Views of the Press on the President's Message.

The leading newspapers of the country comment freely upon the President's message. The following extracts will show their opinions of the document:

[From the Philadelphia Age, dem.]

The message falls too much into those generalities and platitudes by which the real questions are avoided. Of the Southern States still excluded from the Union, but one, Virginia, is the subject of an unequivocal recommendation. Mississippi and Texas, and even Georgia, are handed over to the tender mercies of radical legislation, without a word for their constitutional rights from the officer who is sworn to maintain them. In finance a gradual return to specie payments is recommended, and the one way to it is said to be for the treasury to redeem its paper. That is the way, indeed, but that is also the difficulty, and for any specific mode of removing it the message expresses no preference. That the revenues of the country are greater than the requirements is, however, admitted, and this, it is to be hoped, may foreshadow some mitigation of the burdens on the people.

[From the Philadelphia Press, rep.]

As a State paper it ranks among the ablest of productions. There is none of that dogmatism that in Andrew Johnson's papers insults Congress and the people, nor is there any of that indifference to established facts which threw Johnson so far back of the moving, thinking present.—It comports as nearly as may be with the popular idea of a message. Wherein it refers to completed lines of policy the reasons are never withheld, and wherein these lines are foreshadowed, it is done in that suggestive style which invites the co-operation of Congress and insures its confidence. In its scope the message is not more general than others; in its grasp of issues it will stand as a model. Its one great characteristic is the hearty endorsement it gives to those principles which carried the war to a successful termination, and that now would not allow any of its lessons to escape.

[From the Washington Republican.]

Few messages have ever been presented to Congress so completely synoptical and so fully expressive of the wishes of the Chief Magistrate as the one transmitted on Monday. We cannot doubt that every measure suggested will be acted upon before the close of the session. It was anticipated the President would allude to the proposed International Industrial Exhibition, but we are led to believe that he will, at no distant day, make this the subject of a special message.

[From the New York Times, rep.]

The President has not attempted to adorn his message with any rhetorical artifices. He gives a comprehensive and business-like summary of the information which the great body of citizens desire to possess. He omits nothing of importance and introduces nothing which is superfluous. Everybody will be rejoiced to find that he presses earnestly upon Congress the necessity of paying greater attention than ever to our financial and commercial affairs.

[From the New York Sun.]

On the question of currency the President's views are sound and statesmanlike. He favors the resumption of specie payments as soon as it can be accomplished with prudence, and with due regard to the interests of the debtor class, to whom immediate resumption would be ruinous, because it would compel them to pay beyond their contracts the premium on gold at the time of their purchases. * * In regard to Cuba his expressions of barren sympathy for the struggling Cubans are of little value in the face of the fact that the administration has done all in its power to check the effective expression of the national sympathies of the people, and to prevent the Cubans from receiving that material aid which would have amply sufficed long ago to have settled the matter satisfactorily, and to have added another free State to the glorious cluster of American democracies.

[From the New York Herald.]

To sum up, on our financial affairs the policy recommended in the message is good and sound; on reconstruction it is consistent with the policy of a uniform application of the laws; on our foreign relations it is carefully conservative, perhaps a little too much so on the Cuban question. But from first to last there is nothing in the message, except the tenure-of-office law, calculated to disturb the harmony promised between the President and Congress, unless there may be some trouble created in the Senate touching the division of the spoils. In a word, it is a good business message, and indicates a good administration and peace and prosperity to the country under President Grant, without panics and with a steady reduction of the debt and a quiet return to specie payments.

[From the New York Tribune.]

The President urges the immediate and unqualified restoration of Virginia to self-government and to representation in Congress because she has complied in good faith with the requirements of Congress; and he recommends that Georgia be required to evince equal good faith through the action of her Legislature, reconstituted as it was before the colored members were expelled therefrom by a usurpation which has been condemned by her own court of highest resort. We trust Congress will evince equal alacrity in complying with these two judicious recommendations. * * * * *

On the whole, while we may not fully concur in its every recommendation, we regard this as one of the wisest and most judicious messages ever transmitted to Congress, and confidently predict for it the hearty approval and concurrence of the American people.

[From the N. Y. Express conservative.]

President Grant's first annual message to Congress is, on the whole, well written, clear in its ideas, and straightforward in style. In regard to specie payments, the President is in favor of resumption—as soon as it can be accomplished with prudence. His views on this point will scarcely satisfy the inflationists.

RAILROADS.—The first railroad in the United States was constructed in 1828, and was three miles long. In 1840 the number of miles of road in operation was 2,197; in 1850, 7,475 miles; in 1860, 28,771 miles; and in 1867, 36,869 miles—a ratio of increase which, if continued, will make railroads as common in twenty years as wagon-roads now are in every part of the country.

