WILMINGTON TO HOLD DOLLAR DAY

The Mercantile Section of the Chamber of Commerce of Wilmington has announced that Wilmington's next semi-annual "Dollar Day" will be held under its auspices on Wednesday, August 16th. As usual, pratically every retail merchant in the city will participate in this event. The details of the observance will be in charge of a special committee of the Section, of which Edward A. Munch, a well-known Wilmington retail executive, is the chairman. Mr. Munch, as well as the other outstanding Wilmington merchants who comprise the committee, are widely known throughout the Del-Mar-Va Peninsula.

This will be the fifty-first consecutive observance of the semi-annual "Dollar Day," which is held Spring and Fall. The idea started with the old Mercantile Committee of the Chamber, which many years ago preceded the present Mercantile Section, and was copied all over the country, because of its unusual features.

More than one hundred local stores are participating in the "Dollar Day", and each of these member-stories will be designated by the display of the official "Dollar Day" distinctive window and price cards, each of which will bear the copyrighted emblem of the Chamber of Commerce, and the words "Official Store-Dollar Day, Wednesday, August 16, 1939" will appear on window streamers on the show windows of member stores. All stores will be open by 9 o'clock in the morning, Daylight Time.

Meaning in Birds' Songs

As a rule the singing of birds denotes some happy emotion, and thereby hangs a weather sign. When birds cease to sing bad weather is likely to come, for the birds' silence is due to depression at the atmospheric change. Birds depend more on the weather than we do, and are easily elated or saddened by it.
