Election, Tuesday, November 3d.

TALK OF AN EXTRA SESSION OF THE LEGISLATURE.—The Annapolis correspondent of the Baltimore Sun says:

The subject of the convocation of the Legislature in extra session is already under considerable discussion. The opinion seems to prevail that the Legislature will be called. In conversation to-day with one of the officers of the State, who, by his high position, is supposed to know, it is learned that it is exceedingly probable that it will be convoked. This opinion prevails among the members themselves. There are no important measures as yet urging this step, but it is supposed that Governor Bowie will have some measures of public State polity to suggest when he assumes the robes of office. He was very sensibly modest in refusing to speak on any State questions last year when he was inaugurated, while another Governor held the reins of government.

When Gov. Swann was about to take his seat, he requested Gov. Bradford to convene the Legislature. This Gov Bradford did. It is supposed Gov. Bowie will ask the same of the present Executive.

FORMIDABLE ASPECT OF THE INDIAN WAR.—The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun says that the intelligence received in official quarters indicates that the Indian war is becoming more formidable than was anticipated by the military Generals some days ago. A larger body of troops than is now under the control of Sherman will doubtless be required to establish peace and protect the citizens in the western Territories. This matter has been entirely under the control of Generals Grant, Sherman and Sheridan, and on their judgment will depend the course that shall be pursued relative to the treatment of or punishment that shall be inflicted upon the Indians. The President depends entirely upon the suggestions of these military officers as to what shall be done by the Executive in the suppression of Indian hostilities, and under the law he can issue no order in the premises unless it pass through the hands of the general-in-chief, Grant, who has not given any advice in the matter.

THE LATE EARTHQUAKE IN SOUTH AMERICA.—Additional details of the terrible scenes during the late earthquakes in South America have been received. In Ecuador alone, it is now stated, the list of killed amounts to 40,000. In Peru the dead are yet hidden under the ruins of houses in many instances, and a stench infests the air which, it is thought, will produce a pestilence. A band of robbers are roaming through the ruins robbing every one who has anything left.—N. Y Herald.

THE FUTURE OF VIRGINIA.—The last three years have fully justified our undoubting confidence in Virginians, and we can proudly boast that the whole State, poor and desolate as it is, has sprung forward with a power and energy that has astonished even ourselves. We have no fear for the future—onwards! onwards! is the motto of Virginia. If she has done so much when more than one-half of her territory has been swept with the besom of destruction, what will, in coming years, be her wealth and glory! There rises before our eye of faith a boundless vista of her future prosperity. We see before the close of this century, Old Virginia covered over with railroads and crowded with population, with noble cities at every fall of her rivers, manufacturing for the Union; with her mills developing the infinite wealth now hidden in the bowels of the earth. This picture of the future is no opium dream; but it is what must come to pass.—Norfolk Journal.

THE DIFFERENCE.—The Iuka (Miss.) Gazette states the difference between the carpet-bagger and the scallawag as it follows:

"The carpet-bagger is a Northern thief, who comes South to plunder every white man who is a gentleman of any property or respectability and get all the offices he can. The scallawag is a Southern-born scoundrel, who will do all the carpet-bagger will, and, besides, murder the carpet-bagger for the gutta percha ring his sisters gave him when he left home."

RADICAL CANDIDATES FOR CONGRESS.—The radicals have nominated the following candidates for Congress: First District—Henry R. Torbert. Second—John T. Ensor. Third—A. E. King. Fourth—Daniel Weisel. Fifth—W. J. Albert.

R. HYNSON, Esq., as attorney for Mr. Barney DeCorse, will offer for sale at the Voshell House, on Tuesday next, two farms situated in Quaker Neck.

☞On and after October 1st, the Steamers Chester and Law will leave Baltimore at 3 o'clock. Returning, leave Crumpton at 6½.

Idaho Territory has been carried by the democrats by an increased majority, electing Hailey, dem., to Congress.

GEN. MCCLELLAN arrived at New York on Tuesday, from Europe.

The Tournament.

The Tournament near this town on Wednesday drew together a large concourse of persons—nearly as many, it is supposed, as were in attendance at the similar affair of last year. The day was lovely, and everything conspired to render the occasion one of enjoyment to all present.

