RETURN OF HON. REVERDY JOHNSON.—The Baltimore Sun of the 5th inst. says:

The North German steamship Ohio, having on board the Hon. Reverdy Johnson, late minister to England, his wife and son, arrived at this port yesterday morning. The cordial satisfaction with which the people of his own State and city welcome Mr. Johnson on his return to this country is increased by the pleasure of seeing the veteran jurist and statesman looking hale and vigorous after the ordeal of a sea voyage and the more trying political buffetings to which he has been subjected in his efforts to promote an amicable adjustment of the questions at issue between Great Britain and the United States. Mr. Johnson looks as if he might live long enough yet to see the establishment of a perpetual bond of peace between the two countries on the fundamental elements of his own action. Indeed, the friendly response with which the English journals acknowledge the conciliatory tone of our new minister's addresses is in itself an indication of the result of Mr. Johnson's labors to cultivate a friendly feeling in Great Britain for the United States.—On the eve of his departure from Southampton, Mr. Johnson, in reply to an invitation to the banquet, said, in a letter to the mayor, "I shall return to my home with the assurance that the amicable relations between the two nations are not to be seriously disturbed." And he finds, on his arrival, that the temporary excitement on both sides of the Atlantic has subsided under the influence of the adoption by Mr. Motley of the same rational and pacific spirit towards a kindred nation which was manifested by Mr. Johnson.

THE New York Sun is of the opinion that the fourteenth amendment to the Constitution of the United States, when critically examined means practically nothing, and for the following reasons: The thirteenth amendment prohibits the existence of slavery, and provides that Congress shall have power to enforce its provisions by appropriate legislation. The fourteenth confers the rights of citizenship upon "all persons born or naturalized in the United States, and subject to the jurisdiction thereof," and declares that no State shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens, nor "deprive any person of life, liberty or property with out due process of law;" and that Congress shall have power to enforce its provisions by appropriate legislation. The Supreme Court has decided in respect to the thirteenth amendment that, in consequence of the enforcement clause, the amendment is inoperative without the appropriate legislation. In other words these two amendments are laws or dead letters accordingly as Congress shall act or not act to give them vitality. Under one Congress they may be laws, under another dead letters. If, it is argued, the clauses giving the enforcement of the two sections to Congress had been omitted, it would have been the duty of the Court to put them in force on all proper occasions. Congress however; hating, and professing to distrust the Court, inserted the provisions specially reserving the enforcement to itself. Correctly, it is to be presumed, the Court holds that it has nothing to do in the premises until Congress has acted.—Upon this the Sun insists that if this decision "stands as law, all the fruits of the war which have been planted in the Constitution have been plucked out."

THE elections (so called) which took place in Washington on Monday last, resulted as had been anticipated. The result has surprised no one; and indeed, very little sympathy is felt, outside of pecuniarily interested parties, for the defeated. The Balt. Gazette says the Radicals took possession of the polls, held them during the day, and drove away the few decent people who endeavored to exercise the glorious privilege of a free-born American citizen. That there might be no mistake made by negroes, tickets were prepared for them, white on the side printed with the name of the candidates, and of a dark blue color or fancy color on the back. The back was also striped and numbered with the number of the ward, so that it was easy to see, as each highly educated negro gentleman voted, that he knew who he was voting for and in what ward he was polling his ticket.

The effect of this is simply to do away with the vote by ballot; for the object of voting by ballot is to obtain secrecy.—The viva voce system, which still prevails in England, leads to intimidation, the exercise of undue influence, and bribery.—Men, in the employment of masters, can be easily intimidated by them, it is urged by the threat of loss of place; tenants can easily be influenced by landowners who let only from year to year; and men who receive bribes cannot well play false to their purchasers, when they are obliged to vote openly. With this secret ballot there is little danger of intimidation or influence, and there no check upon the voter who takes a bribe.

AT a recent meeting of women in Boston, the following pointed resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That the white women and girls who to-day give a long and hard day's work for twenty-five cents in currency, are quite as much the object of Christian and benevolent sympathy as were the negro slave women of the Southern rice swamps.

