Visit of the President to the French Frigate Gassendi.

The President's visit to the French frigate Gassendi on Saturday was an event of historical importance. It was the first time the President of the United States ever went on board a foreign vessel of war, and the first French vessel of war that ever came to Washington.

The President was received with all the honors paid to crowned heads, being the same as usually shown the Emperor. The yards were manned and the ship was dressed with flags, the American National ensign floated at the main, and French flag at the fore, mizzen and peak. The national salute was fired on the arrival of the President and again on his departure.—Admiral Reynard received him at the foot of the ladder, and the seamen who manned the yards seven times shouted "Vive le President" on his arriving and leaving.

Captain Gautier entertained the President hospitably in his cabin, and presented the officers of the ship. The President was attended to the landing by a full guard of marines and the band, who played the National airs, Captain Dahlgren and the other officers of the Yard receiving him in a body.

The President was accompanied on board by the Secretary of State and by Captain Dahlgren.

Furniture—Good and Cheap.—Mr. W. E. Anderson, at his Extensive Furniture Warerooms, 10 and 12 Second street, near the Post Office, Baltimore, has on hand a large and handsome assortment of Household Furniture, which he offers at greatly reduced prices. Persons visiting the city should not fail to examine his stock before making their purchases, as we are confident it will be to their interest to do so.
