DEMOCRATIC NOMINATIONS.

FOR PRESIDENT:

HORACE GREELEY, of New York.

VICE PRESIDENT:

B. GRATZ BROWN, of Missouri.

ELECTORAL TICKET.

For State at Large:

FREDERICK RAINE,
AUGUSTUS W. BRADFORD.

District Electors:

PHILIP D. LAIRD,
JAMES B. GROOME,
JOHN M. CARTER,
JAMES A. BUCHANAN,
JAMES T. BRISCOE,
WILLIAM WALSH.

WITHDRAWAL OF JUDGE WICKES.

Judge Wickes has written a letter declining to allow his name to go before the Convention which meets at Princess Anne on Thursday next, to nominate a candidate for Congress, in place of Judge Carmichael, declined. Having never sought the nomination, and reluctantly consenting that his name should be used in that connection, the Judge is very justly indignant at the charge, coming from various quarters of the district, that he is identified with a "judicial ring." Some papers intimate that a Judge should have no higher aspirations whatever, and especially none of a political character, and that, once upon the bench, he should cease to interest himself in the affairs of the nation, and be blind to everything except his judicial functions. For our part, we can see no more impropriety in a Judge accepting a nomination for Congress than there would be in his acceptance of a nomination for President of the United States, or any other honorable position; but our friends down the Shore greatly err if they suppose Judge Wickes would barter his place on the bench for congressional honors. We feel satisfied that he has been a party to no such transaction, and his high sense of honor would have scorned an intimation to that effect. The following is the Judge's letter:

To the Editors of the Baltimore Gazette:

GENTLEMEN: I was absent from home when Judge Carmichael's letter, declining the nomination tendered him by the Princess Anne convention, was published in your paper; hence my delay in addressing this communication to you.

As the nomination has been declined, it will, I suppose, be necessary for the members of that convention to reassemble, in order that they may nominate a candidate for Congress who will accept, and thus fully execute the trust which the people of the respective counties of the district have committed to them.

Having determined that I will not, under any circumstances, permit my name to be again presented to the convention, it is proper that the members of that body, and also the people of this congressional district should be fully apprised of the fact. I deem it proper to add that I have never sought the nomination. At the urgent request of leading members of the party in the district, and for reasons which they considered of a paramount character, I reluctantly consented that my name should be used in the canvass for the nomination. With that consent terminated my participation in the matter.

With seventy-two ballots the convention was unable to agree upon a candidate, and so irreconcilable were the opinions of the delegates that they found it necessary to nominate on the seventy-third ballot a gentleman whose name had not previously been before them. I therefore conclude that, so far as the names before the convention are concerned, there was not, and cannot be, that accord among the delegates to the convention which, in my opinion, is necessary to make a nomination acceptable.

Yours, very respectfully,
JOSEPH A. WICKES.

Chestertown, 12th Sept., 1872.

CONGRESSIONAL CONVENTION.—Dr. F. P. Phelps, of Dorchester, President of the late Congressional Convention, has issued a call for the reassembling of the Convention at Princess Anne on Thursday next, September 26th, to nominate a candidate for Congress in the place of Judge Carmichael, declined.

CONGRESSIONAL NOMINATIONS.—In the third and fourth congressional districts of this State, comprising Baltimore city, the Democrats and Conservatives made their nominations on Wednesday. The third district comprises the first nine wards of the city, and A. H. Hobbs, Thomas O. Sollers and W. J. O'Brien were the contestants. The first named had carried four wards, the second three, and the last two. Mr. O'Brien was nominated on the fifty-third ballot. He is a young and active member of the Baltimore bar.

In the fourth district, comprising the thirteen upper wards, Hon. Thos. Swann was renominated without opposition.

HEAVY COMMERCIAL FAILURES IN BALTIMORE.—The Sun of Friday week says:

The old house of Kirkland, Chase & Co., so long in the West India trade as shippers and importers, and dealing principally in sugar and coffee, found itself so largely involved, in great part by credits and advances to some other houses, one or more of which had come under pressure, that its members concluded to suspend, as their best policy under the circumstances. The house of Lazear Bros., grocers, in Exchange Place, was one of those largely indebted to Kirkland, Chase & Co., and led off, as it were, in suspension. It was announced also that Wm. Bayne & Co., and J. C. Bridges & Co., grocers, on Commerce street, had temporarily suspended—as also A. A. Perry & Co., lumber merchants. The liabilities involved in these suspensions it is understood will probably amount to $2,000,000, but the houses all claim to have assets ample to the discharge of their indebtedness.