THE SOUTHERN PRESS ON THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.—We find in our Southern exchanges various comments on the President's message. The Richmond Dispatch says that the "message has the merit of being quite frank and quite independent in its tone." The President's views upon finance are pronounced encouraging. He is advised, if he desires a re-election, that he must change his views concerning Cuba. As to reconstruction, the Dispatch says:

"To the people of Virginia his direct and unqualified recommendation that the Virginia Representatives to Congress be immediately admitted to their seats will be highly gratifying." * * "We confess our surprise at his recommendations concerning Georgia. The sending back that State to the original proposition is a matter somewhat infringing principles indispensible to a confederacy of States existing even upon a very moderate basis.—If the proposed interference with Georgia be interpreted as no more than proper, and within the purview of the power of Congress, then indeed the States are at an end, even in the mildest form of their existence."

The Richmond Whig, referring to the recommendation that the Congressmen from Virginia be promptly admitted, says that "as Congress can have no motive to take issue with the President, we anticipate an early compliance with his recommendation." Other Southern journals express similar views.

REPORT OF THE POSTMASTER GENERAL.—The Postmaster General's annual report is this year among the most interesting of the departmental documents. The revenues of the Department for the year ending June 30th, 1869, were $18,344,510, and the expenditures $23,698,131, being an increase over the previous year of $2,051,909, and an increase of expenditures of $967,538. The franking privilege, the Postmaster General says, is now enjoyed by over thirty thousand officials, and involving an expense of five millions of dollars, which he justly characterizes as "a special privilege granted to a favored class at the expense of the many." He presents a strong array of reasons for its abolition, not the least of which is found in the incurable abuses and frauds which seem to be inseparable from its exercise. The remarks of the Postmaster General in regard to the press, managed and directed by private enterprise, as being more able than Congress to enlighten the masses, and that it would be better to abolish the franking privilege, and carry newspapers free, without regard to weight, throughout the United States, indicates a wise appreciation of this greatest of all popular institutions for the diffusion of information.

REPORT OF THE SECRETARY OF THE INTERIOR.—The annual report of the Hon. Mr. Cox, Secretary of the Interior, opens with the statement that 7,666,151,97 acres of government land have been disposed of during the last fiscal year, and that the cash receipts from all sources have reached the figure of $4,472,886,-28, while the expenses have amounted to but $853,816,43. During the year 13,-762 patents were issued, for which fees in excess of expenditure were received amounting to $213,926,02. The total amount paid to pensioners was $28,422,-884,08. Indian affairs are represented to be in a pecuniarily pleasant condition, much of which is attributed to the efforts of the Indian peace commission. Much, of course, is said concerning the Pacific railroad and its various branches, but little that is not already known. Mr. Cox closes his report with a pointed appeal for a civil service bill, and indulges in the vain hope that the present Congress may pass one.

SHOCKING PUNISHMENT IN CUBA.—A letter received in New York from Havana under date of November 29th, gives the details of the discovery of a negro rising in Cuba, and the horrible punishment inflicted upon those who were engaged in it. The letter tells the following doubtful story:

"Three of the number were shot, one was flogged on three different occasions, receiving in all eight hundred lashes, and one of the best negroes on the place, a vigorous man, was whipped almost to death; and amid his sufferings, while repeatedly fainting and falling to the ground from sheer weakness, was made to declare what he knew. Another, upon receiving the order to lie down and submit to be tied and receive punishment, fell senseless. Nevertheless he received a thousand lashes, without giving the slightest sign of life. A creole negro, suspected to be, though not, implicated in the plot, received one thousand two hundred lashes. The hands of the estates were collected together upon the Esperanza, and there in the presence of two thousand negroes, the ringleaders of the conspiracy were flogged in gangs of twenty one at a time, two executioners being detailed for each victim. At the same place nine were shot, and in the punishment inflicted no distinction was made between free and slave.

LARGE SHIPMENTS BY CHESAPEAKE AND DELAWARE CANAL.—Our correspondent at Delaware City states that upwards of forty-two million feet of lumber have passed through the canal since the first of September, a greater amount, perhaps, than ever before during the same period. Nearly a thousand more boats have passed westward from June to December of this year, than from June to December of last year. The increase, we imagine, has been equally as much going eastward.—We understand that a larger trade than ever before is expected next year, especially in coal.—Wilmington Commercial.

