SENATOR VICKERS' SPEECH ON THE ENFORCEMENT ACT.

In the United States Senate on the 24th ult., the bill to amend the act to enforce the rights of citizens of the United States to vote in the several States of the Union and for other purposes, was taken up and read:

Mr. VICKERS said the bill seemed to be the offspring of the bill which passed last session. The effect of the bill of the last session was to intimidate, if not ostracise, the free people of the United States, but the people were so forbearing that no pretext was afforded for any interference with the purity of elections. But the bill failed of its effects. Its results were not such as its framers had expected, and hence the party necessity for strengthening its weaknesses. Both bills are obnoxious to constitutional objections. They assume the power of the General Government to superintend the registration of voters and of elections for Representatives in Congress. This power is claimed under the first clause of the fourth article of the Constitution.

Mr. V. then sketched the legislation of Congress under this clause, in reference to the conduct of Federal elections, from the foundation of the Government, quoting from the Federalist, and from the opinions of cotemporaries, as to the proper construction to be placed upon the clause in question, and argued that Congress could only interfere in elections to preserve the Union, and upon any other construction the Constitution never could have been ratified. It was impressed upon the minds of the people at the time that the General Government could only appoint a time, place, and manner of holding an election in order to perpetuate its own existence, and could only do that when the States refused or neglected to do it. Mr. Madison said it was not to be supposed that the States would ever fail in their duty in this matter; but it was only upon the ground of necessity that this clause was inserted, because if there was no House of Representatives there could be no Government.

Mr. V. held that the States had faithfully prescribed all the requirements for the conducting of fair and peaceable elections for Representatives in Congress.—They had recognized the late amendments to the Constitution and the laws made under them, and hence Congress had no constitutional right to interfere in any manner in the elections, much less in the unparalleled mode that was now proposed.

Mr. V. then reviewed the various provisions of the bill under consideration, and said that it inflicted the most dangerous wounds upon the Constitution of the country, and that its only object was to secure political purposes. It is said that this bill and the one to which it is amendatory are designed to preserve the purity of elections. What was the class of supervisors and marshals of election appointed in the city of New York by the United States Judge, Woodruff? The New York World of November last published a list of some sixty of these officers, from which he would read to show that the majority were thieves, robbers, and murderers, and yet these men were appointed to preserve the purity of elections. Mr. V. then read from the list alluded to the names of a large number of the election officers, who are put down as "thieves," "mail robbers," "murderers," "vagrants," "beaters of wives and mothers," "smugglers," "bummers," "penitentiary birds," "keepers of gin-mills," &c., &c., the reading of which caused considerable amusement.

These are the men appointed to supervise elections, and, as the Senator from New York [Mr. Conkling] said when he reported the bill, to preserve the ballot-box from piracies and frauds. These are the immaculate men who are substituted for the honorable and upright men appointed to conduct elections under State authority.

But what right has Congress to interfere with the registration of voters? Mr. King, in the Massachusetts convention, said the clause in the fourth article of the Constitution related only to the manner of holding elections, and had nothing to do with the qualifications of voters. But under this law the Federal officers step in and become spies and informers on the State officers. This whole bill proceeds and is based upon a distrust and want of confidence by the Federal Government in all State governments. Congress and the President say to the States and to their Governors and Legislatures, we distrust your motives, we have no confidence in your integrity or your good faith to make a fair registration, as you have previously done. The Federal Government says to the registers and judges of election, although you have been sworn, we have no confidence that you will properly perform your duties, and we therefore place spies and informers over you. It is placing the Federal Government in direct hostility to the governments of the States and to the people of the States.

This bill was another step in the downward legislation of the day; another step in the effort to elevate the negro and degrade the white man. The negroes are now clamoring not only for political, but for social and educational quality. Here in the District of Columbia the cry is for mixed schools. If this class legislation and this fostering of these designs is not arrested our country must inevitably be precipitated into revolution and anarchy.

DR. PAUL SCHŒPPE.—Schœppe, who is now in jail at Carlisle, Penn., awaiting a day to be set by Gevernor Geary for the execution of the sentence of death upon him for the murder of Miss Stinnecke, of Baltimore, has made a deed of assignment of her property, which he alleges she willed to him. The property is valued at $75,000; $69,000 of which he gives for the erection of a hospital at Carlisle, and $6,000 to a German Lutheran Church. As the will was proved at the trial to be a forgery, Schœppe's donations do not amount to much, except to create sympathy for him, for which purpose they were probably intended.