THE Liberal and Democratic conventions of New Jersey met at Trenton and agreed upon an electoral ticket headed by Gen. George B. McClellan and Abraham Browning as electors at large.

JAMES R. HOGEWELL, formerly a State Senator from St. Mary's county, fell out of a window in Baltimore last week, while intoxicated, and broke his neck.

The Worton Agricultural Fair.

The Executive Committee have perfected their arrangements for the holding of their Exhibition on the first and second days of October next, and there is no possibility of a doubt that the show will be a complete success—instructive and entertaining to all who may attend. The names of the committee insure success; and old Worton, who has come up through much tribulation, is hoisting the banner with "Excelsior" for her motto, and would not allow a failure. But she does not wish the cattle show to be a Worton exhibition, but a county affair, and most cordially urges the farmers and citizens of our good old county to unite in contributing to its interest and making it profitable alike to all. We are assured that neither time nor money will be spared to make the show attractive, and the well known ability and energy of Dr. Vannort, the secretary, is a guarantee that nothing will be neglected that would contribute to the interest of the occasion.

The premium lists are contained in a neat and tastefully gotten up pamphlet. They are very comprehensive, and will compare favorably with those of our best conducted State Fairs. They are ready for distribution, and can be had upon application to the Secretary, who will also furnish any other information desired.

PROTRACTED MEETINGS.—The extra services in the Methodist Church at Chesterville, Rev. E. P. Aldred, pastor, was begun, as previously announced, on Sunday night last. During the week parties from abroad have been present, and the meetings have assumed a degree of interest. On Wednesday night there were three penitents forward, and much interest was manifested. The meeting will be continued next week. Extra meetings are also in progress at Rock Hall, the Union, and Walton Chapel, all of which are being conducted with considerable success.

ACCIDENT.—At Chesterville, on Monday afternoon last, a funeral procession was passing through the village. When opposite the M. E. Church South, the horse of Misses Sallie and Carrie Sutton, residing near the place, took fright at the flapping of a peach wagon curtain, and started to run. The road being filled with carriages, made it difficult to manage the frightened animal, and the carriage was run against another and overturned, with the ladies in it. By this time there was a general commotion, and the horse was soon caught and the ladies rescued from their critical condition. Both ladies received more or less injury about the head, Miss Carrie being the more hurt. The top of the carriage was badly used up.—Considering the circumstances, it is a matter of surprise that the accident was of no more serious character.

A RISING YOUNG MAN.—Mr. Thos. J. Smith, formerly of this town, has recently been elected Mayor of Hanover, Kansas, on the Liberal ticket. Mr. S. is in the lumber business in that young, but growing city, and his elevation to the first office within its gift, shows the high estimation in which he is held by the inhabitants. He predicts that Kansas will vote for Greeley.

THE evidence in the case of Mrs. Sarah E. Warner, of Baltimore city, petitioner for a distributive share of the personal estate of Samuel W. Canady, deceased, on trial before the Orphans' Court of this county, was concluded on Friday afternoon of last week, and, by agreement of counsel, the argument was postponed until Wednesday next, 25th instant.

SALES NEXT WEEK.—Mr. T. A. Jacobs, as assignee in bankruptcy of R. P. Stewart, will offer at public sale at the Voshell House, on Wednesday, the farm of said bankrupt, in Morgan's Creek Neck.

On Thursday Mrs. Henrietta Boyd will sell her stock, household and kitchen furniture, &c., at her late residence in Chestertown.

INCREASE OF FARE.—We are requested by Mr. James Shuster, proprietor of the stage line, to give notice that on and after Monday next, 23d instant, the fare from Chestertown to Baltimore, by way of Buck Neck, will be $1.25.

THE Orphans' Court was not in session last Tuesday.

QUEEN ANNE'S ITEMS.—The following items are from the Observer, of Tuesday:

The dwelling and meat house of Thos. Wood, Esq., about three miles from town, were destroyed by fire on Wednesday night last, together with a large quantity of his furniture, his family's clothing, etc. Rev. Mr. Day, who was stopping there at the time, lost nearly all his clothing and his watch. The fire is supposed by some to have been the work of an incendiary, and by others to have been caused by pouring ashes against the weather-boarding. Loss about $1,200.

