THE ELECTION ON TUESDAY.

"Old Kent" all Right

The election in this county on Tuesday passed off very quietly, and resulted in a glorious triumph for the "White Man's Ticket." The people turned out better than for many years past, but, after making due allowance for names which had not been stricken from the lists, the vote is still far short of the registration. Had a full vote been polled our majority would have been from one hundred and fifty to two hundred more. The Republicans were professedly sanguine of carrying the county, and estimated their majority from one hundred and fifty to two hundred. They were particularly disappointed in the 4th (Chestertown) district, where they expected not less than one hundred and fifty majority, and received but ninety-two. The soldiers which had been announced did not make their appearance—owing perhaps to the letter of Senator Vickers to the President remonstrating against sending them to the county. The presence of a Deputy U. S. Marshal was altogether unnecessary, but it is due to Mr. W. J. Vannort, who had been appointed to that position, to say that he acted in an impartial manner. The following is the official vote of the county:

	Hambleton.	Torbert.
First district	450	427
Second district	351	315
Third district	277	247
Fourth district	354	446
Fifth district	442	254
Total . .	1,874	1,639
	1,639

Hambleton's maj. 185

The white Republican vote of the several districts of the county is as follows: first 33, second 25, third 16, fourth 68, fifth 18—total 160. This leaves a white Democratic and Conservative majority of 1,714, which is closely bordering on what might be called unanimous.

How the Returns were Received—Tuesday Night in Chestertown.—When the result in the Chestertown district was announced, the radicals gave expression to great disappointment, but when the lower district came in with 188 majority for Hambleton, they had no more to say. The Democrats and Conservatives were of course highly jubilant, and manifested their gratification by repeated cheers. A crowd proceeded to the residence of Hon. George Vickers, and after announcing the result, that gentleman addressed them in a few congratulatory remarks. A disturbance was at one time apprehended in consequence of a squad of negroes marching up the street with guns, but by the interference and persuasion of peaceable citizens a collision was prevented. By eleven o'clock the town was quiet and but few persons were on the streets.

Fire.—A stable and carriage house belonging to Hon. George Vickers, of this town, were consumed by fire about three o'clock on Wednesday morning last, together with a horse and two carriages, and also the meat house on the property adjoining, occupied by Wm. Burke and belonging to George Tittet. The loss is about one thousand dollars. The fire was no doubt the act of an incendiary.

Holiday for Soldiers.—It is stated that of the ten soldiers who were sent to Queen Anne's to superintend the election, nine went rabbit hunting and the other went to Church Hill and worked all day for Hambleton. Send on the soldiers!

Republican View of the Defeat.—The Baltimore American, in an article reviewing the defeat of the Republican party in Maryland, is forced to the humiliating confession that the thirty-six thousand negroes, upon whom they relied to carry the State, "has proven to be an element of weakness and not of strength." What will the negroes themselves think of it? The American says:

"There is no more melancholy duty than that of giving reasons for defeat after a battle has been lost, and we shall not attempt to explain the disaster that has overtaken the Republican party in Maryland. Probably in some districts the vote may have been frittered away by internal dissensions, but still the fact stands out patent to all that even with the addition of the colored vote the party is in a minority in every county in the State except Anne Arundel. The prejudice which is entertained against the voting of the colored people contributed more to our defeat than all other causes combined.—The negro has proven to be an element of weakness and not of strength, and it will take time to educate the masses up to an appreciation of the justice of his enfranchisement."

The elections generally passed off quietly, though rioting and disorder are reported at some places. At Baton Rouge two negroes are said to have been killed, and several whites and negroes wounded.—At Camden, N. J., two negroes were shot and four whites badly injured. At Wilmington, Delaware, there was more or less rioting, in two wards of the city, between crowds of whites and blacks.—At Odessa a similar disturbance occurred and one of the Cochrans was knocked down by a negro.

