The Tennessee Imbroglio

During the infamous administration of Governor Brownlow in Tennessee, more than half thousand white men were disfranchised in detail, while, in addition to this, the votes of whole counties were rejected on such flimsy excuses as the Radical authorities thought fit to assign for their action. Through the aid of this tyrannical and indefensible policy, two members of Congress from Tennessee hold seats to which they were not elected by the peoples. Brownlow declared they were chosen, and Congress accepted his unkase instead of listening to the voice of the ballot-box. The election in counties giving large Democratic majorities was declared void, and, illegally so, if the decision of the Supreme Court of that State is to be regarded as binding authority in such cases. Leftwich had more than twenty-five hundred majority over David A. Nunn, for Congress, and yet Brownlow declared Nunn elected, assuming that the registration in Democratic counties was not legal and that the vote was therefore void. At the present time, however, owing to a rupture in the Radical faction, the poisoned chalice is likely to be returned to those who filled it with partisan venom. There are two Radical candidates for Governor—Senter, the acting Governor, and Colonel Stokes, a Radical member of Congress from that State. Senter, having the machinery of the law in his hands, has proclaimed his intention of putting the Brownlow disfranchisement in force against Stokes, and Brownlow has announced himself in a newspaper card in favor of Senter, and his friends are working hard for his election. When white Democrats were to be driven from the polls, and men put in office in opposition to the will of the people, Colonel Stokes applauded the policy; now, he condemns it as unconstitutional, and in this he is sustained by the Supreme Court of the State. This decision gives Colonel Stokes the advantage, and puts the acts of Brownlow before the nation in a proper light, but it remains to be seen whether Acting Governor Senter will obey the mandate of the Court, when by so doing he will endanger his election. The Radicals of Tennessee are not in the habit of stopping at legal impediments when an end is to be attained, and hence the coming contest will be one of power, regardless of constitutional right.—Phila. Age.

SPAIN AND CUBA.—The state of affairs in Spain and Cuba seems to be most curiously tangled, and to be every day becoming more complicated and incomprehensible. The jubilation over the proclamation on the 5th instant of the new Spanish constitution at Madrid is said to have been shaded by unsatisfactory news from Cuba, the possibilities of Cuban independence rendering melancholy those who were just rejoicing over their own.—The volunteers in Cuba appear to be becoming a formidable power there, the dispatches informing us that they have removed the Governors of Cardenas and Colon, and propose to establish an independent triumvirate on the island until the home government is settled. The Spanish Governor of Havana and Chief Justice have resigned. General Espinar is expected to resign soon. A serious affray between the volunteers and the Spanish regulars had taken place at Cardenas. Admiral Hoff writes from Matanzas, under date of May 27, that "he was much surprised to find that the feeling of animosity between the volunteers and the Cuban element was much less bitter than he had been led to expect in Havana."—It has been suggested that there may yet be a compromise between the "bloodthirsty volunteers" and the gentlehearted insurgents for the joint possession of the now unfaithful isle. This is not very probable, though stronger combinations have been formed in Spanish politics before now for the acquisition of the spoils. Perhaps when Gen. de Rodas, the new commandant, arrives, he may be able, being a man of great determination, to keep at least his own party loyal.

THE NAVAL ACADEMY GRADUATES.—Early in July the class of midshipmen just graduated at the Naval Academy will go to Boston and ship on board the Saline for the summer cruise. This is the first time that the graduates have been ordered to sea in a single vessel to spend the probationary period of twelve months sea service required before they can receive the grade of ensign. Upon their return here next year all will be ordered to the Naval Academy again to undergo a competitive examination for that grade. Heretofore they have been distributed among the various squadrons immediately after graduating, and each one retained his number in the graduating class. After their examination next year each one will stand upon the list according to his merits, thus changing the graduating numbers so that those who head the list as having passed excellent examinations this year may be lower down when they come to be examined in professional qualifications, after going through the practice cruise.

THE public debt statement just issued shows a total of $2,683,670,658. The cash in the Treasury, including over $3,000,000 of sinking fund, is $128,258,039, of which $104,180,189 is gold and coin certificates. The debt, less the cash in Treasury and sinking fund, shows a decrease of $13,000,000, since May 1st.

During last month the internal revenue receipts were $20,000,000, and the custom receipts $15,000,000.

The Treasury warrants issued during May, aggregated $30,366,000, included nearly $20,000,000 for interest on the public debt.