The procession was formed about 9 A. M. in front of the Voshell House, consisting of the judges, marshals and Knights, preceded by the Band, and after making a tour of the principal streets of the town, proceeded to the tournament grounds on the Hanson farm, being the same field used for the purpose last year. Stands had been erected at appropriate places for the judges and band, and every preparation made for the occasion. The track was somewhat heavy in consequence of recent rains, but was nevertheless in better condition than we expected to find it.

At half-past ten o'clock the tilting commenced. The arrangements differed from those of last year in several particulars. There were two rings, instead of one, separated at a distance of twenty-five yards. The distance from the starting point to the second ring was one hundred and twenty-five yards, and the time allowed riders to make it was twelve seconds. When the first ring was taken it counted one, and the second ring taken counted two, but no count was allowed for striking the ring or knocking it from the hook. There were three prizes and five honors. The first prize consisted of a very handsome gold-mounted water pitcher, elaborately carved, and a waiter and two goblets; the second prize was a beautiful water pitcher, waiter and two goblets; and the third prize two goblets—all appropriately inscribed.

First Tilt.

The whole number of Knights entered was nineteen. Each rode three times in this tilt, with the following result:

Knight of Lost Cause, Wm. E. Wilson, 1st 1, 2d 0, 3d 0—total 1.
Knight of Lankford, James Beck, 1st 0, 2d 0, 3d 2—total 2.
Knight of Liberty, John Hudson, 1st 2, 2d 2, 3d 1—total 5.
Knight of Snowden, R. Snowden Thomas, 1st 1, 2d 0, 3d 0—total 1.
Knight of Golden Cross, Thomas Embert, 1st 0, 2d 2, 3d 2—total 4. [On the first ride this Knight took both rings, but failed to make time, and was consequently ruled out under the regulations.]
Knight of Wickliffe, James P. Wickes, 1st 1, 2d 3, 3d 0—total 4.
Knight of Lone Star, Milnor Jones, 1st 3, 2d 1, 3d 0—total 4.
Knight of Ravenwood, Charles Hurlock, 1st 1, 2d 0, 3d 1—total 2.
Knight of Mount Pleasant, Jacob Roffecker, 1st 0, 2d 1, 3d 0—total 1.
Knight of Tocwoc, Wright Howard, 1st 0, 2d 0, 3d 0—total 0.
Knight of the Forest, Comegys Cosden, 1st 1, 2d 0, 3d 1—total 2.
Knight of Kent Manor, Chambers Perkins, 1st 0, 2d 0, 3d 2—total 2.
Knight of Kent, Thomas W. Wickes, 1st 0, 2d 0, 3d 0—total 0.
Knight of Sunny Side, John W. Startt, 1st 2, 2d 1, 3d 1—total 4.
Knight of Mancha, Thomas Kelley, 1st 0, 2d 0, 3d 0—total 0.
Knight of York, Carville Maslin, 1st 0, 2d 0, 3d 0—total 0.
Knight of Stepney, Isaac Gale, 1st 1, 2d 1, 3d 1—total 3.
Knight of Ellendale, Francis T. Wilson, 1st 1, 2d 1, 3d 1—total 3.
Knight of Nevada, Barney Camp, 1st 2, 2d 0, 3d 1—total 3.

The Knight of liberty, Mr. John Hudson, having scored the greatest number of counts, was declared by the judges to be entitled to the first prize and the privilege of crowning a Queen of Love and Beauty.

Second Tilt.

There being a tie between four Knights for the second prize, another tilt was made, resulting as follows:

	1st.	2d.	3d.	Total.
Knight of Golden Cross	0	3	0	3
Knight of Wickliffe	0	2	0	2
Knight of Lone Star	1	0	0	1
Knight of Sunny Side	0	3	1	4

The result was announced by the judges in accordance with the above score.

It being now about two o'clock, and the Orator of the Day, Dr. C. M. Newman, not having arrived, Mr. Milnor Jones, by request, (but very reluctantly and without preparation) made a short address to the Knights. Dr. N., however, subsequently arrived, but too late to deliver his oration, when it was ascertained that he would have been present at an earlier hour, but the tilting terminated much sooner than was anticipated.

