[From the Baltimore Sun of Monday:]

DESOLATED CHICAGO.

A TOUCHING NARRATIVE BY AN EYE-WITNESS OF THE CALAMITY.

The pastor of the Charles street M. E. Church, Rev. Thomas M. Eddy, deliver- a discourse yesterday morning in relation to the Chicago calamity. Dr. Eddy has been in Chicago since Monday last, and arrived here yesterday at 6 A. M. He was an eye-witness of the terrible scenes which there occurred, (by which his family were sufferers,) and there was a very great congregation present yesterday to hear him

He read for his text from Isaiah, 24th chapter and 12th verse: "In the city is left desolation, and the gate is smitten with destruction;" also from Luke, 13th chapter, and 4th and 5th verses: "Or these eighteen men upon whom the tower of Siloam fell, and slew them, think ye they were sinners above all men that dwelt in Jerusalem? I tell you, nay."

Dr. Eddy said cities have an important mission in history, which is fully recognized in the word of God. We can have no idea of ancient or modern history disconnected from cities. Cities are centres of power for good or evil. Vice swelters, corruption cankers, and heresy burrows there. Yet no where is truth so strong. They are centres of evangelical truth and influential pulpits, and its newspapers are a power in the country. We may denounce New York vices, but the American church cannot do without Christian New York. There are scourges appointed, and calamities visited upon cities by the special providence of God; but we should all remember the crashing tower of Siloam, and beware how we dogmatize.

Dr. Eddy said he believed it was expected of him to speak concerning the great calamity of Chicago. He went there in 1856. He left there to come to Baltimore in 1869. It was one of the finest of modern cities, and was made by young men. Not elsewhere on this continent was there ever seen such a consecration of means to God and His cause. The churches, schools, colleges, homes, refuges of Chicago, were built and endowed by the young men who are suffering to-day He then described the origin and progress of the fire, its leaping the river, the mad scream of the wind, the churches and buildings burned, marking four miles of ruin in six hours.

If all the distress they had read of in the papers were multiplied by ten, it would give them no idea of its amount and intensity. He described the appalling scenes he witnessed of misery and death. There were 150,000 people without homes, of whom 50,000 had been bereft of every thing except the clothes they had on.—There was no money in the city, it having been mostly deposited on Saturday in the banks. There was no food for starving people lying out upon the cold ground of the prairie. Frantic mothers were seeking their lost children in the city; fathers seeking their families, children their parents, whom they would never see again. The first Chicago paper published after the catastophe had a column of notices of missing. He saw the blackened corpses of robbers and incendiaries hanging to gibbets. The orders to the police were that when taken they should be shot, with their faces to the wall.—The destruction of costly churches was great. The great building of the Young Men's Christian Association was burned for the second time. Dr. Eddy described the heroic efforts by which the church which he had helped to build was saved, after the powder had been placed in it to blow it up. Of the members of five or six churches he named, not one of them was left with a roof over his head. When he heard of the generosity of the people of the East he experienced one sensation of relief, and while addressing a congregation one evening last week, he told them that Baltimore city had voted $100,000 for the sufferers, and that the citizens would give as much more, the audience arose and cheered the intelligence. While Dr. Eddy was describing the wretchedness he had seen, great numbers of his congregation were affected to tears. At the close of his remarks a collection was taken up.

THE FOREST FIRES.—Immense fires have been raging in the western forests for the last two weeks. It is said that in Wisconsin the fires have had no parallel since the settlement of the country.—Two thousand square miles are reported to have been swept by the flames. In Michigan it is stated that five villages have been entirely and two partially destroyed. All that portion of the State east of Saginaw bay, and north of a point forty miles above Port Huron, has been burnt over and numbers of persons have perished. Scarcely a county in the State but has suffered more or less. The damage to the pine lands is incalculable.—The fires have burned fiercely in the immense woods in some portions of Minnesota. Wood and prairie fires are also reported to be raging along the line of the Louisville, New Albany and Chicago railroad, between New Albany, Ind., and Lafayette, on the North End road, destroying miles of fences, hay, grain in stack, corn in the field, houses, barns and cattle pens. There had been a long and protracted drought in the West, and the flames went over the country as if it were tinder. It is feared that the losses will prove enormous, and assistance is said to be needed nearly all through the Northwest where these fires have been raging.

RECONSTRUCTING CHICAGO.—At Chicago the movement for a resumption of business is extending to all the branches of trade. One of the postoffice safes has just been opened, and the contents found badly scorched. $35,000 in money was recovered, and about $80,000 worth of postage stamps, though unfit for use, were in a condition to be returned for exchange. The cashier's day book and ledger could be read, but the cash book was destroyed. The United States District Attorney lost all his papers. Thus far 125 bodies have been recovered, and it is believed that the first estimates of loss of life were greatly exaggerated. A number of persons supposed to be dead have been discovered alive and well. Thousands of men were at work in the South Division yesterday clearing away the debris and putting up temporary buildings. Every laboring man can find plenty to do at liberal wrges.

UNITED.—Among the half dozen men killed during the late Philadelphia election, was a colored man named Catto, over whose remains one political party in that city organized a pageant, and with much emotional elocution consigned them to their grave. Upon which the New York Tribune muses as follows: "Now, for the life of us, we cannot see why the aristocratic Philadelphians should make any bother about the matter, hold mass meetings in National Hall, or show their righteous wrath at the murderer by unwonted zeal in funeral services for a martyr whose life they did so little to protect. There is no place where the colored man has striven harder and more successfully to prove himself a man than in the City of Brotherly Love, and there is no place where he has had to fight his way against greater odds in intolerant tyranny."

"OUR OWN TOME."