During May, Secretary Boutwell sold $5,000,000 in gold, receiving therefor $7,000,000 in currency, and bought $3,070,000 worth of bonds, at a premium of about $700,000 in currency.

MR. JOHN MCGUIRE, residing near Hookstown, Baltimore county, was married about two years since, and within the first year of his married life his wife presented him with twins. A few days since he had a somewhat similar, although more extensive compliment paid him in the shape of triplets—three fine boys. All the children are living and hearty, and the mother is doing well.

THE New York Express says that in the incomes of business men of that city, "those who advertise make the largest returns."

COMMERCIAL COOLED DOWN.—From the big talk in administration circles in Washington about the time of the rejection of the Alabama claims treaty made by Mr. Reverdy Johnson, the country was led to believe that Mr. Motley would go to England instructed to demand of John Bull his purse or his life. So the English regarded the condition of affairs and they very promptly informed General Grant, through the public press and otherwise, that they were not prepared to surrender their purse to Uncle Sam, and as for fighting, that was a game that two could play at. The very positive attitude assumed by England had a most soothing effect on the Washington authorities, and Mr. Motley has arrived in England with openly declared pacific intentions. His amicable overtures have been met more than half way by the British public, and the indications are that there will be no war, without a change takes place in the instructions of the American Minister. If Mr. Motley truly represents the views of General Grant, it is evident that he does not represent those of Mr. Sumner. When Congress meets, the Senate will be forced to decide between Grant and Sumner, and then there will be a mass in the Radical camp. There is no danger of war in any event, as the late speech of the Boston orator only means bluster, and that has played out.

CUBA.—Cuba continues to be a point of much public interest. So far from the revolution in the island having died out, the insurgents have recently met with some very important successes over the Spaniards. In addition to this, several large filibustering expeditions, fitted out in this country, and well supplied with artillery and muskets, have successfully landed. Further, the Spanish volunteers have revolted against General Dulce and forced him to resign the Captain Generalship of the Island. The military and civil powers are both now completely in the hands of the volunteers. If affairs are not conducted hereafter to please them, they may affiliate with the rebels; in that event the success of Cuban independence will be assured. General Rhoda has recently been appointed Captain General, to supercede General Dulce. He is second only to Prim as a Spanish commander. What he may accomplish in the way of suppressing the rebellion remains to be seen. If he should fail, then the Spanish cause will be lost. The revolution has evidently become "a big thing," and it is by no means certain that it can be put down by Spain, while the mother country continues in a state of chronic disorder.

THE FRENCH ELECTIONS.—The late elections in France cannot be considered by the government as satisfactory. The rural districts have as usual, been in general faithful to the Emperor, but the reports received by mail from the whole of France are that the opposition have poled 3,248,885 votes, against only 4,053,059 for the government. In Paris the candidates favored by government received only 77,943 votes on the first ballot, against 238,515 for the opposition. Even some of the rural districts went against the government, and in all the large centres of population, including the department of the Seine, (Paris,) there has been a strong and almost revolutionary contest. The Orleanists are exterminated. It is stated that even men who have long been considered rather bold republicans, but whose opinions were not strong enough to satisfy the aspirations of "democratic France" were served no better than the Orleanists, whose struggle has been for a milder form of imperialism or a monarchy. Even Rochefort, editor of the Lanterne, famous for his violent abuse of the Emperor, came very near being elected. Out and out avowed enemies of Napoleon were elected from Paris and various towns by the reds. All this indicates that the Emperor must constitutionalize his government in a liberal direction, or look to his bayonets.

ECONOMY AT THE WHITE HOUSE—EXPENSIVE ITEMS FOR A REPUBLICAN COURT.—Modern economy is an expensive luxury. Just examine one specimen. Under Andrew Johnson there was a very clever official, named Cushaw, who acted as a grand usher to the President. For $1,600 a year he consented to take the whole White House on his shoulders.—For that modest sum he was content to bear the abuse of countless visitors and to repay all with uniform politeness and courtesy. How is it under President Grant? There is Dent, full Brigadier, with a salary of $3,000 per annum; Crook receiving $1,600; Price likewise, $1,600 young Douglass $2,500; Adams (not George W., but another man) $1,600; and Simmonds a gentlemen of color, $90 per month for simply bearing cards of visitors from the eminently polite Dent to the President's private office. All these officials combined discharge the duty which Cushaw monopolized under President Johnson. In other words, it now requires $13,380 to accomplish the laborious business of attending the White House visitors, while it only cost $1,600 under Johnson. There is nothing like economy.—N. Y. Herald of Tuesday.

