SOUTHERN NEWS.

Affairs at Richmond.

The following extract of a letter from Mr. Thomas Robinson, a gentleman whose name is well known, dated Richmond, June 13, and addressed to his wife, gives important testimony in regard to the condition of things in Richmond:

You have no idea of the destruction of property, and the scarcity of everything. It is with great difficulty clothing can be obtained for our soldiers now, and it is getting worse every day, and I expect we shall need even our bed clothing to clothe ourselves and our negroes.

You speak of wishing to get to Richmond. Let me advise you not to come. Friends that were glad to see you before would not be now. It is near upon starvation here now with every one. Board $3 50 per day, and nothing to eat at that. Mr. Dudley was kind enough to give me a room at the depot, and he and I, and four or five others, are messing and doing our own marketing and cooking. I will give you a sample of what we pay for what we have to eat: Bacon, 60 cents per lb.; beef and lamb, do.; coffee, $1 50 per lb.; sugar, 60 cts.; greens, 50 cts. per head; bread, 10 cts. a loaf; molasses $4 per gal.

Both armies are entrenching themselves around this place, and I do not think a fight will take place for some time.

A Battle near Charleston.

An account of a battle fought near Charleston on Monday, the 15th inst., is published in the Richmond papers of Saturday last. The engagement took place on James Island, the fight lasting all day, and both sides losing heavily. The troops engaged in the battle were four Federal regiments, with a battery of Parrott guns, and a part of four Confederate regiments and a battery. Other accounts claim a complete Confederate victory, stating that the Federals were repulsed three times with a loss estimated at four hundred killed, wounded and prisoners. The Confederate loss is reported at forty killed and one hundred wounded. The battle was expected to be renewed, and although claiming a success, one of the Charleston papers expressed great apprehensions for the safety of the city, in consequence of the exhausted condition of the Southern troops, and the loss of many of their officers. The battle was fought in the vicinity of Secessionville, about four miles from Charleston.

A REBEL BRIG. GENERAL HANGED BY NORTH CAROLINA TROOPS.

[From the Newbern Progress, June 16.]

Six North Carolina regiments have been disbanded by the Rebels at Richmond, and are now under guard, previous to which, however, they hung their Brigadier General. Thus, again, is furnished more testimony corroborative of the truth of our statements that there is a Union sentiment growing in this State, and a wide-spread dissatisfaction with the Southern Confederacy. The above is from sources that entitle it to credit.

[From the Milwaukie News, 19th.]

WISCONSIN TO MARYLAND.—Greeting: The Wisconsin Assembly sends across the States to Maryland the assertion of sympathy and friendship—the assurance that our people will stand by her in the maintenance of the Constitution with all its provisions unimpaired. In a single week the popular branch of our Legislature has blotted out the odious personal liberty law, and endorsed the Union platform of a Slaveholding State. A triumph for patriotism this, worth an age of labor. Maryland and Wisconsin pledged to a common declaration of principles! Let the whole world rejoice. Let us hope that the war between States living in the same Union and under the same Constitution is hereafter ended, and that the age of fraternity and equality has come once more. We are proud that Wisconsin has been the first of all the States of the great Northwest to extend the olive branch of peace on this question of slavery.

We are sure that this generous, manly and fraternal action of the Wisconsin Assembly will do much to renew the attachment of the hearts of Maryland men to the Union—aye, more than all the bayonets which ever glittered in the streets of Baltimore. It will beget confidence and mutual respect. It will tend to restore that ancient political harmony which the slavery agitators had destroyed. It will disarm Secessionism of its most powerful weapons. It will make Wisconsin and Maryland one in the Union—the protecting arch of the Constitution over all. Let the message of good will and fraternity go with a God-speed from the hearts of all our people!

ARREST OF A SPY AT NORFOLK.—On Wednesday morning a negro in the Norfolk market called the attention of one of our officers to a suspicious character, who was trying to get some one to take a box into the country near the town. He offered to pay three dollars to have it carried out to a certain Dr. White, living about three miles from Norfolk. Lieut. Imhoff, a Philadelphian, belonging to the First Delaware Regiment, arrested the young man, and took possession of the box. On examination it was found to contain oranges and lemons, but below them all were found a lot of letters, addressed to different parties in the South. Lieut. Imhoff went out to Dr. White's and took him into custody. A bag of letters was found in his possession, directed to the rebel Postmaster-General, also letters to the Adjutant-General at Richmond.—Phil. Inq.