The crowning ceremony now took place, and the prizes awarded. The victor, Mr. John Hudson, Knight of Liberty, chose Miss Sallie Smith, of Chestertown, as Queen of Love and Beauty, and gallantly performed the agreeable task of decorating her graceful brow with the very beautiful wreath which had been prepared for the occasion. Both the victorious Knight and his chosen Queen are quite young, but each bore their honors very gracefully, and with becoming ease and dignity. Mr. J. W. Startt, Knight of Sunny Side, to whom was awarded the second prize, chose as first maid of honor his sister, Miss Mary F. Startt; Mr. Thos. Embert, Knight of the Golden Cross, having won the third prize, selected as second maid of honor Miss Lizzie Bogle; Mr. Jas. P. Wickes, Knight of Wickliffe, selected Miss Anna Gibson, of Queen Anne's, as third maid of honor, and Mr. Milnor Jones, Knight of the Lone Star, chose Miss Lizzie Houston as fourth maid of honor. These ceremonies being ended, the victorious Knights and the Queen and Maids were escorted from the grounds to the town, and after parading through the principal streets the procession was dismissed.

The Chief Marshal, Capt. George H. Willson, and his efficient assistants, and the Officer of the Day, Joseph E. Gilpin, Esq., deserve commendation for the very satisfactory manner in which they discharged their responsible duties.

The Kent Cornet Band, assisted by Professor Holland and Mr. W. Knight, of Baltimore, discoursed good music throughout the day.

☞In reading the Baltimore papers a short time since, we noticed the death of Mr. Wm. A. Mason, of the firm of R. Mason & Sons, large cracker bakers of that city, and favorably known to many residents of our own town.

Mr. Mason was insured in the Continental Life Insurance Company of New York for Ten Thousand Dollars. The company have already paid the claim, and in a manner so prompt and graceful as to elicit from his widow the following letter of thanks.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 16th, 1868.

MESSRS. A. R. AND H. O. CARTER,
22 Second Street, Baltimore,
Agents of the
Continental Life Insurance Co. of New York:

Gentlemen—I desire to acknowledge through you the receipt of $10,000, being the amount of policy on the life of my late husband, Wm. A. Mason, issued by the Continental Life Insurance Company of New York.

I also desire to express my thanks to yourselves and the Company for your extreme courtesy and attention in the matter, as no effort was required on my part to obtain the money.

I remain, gentleman,
Respectfully, yours,
CARRIE C. MASON.

Correspondence of the Kent News.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30, 1868.

Messrs. Editors:—The result of the Vermont and New Hampshire elections has caused the Radicals here to be exceedingly jubilant, as they regard it (so they say) as the forerunner of the great November conflict. Should Grant and Colfax be unfortunately elected, we are yet unable to discover the unerring signs of its certainty. In the case of Vermont our side made but little if any opposition, as that State is admitted to be as intensely radical as Massachusetts. True, both parties made strong efforts in Maine, and though the result shows an increased radical majority over '67, still a careful analysis of the figures should excite by no means gloomy apprehensions on the part of our friends. The fact is, the reduction of the majority in '67 was brought about chiefly from local causes, and this information we have derived from radical residents of that State. This is the only plausible conclusion one can arrive at in face of the fact that the vote of '68 exceeded that of '67 by about 30,000, showing unmistakably that thousands of radicals in '67 refused to vote, in consequence of the enactment of some obnoxious liquor law which they themselves had enacted the previous year. Another and a more important fact in this connection should not be overlooked. It has been stated frequently of late, and as far as we know without contradiction, that three-fourths of all the national bonds are held in New England alone. When we recollect that there are about seventeen hundred millions of this kind of national securities, it will be perceived at a glance that at least a thousand millions are owned by New England capitalists. These few aristocrats are largely interested in the payment of their bonds, principal and interest, in gold. They care not a farthing for the heavy exactions which are now rung from honest labor, or how much more taxation shall be increased to meet the demands of their cheaply purchased securities. Is it to be wondered at then, that these favored lords should have liberally responded to the demands of the State Executive Committee in Maine?—If they had not, we cannot easily explain what we learn was a fact, that when no compulsion could be exercised, fifty dollars was regarded as the common equivalent for a vote.

Moreover, it must be recollected that the manufacturing interests of Maine are not inconsiderable, and that Congress at its last session granted to it, at the expense of the country, a bonus of millions of dollars. These truths, coupled with the puritanism which more or less prevails throughout New England, and which now means negro and white equality, are quite sufficient to our mind satisfactorily to explain the result of the late election in Maine. Our great reliance has always been upon the Middle and Western States. Their interests are dissimilar to those of New England, as well as the influences which mould and control public opinion. Agriculture is the paramount interest of the West, while manufacturing is the corresponding interest of New England. Whatever therefore tends to enrich the Eastern capitalist has a like tendency to make poor the Western farmer, who is taxed heavily for everything which he is obliged to buy from the Eastern manufacturers. Whether the masses in the Middle and Western States will understand properly their true interests and vote accordingly for Seymour and Blair remains to be seen. The powerful and eloquent speeches of Pendleton, Hendricks, Vorhees and others, we are informed, are arousing the people throughout the West, which will insure a victory in November if a free and fair election shall then be permitted.