THE New York Post publishes a dispatch from Washington which is making a very great stir. The substance of it is that the leaders of the republican party at Washington have resolved on a grand campaign against England on the Alabama question in the next autumn elections. In this way the calculation is they can infuse a new element into our domestic politics, and take the wind out of the sails of the democracy at the same time. As the Post is a republican journal usually well informed and not much given to sensations, these revelations may be something more than mere fancy work.—Phil. Ledger.

FOREIGN SHIPS MISSING.—The Liverpool Mercury publishes a list of fourteen ships which have sailed on voyages across the Atlantic since last October and have not been heard of since. They are supposed to have foundered with all on board. Truly, those who "go down to the sea in ships" encounter great peril. More than two hundred households must have been thrown into mourning by these disasters.

THERE is a man in Chicago who vowed he would not shave until Douglas was elected President. His beard is now eight feet long.

Judge Jeremiah S. Black's arm, which was broken on the cars near Louisville, a few days ago, will have to be amputated.

RIGHT SENTIMENTS.—The following letter from the Hon. Salmon P. Chase will find a responsive echo in the breasts of all who favor a union of "hearts and hands" as well as union of States:

Charleston, S. C., May 29, 1869.—Dear sir: Your note inviting me to attend the ceremony of decorating at Magnolia Cemetery the graves of the brave men who fell in defense of the Union during the recent civil war only reached me this morning. I am very sorry that I cannot be with you on this most interesting occasion: but it is now too late to make the necessary arrangements.

The nation cannot too tenderly cherish the memory of her dead heroes, or too watchfully guard the well-being of those who survive. And may we not indulge the hope that ere long we who adhered to the national cause will be prompt also to join in commemorating the heroism of our countrymen who fell on the other side; and that those who now specially mourn their loss, consenting to the arbitrament of arms and resuming all their old love for their country and our country, one and indivisible, will join with us in like commemoration of the fallen brave of the army of the Union.

The dead are not dead. They have only gone before, and now see eye to eye. Why may not we all borrow from their sacred graves oblivion of past differences and henceforth unite in noble and generous endeavor to assure the honor and welfare of our whole country, of all her States and all her citizens.

Very resp'ly, yours, S. P. CHASE.

THE statistics of divorce in Connecticut are startling. During last year the divorces numbered 478, being more than one-tenth of the number of marriages.

A TREE was recently cut down in Frederick county, Md., which yielded eight cords of wood and 4,300 shingles.

THE present Chinese population of San Francisco is estimated at from ten to twelve thousand.

IN the Senate of Massachusetts, female suffrage was defeated by 22 votes against 9.

WITH the advent of the "month of roses" we have been once more thrown into the season of hay making, pic nics and pleasure excursions generally. The farmers are busily engaged in securing their early hay crops, in order that this branch of the husbandman's labor may be completed before the grain harvest sets in. The young folks seek recreation in the woods, or in fishing parties, or in berrying excursions. This is also the season when early vegetables are thrown into market, causing a general derangement of the "internal improvements" of mankind, and rendering medical aid a necessity. Just at this time the Great Zingari Bitters step in as an antidote for the various diseases arising from the too free use of vegetables, or the numerous ills to which farmers are exposed during their excessive field labor, or to which pleasure parties are subjected by their efforts to obtain enjoyment in the country. A supply of the bitters should be kept on hand for use at this particular period when all are exposed to sickness.

A PUBLIC BENEFACTOR.—The remedy that promptly alleviates suffering is certainly the most priceless of public benefactions. Nothing can be more grateful, nothing more valuable, nothing more desirable than health. Let the sufferers as well as those threatened with disease, try the now popular remedy, "Injin." Physicians endorse it and patients praise it. It is no quack remedy. Its discoverer does not pretend that it will cure "all the ills that flesh is heir to." For the complaints enumerated, however, as subject to its control, it is infallible. Try and then endorse. It is on its merits alone, or the medical practitioners would not endorse it.

WE have this day completed extensive repairs on the MILL, which enables us to grind more than ten bushels of good Meal in one hour, and more than eight bushels Wheat, if any one doubts it, I invite him to call, and I promise to convince him. We can accommodate all that may find it convenient to send, in the best possible manner. We have also repaired the Mill for grinding Plaster, and Corn in the ear, etc.