We give below returns from every county in the State except Calvert. The triumph of the Democratic Conservatives over the negroes and their white allies has been complete, exceeding the expectations of even the most sanguine. In this (the first) Congressional District our triumph is particularly gratifying, every county on the Shore giving Hambleton a handsome majority. Thirty-six thousand negro voters, United States soldiers and hundreds of deputy marshals, all combined, were not sufficient to cause the noble old Commonwealth to falter in her allegiance to the Constitution and the interests of her people, and manfully did her gallant sons come up to the work of crushing out Radicalism and negro equality. The result is the election of our candidates in all the Congressional districts of the State by an aggregate of nearly 20,000 majority!

Those who remained apathetic, who took no interest in the contest or were intimidated by any cause, who remained at home and failed to cast their votes at a time when, if ever, every Democrat and Conservative should be up and doing, are left to their own reflections. They have no part or lot in this victory—they gave their support tacitly to the negro party, and will be subjected to the mortification of knowing that without their aid the white men of Maryland have preserved their integrity, and freed their State from the perils of negro domination, and put to shame the white advocates of negro equality.

First Congressional District.

This District is composed of the counties of Cecil, Kent, Queen Anne's, Caroline, Dorchester, Talbot, Wicomico, Somerset and Worcester. Candidates—Samuel Hambleton, of Talbot, and Henry R. Torbert, of Cecil. The following returns have been received:

	Hambleton.	Torbert.
Cecil	650 maj.	0000
Kent	1874	1689
Queen Anne's	2031	1621
Caroline	258 maj.	0000
Dorchester	250 maj.	0000
Talbot	260 maj.	0000
Wicomico	900 maj.	0000
Somerset	60 maj.	0000
Worcester	900 maj.	0000
Total	7,183	3,210
Hambleton's maj. about		3,873

Complete returns from the lower counties may increase Hambleton's majority to 4,000.

Second Congressional District.

The Second District is composed of the First, Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth and Seventh wards of Baltimore city, all of Harford county, and the Fifth, Sixth, Seventh, Ninth, Tenth, Eleventh and Twelfth districts of Baltimore county. Stevenson Archer, of Harford (the present incumbent) was the Democratic candidate, and Wm. M. Marine, of Baltimore city, the Republican nominee. The following returns have been received:

	Archer.	Marine.
Baltimore city	8,859	4,833
Baltimore county	2,763	1,453
Harford county	3,000	1,674
Total	14,622	7,960
Archer's majority		6,662

Third Congressional District.

The Third Congressional District is composed of the thirteen upper wards of Baltimore city—the Eighth, Ninth, Tenth, Eleventh, Twelfth, Thirteenth, Fourteenth, Fifteenth, Sixteenth, Seventeenth, Eighteenth, Nineteenth and Twentieth. Washington Booth was the Republican nominee, and Thomas Swann the Democratic-Conservative candidate. The following is the result:

	Swann.	Booth.
Baltimore city (13 wards)	15,009	10,344
Swann's maj.		4,665

Fourth Congressional District.

The Fourth Congressional District embraces in its limits Allegany, Carroll, Frederick and Washington counties. John Ritchie, of Frederick, Democratic nominee; John E. Smith, of Carroll, Republican. The vote, so far as received, was as follows:

	Ritchie.	Smith.
Allegany	800 maj.	0,000
Frederick	100 maj.	0,000
Carroll	2,878	2,471
Washington	600 maj.	0,000
Total	4,378	2,471
Ritchie's majority		1,907

Fifth Congressional District.

The Fifth District is composed of Anne Arundel, Calvert, Charles, Howard, Montgomery, Prince George's and St. Mary's counties, and the First, Second, Third, Fourth, and Eighth Districts of Baltimore county, being all that portion of Baltimore county not embraced in the Second District. The vote so far as received, was as follows:

	Merrick.	Gary.
Anne Arundel	0,000	379maj
Baltimore county	2,609	1,536
Howard	1,485	1,158
Prince George's	2 maj.	0,000
Charles	1,545	1,595
St. Mary's	1,670	1,419
Montgomery	2,436	1,791
Calvert	0,000	0,000
Total	9,747	7,878
Merrick's maj. about		1,869

The Result in Other States.

