Ex-President Johnson in Baltimore.

HIS ENTHUSIASTIC RECEPTION.

The reception of ex-President Johnson by the municipal authorities and citizens of Baltimore on Thursday of last week, says the Sun, was one of the most hearty and enthusiastic tributes to a public man that has taken place in this city for a long time. The crowds that gathered on the streets in anticipation of the arrival of the distinguished guest, betokened the wide-spread interest felt in the occasion by the mass of the population. The banquet at Barnum's was on a most magnificent scale. Speeches were made by Mr. Johnson, Governor Bowie, Attorney-General Jones, ex-Governor Swann, ex-Secretary Browning, Hons. Messrs. Eldridge, Davis, Kerr and others. We annex the speeches of ex-President Johnson and Gov. Bowie.

Speech of Mr. Johnson.

Gentlemen: In rising after the sentiment which has been read, it is not for the purpose of making an address, but simply to tender my sincere thanks for the complimentary manner in which you have been pleased to refer to myself and to the manner in which I have been enabled to discharge the duties of the Executive chair. I have no views to express in any speech to night other than those of which you are already advised, and I rise now simply to tender my heartfelt thanks for this expression of your approbation and for the cordial manner in which I have been received in your midst.

I am free to say (while I disclaim making any address) that during the last four years in the arduous struggle which has been going on for constitutional liberty, in the darkest, and gloomiest, and most trying—and I might say the most perilous—part of that time, the encouragement and countenance that I have received from the citizens of Maryland has been peculiar and sustaining in its character to me, [great cheers;] for in the most trying struggle of this crisis, Maryland, when we looked to her, was found standing by the constitution and by the union of the States. [Cheers.] And I repeat, I rise to-night for the purpose of tendering my thanks for the many kindnesses I have received from the citizens of Maryland, and especially of the city of Baltimore.

And in now retiring from the most exalted station in the gift of a free people, and stepping from that position into the ranks of my fellow-citizens, and helping, or endeavoring to help them bear the burdens which I have not been able to lift from their shoulders, I feel more honor and more consolation and more gratification here to-night, an American citizen, mingling with my fellow-citizens of Maryland, than I would in being to-morrow inaugurated President of the United States upon the ruins of a violated constitution. [Loud cheers.]

Yes, my deliverance has been the greatest case of emancipation since the rebellion commenced. [Laughter.] I stand here to-night, in your midst, a freedman. Yes, a freedman, thank God! and I would rather stand here an American citizen than to be President and be a slave. [Cheers.]

I repeat, then, that I came here to-day not for the purpose of making an address but rather to hear and to be the recipient, and I have been the recipient. Yes, you have made the speech; it is not for me to make it. And the speech you have made to me here to-day and to-night will be treasured up and carried with me, as one of my most cherished recollections, to the last single pulsation of my heart, which has beat for its country for the last four years. [Cheers.]

Accept my thanks then my fellow citizens—not an unmeaning, not a simple utterance—but the sincere thanks of my heart, for the kindness and for the manifestations of your confidence and regard with which you have received me on this occasion.

The ex-President resumed his seat amid loud and prolonged cheering.

Speech of Governor Bowie.

Referring to the guest of the evening, our honored ex-President, he said that for four years we of Maryland had watched his course with intense, and, indeed, interested anxiety. His had been an eventful and an embarrassed administration—memorable for the antagonism of Congress the generally disturbed condition of the country, which without the co-operation of the legislature department of the Government, he was powerless to remedy. Yet, despite the innumerable difficulties with which it had been environed, that administration had accomplished results which would be potent for future good, and would redound to the fame of its distinguished chief when the passions of the hour shall have passed away.

You, Mr. President, were the worthy compeer in times past, in the councils of the nation, of our illustrious statesmen, far above those who now strut their brief hour on the congressional stage and endanger the constitution and imperil the government. Our present peace, our future prospects and the material interests of the country all demand that the best men of the nation should fill the seats once graced by our Clays, our Websters, our Calhouns and other illustrious statesmen whose seats, sad to say, were now largely disgraced by mere political speculators.—Having retired from the presidency, we meet you to-day on your way to your home in Tennessee; and after having remained there for awhile and refreshed your energies, we shall hail you with joy again in a high place in the council of the nation—and never has the country had more need than now for your services.