That's true, but the difficulty is in getting the modern philanthropists to see the wrongs of white women. Black cases are readily seen.

ARRIVAL OF MR. PEABODY.—Mr. Geo. Peabody arrived at New York on Tuesday in the steamship Scotia. His health is better than it was when he left Liverpool. Mr. Peabody will spend a few days in New York and then go to New England.

THE first invoice of flour, made from this season's wheat, was sold on Change in New York last Friday, at $10.50 per barrel, and came from Savannah, Ga.

COUNTY SABBATH SCHOOL CONVENTION.—A county Convention of the Sabbath School Teachers and other friends of the cause in Kent county, will be held in Chestertown on Wednesday next, beginning at 10 o'clock, A. M., and continuing throughout the afternoon and evening.—Several eminent Sunday School men from Baltimore are expected to be present, and participate in the proceedings of the convention. Its object is to discuss Sabbath School topics and awaken a greater interest in the work. Model lessons in object teaching, on the blackboard, will be given by Wm. A. Wisong, and others. All friends of the Sabbath School cause, of whatever name or denomination, are cordially invited to attend. The sessions will be held in the Meth. Prot. Church.

FILTH IN THE STREETS.—We noticed the other day a lot of garbage and other stuff on the lower part of High street, which could not be otherwise than offensive to the residents of that neighborhood. If we mistake not, there is an ordinance against putting garbage on the streets—if so, why is it not enforced? The warm weather is at hand, and cleanliness is necessary to preserve the health of the town. The Commissioners will have the co-operation of all good citizens in enforcing our sanitary ordinances.

THE LATE ROBBERY.—Several negroes, alleged to have been concerned in the robbery of the clothing store of Messrs. Turkheimer & Catlin, in this town, have been arrested and lodged in jail, and some of the clothing recovered. Further developments are expected soon.

TO PEACH GROWERS.—By reference to an advertisement in another column it will be seen that a meeting of the peach growers of Kent county will be held at the Court House in Chestertown on Tuesday next, the 15th instant, to take action in reference to important matters connected with the sale of peaches.

FRUIT AND VEGETABLES.—The strawberry season is nearly closed. This fruit has been unusually plentiful and good, and a much larger quantity has been disposed of in our market than during any former season. Green peas and new potatoes are now abundant, the former at thirty and the latter at sixty cts. per peck.

FARM SOLD.—The R. H. Rouse farm advertised by George Vickers, Esq., to take place on the 23d instant at Kennedyville, having been disposed of at private sale to a Mr. Jones, of Delaware, at $95 per acre, the property is therefore withdrawn from market.

AN ENTERTAINMENT.—Our Orphans' Court and County Commissioners, together with some others, were given a handsome entertainment, on Tuesday, by our well-known caterer, William Perkins, at his "Rising Sun" saloon. It may be reasonably supposed that ample justice was done to the good things set out on that occasion.

EPISCOPAL VISITATION.—It is expected the Right Rev. Henry Champlin Lay, Bishop of the Diocese of Easton, will be in Kent on Friday, 25th instant, and that he will administer the Holy Rite of Confirmation on Sunday following, 27th inst., at 11 A. M., in St. Paul's Church.

QUEEN ANNE'S ITEMS.—We clip the following from the Centreville Observer:

Pardoned.—George T. Burgess, who was convicted at the May term of our circuit court of an assault on John Woodall, and sentenced to pay a fine of fifty dollars and be imprisoned in the county jail for thirty days, has been pardoned by Gov. Bowie, the entire sentence of the law, except costs of trial, being removed.

A Compliment.—S. H. Bradley, Esq., of this town, has been invited to deliver the Oration at the annual commencement of Washington College, Chestertown, on the 14th of July next. We understand the invitation has been accepted.

Church Dedication.—The new church (M. E. South) at Stevens' Corner was dedicated on Sunday last. Rev. Dr. Bond preached the dedicatory sermon.

Church Hill.—Samuel B. Meredith, J. H. Evans and Thos. W. Gawthrop have been elected councilmen of Church Hill. Iron lamp posts are being put in position, and in a short time the streets will be lighted at night.

