Liberal Republican Address.

At a meeting of the Liberal Republican Convention of Baltimore city, on Thursday evening of last week, the committee which had been appointed to prepare an address to the people of Maryland, submitted the following, which we commend to the thoughtful perusal of every intelligent and candid reader:

Fellow-Citizens:—The Liberal Republican movement owes its origin to the spirit of reform.

It is a protest against party abuses, sectional hatred and official corruption.

It is an attempt to organize the intelligence and patriotism of the country, in support of the Federal Union, against the dangers which now threaten it from revolutionary legislation and executive usurpation.

It is an effort to restore harmony to a divided nation; to bind up the wounds of civil strife; to recover that public spirit which formerly animated every citizen of the Republic, when "the blessings of government, like the dews of Heaven, were shed alike upon the rich and poor."

It is a realization of the fact that peace can only come through reconciliation, and that in the language of Washington, "the foundation of our national policy must be laid in the pure and immutable principles of private morality."

These are the paramount issues of the campaign. Let us look at them a little closer.

Two heresies have constantly assailed the Federal Republic as organized by our fore-fathers—a union of free States under a written constitution, which derives its authority from the people, who alone are sovereign, and prescribes the powers they have conferred upon the General Government, while reserving to themselves and their States all other rights and powers.

These heresies are secession and centralization.

The former would have destroyed the Republic by separating its party; the latter by revolutionizing its form. Either would be fatal to liberty.

It has hitherto been the duty of patriotism to stand between these opposing forces, and to watch over and cherish the Federal Union as "the palladium of our liberties." That duty still remains to all who love their country.

He who would perform it must ignore party; for although all parties profess the maintainance of the Constitution as a cardinal principle, it is their nature to run into extremes, and each party, in its turn, has encroached upon constitutional limitations, and the rights of the people to perpetuate its power.

Inconsistency, too, has marked their career upon avowed tenets, making it impossible for any one devoted to principle to adhere to party action. The centralizers became separatists in the Hartford Convention; the separatists became centralizers in the Fugitive Slave law and Dred Scott decision. Expediency too often has been their guide, and selfish aggrandizement their chief aim.

Mere placemen, and the narrow-minded bigots who make it a boast that they never voted for a political opponent or split a ticket, will follow such leadership; but statesmen and others who are guided by the light of experience, and the axiomatic truths of history, must avail themselves of such organized forces as will sustain the paramount issue for the time being, regarding them as incidents, not objects, of the struggle.

We appeal to no man's prejudices, but to his reason and patriotism. We call upon none by the sectarian appellation of Democrat or Republican, but recognize all in their more exalted attitude, as citizens of this Republic. To these we say, help us to save it.

It is useless to deny that the country is in peril. Public spirit, assailed in its very principles, is threatened with destruction. Material forces have superseded moral forces in the Government, until rascality and corruption are not merely tolerated and apologized for, but publicly applauded by a subsidized press and unscrupulous politicians, in the Congress of the United States, and in the Executive branch of the Government. Acts, which in the purer days of the Republic, would have consigned a man's name to infamy, are now held up as worthy of emulation in party service.

The people are systematically plundered by "rings," under color, of, or in defiance of law, and their official representatives and trustees, who should guard the people's interests, are often sharers in the plunder.

Public virtue has been sapped and undermined by rapacity and avarice, the basest of human passions; and men seek power, not to do their duty to the nation, but to enrich themselves.

The Administration is tainted with, and representative of, this general demoralization, and its friends no longer appeal to the nobler impulses which inspire an honorable ambition, but to selfish interests and party bigotry.

It covets the moneyed power of the country, and builds up vast monopolies by a largess which dwarfs, by its corrupt munificence, anything recorded in history.

Two hundred millions of acres of our public lands, the magnificent patrimony of our children, have been stolen from us to be given to rich corporators. The North Pacific Railroad Company alone might carve ten States as large as Maryland out of its imperial domain, while the wealthy Pennsylvania Company lays its powerful hand, like a brigand, on the people's park in Washington city for a depot.

These great monopolies and other subsidized interests, together with the syndicate and lesser speculators in the public debt and currency, are a controlling influence in our Government, directing its legislation and administration and possessing even power enough to reorganize and pack the Supreme Court for the purpose of having its own decision reversed in the legal tender law.

Two hundred millions of dollars have been added to the indebtedness of nine Southern States, under the reconstructed governments, since the close of the war, where impoverishment and misery already dwelt in the homes of the people.—For all this there is but little to show in the way of public improvement, school houses or railroads, although these were the pretexts for large appropriations.

The debt of South Carolina has grown from $4,500,000 to $31,000,000, while the assessable value of its property has decreased two-thirds, and the appraised value of its farms has fallen from $139,000,000 to $45,000,000. One-seventh of the State of Arkansas has been sold for taxes this year, and did not realize half enough to pay the taxes.

