STATE POLICE TO BEAR DOWN ON SPEEDERS

Endeavoring To Curb Increased Fatalties

Annapolis, May 28:—In an effort to reduce materially the mounting total of traffic fatalities in the State, members of the Executive Committee of Governor O'Conor's Maryland Traffic Safety Committee last night decided to "bear down" on speeding and other dangerous driving practices by instituting a carefully planned system of 'selective law inforcement." In other words, having determined by a careful and extended check of accident records, where and when the greatest number of serious accidents were occurring, the Law Enforcement Committee, with the complete approval of Governor O'Conor, and with the cooperation of Colonel Beverly Ober, Superintendent of State Police, and Police Commissioner Robert F. Stanton, of Baltimore City, will institute a close check upon traffic at the danger spots and during the dangerous hours.

The Committee is serving notice on all motorists of the State, and on transportation lines and others from out of the State using the State Roads, that Maryland's laws must be obeyed under threat of severe penalities.

It is the hope of the Committee that this warning will prove effective in immediate reduction of accidents. If traffic violations continue, however, the Committee is insistent that offenders will be dealt with summarily.

You'll find FORD LONGEST where length counts!

LONGEST in springbase!

123 inches between Ford front and rear springs. Greater than in any other car at low price . . . and passengers ride farther ahead of the rear spring center than in any other low-priced car! Take a ride and feel the difference!

LONGEST in knee-room!

Passengers in the rear seat of a 1940 Ford get more knee-room than in any other car at the price. And inside body length of Ford sedans, from windshield to rear window, exceeds that of many cars far higher in price than a Ford!

LONGEST between gas pumps!

The powerful, 8-cylinder, 85 horsepower Ford V-8 actually gave more miles per gallon than any standard-equipped 6-cylinder car in this year's official, impartial Gilmore-Yosemite economy run. Ford owners also report no oil added between regular changes!

LONGEST in experience!

More than 28,000,000 Ford-built cars paved the way for this one. The longest experience and the biggest plant in the industry combine to give you big car value and fine-car quality that only Ford methods can give at the price. Ford built the first low-cost car. Ford still builds the finest one! See a Ford Dealer and save money!