I rejoice, therefore, that it is not your purpose to lead a life in inglorious ease, but after a little rest I trust we shall again see you refreshed and ready to do battle with the enemies of the constitution and government. I rejoice to read in the very opening of your recent address to the American people that you intend to co-operate with and support your successor in the presidential chair in all his efforts to restore the prosperity and the peace of the government on the basis of the constitution and laws. No man has half so good reason as yourself to know the necessity of such co-operation and support. This proffer was to have been expected from your generosity and your patriotism.

And speaking here to-day for the people of Maryland, I assume to say to General Grant that his administration shall receive no factious opposition from us, but a fair and candid trial, and if deserving, a cordial and generous support. It may be long before some of us shall have the pleasure of seeing you in person again, but we shall watch your future course with a deep interest, and whether in retirement among the green mountains or fertile vales of Tennessee, or in public life again doing battle in the cause of the constitution and good government, we of Maryland shall always remember and respect you for your noble and self-sacrificing efforts for your country's welfare.

At the conclusion of his address three cheers were given for Governor Bowie.

DEATH OF HON. JAMES GUTHRIE.—By our telegraph advices information has been received of the death of Hon. James Guthrie, of Kentucky, which took place at Louisville on Saturday. Mr. Guthrie occupied a prominent place in public life, and holding the position of Secretary of the Treasury during the Pierce administration, was more favorably known. After his enterprises connected with his State until some two years since, when he was elected to the United States Senate, the duties of which he was compelled to decline in consequence of ill health, Hon. Thomas C. McCreery being elected in his place. One of the representative men of the Southwest, his loss will be deeply felt especially by Kentucky, from which State he sprung, and which can illy afford to lose his services.

THE FIFTEENTH AMENDMENT.—The present Minnesota Legislature is congratulated by the St. Paul Pioneer upon its "refraining from meddling with the proposed fifteenth amendment.' The Minnesota Legislature is radical, but is willing to wait a year before swallowing what the Cincinnati Gazette, an extremely radical journal, calls "a botch," which "will not stand popular discussion," and it even says that "a Legislature cannot be chosen in Ohio which would adopt it."

A COLORED OFFICE-SEEKER.—General Butler on Saturday, introduced to Secretary Boutwell a colored man from New Orleans named Joubert, and recommended him for appointment as assessor of internal revenue in that city. Joubert said he did not desire the office from pecuniary considerations, but merely to test the disposition of the party in power as to the rights of his race.

A PLAIN MATTER.—In his very appropriate reply to the welcome of his friends at Lexington, Kentucky, Mr. John C. Breckinridge said he came home without any more of the political excitement of his past years than if he were "an extinct volcano." In this Mr. Breckinridge is but a type of the public feeling among the better elements of society throughout the entire South. Why not recognize the fact and "let as have peace."

County Commissioners' NOTICE.

ON TUESDAY, the 16th day of March, 1869, the County Commissioners for Kent county will commence the appointment of

Road Supervisors,

and will continue them until all public roads are put out. Persons intending to make application will do so at that time, or as soon thereafter as convenient.

Supervisors will be allowed one dollar and fifty cents per day for each able-bodied hand; two dollars per day for plow and horses, or cart and horses, and two dollars and fifty cents for two horses with scoop. Twenty-five cents will be allowed for the supervision of each hand.

Persons not regularly appointed Supervisors of the roads will not be allowed for work done, unless by special order of one of the County Commissioners. By order,

JOHN RUSSELL, Clerk.

Feb. 20, 1869—5t.

ROAD NOTICE.

THE undersigned hereby give notice, that thirty days after the date of this notice, they intend to apply to the Honorable County Commissioners to appoint examiners to locate a public road from the road leading from Mann's Corner to Dulaney's Chapel, to run with the lines of Samuel Hurlock and James Yeates, to and over the Cypress Branch, thence through the Dulaney lands, to a private road between Jonathan Hodgson and Stephen Boyer, thence with said private road to the public road leading from Massey's Cross Roads to Smyrna.

SAMUEL HURLOCK,
BENJ. HAZELL,
SAMUEL CACY,
STEPHEN BOYER,
JAMES YEATES,
and others.

