Local Matters.

ORPHANS' COURT.—The harvest season having commenced, we are requested to make public that the Orphans' Court at its last session adjourned for two weeks. Its next meeting will be held on Tuesday, July 9th.

HARVEST.—The wheat harvest in our county has been generally commenced, and the weather has thus far been favorable for the work. From all parts of the county we hear a flattering prospect for a heavy yield, and the crop will perhaps be the largest that ever rewarded the labors of our industrious agriculturists.

EXCURSION.—The Sabbath School Excursion to Annapolis, on Tuesday last, was in every respect successful. The steamer left Chestertown about 2 o'clock, P.M., with between three and four hundred persons on board, and arrived at Annapolis a few minutes before six. Besides visiting the Capitol and other places of note, the excursionists were allowed the privilege of entering the Naval Academy grounds, where were quartered the Sixth Regiment of New York, numbering about 1200 men. At this place the excursionists were treated with the utmost courtesy and kindness by the troops, the officers seeming to take great pleasure in conversing with their visitors, and in showing them everything of interest about the grounds—the famous Winans' steam gun being among the greatest curiosties. Leaving Annapolis at 7½ o'clock, the trip home was refreshing and delightful, and we have no doubt but that every one was highly delighted with the trip. The members of the Kennedyville Band, deserves the thanks of all for their kindness and generosity in furnishing music for the occasion, which contributed greatly to the enjoyment of the excursionists. The net amount realized from the excursion is $97.07, which will be appropriated to the purchase of books for the Sabbath School Library.

DEATHS.

In Centreville, on Thursday morning, after a brief illness, JAMES K. BORDLEY, in the 24 h year of his age. Sincerely do we regret the melancholy duty of having to record the death of our young friend, so soon! He was a Printer by trade, and many of our readers will remember him in connection with the "Bell Union," a campaign paper issued from this office during the last Presidential canvass. He has since that time been living in Centreville, where his relatives reside. In recording his death, we are glad to announce that he left to his friends the assurance that he has passed from a world of sorrows to realms of eternal bliss. He was taken with dysentery on Friday week, and sank rapidly; he professed conversion on Wednesday morning, and during the day seemed to be happy and prepared for the change that awaited him. He died in peace, and we trust that his spirit is in Heaven!

OBITUARY.

In the death of WILLIAM MOFFETT, Esq., aged 48 years, and announced last week, another solemn and striking illustration is afforded of the uncertainty of life, and of the truth, that "in the midst of life, we are in death." We cannot yet realize, in its power and import, the fact, that Mr. M. is really dead, and that we shall see and converse with him no more on earth! For nearly thirty years his acquaintance was enjoyed, and for a long time his familiar form, and face and voice were the sure premonitors of the laugh, the jest and of friendly greeting. True, indeed, is the language of Sterling—

"How strange is death to life! and yet how sure,
The law which dooms all living things to die!
What'er is outward cannot long endure,
And all that lasts, eludes the subtlest eye."

The deceased was apparently in robust health, up to the morning of his demise, and retired the previous night, with but slight intimations of indisposition. For a month or more previous his usual flow of spirits was partially affected, at the condition of public affairs, and like all true patriots, he was deeply concerned for the preservation and integrity of his country.

Perhaps it does not become a friend, to speak of the merits of a departed one, over whom was dropped the tear of friendship and of sorrow. But as "tears are the noble language of the eye," we can now write impartially of the deceased; not as one without infirmity and frailty, but as possessing traits which endeared him to those he warmly esteemed. He had in an eminent degree the faculty of judging of human character; he could read men as books, and was able to estimate and discriminate motive and conduct with an accuracy rarely attained. As connected with this or as a consequence of it, he had a large fund of the strongest common sense, upon practical subjects, and was rarely mistaken in his judgment upon 'men and things." He was candid, frank, and without concealment. He was not blind to the faults or imperfections of others, nor did he ever attribute a good quality not possessed, nor approbation of conduct he did not approve. With all his friendship, he "Would not flatter Neptune for his Trident,

Or Jove for his power to thunder."

His veracity and integrity were ever unimpeached, and even the suspicion of the most suspicious ever questioned the one or doubted the other. Whatever difficulties or embarrassments may at any time have obscured the brightness of his hopes or prospects, or whatever the allurements of fortune might be, he was

"Like an unmoved rock.
Washed whiter, but not shaken with the shock."

His professions of friendship were sincere, and he was not fickle nor lavish in his regards. While he manifested to all, the courtesies and attentions of good neighborhood and citizenship, he had like most men, some friends, whom he could "grapple by the soul, with hooks of steel." As a kind neighbor, a benefactor to the poor—an indulgent master—an affectionate and generous husband and father, and a genuine lover of the best interests of his country we need not speak in terms of commendation, as those who knew him intimately, can best appreciate his qualities of head and heart. But he is gone. May he rest in peace—may the breezes blow gently and the flowers bloom sweetly upon his grave. May the snows of winter lie softly on his last resting place, while the memory of his beloved ones, and of his friends will often recur with a melancholly pleasure to the scenes and occurrences of the past, and now,

"Like some low and mournful spell,
We whisper but one word—Farewell."