A VERY curious mode of trying the title to land is practised in Hindostan. Two holes are dug in the disputed spot, in each of which the plaintiff's and defendant's lawyers put one of their legs, and remain there until one of them is tried, in which case his client is defeated. In this country it is the client, not the lawyer, who puts his foot in it.

GREAT FORTUNES.

We have long thought that a volume of short but authentic and well-written sketches of the most eminent self-made men of America—telling not only of their success, but also in what way and by what efforts this success was attained—could not fail to possess an absorbing and universal interest, and must prove an exceedingly popular and successful book.—Such a volume now lies on our table from the press of Geo. Maclean, (Publisher of First-Class Subscription Books, Philadelphia, New York and Boston), under the title of "Great Fortunes and How They Were Made; or, The Struggles and Triumphs of our Self-made Men, by Jas. D. McCabe, Jr." It is a really elegant octavo of 633 pages, illustrated with thirty-two remarkably well-executed wood engravings, from original designs by the talented young artists G. F. & E. B. Bensell.

"Great Fortunes" is a book that appeals to all classes, describing the careers not only of our merchant princes and heavy capitalists, but also of leading inventors, publishers, editors, lawyers, artists, preachers, authors, actors, physicians, etc. It abounds in history, anecdote, sketches of life in various parts of the country, reminiscences of distinguished and eccentric men, accounts of curious and celebrated inventions, and narratives of intense and determined struggles crowned by the most brilliant triumphs. It commends itself, likewise, as a work possessing great practical value, as a means of instruction and self help to all its readers. How great fortunes were made, and how fame was won, largely make up our authors interesting narratives.

It shows how poor boys, without friends or influence, have risen to the front rank of American capitalists; how a fortune of forty millions was won by a poor schoolmaster; how thirty millions sprang from one thousand saved by a determined young boatman; how a newspaper which was first published in a cellar has become the wealthiest journal in the land; how a cabinet-maker's apprentice made the world his debtor, and built up an immense manufacturing business, which is now conducted in the largest building in the United States; how the invention of a poor schoolmaster, unexpectedly thrown out of employment, created one of our most important national industries, and made many States rich and powerful; how a printer's apprentice made his way in the world, and became the head of the largest publishing houses in America.

It shows how a poor cattle drover became one of the "kings" of Wall Street, an unknown a millionaire in seven years, a butcher's son the wealthiest man in America, a New England farmer's boy the first merchant in the land, a penniless lawyer Chief Justice of the United States, with many more such examples; in short, how energy, talent, and patient industry have always met with success when properly exerted, and how intelligence and strict attention to business—not "sharp" practices and overreaching—have been proven to be the only sure and safe road to prosperity.

We are not surprised to learn that "Great Fortunes" is having a very large and rapid sale. It is sold by subscription only, and for the benefit of any of our readers who may wish to take a local or traveling agency for this most entertaining work, we give the address of the publisher in full: Geo. Maclean, 719 Sansom Street, Philadelphia.

CUBA.—The force of the Cuban rebellion seems to have been weakened since the crowning of the new king of Spain. The impression seems to prevail on the island that he will initiate reforms which will remove the most serious causes of complaint against Spanish oppression and excesses. There is certainly room enough for reform. The new king is said to be a man of sense and generosity of sentiment. It will be a just and wise thing if he shall put an end to the bad system of administration which has prevailed in Cuba for many years. The cruelties practised during the war by the Spaniards have been revolting to the moral sense of Christendom. The Spaniards, it is true, tell us to mind our own business, and treat our own people with justice and equity. It may be true that what Spaniards do in Cuba is none of our business, but it must also be obvious that many there, in view of the oppressions practiced on the Cuban population, and of the important fact that the United States can put an end to misgovernment there if it choose, may consider that it is our business, and that thus the matter will get into national politics, and the government be ultimately compelled to interfere.—Hence it will be politic in Spain to treat her own subjects in that spirit of justice and moderation which she expects from her powerful neighbor on this continent.