Elections were also held on Tuesday in Delaware, New Jersey, Kentucky, Virginia, New York, Missouri, Alabama, Michigan, Nevada, Kansas, Tennessee, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Rhode Island, Illinois and Florida.

Delaware has gone Democratic, electing Ponder for Governor, and re-electing Biggs to Congress by about 2,500 maj.

In New Jersey the congressional delegation will stand as before—three republicans and two democrats.

New York re-elects Hoffman, democrat, for Governor, by 30,000 majority, and gains two democratic congressmen.

Missouri has elected Gatz Brown, the liberal republican candidate for Governor, by 30,000 majority, and nearly all the congressmen elect are democrats and liberals. Brown was opposed to the continued disfranchisement of a large portion of the white people of the State, and was voted for by the democrats.

Wisconsin gives a gain of one democratic congressman.

Illinois.—There seems to be no doubt that Ingersoll, republican is beaten in the first district of this State by Stevens, democrat. Two years ago Ingersoll was elected by 7,800 majority. Merriam, republican candidate in the eighth district, is probably defeated by Robinson, democrat, by a small majority. The republican majority in this district two years ago was 2,800. Farnsworth, in the second district, is elected if at all, only by a small majority. The district was the strongest republican in the United States.

Tennessee—In this State Vaughan's (dem.) majority in the Memphis district will probably reach 8,000. Caldwell, democrat, is also elected in the Humboldt district.

Alabama—Returns of the election are meagre, but it is now believed the democrats have carried the State electing three members of Congress without doubt.

Arkansas—The democrats claim heavy gains and the election of Hands, democrat, over Roots, in the first district, Edwards over Boles in the third district, and the election of Rogers in the second.

There are some gains in other States, but full returns have not been received.

The Late Elections.—The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun, writes on Wednesday:

The returns received here of yesterday's elections show sufficient democratic gains of Congressmen to give the democrats ninety-one or two members in the House of the Forty-Second Congress, being an increase of nearly thirty over the present House. With the estimate of gains expected, but not yet received in the returns from Alabama, Arkansas and Tennessee, it is thought that this number will reach one hundred. Even if there should not be more than ninety members, they will destroy the obnoxious practice of the present House by which the republicans, by a two-thirds vote, have been able to suspend the rules and pass measures by the same vote without allowing debate.—Much vicious legislation has been thus enacted by the dictum of party rule. The military election bill, which has figured so prominently, was passed by the House in that way, in defiance of the protest of the minority. There will be, at least, no such exhibitions of indecent haste in legislation in the next Congress.

More Cabinet Changes Talked of—Postmaster General Creswell.—The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Gazette, under date of Nov. 7, writes:

It has been known here for some time that the trio who forced General Cox out of the Cabinet—Cameron, Chandler and Morton—have determined that the Postmaster General shall leave also. Not but that he is always ready to do any and all kinds of dirty work to maintain the Radical party in power—that he does not actively, to the best of his ability, sustain the President in his efforts to substitute a military despotism for our once happy and free Republic; in all these things he is fully up to the mark, yet the trio, assisted by the Secretary of the Navy, desire another for the place, equally unscrupulous and more competent; one, too, who has done service in the cause of Radicalism—John W. Forney, of "my two papers, both daily."

For the last week there has been almost daily consultations with the President on this subject, at several of which Forney was present. The last yesterday morning, between the President, Secretary Robeson and Forney. That the change will be made is now almost certain. And this is the reward the Maryland member of the Cabinet receives for his untiring efforts to destroy the liberties of the people of his own State; after all his labors and sycophancy to be kicked aside to give place to—well, John W. Forney.