We trust it will be no fault of ours if the people do not properly measure the stature of the man who, by virtue of his money bags, is now the Radical candidate for Governor of the State of Maryland.—In nothing besides his purse has he developed greater claims to the honor (?) than any third man to be picked up in the ranks of the people. Cunning, calculating, heartless and grasping, he has built up a splendid fortune in the midst of men as energetic and enterprising who have found no field for vaster acquisitions. Beyond that he is as innocent of all qualifications for Governor of a State as the man who grooms his horses. He has neither statesmanship, culture nor general information. All that he knows is how to make money, and all that he has had experience in is how to rigidly make it more. If the Radicals of Maryland hope by elevating such a man to the chief office in their gift to honor the State or advance its interests, they may be thankful to the Democracy for saving them a lesson in the bitter school of experience, which a lifetime would not serve to unlearn. Why, with a man at the head of affairs with such propensities, it would hardly be extravagant to expect that he would manage to secure a mortgage at usurious rates on the State itself, and by holding back the interest, foreclose at the end of six months!

That he, so fondly dubbed "Our Own Tome," now owns Cecil county, has been often grimly suggested. Make him Governor, and how long will it be before he will acquire the title deeds to the whole State?—Cecil Democrat.

THE HODGE SENTENCE.—The sentence of ten years in the penitentiary imposed upon Paymaster Hodge is held by the New York Sun to be a sham. It says: "The court-martial had no more right to sentence Hodge to the penitentiary than it had to sentence him to be hanged, and right well the court knew it. An act of Congress passed July 17, 1862, expressly limits the authority to impose such a sentence to cases where by law the same court has power to inflict the punishment of death. This has been put to the test before. Four naval paymasters, sentenced to imprisonment about a year ago, were discharged under this law by Secretary Robeson, after consultation with the attorney-general. The court-martial then made a blunder, but now, with the precedent clearly established, it is plain that the officers of this court wilfully imposed an illegal sentence, with a view to getting a brother officer out of a scrape. Of course Paymaster Hodge will walk away from the Albany penitentiary on a writ of habeas corpus before he has fairly got into it."

SECOND CROP OF PEACHES.—The Cecil Whig says: Mr. Richard T. Collings, living about seven miles below Elkton, on the Elk River, exhibited at our office, a few days since, a specimen of perfect, ripe peaches, of the Crawford's Early variety, which were the second crop of fruit this season from the same trees.—The specimens which were examined were small, not much larger than an ounce musket ball, but perfect peaches, of excellent flavor, and somewhat less acid than the first crop of fruit. These were below the ordinary size of the fruit, which was that of a hulled walnut.—About a dozen trees only, all in one spot, bore this second crop, in a large orchard, where among a general assortment, there were several hundred trees of the Crawford's Early variety. This second crop was quite plentiful, Mr. Collings stating that several baskets could have been gathered from the bearing trees. It is a singular phenomenon.

CHICAGO NOTES.—It is indeed an ill wind that blows nobody good. It is said that there is not a single indictment left against any accused person in Cook county, Illinois, which is certainly a piece of good fortune for some rogues. But, on the other hand, the lawyers have suffered severely. Hardly a law library or law office is left; not a paper to show that there is a suit pending in any of the six courts of the county; not a judgment, not a petition in bankruptcy in the federal courts. And worse yet, so far as is known, all the records of deeds and mortgages are destroyed.

THE DELAWARE EARTHQUAKE.—Bayard Taylor, who says that he has frequently experienced earthquake shocks in other countries, avers that "in no instance were they accompanied with such a loud and long-continued reverberation" as the shock last week in Delaware and the adjacent counties of Maryland.

FIRST SNOW FALL.—The Cumberland (Md.) News, of the 12th instant, says that on the day previous snow fell at several points on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad west from that city, adding that at Cumberland and Oakland the fall was quite heavy.

THE P. M. General has established a mail route from Townsend to Centreville, to be carried daily by the Queen Anne's and Kent Railroad company. Sudlersville, Millington, Masssey's and Vandyke's will be supplied by this route.

THE latest on the sweet potato question is from the Sussex Journal. It says it has one grown by Ebe Walter, Esq., of Baltimore hundred, which weigh ten lbs. It is of the variety called the California. Can any one beat this?

Trust what Time has Sanctioned.

The maxim that the voice of the people is the voice of the divinity, may in some cases be open to doubt, but the testimony of honest and enlightened witnesses extending through a series of years, and all to the same purport, is worthy of credence, admits of no question.—Upon such testimony the reputation of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as an antidote and cure for many ailments is based. During the twenty years it has been before the world, innumerable preparations intended to compete with it, have gone up like rockets, and come down the extinguished sticks. Meanwhile the progress of that incomparable tonic has been swift and steady—always upward and onward like the eagle's flight. Its introduction produced a revolution in therapeutics, and it proved to be one of those salutary revolutions that cannot go backwards. To-day Hostetter's Bitters is one of the most popular remedies in christendom, and commands a larger sale than any other medicinal preparation, domestic or imported, on this side of the Atlantic. As a cure for dyspepsia, bilious disorders, nervous affections, general debility, and as a preventive of epidemic fevers, it takes precedence of every other remedy. This fact should teach the ambitious country dealers who endeavor to foist their local abortions on the public in its stead, how futile their small attemps to cajole the community must necessarily be. Where the game fish have failed there is no chance for the "suckers."

TAKE NOTICE!

FINDING that a large number of those having accounts with me, prefer to close them with me instead of with any agent I may appoint, I have therefore determined to take all my business again into my own hands, and no future receipt for claims will be good without a written order from me, or my signature attached.

I must also forewarn all persons from giving credit to any person on my account, without a written order, as I shall not pay any such claims after this date.
