have had no occasion to use Doan's Kidney Pills for some time."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Robinson has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

GETTING AHEAD.

Are You Giving the Last Man on the Job a Chance to Pass You?

Don't laugh at that green, ungainly looking but hardworking and always on the job fellow who has joined your force. In a few years you may be asking him for a job.

No; it is not at all impossible. There are thousands of such instances. You can think of some yourself.

That new chap may not be as nattily dressed as you are, he may not be as keen at repartee, he may not be a "fast stepper," but he may possess the characteristics by which he may climb fast while you slip back.

The time you spend enjoying yourself he may be using in study which will help him to advance.

One of these days there may be a change in the business and the young man of whom you are making sport may step into the high place.

Should that time come do not be so small as to say that he must have had some kind of "pull" or "that he was a fool who worked overtime and did everything he could to get a stand in." Maybe he did. You might have done the same. So shut up and take your medicine.

But do not let the next one get ahead of you.—Toledo Times.

GRANDEES OF SPAIN.

Curious Hat Etiquette That Marks Their Three Classes.

A grandee of Spain enjoys the privilege, granted him many hundreds of years ago, of remaining "covered" in the presence of his sovereign. This custom dates from the period when, according to the theory then held, the king was "the first among equals."

The ancient formula always at the coronation of the kings of old Spain was, "We, your equals, choose you to reign over us." And the king assented in this declaration of his nobles.

There was a time when all grandees of Spain wore their hats in the presence of the king, but in time the idea of caste began to prevail even among the grandees, with the result that they were eventually divided into three classes, and these classes were distinguished by the hat etiquette.

The first class entered the royal presence covered; the second class entered uncovered and, after an advance of a few steps, put on their hats, unbidden by the king, and the third class also entered uncovered, but did not "cover" until requested to do so by the king. Then, according to the etiquette, "all were equal."

There have been grandees who were not Spaniards, notably the Duke of Wellington, upon whom the Cortes conferred the honor in recognition of his services to the state.

Judging a Cigar.

How can the ordinary person who smokes tell a good cigar from a poor one? This question was put to a prominent manufacturer, who answered in this fashion:

"There is but one way that I know. In order to get everything that is in a cigar—the aroma and taste—it is necessary to light the cigar, take a couple of puffs, then allow the smoke to pass through the nostrils. When you do this you get the two things that are in a weed, the aroma and the taste.

"It is interesting to a man who knows the business to see a smoker take a cigar, look at it and then place it to his nose for a smell. Neither the look nor smell of an unlighted cigar means anything.

"I repeat, it is necessary to light it and start to smoke it in order to learn whether it is good or not."—New York Globe.

People Who Do Not Whistle.

Arabia must be a heaven for those whose lives are made a burden to them by the whistler. The Arab maintains that a whistler's mouth cannot be purified for forty days and nights, and they assert of the whistler that Satan has touched his body and caused him to produce the offensive sound. Then there are the natives of the Tonga islands, Polynesia, who hold that it is a sin to whistle, as it is an act disrespectful to God. Even in some districts in north Germany villagers declare that if one whistles in the evening it makes the angels weep.

Understanding.

In its wider acceptation understanding is the power of perceiving and conceiving, exclusive of the sensibility; the power of dealing with the impressions of sense and composing them into wholes, according to a law of unity, and in its most comprehensive meaning it includes even simple apprehension. —Coleridge.

Easy Enough.

"I don't see how there ever came to be so many words in the world!" exclaimed a girl who was studying her spelling lesson.

"Why, sis," said her brother, "they come through folks quarreling. Then, you know, one word always brings on another."—London Tit-Bits.

He Was In It.

"I want to cancel my lease."

"Cancel? Why, isn't the apartment just as I represented it?"

"Too much so. You advertised 'continuous hot water,' but I didn't know that it referred to the neighbors."—New York Times.

Useless.

"Your wife has filed suit for divorce. Are you going to contest it?"

"No. It wouldn't do me any good. I've lost every argument I ever had with her."—Exchange.

Awakened Interest In Kent

A very enthusiastic and well-attended meeting of the chairmen of the various departments of the Women's Survey and Preparedness work of Kent county, was held at the Chestertown High School on Monday afternoon of this week. Representatives from nearly every section of the county were present thus proving to the Commission that interest is being awakened all over the county.

Galena reported through Mrs. Lecates, that the Red Cross and Navy League combined had a membership of 67 and had collected $108. Miss Emma Shafer reported that Kennedyville Navy League had collected $19. St. James M. P. Church, thro Miss Linda Morris, has collected $34. Chestertown M. E. Church, thro' Mrs. C. Norman Jefferson $28.50. The M. P. Church, thro' Mrs. James W. Crouch, $27.75. The P. E. Church, thro' Mrs. Gooding, $46.50. The Catholic Church, Mrs. Dixon, chairman, indirectly reported $6. The Woman's Literary Club of Chestertown has appropriated out of its treasury $10.50 for Red Cross work. The Chestertown W. C. T. U. is making and filling 25 comfort bags.

Among those who reported regarding the food conservation in their localities were: Mrs. Harry Williams, of Worton; Miss Hope Hackett, Still Pond; Mrs. Harry Hoyle, Fairlee; Mrs. John Brice, Rock Hall; Mrs. Brooks, Quaker Neck; Mrs. Alexander Mair, Betterton; Mrs. Clarense Cornelius, Locust Grove, Mrs. E. A. Scott, Galena.

The next county meeting will be held on Monday, July 2, in the High school at Chestertown at 2 P. M.

On last Monday at the High School, Mrs. Jane Robinson organized two classes in surgical dressings, which will meet, one on Tuesday morning and the other on Friday morning of each week at 10 A. M. in the High school. On Tuesday afternoons she will have the Intermediate class. Already she has about 25 volunteers to make surgical dressings, and still others who are willing to do sewing both at the school and at home. Any others who might be interested to do any Red Cross work other than knitting, which comes under the Navy League work, will please come to the High school next Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock when each can select the sort of work most desired, also the day which best suits to attend.

Mrs. Robinson is quite anxious to receive contributions with which to purchase supplies. Encourage her by, at least, sending a small contribution. Every "bit" helps.

The Commission is anxious to have some volunteers to do typewriting when 'tis necessary. Perhaps some of the Commercial Course graduates of this year or of former years might be willing to give a few hours each week when needed. And then there will be other volunteers needed to do various things in the course of time to aid the Preparedness Commission. Will these volunteers kindly send or give their names to any member of the Commission. Signed,

MRS. W. W. HUBBARD, Chairman:
MRS. FRED. G. USILTON,
MRS. P. A. M. BROOKS,
MRS. C. N. SATTERFIELD,
MRS. A. L. HARRIS.