Could anything be more humiliating? And then his friends now luxuriating in the emoluments of Government patronage—what will become of them? Their days, too, are numbered. They, like their patron, have worked hard to deprive their own neighbors of those "inalienable rights" for which our fathers fought, but their labors have not been appreciated, and, like their leader, they will have to retire to the oblivion of private life.

A Painful Scene in the Penitentiary.—The Baltimore Sun of Saturday says: Yesterday two prisoners were delivered to the State authorities at the penitentiary by the Sheriff of Kent county, Md., one a white man (Daniel Smith) sentenced to fourteen years' imprisonment for attempting to poison his wife, and the other a prepossessing white woman (Susan Chamberlain) sentenced to fourteen years for being the accomplice of the man. The woman was neatly dressed in a black silk gown, and was accompanied by her two children, four and two years of age, and by her sister. The children under the law will remain with the mother until they are seven years of age. On arriving at the penitentiary the little ones seemed to be as much delighted as if they had been moved into a new house. The mother submitted quietly to the rules which required her to put on the striped habit of the prison, handed her by the female attendant, but the agony exhibited was indescribable when she came to take leave of her heart-broken sister, who exhibited every indication of being a worthy and intelligent lady.

EUROPEAN WAR NEWS.

From data furnished by an American correspondent at Versailles, it would appear that the military status of the French is far from hopeless, while the situation of the Prussians is not altogether a surety for the success of their demands. According to this exhibit, Paris, in the first place, is impregnable, and is fully supplied with two months' provisions, while Gen. Trochu has 250,000 men fit for offensive service in the field. Then, outside of Paris, there are the armies of the Loire, 120,000 strong, under Palladin; of the west, 100,000 strong, under Kerratry; of the Rhone, 110,000, under Michel; of central France, 90,000, under Triphant; of the north, 65,000, under Bourbaki; and of the Vosges, 45,000; making a total of 530,000 men, all well armed, and fully supplied with everything needful, to say nothing of the numerous bands of Franc-tireurs and sharpshooters operating in an independent fashion. On the other hand, the Prussians who are besieging Paris are charged with a daily sick list of about 300 in every 1,000 men; their recruiting power is believed to be at a halt, their last recruits being nearly all boys under nineteen years of age.—In spite of these and other disadvantages, however, the Prussian armies continue to operate vigorously in the interior, but if the foregoing figures are not merely an idle boast, it will be simply wonderful if the French have not the better bargain before the last of December.

A statement of the details of the negotiations of M. Thiers, said to be made on good authority, represents that the chief points of discussion were the revictualing of Paris, and the proposition for the people of Lorraine and Alsace to vote, both of which were persistently rejected by King William. M. Thiers is said to be of the opinion that the Prussians will not bombard Paris on account of the public sentiment against it, but will shell the forts and make attacks in force.

Bad Material for United States Marshals.—The New York Sun (Republican) publishes a list of the names of over a dozen scoundrels, felons, pickpockets and robbers, who were sworn in as United States Deputy Marshals, to serve in New York city, to "secure an honest election" on the 8th of November. The list includes the following for the eighth ward. A white man who had served ten years in Sing State prison for burglary and never pardoned, a colored man and a white man now confined in the Tombs prison, both indicted and awaiting trial for highway robbery; an unpardoned pick-pocket, who had served terms in the New York and Massachusetts State prisons; a newly released State prison convict; a panel thief and penitentiary convict who has just been released from Blackwell's Island; Dutch Fred, keeper of a house of ill-fame; the keeper of a dance house frequented by the lowest prostitutes, pimps, thieves and "badger pullers;" a homicide and several other lesser criminals belonging to the sixth, tenth and fifteenth wards. Several hundred special marshals have been appointed in New York, including 100 colored citizens, all at a cost of $10 each per day for several days before and after the election.

Official Correspondence Versified.