These are samples of the whole, and the governments in possession are sustained by the Administration. Is it possible that the people of these States will ever be able to pay off their bonded debt? It presents to the gaze simply stupendous fraud and enormous ruin

This cannot continue and the Republic survive. We dare not let it go on as it has gone on for the past four years if we hope to transmit free government to our posterity. Debt is the great enslavor of nations as of men, and when to the great National debt we add the State debts and municipal debts which reckless government and ring plunder has fastened upon the American people, the aggregate is appalling. A selfish instinct alone, independent of higher considerations, should prompt some measure of relief to the South that it may help up pay off our own national obligations, and capitalists who have invested in Southern securities should take warning that another four years of such rule will drive those States into hopeless bankruptcy.

The Southern States are all rehabilitated, and every district is represented in Congress, yet the sectional warfare still goes on. Under the Constitution all States are equal, yet by the enactment of laws, which are applied practically only to one section of the country, they are still held in tutelage, rather as conquered provinces than as co-equal States in the Federal system.

The Enforcement acts subject their elections to the supervision of armed soldiers, contrary to the spirit of our institutions, and the Ku-Klux law creates a constructive rebellion unknown to the decisions of the courts, and authorizes the invasion of the States, in times of peace, upon a President's discretion, not as the Constitution provides, upon the request of the Legislature or the Governor of the State, to suppress insurrection. This reduces the States into provinces and will, when occasion demands, be applied as well to Northern as Southern States. The Governor may be arrested under martial law for attempting to carry out the civil laws according to his oath of office. The judges may be arrested for issuing that great writ of right, the habeas corpus.—A mob stimulated into activity for party purposes can furnish the pretext for all this in a day. Under it, your States will be reduced into provinces, your governors will no longer be independent executives within the sphere of the organic law, but hold their places by sufferance of the supreme ruler at Washington. This is a greater power than has been assumed in England by any monarch since the days of James II.

A revolution in our form of government must result, the practical realization of which may be precipitated or delayed by circumstances, but it will develop sooner or later if we do not resent the process of centralization now going on, and restrain the Administration to constitutional limits.

In opposing secession we did not commit ourselves to the support of its opposite extreme, nor do we deem measures adopted during a period of war as necessary to success, justified in time of peace.

The right of local self-government is essential to personal liberty, and that right the Cincinnati platform pledges the Liberal Republican candidates to sustain.

It is impossible to govern remote States from the political centre without running into the extreme of despotism, and no form of government is worse than despotism clothed in republican garb.

The eligibility of the President to re-election has proven to be one of the greatest constitutional evils of our Government, and a fruitful cause of corruption and usurpation, and should be abolished. It is impossible to have any effective reform in the civil service so long as the offices are used as the engines of party to secure a re-election of the President. These views were professed by the present incumbent prior to his election, though since repudiated in his own interest.

President Grant's friends are trying to secure him a new lease of power by reviving the old war issues, although the war has been over for seven years. Every effort is made to inflame the passions of the people by reciting tales of strife and courage. It is not our purpose to discuss these, nor do we believe the country desires to fight its battles over. Notwithstanding the Secretary of the Treasury "protests against clasping hands across that bloody chasm," we think the hearts of the people are sound and fraternally disposed. They want peace. Peace brings industry, security, prosperity.

To peace Horace Greeley is pledged by the impulses of his generous nature; by the convictions of his great intellect; by the antecedents of his public record; by the terms of his nomination, and his letter of acceptance. No man doubts his attitude. He is a Republican and stands by the pledges of a Republican platform. All who have hitherto acted with that party will justify their principles by voting the Cincinnati ticket. The founders of the party and original promulgators of its principles are supporters of Greeley and Brown. They have abandoned the Administration and left it to the support of jobbers and ring-leaders. They charge it with incompetency, disregard of public opinion, absenteism, neglect of duty, gift-taking, payment of private debts with public patronage, nepotism, usurpation, personal government, and other gross abuses, and the proofs are of record.

It is evident that the country needs reform, and quite as evident that it cannot be secured by re-electing those now in power.

There is but one alternative, and that is, elect Horace Greeley and B. Gratz Brown.

To this end we earnestly call upon all true patriots throughout the State of Maryland to organize effectively for action, and especially invite the co-operation of our fellow-citizens who have hitherto been identified with the Republican party.

Respectfully,

JOS. J. STEWART,
W. E. GLEESON,
W. J. WATERMAN,
L. HENNIGHAUSEN,
W. MCWILLIAMS,
Committee.

Wheat Growers—Do not jeopardize your crops this year, by using untried fertilizers.—The "Excelsior," manufactured by J. J. Turner & Co., has been used successfully for the past thirteen years, and it is the best.

Valuable Hints.