The Goose Question.

Messrs. Editors:—A communication appeared in both of the papers of Chestertown, on Saturday last, complaining of "geese" as a nuisance. I also consider "geese" a nuisance, but object to the style in which those communications were couched. The writer in the first place calls himself "Citizen" and in the second place "the People."

"Citizen" should know that the bailiffs of Chestertown have other matters of more importance to attend to than looking after "geese"—were they to confine their attention to them alone they would in "Citizen's" estimation be probably "all right on the goose question."

The gentleman who signs himself "the People" says he does not know who the town commissioners are. As a resident of Chestertown I object to his statement. I believe the people of Chestertown do know who the commissioners are, and it is not politic or expedient for one to declare the whole community ignorant because he is so himself.

The present board of commissioners have spared no pains to make their administration agreeable to the citizens and advantageous to the town. The improvements on the streets and roads justify the statement that they have performed their duty in the most exemplary manner.

The bailiffs they have appointed are active and prompt in the discharge of their duty: they are as efficient as any officers we could possibly obtain. How then does it become a man to cast opprobrium on the entire corps of town officers because a "goose" has worried him.

JUSTICE.

PEOPLE who are apprehensive that some of these days this globe may be smashed to atoms by a wandering comet, and who have not been reassured by the assertions of scientific men that comets are mainly composed of gas, may certainly now dismiss their fears. An aerolite, quite as big as any comet, has recently fallen on the earth's surface, near Warsaw, in Poland, without doing any damage, but, on the contrary, being itself shivered to pieces by concussion with the atmosphere before it reached the ground. It is said to have had a surface of two thousand acres, which by computation would give it a diameter of more than a mile. It first bursted high up in the air, then each of the pieces broke up in turn, until parts of the mass were reduced to powder.—One scientific man picked up 942 fragments, another 1,612, and millions more remain strewed over the country. This shows that our atmosphere acts as a kind of cushion to protect us against all such dangerous visitors, and also both sets them on fire by friction, and by the heat thus engendered explodes them into comparatively harmless bits.

MARRIED:

On the 28th Sept., in Baltimore, by Rev. J. Lanahan, ALFRED H. ROCKWELL to AUGUSTA F. HARRIS, both of this town.

DIED:

In Eastern Neck, on the 1st instant, of consumption, EUGENE JONES, son of David Jones, Esq., in the 24th year of his age.

At the residence of her grandson, Charles C. Wood, in Pine Neck, on the 26th Sept., Mrs. SINA J. WOOD, in the 82nd year of her age. The deceased had been a member of the M. E. Church since the sixteenth year of her age, and died calmly, in full expectation of a blissful immortality. Amiable and affectionate in her disposition, she had the sympathy and esteem of neighbors and friends, and her end was a fitting sequel to a long life spent in the service of her Maker, and in doing good as she had opportunity. At a ripe old age she has been gathered into the garner of the Lord, to spend an eternity of happiness with the redeemed.

In this county, on the 18th of September, JOHN MIFFLIN, only and beloved son of John S. and Mary E. Taylor, aged 18 months and 7 days.

What is home without Mifflin?
'Tis my cottage robbed of flowers,
Where my broken, bleeding heart,
Will spend many lonely hours.

I weep no more in sorrow's strain,
While faith recovers him I've lost,
And whispers we shall meet again
Soon as the stream of death I've crossed.

We laid him in the silent grave
Beside his brother dear, to rest;
We know his happy spirit now
Is numbered with the blest.

On the 21st September, of cholera infantum, IRVING MILTON VICTOR, son of Henry L. and Leah B. Victor, of Lafayette, Ind, aged 6 months, 3 weeks and 3 days.

Because thy smile was fair,
Thy lips and eyes so bright,—
Because thy cradle-care
Was such a fond delight,—
Shall love, with weak embrace
Thy heavenward flight detain?
No, angel! seek thy place
Amid yon cherub train.