TWO BOYS TORN TO PIECES BY A PANTHER.—A man living in Taney county, Mo., recently sent his boy to mill, a distance of ten or twelve miles, and the boy not returning as soon as usual, a neighbor sent his boy to see what had become of the lad, and the second boy not returning in due season, a party consisting of the parents of the two boys, and three or four other men, all armed, started to search for the youths. After traveling some four miles, a sight sufficient to chill the blood of the bravest was presented to their view. Right by the side of the road was a large panther deliberately tearing the flesh from the remains of one of the boys—the last sent out. The grief and horror stricken parent raised his gun to his shoulder, and taking good aim, fired and killed the ferocious beast. After searching a mile or so more, the mutilated remains of the other boy were also found.—Lou. Courier.

GUILTY.—The jury in the case of Dr. Paul H. Schoeppe, indicted for the murder of Miss M. M. Stinnecke, of Baltimore, by poison, on trial for the last three weeks at Carlisle, Pa., rendered a verdict of "guilty of murder in the first degree."

ALEXANDER H. STEPHENS is slowly recovering from his injuries, and has resumed work on the second volume of his history.

THE churches in Chicago, St. Louis, Pittsburg, and some other places, have voted in part, with a result of about 2,400 for to 110 against lay delegation.

COMMUNICATED.

Washington College.

Messrs. Editors:—My communication is intended for all who have received instruction from the halls of Washington College. It is a well known fact when Cornelia was asked for her jewels, she pointed to her children. Why was that mother (heathen, if you please,) so proud of her children? Because of the inherent knowledge that her children would be her support in old age. Has not Washington College jewels? men who have drank from her pure fountain, and are they not willing to rally to her support. Through the earnestness of Messrs. Berkley and Hogg, she is rapidly gaining her old position—These gentlemen are fully competent for their task, and will ere long raise our home institution to the high standard of popular respect. I would suggest that all who have received instruction from the halls of Washington College, meet at the College Tuesday, July 13th, for the purpose of forming an association to be known as the Society of the Alumni of Washington College, to meet once every year, and elect an orator, whose duty it shall be to address the association. I shall be pleased to hear through the columns of your paper, from any one who may think as I do. SIGMA.

We are glad to see that the friends of Washington College have at last determined to try to do something for it, and we cordially publish the communication of our correspondent. We see no reason why there should not be a large meeting of the alumni—of all the friends of the institution, this Commencement. The children are the ornaments of the mother no less now than in the days of the mother of the Grachii.

The alumni of Princeton met in Baltimore a few days since, and raised a sum sufficient ($30,000) to furnish suitable buildings and grounds for a gymnasium. Let the friends of our College meet and devise some plan to increase the corps of instructors; then may we hope to see an increase of students from a distance.—Private schools with no funds, no State appropriation, present us catalogues with full boards of instructors: why cannot our visitors, faculty, and friends of the College devise some means to increase the faculty and thereby to increase the usefulness and prosperity of our honored institution of learning? We are very free to say that, under the regime of the present professors, the College has gained much in point of conduct on the part of the students; neither do we think it to be regretted that there are to be no graduates at the approaching commencement—there has been already too much graduating in all our colleges. As members of the press, and especially as citizens of Chestertown, we would like to see our institutions standing high not only among the colleges of our State, but of the whole country; and we doubt not that all who desire to be present will be welcomed to the hospitalities of our town. Such a gathering of the friends of education would result in good to both visited and visitors.

GREAT BREACH OF PROMISE CASE.—One Hundred Thousand Dollars Damages Awarded.—A breach of promise case, in which Miss Amanda J. Craig was plaintiff and E. C. Sprague defendant, was concluded at Wheaton, Illinois, on Tuesday. The sum of $100,000 was awarded the fair plaintiff by the jury as an equivalent for the damage which she alleged she had sustained.

Miss Amanda J. Craig, who has been thus fortunate, met the defendant for the first time in 1859, while teaching school at Cincinnati. It was clearly a case of love at first sight, for he invited her to the theatre on that same evening, and visited her frequently until 1861 and 1862, when he made overtures of marriage, which were not then accepted. On the principle, however, that faint heart never won fair lady, he continued his attentions at intervals, and in 1865 his perseverance was crowned with success—they became engaged.