JUDICIAL APPOINTMENT BY GOVERNOR BOWIE.—Gov. Bowie has appointed Geo. Y. Maynadier to be associate judge for the third judicial circuit, composed of Baltimore and Harford counties, in place of Judge Bateman, resigned.

Unanswerable Arguments.

Established facts are silent arguments which neither pen nor tongue can shake, and it is upon established facts that the reputation of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, as a health-preserving elixir, and a wholesome and powerful remedy, is based. When witnesses come forward in crowds, year after year, and reiterate the same statements in relation to the beneficial effects of a medicine upon themselves, disbelief in its efficiency is literally impossible. The credentials of this unequalled tonic and alterative, extending over a period of nearly twenty years, include individuals of every class, and residents of every clime, and refer to the most prevalent among the complaints which afflict and harass the human family. Either a multitude of people, strangers to each other, have annually been seized with an insane and motiveless desire to deceive the public, or Hostetter's Bitters, for no less than a fifth of a century, have been affording such relief to sufferers from indigestion, fever and ague, biliousness, general debility, and nervous disorders, as no other preparation has ever imparted. To-day, while the eyes of the reader are upon these lines, tens of thousands of persons of both sexes are relying upon the Bitters as a sure defence against the ailments which the present season engenders, and their confidence is not misplaced. The local potions which interested dealers sometimes endeavor to foist upon the sick in its stead, are everywhere meeting the fate that is due to fraud and imposture, while the demand for the great vegetable specific is constantly increasing.

Clear and Harmless as Water!

NATTANS' CRYSTAL DISCOVERY
FOR THE HAIR!

A PERFECTLY clear preparation in one bottle, as easily applied as water, for restoring to gray hair its natural color and youthful appearance, to eradicate and prevent dandruff, to promote the growth of the hair and stop its falling. It is perfectly harmless and entirely free from any poisonous substance and will therefore take the place of all the dirty and unpleasant preparations now in use. In everything in which the articles now in use are objectionable, CRYSTAL DISCOVERY is perfect. It is warranted to contain neither Sugar of Lead, Sulphur, Litharage, or Nitrate of Silver. Bear this in mind when you want anything for your hair.

Clear and clean as water, it does not soil the scalp or clothes, is agreeably perfumed, and makes one of the best dressings for the hair in use. It restores the color of the hair more perfect and uniformly than any other preparation, and always does so in from 3 to 10 days. Virtually feeding the roots of the hair with all the nourishing qualities necessary to its growth and healthy condition, it restores the decayed and induces a new growth of the hair more positively than anything else. The application of this wonderful discovery also produces a pleasant and cooling effect on the scalp and gives the hair a glossy appearance.

We call especial attention to the fact that a limited number of trial bottles will be given away gratuitously to those desiring to try it. You will notice that in pursuing this course our aim is to convince by the actual merits of the article. ARTHUR NATTANS, Inventor and Proprietor, Washington, D. C., to whom all orders must be addressed.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 5, 1870.

Mr. Arthur Nattans:

Dear Sir—I do not hesitate to say that your Crystal Discovery deserves to supercede all other preparations claiming to restore the growth and color of the hair. I have used it a week now, and my hair has already returned to its natural color, and has ceased falling almost entirely. I cheerfully recommend it.

Respectfully,
MRS. ANNIE MORRAIN.

A NEW ERA IN BELTING.

PAGE'S PATENT

Tanned Leather Belt.

Tanned in Oil and by the same process as Lace Leather, by PAGE BROS., inventors and manufacturers of the celebrated Page's Lace Leather.

These Belts are perfectly soft, and hug the pulley like pure rubber, thus giving 25 per ct. more driving power than any other belt.

They also have eighty per ct. more strength than the best oak-tanned belts.

They have been placed on pullies running 9,000 turns per minute, and in places where all other belts have failed, have given entire satisfaction, outwearing every other belt 50 per ct.

The fact that they are driving out of the market in the East, very fast, the other kinds of belt, is sufficient testimony.

All the large Eastern Factories now use them.

The following are a few of the many testimonials we have received:

Messrs. Charles E. Inloes & Co.:

GENTS:—We have been using Page's Patent Belt in our factories for over a year, and believe it to be the best and cheapest belt made. Best, because it is stronger and more durable than oak-tanned; and cheapest, because its adhesive qualities give it so much more driving power. Very respectfully,