Baltimore Grain Market.

Corrected from the "American," of Thursday.

WHEAT—Sales of some 1,000 bushels good and primee white at 145a155 cents; and 2,000 bushels common to prime red at 113a122 cents. Transactions in inferior Wheat continue unimportant; the supply of this description is heavy and with scarcely any demand no reliable quotations can be given.

CORN—Sales of fair to good dry white at 57a59 cents; inferior and damaged to ordinary do. at 40a54 cents; good dry yellow 53 cts., inferior and common to fair do. at 44a51 cents, the market closing inactive.

OATS—Sales of common to fair Maryland at 30a37 cents per bushel. Rye—66a67 cents.

DEATHS.

Departed this life, in Memphis, Tenn., the first week in May last, Mr. BENJAMIN C. VICKERS, aged 26 years, and fourth son of George Vickers, Esq., of Chestertown.

The death of Mr. V. was caused by a wound received at the battle of Shiloh, in the first week in April. The deceased was in the battle of Belmont and escaped unhurt. He was formerly in a large grocery house in this city, and displayed much talent and tact in his calling.

He was educated at Washington College, possessed considerable talent, was intelligent, quick in his perceptions, and of indomitable perseverance. No obstacle was too great for him to surmount. He was courteous, kind, and of noble and generous impulses. He was an affectionate and dutiful son, a kind brother and a true friend. His ear was ever open to hear, and hand ever ready to relieve, where distress or charity presented their claims. Had he lived, he would have become prominent and successful in his vocation.

Although he lingered and suffered in a land of strangers, yet there the heart of sympathy was found, and the soft hand of friends to smooth his dying pillow. It is said he died in "hope of a glorious resurrection." His parents and relatives have sustained a heavy loss, and a sad bereavement, but may they be consoled by the assurance of the Scriptures, that "although he cannot come to them, they can go to him." May he rest in peace, and although the affectionate hand of a mother may not be able to plant the flower at his grave, yet the consolation is, that he rests in peace, where the cannon's roar and the din of battle are not heard, and that in the morning of the resurrection he shall rise, clothed in white, and in a new body be caught up to dwell forever with the Lord.

[The above is copied from the Baltimore American of the 24th. We hope some friend will prepare a more extended notice.] *

In Broad Neck, on the 9th instant, MARGARET VIRGINIA, wife of John M. Hudson, in the 25th year of her age.

The deceased had been a professor of religion for many years. She was kind, gentle and forgiving. The death of this amiable and interesting woman has left a sad vacancy in the household from which she was so speedily removed. The deceased was a fond and devoted wife, an affectionate mother, a kind friend and a social and pleasant acquaintance. She led a quiet and peaceful life, and was beloved by all who knew her. She died in the full assurance of that life which never dies.

"Weep not fond husband weep,
Arise and breast the storm,
Her thou lovest doth but sleep,
She will awake to the new born morn.
Mourn not that she was taken
To Canaan's happy shore,
Where not a pang of suffering
Shall mar her quiet more.
Oh! could you hear the sweetness
Of her angelic strain,
Not life's best gift would tempt you
To wish her back again." S. J. R.

To the Farmers of Maryland.

THE undersigned having reason to believe certain commission merchants of Baltimore are using old orders of Farmers, exempting their grain from inspection under the law prior to the late amendment, for the purpose of withdrawing it from Inspection or Weighing under the amended law, contrary to the interest and intention of the Farmers,

I respectfully suggest to the Farmers that the amended law being for their protection, and reducing the fee for Weighing and Inspection to one quarter of a cent per bushel, the amount heretofore charged by the unofficial weighers, it is advisable that they revoke the old orders, written before the amendment, as the best way to prevent their being deprived of the benefit of the law so essential to their security, by commission merchants disposed to embarrass its execution. B. F. MAY,
Inspector General of Grain.