N. I have called where I thought it most likely to succeed and failed, and am discouraged from further attempts. This may find some prepared whom I least suspect. If so, I shall be spared the mortification of selling paper or borrowing money. Most respectfully, my29-tf. THOS. H. WHALAND.

The Morning Star Bitters Co.,

HAVE determined to present their Bitters to the public, knowing that they will sustain the merits claimed for them. This is no novelty in the market, having been before the public for the last ten years, and has everywhere stood the test of the most searching scrutiny. This Medicine is accurately compounded from the purest ingredients by experienced chemists. Neither is it claimed that the ingredients were hitherto unknown to the medical profession, on the contrary the various component parts have for a long time (some for centuries) been used by the most skeptical and experienced Physicians as a Specific in cases of Dyspepsia, Poverty of the Blood, Nervous and Bilious Headache, and many diseases arising from derangement of the Digestive Apparatus. It is not claimed for this article that it will cure all diseases. In BILIOUS FEVER and CHILLS AND FEVER, its value not only as a relief, but as an actual cure, has been fully proved. It is especially recommended in all diseases resulting from an impoverished state of the Liver, such as Hepatic Congestion, Biliary Obstruction, excess of Bile, &c.

It is recommended by prominent Medical men, who though opposed in principle to all patent or proprietary Medicines, have been forced by the result of their experience with the M. S. BITTERS, to recommend its use to their patients and the general public. We append a few of their certificates:

CHURCH CREEK, Aug. 15, 1866. Having been made acquainted with the composition of the "Morning Star Bitters," I have no hesitation in stating that they are well adapted to cases of debility of the digestive organs, in which a purely vegetable tonic is required. THOS. KING CARROLL, M. D.

No. 280 BARRE ST., BALT., MD. I hereby certify that for a number of years I was afflicted with Dyspepsia, it resisted all treatment and finally became so bad that I was compelled to abandon my business, regarding the case as hopeless. A persevering use of the M. S. Bitters completely removed the troubles. my22-6m. WM. H. SMITH.

BRICK WORK.

JAS. B. SAPPINGTON RESPECTFULLY informes the citizens of Chestertown and surrounding country that he is prepared to do all kinds of BRICK WORK in a durable and workmanlike manner. ## Examiners' Notice.

THE undersigned having been appointed by the County Commissioners of Kent county to examine and determine whether the public convenience requires a on the Sassafras River, where the Betterton road strikes the said river, generally known as "The Old Crew Landing," shall be made; Hereby give notice to all persons interested that they will meet at the said Landing on MONDAY, the 21st day of June, 1869, at 10 o'clock, A. THE "PERSICATOR," OR PEACH MANURE. SOLUBLE PHOSPHATE OF POTASH.

THE exterminator of RUST, SPORES and INSECTS that infest Corn and Wheat. The "Top-dressing" for Grass and Clover. For Tobacco and Corn it affords the most concentrated form of Soluble Phosphate and Potash, the food which forms the mineral part of the plant, so well known to all intelligent planters, furnishing the very elements that are removed with every crop, and are deficient in cultivated soils, both in Europe and America, and in all farm manures.

CHEAPER THAN WOOD ASHES, Supplying the peculiar elements of the Peach. ORCHARDS manured with the 'Persicator' bore last year abundantly until hundreds of thousands of trees in the same neighborhood, not thus manured, that did not yield a single Peach. DISEASED TREES, with yellow leaves, under the influence of the 'Persicator,' produced a dark green foliage in a few weeks. CORN stands "as a hill," even in the driest of other hills, injured by the insect, that were not manured by it.

No LIME should be applied to land without its co-operation, as its influence is largely increased as lime, and, when slacked with it, other advantages result in the economical use of the POTASH. For sale by WM. CRICHTON & SON, Agents and Patentees, Bowly's wharf, m15-1m. Baltimore, Md.

Rust and Smut in Wheat & Oats

THE CAUSTIC POTASH PHOSPHATE CALLED "PERSICATOR."

A fine, dusty powder, sown as plaster, it reaches every plant and destroys the spores of these pests—Rust, Smut and Insects everywhere. One bushel will save an acre of wheat, and pay seven-fold as a permanent manure thereafter. Try only one barrel, leaving the rest of the field unmanured by the Persicator for comparison. Price $3 per barrel, for trial only. Send for a Circular to WM. CRICHTON & SON, Wood street, Bowly's wharf, m15-1m. Baltimore.