M'CORMICK'S Reaper and Mower, FOR 1861.

THIS Machine is again offered to farmers for the Harvest of 1861. Twenty-five thousand have been sold during the past six years, and six thousand will be in the market this season. These facts alone, we think, should be sufficient evidence of its superiority. The workmanship and matrial are of the best quality. The following advantages are claimed for the Machine:

1st—It cuts a wider swath in reaping and mowing than other Machines.

2d—Light draught in proportion to amount of work done.

3d—The patent angular finger, which enables us to mow with a sickle edge knife. With this whole crops may be cut without grinding.

4th—The weight of the Mower is but 670 lbs.

5th—An improved divider point and track clearer, which effectually separates the cut from the standing grass.

6th—The Casten Wheel on outside of platform which entirely relieves the horses from pressure in turning.

7th—Narrow finger beam for mowing, preventing the carrying of grass.

8th—A patent cleaner or sickle, which entirely prevents choking in mowing.

9th.—An improved arrangement for throwing in and out of gear.

10th—The reel can be used in mowing when desired, which is sometimes important, though generally used without.

ABRAHAM HURLOCK AGAINST ESTRANGE GOULD AND HESTER J. GOULD.

Bill on the Equity Side of the Circuit Court for Kent County.

June 19th, 1861.

THE object of this suit is to procure a Decree for the sale of certain mortgaged premises in Kent County, which were on the fifteenth day of March in the year Eighteen hundred and fifty-eight, Mortgaged by the Defendants to the Complainant. The Bill states that on or about the fifteenth day of March in the year Eighteen hundred and fifty-eight, the said Defendants conveyed certain Real Estate in Kent County, containing Four Hundred and One Acres, more or less, which is particularly described in the said Bill and its accompanying Exhibit, unto the Complainant by way of Mortgage to secure the payment of the sum of Six Thousand Three hundred and Ninety Dollars and Eighty Eight Cents, with legal interest thereon from the first day of January in the year Eighteen hundred and fifty eight, payable by instalments as therein stated: That the instalment of Fifteen Hundred and Ninety Seven Dollars and Seventy-two Cents, due and payable on the first day of January in the year Eighteen hundred and sixty-one, with interest on Three Thousand One Hundred and Ninety-five Dollars and Forty-four Cents from the first day of January Eighteen hundred and sixty, to the first day of January Eighteen hundred and sixty-one, and interest from the said last named period on the said sum of Fifteen Hundred and Ninety-Seven Dollars and Seventy-two Cents; remain due and unpaid to the Complainant: And that the Decree may pass for a sale of the mortgaged premises, and stand as security for the remaining and last instalment of said Mortgage debt due on the first day of January next.

It is therefore adjudged and ordered, that the Complainant, by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published on the Eastern Shore of Maryland, once in each of four sucessive weeks before the twenty-second day of July next, give notice to the said absent Defendants of the object and substance of this Bill; and warn them to appear in this Court in person or by Solicitor, on or before the twenty second day of October next, to answer the premises, and shew cause if any they have why a Decree ought not to pass as prayed.

JOHF A. FOREMAN AND OTHERS vs. BENJAMIN S. START & OTHERS.

Bill on the Equity Side of the Circuit Court for Kent County.

June 20th, 1861.

THE object of the Bill is to obtain a Decree for the sale of from Sixty to Eighty Acres of land in Worton in Kent County, Maryland, commonly called "Bien's Meadows," "Calebs Discovery," and "Resurvey," to divide the proceeds among the persons entitled. The Bill states that Jacob Foreman died seized of said lands, about 1795, leaving eight children and heirs at law, to wit: Jacob, Phebe, Maria, William, Ezekiel, Edward, John, and Mary.—That John A. Foreman and Jane Pearce (wife of William Pearce) are the descendants of Jacob. Phebe died without issue; That the said Benjamin S. Start and his brothers and sisters are the descendants of Maria (who intermarried with Michael Lyzer,) that William is dead with no issue now living; that Elizabeth Fowler (wife of Thomas Fowler) is the descendant of Ezekiel; that Edward, Jane and Wesley Foreman, Charles Wesley Page, Eunuce Page, Henrietta Page, Clara Ann Page, are the descendants of Edward; that James A. Foreman, M. E. Breed (wife of D. F. Breed,) Adeline E. Foreman and William E. Foreman, and S. E. Derrickson (wife of L. L. Derrickson,) are the descendants of John; that Mary intermarried with James Grimes, and is dead without issue; that the said John A. Foreman and wife, William Pearce and wife, and Thomas Fowler and wife have conveyed their interest in the said Real Estate to Hyland P. Smith, and that the said real estate is incapable of division, and that it would be to the interest and advantage of all parties that the same should be sold and the proceeds be distributed according to their respective proportions.

It is thereupon ordered and adjudged that the complainants by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published on the Eastern Shore of Maryland, once in each of four successive weeks, before the twenty second day of July next, give notice to the absent Defendants of the object and subsance of this Bill, and warn them to appear in this court in person or by solicitor, on or before the twenty-second day of October next to answer the premises, and show cause if any they have, why a Decree ought not to pass as prayed.