THEY CURED YOUR FATHERS AND MOTHERS,
And will cure you and your children. They are entirely different from the many preparations now in the country called Bitters or Tonics. They are no tavern preparation, or anything like one; But good, honest, reliable medicines. They are
The greatest known remedies for Liver Complaint,
DYSPEPSIA,
Nervous Debility,
JAUNDICE,
Diseases of the Kidneys,
ERUPTIONS OF THE SKIN, and all Diseases arising from a Disordered Liver, Stomach, or IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD.
Constipation, Flatulence, Inward Piles, Fullness of Blood to the Head, Acidity of the Stomach, Nausea, Heartburn, Disgust for Food, Fulness or Weight in the Stomach, Sour Eructations, Sinking or Fluttering at the Pit of the Stomach, Swimming of the Head, Hurried or Difficult Breathing, Fluttering at the Heart, Choking or Suffocating Sensations when in a Lying Posture, Dimness of Vision, Dots or Webs before the Sight, Dull Pain in the Head, Deficiency of Perspiration, Yellowness of the Skin and Eyes, Pain in the Side, Back, Chest, Limbs, etc., Sudden Flushes of Heat, Burning in the Flesh, Constant Imaginings of Evil and Great Depression of Spirits.
All these indicate disease of the Liver or Digestive Organs, combined with impure blood.

Hoofland's German Bitters is entirely vegetable, and contains no liquor. It is a compound of Fluid Extracts. The Roots, Herbs, and Barks from which these extracts are made are gathered in Germany. All the medicinal virtues are extracted from them by a scientific chemist. These extracts are then forwarded to this country to be used expressly for the manufacture of these Bitters. There is no alcoholic substance of any kind used in compounding the Bitters, hence it is the only Bitters that can be used in cases where alcoholic stimulants are not advisable.

Hoofland's German Tonic
is a combination of all the ingredients of the Bitters, with PURE Santa Cruz Rum, Orange, etc. It is used for the same diseases as the Bitters, in cases where some pure alcoholic stimulus is required. You will hear it mined that these remedies are entirely different from any others advertised for the cure of the diseases named, these being scientific preparations of medicinal extracts, while the others are mere decoctions of rum in some form. The TONIC is decidedly one of the most pleasant and agreeable remedies ever offered to the public. Its taste is exquisite. It is a pleasure to take it, while its life-giving, exhilarating, and medicinal qualities have caused it to be known as the greatest of all tonics.

DEBILITY.
There is no medicine equal to Hoofland's German Bitters or Tonic in cases of Debility. They impart a tone and vigor to the whole system. Strengthen the appetite, cause food, enable the stomach to digest it, purify the blood, give a good, sound, healthy complexion, eradicate the yellow tinge from the eye, impart a bloom to the cheeks, and change the patient from a short-breathed, emaciated, weak, and nervous invalid, to a full-faced, stout, and vigorous person.
Weak and Delicate Children are made strong by using the Bitters or Tonic. In fact, they are Family Medicines. They can be administered with perfect safety to a child three months old, the most delicate female, or a man of ninety.
These Remedies are the best Blood Purifiers
ever known, and will cure all diseases resulting from bad blood. Keep your blood pure; keep your digestive organs in a sound, healthy condition, by the use of these remedies, and no disease will ever assail you. The best men in the country recommend them. If years of honest reputation go for anything you must try these preparations.

FROM HON. GEO. W. WOODWARD,
Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.
PHILADELPHIA, March 10, 1867.
I find "Hoofland's German Bitters" is not an intoxicating beverage, but is a good tonic, useful in disorders of the digestive organs, and of great benefit in cases of debility and want of nervous action, in the system.
Yours truly,
GEO. W. WOODWARD.

FROM HON. JAMES THOMPSON,
Judge of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.
PHILADELPHIA, April 28, 1866.
I consider "Hoofland's German Bitters" a valuable medicine in case of attacks of Indigestion or Dyspepsia. I can certify this from my experience of it. Yours, with respect,
JAMES THOMPSON.

FROM REV. JOSEPH H. KENNARD, D. D.,
Pastor of the Tenth Baptist Church, Philadelphia.
DR. JACKSON—DEAR SIR:—I have been frequently requested to connect my name with recommendations of different kinds of medicines, but regarding the practice as out of my appropriate sphere, I have in all cases declined; but with a clear proof in various instances, and particularly in my own family, of the usefulness of Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters, I depart for once from my usual course, to express my full conviction that for general debility of the system and especially for Liver Complaint, it is a safe and valuable preparation. In some cases it may fail; but usually, I doubt not, it will be very beneficial to those who suffer from the above causes. Yours, very respectfully,
J. H. KENNARD,
Eighth, below Coates street.