We are willing to do anything in our power to give general currency to the late correspondence between the resigning Secretary of the Interior and the President of the United States. In it the Radical Administration is painted by two of its members. We have versified these letters, so that they may be easily committed to memory:

COX TO GRANT.

I do not choose to rob the nation;
Nor let rogues do it in my name.
So I'll resign my present station,
And keep, at least, an honest fame.
Your "managers" are knaves; you know it;
And so I waste no words to show it.

GRANT TO COX.

Farewell, my honest friend; good luck
Attend you in a private station.
I need a man who'll cheat and truck
With knaves—in my administration.

West Virginia Election.—This State for the first time during its existence elects a democratic governor, auditor, treasurer, secretary of state, &c.; also a majority to each house of the Legislature, which will give the ballot to twenty-five thousand disfranchised white men, and elect a United States Senator this winter.

$100 REWARD!

ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS REWARD will be paid for the apprehension and conviction of the person who set fire to my Stable and Carriage House on the night of the eighth instant. A similar reward will be paid for the apprehension and conviction of the aiders and abettors of the incendiary.

nov12-3t. GEORGE VICKERS.

Thanksgiving in Maryland.—Governor Bowie has issued his proclamation designating Thursday, the 24th of the present month, as a day of thanksgiving. This is the same day already suggested by the President of the United States for the same observance throughout the country, and acquiesced in by the Governers of various States. The people of our State have abundant cause to gratefully and religiously rejoice in the bounties which have been continuously vouchsafed to them by the Creator of all during the past as in the preceding years. They have been benignly saved from calamities and misfortunes which have terribly afflicted many others; but if they have not, yet how much is there ever that dependent man must thank his Maker for.

R. J. Leary, W. Sec'y. 1t.

A CARD.—Whereas, certain persons persist in efforts to implicate me in and fasten the odium of the late arrests of Col. Gale, Esquire Cohee and Mr. Usilton upon me, notwithstanding I have constantly, publicly and privately denied complicity in the affair. And whereas, the position of such persons in society and in the Church, is such as has permitted them to disturb our heretofore harmonious community and render the suspension of the Sabbath School at St. James' advisable; not only a prudent regard for my own reputation, but a proper respect for the religious institutions of the neighborhood, demand further action on my part. Therefore, I pronounce every word they have uttered in such direction, every charge against me, false, in every and all particulars.

And I further declare myself to have been entirely ignorant of the complaints made against those parties until Geo. T. Moore, at my house, informed me that he with them had been arraigned; that until that time the idea of their arrest, or of complaints against them, had not entered my head. Now, that the truth may appear—that the falsehoods may rest where they should, and all know who the guilty party is, they or I—I ask an investigation; challenge them to prove one of their assertions, and defy them to disprove one of mine. And, for this purpose, I propose to meet them at any time and place they may designate, and pledge myself to answer fully, candidly and truthfully any and all questions they may propound relative to the subject, asking only that legal presumption accorded to all.

If this proposition is objectionable, I will accept any they may suggest, looking to an honest result, and until an investigation can be had, I respectfully ask the public to withhold judgment. Should they decline or shrink from an investigation, because destitute of moral sensibilities, obligations and principles, and prefer leaving me as they have placed me, not as the common thief would have done, destitute only of that which he could appropriate to himself, but of that which can do them no possible good, and "makes me poor indeed."

In this event, I have no fear of the verdict an intelligent people will pass upon me; but beg the privilege of recommending to them the propriety of laying aside their anger, malice, hatred and revenge, and reflecting momentarily at least, that it hath been said, "Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor," "Do unto others as ye would that others do unto you," "Speak not evil one of another."

If there is a trace of that which some, if not all of them profess, lingering in their sickly, depraved hearts, I hope such and kindred sentiments may awaken in them emotions which have now been left to slumber, but which may help them to say, in sincerity, with me, "Good Lord forgive us."