Feb. 20, 1869—5t.

To the Honorable,
the Commissioners of Kent Co.

GENTLEMEN:—The undersigned citizens of your county, most respectfully represent that the safety and convenience of the public travel over the road from the "White House" to Chestertown and down Morgan's Creek Neck requires that the branch on said road, at the foot of Perkins' Hill, should be well and substantially bridged, and the road raised on both sides. That after a heavy fall of water the branch is almost impassable; and travelers have been compelled to take a long and circuitous route to avoid it, or to imperil their lives and property in crossing it. That the attendance of the children from the West side of the branch at the School on the opposite side, has been frequently interrupted by the dangerous or impassable condition of the branch. They therefore pray your honorable body to cause each of those improvements to be made on the aforesaid road. And as in duty bound, &c.

Order of Publication.

Pere Cotton, Ann Eliza Cotton, John A. Cotton, Isaac Sampson, Ann Elizabeth Jones, James Crossley, and Eliza Jane Crossley, versus
Amanda Jones and Isaac Jones.

In the Circuit Court for Kent County, sitting in Equity, March 4th, 1869.

THE object of this suit is to procure a Decree for the sale of certain real estate in Kent county, State of Maryland, of which a certain Joseph Cotton died seized and possessed.

The Bill states that the said Joseph Cotton did, by his last Will and Testament, devise all his real estate to his wife, Rachel Cotton, for and during her natural life, and authorized and directed his Executor, Hugh Wallis, after the death of the said Rachel Cotton, to divide and distribute one-fourth part of said land to Rebecca Gattis, then the wife of Edward Gattis, for and during her natural life, and after her death the testator devised the said one-fourth part to be distributed and divided as follows: one-half thereof to Daniel Cotton, his heirs and assigns, and one-half there to Eliza Ann Cotton, who intermarried with Pere Cotton; Elizbeth Jones, wife of Thomas Jones, and Hannah Cotton, who intermarried with Thomas Sampson, share and share alike as tenants in common. The Bill further states that Rachel Cotton has departed this life, and that the said Hugh Wallis, executor of said Joseph Cotton, did divide the land of the said Joseph Cotton, and allotted one-fourth part thereof containing thirty-seven acres, two roods and twenty perches, more or less, to Rebecca Gattis for and during her natural life, and to the parties entitled after her death; that the said Rebecca Gattis has departed this life; that Elizabeth Jones departed this life prior to the death of the said Rebecca Gattis, leaving four children: Ann Elizabeth Jones, Eliza Jane Jones (who intermarried with James Crossley, of the city of Baltimore,) and Amanda Jones and Isaac Jones, the last named two being infants under the age of twenty-one years, and non-residents; that Hannah Sampson also departed this life prior to the death of the said Rebecca Gattis and before she was seized of said land, leaving an only child, Isaac Sampson; and that the said Daniel Cotton has also departed this life, leaving the said John A. Cotton his only child and heir at law. That the said land is incapable of division, and that it would be for the interest and advantage of all the parties interested in said land to sell the same and divide the proceeds thereof among the parties in the proportions in which they are entitled.

It is thereupon adjudged and ordered that the complainants, by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in one newspaper published in Kent County, State of Maryland, once in each of four successive weeks before the fifth day of April next, give notice to the said absent defendants of the object and substance of this Bill, and warn them to appear in this Court in person or by solicitor on or before the Fifth day of July next, to answer the premises, and show cause, if any they have, why a Decree ought not to pass as prayed.

