Mr. Hamilton, United States Senator Elect.

We find in the Hagerstown Mail an interesting sketch of the Hon. William T. Hamilton, the newly elected United States Senator for Maryland, from which the following extracts are taken:

Mr. Hamilton was born in Hagerstown, and is now forty-seven years of age. His parents were residents of Boonsboro', in which town the foundation of his education was laid. His mother died when he was six years of age, and his father some two years thereafter, leaving as his surviving brother, now, the Rev. William Hamilton, D. D., so well known to the religious communities of Baltimore and Washington. He was adopted by his maternal uncles—three of the then oldest citizens of Hagerstown—remarkable for their devotion to business and to democratic principles of the old Jeffersonian school. His education was continued at Hagerstown Academy, and completed at Jefferson College, Canonsburg, Pa. Upon his return to Hagerstown he studied law under the Hon. John Thomson Mason, and was admitted to the bar of Washington county in 1345. In 1846 he was nominated upon the democratic ticket and elected to the House of Delegates.

The prominent measure of that session of the Legislature was the payment of the interest upon the debt of the State, recommended by Gov. Pratt, which received the support of Mr. Hamilton. In 1847 he was again nominated upon the democratic ticket, for the same position, and although he ran largely at the head of his ticket, was defeated—the whigs having that year carried the county. In 1848 he was placed upon the Cass electoral ticket for this congressional district. In 1849 he received from the democratic party his first nomination for Congress, and was elected in a close and very animated contest, though the district had the year before given a large majority for General Taylor. The absorbing issue of the day in the district was the tariff. The results of the congressional elections in the different States were ascertained, and it was believed that the vote of Maryland would be decisive of the ascendancy of the democratic party in the House. Mr. Hamilton advocated the democratic principle of duties for revenue, in joint discussion with his able competitor throughout the district, and in the heart of the manufacturing interests of Allegany county, proclaimed and maintained the democratic creed, and was elected by a signal but close vote.

During his first term in Congress Mr. Hamilton gave a steady support to the compromise measures of 1850, introduced by Mr. Clay. In 1851 he was re-elected to Congress for his second term. In 1853 Mr. Hamilton desired to withdraw from public life, and declined to be a candidate, but at the urgent instance of prominent gentlemen throughout the congressional district, he was nominated for the third time and again elected over the Hon. Francis Thomas, who ran as an independent candidate against him. This was one amongst the most animated and exciting contests ever had in the district, involving joint discussion between the candidates in every county, and resulting in a majority of upwards of one thousand for Mr. Hamilton over his eloquent and veteran competitor. In Congress he gave a consistent support to the administration of President Pierce.

In 1855 Mr. Hamilton again determined to withdraw from public life, but the great "American" or "Know-Nothing" party having sprung into existence, he was once more induced to bear the standard of democracy, and battling for the principles of his party, he was defeated. After his retirement from Congress, and up to the present time, he has applied himself to his profession, in the prosecution of which he has been signally successful, and very soon became one of the leading members of the bar of Western Maryland, which, in point of ability, is not excelled by any in the State. His practice has of late years frequently carried him to the Court of Appeals, in the trial of important causes, where his standing as a lawyer has been as clearly defined as at home.

More of the Revolution.—The bill to regulate procedure in cases of impeachment, introduced by Senator Edmunds, of Vermont, contains two clauses which are ominous of a disposition in Congress to give the finishing touch to its encroachments upon the constitution, and even to arm itself with the power of the sword for the purpose of sustaining its usurpation. One of these clauses empowers two-thirds of the Senate to suspend an impeached officer from his functions pending trial, and this in face of the fact that the convention which framed the constitution refused to confer any such power upon Congress. Mr. Boutwell, when he brought forward his impeachment project in December, admitted that no such power existed. The other is that the officers, troops and forces of the United States shall carry into effect the orders and judgments of the court of impeachment! It is not quite two months since the attempt was made in the House of Representatives to impeach the President, and failed by a vote of 57 for and 108 against, the nays comprising 68 republicans and 40 democrats. What Mr. Johnson has done since to warrant a renewal of the attempt, especially under such a desperate and revolutionary programme as is laid down in the bill of Mr. Edmunds, it is hard to divine.

Dog Eat Dog.—"Beast Butler" was challenged to fight a duel while in Richmond a few days ago, by a Radical member of the Virginia Convention, named White. Butler replied to White that he would see him, and then made for the cars, and put out for Washington, with his coat tail at an angle of forty degrees. White gives as a reason for the challenge that Butler ordered him out of his lines while he was "bottled up" on the James river. The unexpected event put a sudden stop to the "Beast's" southern tour. So says an exchange.

The Legislative committee have decided in favor of the purchase of a certain lot of ground at Annapolis for a Gubernatorial mansion.

General Sherman was last week presented with a gold watch, formerly the property of Roger Sherman.

The Democrats carried Wheeling, at the municipal election on Monday, by an increased majority.

The Whites and Blacks of Virginia.

