FROM NEW ORLEANS.

The steamer Roanoke, from New Orleans Nov. 15, arrived at New York on Tuesday evening.

The New Orleans papers furnish some interesting intelligence. A series of orders had recently been issued by General Butler, which serve as additional proof that no difficulty can arise in his Department which he is not able to grasp.

The property within the district recently possessed by our forces under General Weitzel, to be known as the Lafourche District, is declared sequestered, and all sales or transfers of it are forbidden. This district comprises all the territory of Louisiana lying west of the Mississippi, excepting the parishes of Plaquemines and Jefferson. A Commission is appointed to take possession of the district, and the sugar plantations are to be worked by them where they are not worked by their owners, and negro or white labor may be employed at discretion. All property belonging to disloyal persons is to be inventoried and sold for the benefit of the Government, under the provisions of the Confiscation Act. Another order suppresses distilleries and other manufactories of liquors. Another one announces that any officer found drinking intoxicating liquors in any public drinking place will be recommended to the President for dismissal from the service.

COTTON ABUNDANT.—A correspondent with the Army of the Mississippi, has the following:

At the different stations along the Mobile and Ohio and Mississippi and Central Railway, I have seen a great many cotton buyers, not a few of them hailing from Cincinnati. There is a good deal of cotton in Southern Tennessee, and it is being brought in far more rapidly than the trains will carry it away. The present price of the Southern staple is forty to forty-five and sometimes forty-eight cents; the market in the country being quite irregular as to the purchasing rate.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE AND POLICY.—New York Tribune of Saturday says:

"In his message, which is nearly finished, Mr. Lincoln will argue his emancipation policy at length, not only in regard to the military proclamation of emancipation in the disloyal States, but in regard to his gradual emancipation policy in the border slave States."

Baltimore Grain Market.

CHEERING NEWS!

A VIGOROUS PROSECUTION OF THE BUSINESS DETERMINED UPON!

I. FRANK & BRO.,

HAVE the pleasure of announcing to their friends and patrons that they are determined to carry on their business with such a degree of energy and enterprise as not to be outdone by any other house on this shore. In pursuance thereof they have laid in and are able to exhibit to the examination of those who may favor them with their custom, a of everything belonging to their line of business, namely:

SPLENDID ASSORTMENT

BUSINESS and DRESS SUITS,
A FIRST RATE ARTICLE OF SHOP-MADE
Boots & Shoes,
HATS AND CAPS, AND FURNISHING GOODS,

Notwithstanding the unprecedented rise in the price of materials they will endeavor to sell at as small an advance as possible, enjoying as they do as great if not greater facilities than any other house in procuring their goods at the lowest possible rates.

Fifty-five cents will be allowed for washed WOOL. Also, Feathers, and any other kind of marketable Produce, taken in exchange for Goods. I. FRANK & BRO.
Chestertown, Oct. 11, 1862.

Auctioneering.

THE subscriber having taken out regular Auctioneer's License, as required by law, is prepared to officiate in the capacity of Crier at Vendues, and Public Sales of every description. The law requires all sales to be conducted by a licensed auctioneer, under the penalty of three times the amount of auctioneer's license, one half of which fine goes to the informer.

☞Public Sales are regularly made at my AUCTION ROOMS in Chestertown, and persons having goods of any description, which they wish to dispose of, may send them there.

CHARLES STANLEY,
oc18tf. Chestertown.

Take Notice.

MY BOOKS are now ready, and all persons indebted for Taxes are hereby notified that I intend to close up my collections promptly, without regard to persons. For the convenience of Tax-Payers, I will be at MILLINGTON on Tuesdays; at CHESTERVILLE on Wednesdays; HEAD OF SASSAFRAS on Thursdays; at GALENA on Saturdays, and at home on Fridays and Mondays.

I do not intend to give any further notice, but will require persons to pay their Taxes promptly, or I shall proceed to collect the same by distress. WM. C. MEGINNIS, Collector 3d District, Kent county.