JESSE K. HINES, Clerk.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS
AND
HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC.
Prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, Philadelphia. Their introduction into this country from Germany occurred in 1825.
THEY CURED YOUR
FATHERS AND MOTHERS
And will cure you and your children. They are entirely different from the many preparations now in the country called Bitters or Tonics. They are no tavern preparation, or anything like one; but good, honest, reliable medicines. They are
The greatest known remedies for Liver Complaint,
DYSPEPSIA,
Nervous Debility,
JAUNDICE,
Diseases of the Kidneys
ERUPTIONS OF THE SKIN, and all Diseases arising from a Disordered Liver, Stomach, or IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD.
Constipation, Flatulence, Inward Piles, Fullness of Blood to the Head, Acidity of the Stomach, Nausea, Heartburn, Disgust for Food, Fullness or Weight in the Stomach, Sour Eructations, Sinking or Fluttering at the Pit of the Stomach, Swimming of the Head, Hurried or Difficult Breathing, Fluttering at the Heart, Choking or Suffocating Sensations when in a Lying Posture, Dimness of Vision, Dots or Webs before the Sight, Dull Pain in the Head, Deficiency of Perspiration, Yellowness of the Skin and Eyes, Pain in the Side, Back, Chest, Limbs, etc., Sudden Flushes of Heat, Burning in the Flesh, Constant Imaginings of Evil and Great Depression of Spirits.
All these indicate disease of the Liver or Digestive Organs, combined with impure blood.

Hoofland's German Bitters
is entirely vegetable, and contains no liquor. It is a compound of Fluid Extracts. The Roots, Herbs, and Barks from which these extracts are made are gathered in Germany. All the medicinal virtues are extracted from them by a scientific chemist. These extracts are then forwarded to this country to be used expressly for the manufacture of these Bitters. There is no alcoholic substance of any kind used in compounding the Bitters, hence it is the only Bitters that can be used in cases where alcoholic stimulants are not advisable.

Hoofland's German Tonic
is a combination of all the ingredients of the Bitters, with PURE Santa Cruz Rum, Orange, etc. It is used for the same diseases as the Bitters, in cases where some pure alcoholic stimulus is required. You will bear in mind that these remedies are entirely different from any others advertised for the cure of the diseases named, these being scientific preparations of medicinal extracts, while the others are mere decoctions of rum in some form. The TONIC is decidedly one of the most pleasant and agreeable remedies ever offered to the public. Its taste is exquisite. It is a pleasure to take it, while its life-giving exhilarating and medicinal qualities have caused it to be known as the greatest of all tonics.

DEBILITY,
There is no medicine equal to Hoofland's German Bitters or Tonic in cases of Debility. They impart a tone and vigor to the whole system, strengthen the appetite, give an improvement of flesh, good color to the skin, and cause the cheeks of the invalid to assume the healthy complexion, eradicate the yellow tinge from the eye, impart a bloom to the cheek, and change the patient from a short-breathed, emaciated weak and nervous invalid, to a vigorous, stout, and vigorous person.
Weak and Delicate children are made strong by using the Bitters or Tonic. In fact, they are Family Medicines. They can be administered with perfect safety to a child three months old, the most delicate female, or a man of ninety.
These Remedies are the best Blood Purifiers
we know, and will cure all diseases resulting from bad blood. Keep your blood pure, keep your Liver in order; keep your digestive organs in a sound, healthy condition, by the use of these remedies, and no disease will ever assail you. The gentle action of these remedies commend them. If you want honest testimonials go for anything you must try these preparations.

FROM HON. GEO. W. WOODWARD,
Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.
PHILADELPHIA, March 16, 1867.
I find "Hoofland's German Bitters" is not an intoxicating beverage, but is a good tonic, useful in disorders of the digestive organs, and of great benefit in cases of debility and want of nervous action in the system.
Yours truly,
GEO. W. WOODWARD.

FROM HON. JAMES THOMPSON,
Judge of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.
PHILADELPHIA, April 29, 1868.
I consider "Hoofland's German Bitters" a valuable medicine in cases of attacks of Indigestion or Dyspepsia. I can certify this from my experience of it. Yours, with respect,
JAMES THOMPSON.

FROM REV. JOSEPH H. KENNARD, D. D.,
Pastor of the Tenth Baptist Church, Philadelphia.
DR. JACKSON—DEAR SIR:—I have frequently regarded to connect my name with recommendations of different kinds of medicines, but regarding the practice as out of my appropriate sphere, I have in all such cases declined; but with a clear proof in various instances, and particularly in my own family of the usefulness of Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters, I depart for once from my usual course, to express my full conviction that for general debility of the system and especially for Liver Complaint, it is a valuable preparation. In some cases it may fail; but usually I doubt not, it will be very beneficial to those who suffer from the above causes. Yours, very respectfully,
J. H. KENNARD.