A regular habit of body is absolutely essential to physical health and clearness of intellect. Nor is this all. Beauty of person cannot co-exist with an unnatural condition of the bowels. A free passage of the refuse matter of the system through these natural waste pipes, is as necessary to the purity of the body as the free passage of the offal of a city through its sewers is necessary to the health of its inhabitants.

Indigestion is the primary cause of most of the diseases of the discharging organs, and one of its most common results is constipation. This complaint, besides being dangerous in itself, has many disagreeable concomitants—such as an unpleasant breath, a sallow skin, contaminating blood and bile, hemorrhoids, headache, loss of memory, and general debility.

Hostetter's Stomach Bitters remove all these evils by removing their immediate cause in the digestive organs, and regulating the action of the intestines. The combination of properties in this celebrated preparation is one of its chief merits. It is not merely a stimulant or a tonic, or an antibilious agent, or a nervine, or a blood depurent, or a cathartic, but all these curative elements judiciously blended in one powerful restorative. It lends activity and vigor to the inert and enervated stomach, relieves the alimentary canal of its obstructions, and gives tone to the membrane which lines it, gently stimulates the liver, braces the nerves, and cheers the animal spirits. No other remedy possesses such a variety of hygienic virtues. It is to these characteristic virtues that it owes its prestige as a household medicine. Experience has proved that it is as harmless as it is efficacious, and hence it is as popular with the weaker sex as with the stronger.

Hostetter's Stomach Bitters are sold in bottles only, and the trade-mark blown in the glass and engraved on the label is the test of genuiness. Beware of counterfeits.

HON. JULIUS L. STRONG, member of Congress from Connecticut, died very suddenly on Saturday last at his home in Hartford, of cerebro spinal meningitis.

CAPTAIN CHELTON, of Chrisfield, whilst sailing one day last week, found a half-drowned man lashed to a buoy. The young man, after recovering his senses, was so grateful that he offered to work for Captain Chelton the remainder of his life. He had been knocked overboard from a Russian bark, bound for Londonderry, Ireland.

The Enterprising Firm of Hines & Burchinal, Chestertown, are selling Turner's Excelsior, Whitelock & Co.'s Phosphate, Pacific Guano, Moro Phillips' Eureka, Excellenzia, and Horner's Pure Ground Bone, and will deliver them either on the Chester or Sassafras river. t19o.

Wheat Seeding.—The U. S. Commissioner of Agriculture in his 1870 report says, "J. J. Turner & Co.'s Excelsior, made in Baltimore, is used to a greater extent (in Maryland and Virginia) than all other Fertilizers combined, and has retained the good opinion of farmers longer than any other fertilizer.

"Applied at the rate of 150 pounds per acre, it hastens the ripening of Wheat about 5 days and benefits the succeeding crop of clover 30 per cent."

NOTICE.—On and after Sept. 1st, 1872, our terms will be strictly Cash or no sale. Necessity compels us to do this, and it will also enable us to sell goods at a reduced price. All persons indebted will please call and settle, as we must close up our books.

The Great Fertilizer.

WHANN'S

RAW BONE SUPER PHOSPHATE.

FARMERS who are about purchasing Fertilizers for seeding their WHEAT should by all means use WHANN'S RAW BONE SUPER PHOSPHATE, which, for the past ten years, has met with unexampled success on this important crop.

Wheat grown with Whann's Phosphate has a large well filled head, stiff straw, and is far less liable to smut and rust than when grown with stable or other manures.

Whann's Raw Bone Super Phosphate

is a COMPLETE MANURE, containing all the elements needed by growing plants. It is rich in SOLUBLE PHOSPHATES and AMMONIA, and while it possesses the prompt and active properties of Peruvian Guano, it has the more durable qualities of Pure Dissolved Bones from which it is made.

FARMERS

Who have not yet used WHANN'S RAW BONE SUPER PHOSPHATE, would do well to try it on this year's crop.—That it has no superior in the market is attested by thousands who have used it.

Composed of 800 lbs. of No. 1 Peruvian Guano, and 1200 pounds of Soluble Phosphate of Lime, (bones dissolved in sulphuric acid,) Potash and Soda,

Forming the most concentrated, universal and durable fertilizer ever offered to the farmers—combining all the stimulating qualities of Peruvian Guano, and the ever durable fertilizing properties of Bones,—in fine dry powder, prepared expressly for drilling, and can be applied in any quantiy, however small, per acre; and it is the opinion of many close calculating farmers, after THIRTEEN years experience in testing it side by side with other popular fertilizers, that an application of 100 pounds of Excelsior is equal to from 200 to 300 pounds of any other fertilizer or guano offered for sale, therefore is fully 100 to 200 per cent. cheaper.

☞ Look out for imitations and counterfeits. The popularity of Excelsior has induced unscrupulous parties in this and other cities to copy our trade mark, and resort to other dishonorable means to sell their worthless compounds.
