AN INSIDE VIEW OF SECESSION.

Letter of a North Carolina Father to a Conscript Son.

The Washington Republican has received from Captain Harrover, a letter taken from the body of a Rebel soldier in one of the late battles in Maryland. We make the following extracts from this epistle, which illustrate one phase of this wicked rebellion.

——, North Carolina, July 4, 1862.

My Dear Son: * * * I hope these lines will find you doing as well as poor soldiers can. I have good news to write you: We have examined your age, and find you were born on the 18th of July, 1844; consequently the conscript law won't catch you. Show the enclosed certificate of your age to your Colonel, and come home, as you have a right. They say they have pressed all over and under the conscript age for ninety days longer. When that is out, come home, for you have as good a right to come as any of the rest. Though, I suppose, they will make some other law to hold you if they can, for they have broken three pledges already:—1. To let you all come home when your twelve months was out. 2. If you would enlist, they would give all furloughs to come home. 3. On the 16th they would let off all under and over age. They have not and will not fulfil one of these solemn pledges. They are not going to do anything they say they will, if they can help it, for they know they are badly whipped. Now they are conscripting. The conscripts here are the maddest men you ever saw. They say they don't intend to fight. They can make them go, but they can't make them fight. The most of them say they intend to go to the North the first chance; and I don't blame them, for there is no justice in such a war. There never will be peace till they kill off all the men, or they all rebel and come home; for it is given up by all the smartest men in this country that the North will whip—and the sooner the better. I don't want you to fire another gun at the North, if you can help it. Do like some of the rest—shirk out of it. They say it is no disgrace.

I heard this evening that —— started this morning for the army. He has gone after his son D——. He says he is under age, and he will fetch him home to stay. I would have sent you something by him, if I had known of his going. * * * *

We still remain, as ever, your affectionate father and mother until death.

In vain will the true-hearted father, mother, and dear friends look for the coming of the "dear boy." "Broken pledges" sent the son to the bloody field of death. Waiting hearts, which beat high with the hope of the speedy return of the loved one, will wait in vain. Hope, fear, doubt, and despair will follow each other, as the intelligence of "missing" is brought home. The better words of the father, "There is no justice in such a war," will burn into the hearts of many bereaved ones, who reflect for a moment on the cause of all this.

THE FORCES AT ANTIETAM.—The rebels, previously to the invasion of Maryland, boasted that their force on the Potomac was 150,000 men, and counted upon victory as a sure thing, as they believed McClellan had only 80,000 men. The rebels in the battle of Antietam say that all the divisions of their army were present in that fight. The force Gen. McClellan had in the battle is said to be between 80,000 and 90,000 men, so he has beaten an army 60,000 greater than his own, or more than half as large again. This is no ordinary achievement, but it does not satisfy quite the "on to Richmond" people, who think that dash supplies any disparity of numbers, and that 90,000 men ought to 'bag' 150,000.—Philadelphia Ledger.

THE ARMY ON ARLINGTON HEIGHTS.—A letter from an officer of the 15th Connecticut Regiment, dated Arlington Heights, Sept. 22, published in the New Haven Palladium, says:

"We have about us, within a circuit of say two miles, an army of not far from two hundred thousand troops—all of the new levy—and regiment after regiment is daily adding its thousand odd to the number."

Baltimore Grain Market.

Corrected from the "American," of Thursday.

WHEAT.—The receipts to-day at the Corn Exchange were 11,000 bushels Wheat. Sales reported of very choice white at 169a170 cents, common to fair sound do. at 150a165 cents, good and very prime red at 140a146 cts., common and ordinary do. 130a138 cts. per bushel.

CORN was in fair request. Sales of common to good white at 66a68 cts.; prime do. at 72 cts., and ordinary to good and prime yellow at prices ranging from 69a72 cts. per bushel, at which figures the market closed rather dull.

OATS were quiet and lower. Sales of old Maryland at 64a65 cts. and new do. at 30a40 cts. per bushel. RYE—fair to prime 68a73 cts.

NOTICE TO TAX-PAYERS!

YOUR TAXES FOR 1862 ARE NOW DUE, and the Collector for the Second Tax District of Kent county, hereby gives notice that the tax books are in his hands, and the amounts due by the Tax Payers are made out and he is ready to receive them. He most respectfully solicits prompt payment, as the demands upon the Collector for this year, both by the State and County, will not permit indulgence as heretofore. If Tax-Payers desired, there would be no difficulty in settling their Taxes promptly; but neglect of duty often is the cause of expense which in many cases exceed the Taxes itself.

The demands of the State this year, however, must of necessity be met more promptly than heretofore and the wants of those who have claims against the County will compel the Collector to be more rigid in his collections. He hopes, however, that the Tax-Payers will be prompt in their payments, and thus avoid the penalty for neglect of duty.

For the convenience of Tax-Payers, I will be in Chestertown every TUESDAY, THURSDAY and SATURDAY. Office in the Commissioners' Room, at the Court House.

☞ A discount of 5 per cent. is allowed on all State Tax paid on or before Sept. 1st; 4 per cent. if paid on or before October 1st; and 3 per cent. if paid on or before November 1st, 1862.

As the State Tax is far greater than heretofore, persons would do well to avail themselves of the discount.

TAX-PAYERS

TAKE NOTICE.

THE State and County Taxes for 1862, are now due, and the Collector for the First Tax District of Kent county hereby gives notice that the Tax Books are in his hands, and the amounts due by the Tax Payers are made out, and he is ready to receive them. He most respectfully solicits prompt payment, as the demands upon the Collector for this year, both by the State and County, will not permit indulgence as heretofore. If Tax-Payers desired, there would be no difficulty in settling their Taxes annually; but neglect of duty often is the cause of expense, which in many cases exceed the Taxes itself. The demands of the State this year, however, must of necessity be met more promptly than heretofore and the wants of those who have claims against the County will compel the Collector to be more rigid in his collections. He hopes, however, that the Tax Payers will be prompt in their payments and thus avoid the penalty for neglect of duty.

For the convenience of Tax-Payers, I will be at Chestertown on Tuesdays; on Wednesdays at Forktown and Leary's Store alternately; at home the balance of the week.

☞ A discount of 5 per cent. will be allowed on all State Tax paid on or before the 1st of September; 4 per cent. if paid on or before the 1st of October; and 3 per cent. if paid on or before the 1st of November, 1862.

As the State Tax is far greater than heretofore, persons would do well to avail themselves of the discount.

His long experience as a tanner (over twenty years,) enables him to select such a stock as cannot fail to please, and all that is necessary to convince the doubting is a visit to his establishment.

He is prepared at all times to purchase BARK, HIDES, CALF AND SHEEP SKINS, &c., at liberal rates in trade, or for the cash. Confident that such an enterprise must meet the approval of the public he respectfully solicits its patronage.