Hon. John L. Marye, the leader of the small body of conservatives in the Virginia Reconstruction Convention, undoubtedly expressed the enlightened public sentiment of that State when, in a late speech, he said that the white people of Virginia did not conceive that, in all the conduct of the colored race during the eventful period of the last seven years, there was any cause to excite ill will or unkind sentiments in the breasts of white men towards that race. On the contrary, the whites recognized that the conduct of the negroes during the war was, in the main, praiseworthy, and that, for all that was evil in their course since, not the ignorant, untutored black man was responsible, but those who incited him to evil thinking and mischievous conduct by their false teachings. Mr. Marye added that, for a similar reason, the white man did not cherish sentiments of resentment against the black because of his clamor to obtain political franchises and power, for it was natural and justifiable that they should seek this boon when they were stimulated to believe that they were entitled to demand it.

But to speak of the title of suffrage as a natural right was to violate every just conception of republican government.—The latter proceeded out of a mutual compact between the people who constructed it, and its essential idea is that no political privilege can belong to any individual except so far as its possession and exercise are consistent with public weal, and authorized by the fundamental law which creates the government. The Virginia Bill of Rights affirms that those citizens alone ought to exercise suffrage who "give sufficient evidence of permanent common interest in and attachment to the community." The white people of Virginia resist negro suffrage because they do not believe that the blacks, except a few, exhibit or possess the adequate intelligence and permanent common interest. As to the fallacious plea that suffrage is necessary to protect their rights of person or property, it is a sufficient answer that women and men under twenty-one do not vote in any State of the republic, while the property of the one is taxed and the lives of the other imperilled when the public needs require it.

This speech, from so distinguished a source, deserves to be taken as an authoritative exposition of the real sentiments of Virginians towards the colored race, and we refer to it as showing how unfounded and false are the assumptions of the extreme radical press, that a hostile and bitter spirit on the part of the whites towards the blacks dictates their opposition to negro suffrage.

The subscribers have Leased a part of the

They will keep a GENERAL STOCK OF MERCHANDISE, such as is usually kept in a country store, except Boots and Shoes, that branch of the business in the New Building will be supplied by Mr. J. W. Collins, on the Corner.

For the present the business will be conducted on the CASH SYSTEM, or its equivalent, not because we are unwilling to accommodate our friends and the public, (for the credit business is desirable because it is decidedly more profitable,) but simply for the want of means to do so.

We will purchase our goods at nett cash prices, as near first hands as possible, and sell them at

SMALL PROFITS FOR CASH,

PRODUCE, and under some circumstances, thirty and sixty days.

We intend to do a legitimate business, not selling some goods below cost to make an impression, but the ENTIRE STOCK will be offered at small profits, and always at ONE PRICE.

We will do our best to make it the interest of the public to deal with us.

We have made arrangements to supply

THE LADIES

WITH FINE GOODS

such as cannot be kept in sufficient quantities in the country, from a

Five Hundred Dollar Shawl

A SILK DRESS, A LACE COLLAR OR HANDKERCHIEF, down to a pair of JOUVIN'S BEST KID GLOVES of any size or color.

We will consider it no trouble to show our goods, and when desired goods purchased of us will be sent to any part of the town if it is not convenient for our customers to send for them. Persons from the country purchasing goods from us can have them delivered at the Hotels, or at the end of the Bridge, in Queen Anne's. We consider it at present unnecessary to enumerate articles.

☞ Our friends and the public are invited to call and examine our stock.

FURTHER:

We are of the opinion that the demand for FURNITURE, particularly of the better grades, has not been supplied to this market. We intend to keep a well selected Stock of which will be bought of the manufacturers at the lowest nett cash prices, and sold at moderate profits. Samples of many kinds will be on hand, and arrangements will be made with manufacturers to fill orders for any description of Furniture, at CITY PRICES. Furniture sold to go to Queen Anne's, will be delivered at the end of the bridge in Queen Anne's, or on the Steamboats, free of charge, securely packed, and warranted to be as represented.

CHEAP and GOOD SUBSTANTIAL

We will also have connected with the Store A ROOM FOR CARPETINGS AND OIL CLOTHS, and many other goods in that line. OIL CLOTHS for Halls and rooms in one piece, all at CITY PRICES.

And last but not least:

We have been appointed agents for two First Class Sewing Machines, the

GROVER & BAKER,

AND THE

HOWE SEWING MACHINE.

The GROVER & BAKER is used in the family of the Rev. Mr. Goodwin, pastor of the Prot. Episcopal Church; Rev. Mr. Murray, pastor of the Meth. Prot. Church, and the Rev. Mr. Quigg, pastor of the Meth. Epis. Church, to whom we refer by permission.

The HOWE MACHINE is made by the company of which Elias Howe, the inventor of the Sewing Machine, was the President, (lately deceased,) it must be supposed that he knew how to make a Sewing Machine, and it only needs to be tried.

The Sewing Machines will be kept in a room fitted up for that purpose, where persons desiring to purchase will be instructed how to use them. All the necessary supplies will be kept for these Machines, and we will guarantee the price at which the Machines are sold to be the same as the City Price—from $55 up.