The 15th of the following September was appointed for the consummation of their wedding bliss, but Sprague's heart failed him, and he turned up missing until February 20, 1866, when he returned to his allegiance once more, giving sickness as an excuse for his long absence.—All now went well until April, when he went to Chicago, whither he was followed by his affianced, who found him living on terms of intimacy with a servant girl.—After much tribulation and a solemn promise to reform, Miss Craig restored him to his former place in her affections, but as soon as he got out of her clutches he incontinently cleared out, and she saw nothing more of him until 1867. As he then showed no inclination to perform his promise and marry her, she sued him with the result above stated.

Mr. Sprague is a rich citizen of Chicago. Amanda is represented as being soft and plaintive, a little touched with melancholy, and brown curls. She is not yet twenty-five years of age. Sprague is fifty-two.

SATURDAY OR MONDAY.—Parties are beginning to form on the great Fourth-of-July question. As that day falls on Sunday this year, the question is, shall the celebration take place on the Saturday preceding or the Monday following?—Much is to be said on both sides. The advocates of Saturday contend that if the cannon and skyrockets are let off on that day, we shall have a quiet Sabbath, and everybody and everything will be exhausted, and then all hands can resume work on Monday morning just as usual. On the other hand, it is urged that an anticipated holiday is generally a very forced and spiritless affair, and besides, Young America will be fresher on Monday than at the end of the week of hard work.

POLITICAL.—Ex-President Johnson spoke to a large audience at Clarksville, Tennessee, on Wednesday last, pointing out the remarkable points of contrast between Mr. Grant's inaugural address and Washington's first inaugural. The contrast was so great and so significant that he did not think Mr. Grant was entitled to the appellation of "Second Washington."

CHESAPEAKE AND DELAWARE CANAL.—The business on the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal has been greater so far this season than ever was known upon the Canal since it was completed. It has even exceeded the immense business done during the war, the receipts ranging from $19,000 to $17,000 per week. Over a million of baskets of peaches are expected to be shipped through the canal this season. The canal encountered some ill luck last week, however, having had no less than three boats sunk—a New York propeller, a freight barge and a Philadelphia boat. The barge was laden with 100 tons of coal, and the officers and men had to work day and night to clear the canal, until all hands were nearly worked down.—Middletown Transcript.

THE latest "interviewing" has been between Ex-Senator Wade, who expected to be President, and General Grant who is President. The reporter says that both agreed that the Presidency was not what it is cracked up to be, and that private is preferable to public life.

CHESTERTOWN, June 7, 1869.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—It being currently reported that the School Commissioners have received the money formerly levied upon the School District of Locust Grove, for the purposes of building a school house, and refuse to build, it is proper to state that such is not the case. The board has brought suit against one party for the greater part of the money, ($2,000,) and the Treasurer has in his possession an unpaid order on the Tax Collector for $941.85. When this money is collected it will be time enough to find fault with the Board for not building a house.

This statement is made by order of the Board of School Commissioners.

The Farm is

about 1½ miles from Millington, where the Queen Anne's and Kent Railroad, now nearly ready for the cars, will have a Depot; about one-half mile from the Steamboat landing at Crumpton. The facilities for transportation of produce to market are therefore very great.

This farm contains

About 115 Acres, of 600 Young Trees in full bearing, and an APPLE ORCHARD.

TERMS OF SALE:

Peach & Truck Farm,

being directly on Chester River, where it has a fine Landing, which is passed daily by the Chester River Line of Steamers to and from Baltimore; and the Railroad now being constructed from the Chesapeake Bay to the Delaware Road must pass near it.

It is about five miles from Chestertown, and is convenient to places of Public Worship, Schools, Mills, &c.

THE IMPROVEMENTS are a Frame Dwelling with a Kitchen attached;

a fine Barn, Granary and other out-buildings, some of them nearly new, and all in good order; also two Tenant Houses.
