HERE'S WHEN

A Scottish minister was on his usual visiting rounds when he came across one of his old friends. "And how has the world been treating you, Jock?" asked the minister.

BETTERTON

More than a hundred persons lined the shore here on Wednesday night until after midnight to watch the havoc made by the tide, the highest since 1917. The water came up to the public road in front of the stores. The boats were carried early in the evening as far inland as the Rigbie steps. In the morning after the tide had reached, the Tolchester Pier, where most of the damage was done, looked liked a Racer Dip and the board walk that circles the water front was left five feet in the air. Workmen began at once to get the town in order for the two regattas the Corinthian and the Betterton, to be held Friday, Saturday and Sunday and it is expected that they will be the success that they had hoped to be. The Betterton House will entertain the members of the Corinthian Club while they are here.