Lloyd Tilghman, Esq., as trustee, sold at Sudlersville, on Thursday, the farm of the late Mrs. Hannah Brandt, containing 188 acres, to Samuel L. Pratt, Esq., for $45.50 per acre. And at Church Hill, on Saturday, the Home Farm of the late W. L. R. Deford, containing 350 acres, to W. H. Newnam, for $27.60 per acre. At the same time Geo. O. Trenchard, as executor of said Deford, sold the McFadden farm, of 269 acres, to James Reed, for $19.50 per acre.

John B. Brown, as trustee, sold on Tuesday the farm of Henry Milby, containing 100 acres, to John Wood, of Caroline county, for $14 per acre. At the same time he sold a tract known as Watson's Field, containing 85 acres, to Mrs. Blanchard Emory, for $17.75 per acre.

Mr. Samuel Seeney, of this town, has a cucumber vine from which he has gathered a little over a barrel of cucumbers. He showed us one which measured 16 inches in length.

NOVEL PROVENDER.—Several farmers in Cecil county are utilizing "rag-weed" for hay. The crops of hay and straw are both so light, owing to the spring drought, that unless some other substance can be found to feed cattle on during the winter, many must perish. Hence, these farmers are mowing their stubble fields, and putting the crop of "rag-weed" away for winter use.—Cecil Democrat.

THE second trial of Joseph Davis for the murder of Abraham L. Lynn, removed from Carroll county, was commenced at Hagerstown on Tuesday.

A GREAT CLERICAL SCANDAL IN ELKTON.—The Cecil Whig of Saturday last says: Our town was thrown into a state of intense excitement on Tuesday morning by the report of an intrigue between a former clerical gentleman of Elkton, who stood very high in the estimation of his congregation, and moved in the first circles of Elkton society, and a bright mulatto servant girl, who had lived for several years in his family. The girl was a native of this town, but left with the minister a few months ago, and continued as servant in his family up to about three or four weeks since. On Monday afternoon last, Constable Davis, of North East, brought the girl with her child, ten days old, from North East, and placed her in the custody of Sheriff Thomas, who provided her with a place in jail. The girl had been seen by two men who were working in a field near the North East Depot, about 1 o'clock, on Monday, enter the field not far from where they were at work, carrying a small bundle. After she had passed along a path that led through a patch of high weeds, they noticed that she had not the bundle with her, and as her movements were rather singular, they went to the place where she had left the bundle and found it contained an infant. They reported the fact, and Constable Davis took charge of the girl, and accused her of deserting her infant. She confessed at once and accompanied the officers to the spot where the child was found. She was then required by Magistrate Benjamin to disclose the name of the father, on oath, which she did without hesitation, charging the aforesaid clerical gentleman with the paternity of the child. The girl was visited in jail by a number of persons on Tuesday, among the number were several of the most respectable ladies, members—some of them at least—of the accused minister's congregation, while he was in the ministry here. Her reverend seducer had advised her to leave the child on some door-step. This she intended to do, but was unable to find a favorable opportunity to thus rid herself of the infant. On Monday morning last, the girl with her infant procured a ticket for Elkton.—When the cars reached North East the dread and shame of facing her mother and other acquaintances at home, induced her to get out of the cars there. Growing desperate over her situation, she finally resolved to find some place to leave the child where it would be found. This poor plan she executed with the result above narrated. We understand that the reverend gentleman is to be cited before the Presbytery which will meet shortly at Newark, Del., where his case will be investigated by the Church.

A MYSTERIOUS CASE—Two Human Bodies Found in a Thicket.—The Baltimore Sun, of Wednesday, says:

Yesterday afternoon the bodies of two white men were found lying in a thicket alongside of the Washington turnpike, about three miles from this city. The facts connected with the deaths of the men are shrouded in mystery. For the past week or so a stench had been noticed in the vicinity, as of decaying animal matter, leading to a search yesterday, which resulted in the finding, as stated, of the bodies of two men. The thicket surrounding the bodies, which were lying about ten or fifteen feet apart, was so dense that it was necessary to cut away some of the undergrowth in order to get to them. One of the bodies was lying with the face down, and under it was found a small pistol; the other body was lying upon its back, and a small pistol was found also beside it. An inquest was held, but nothing could be adduced as to the names of the men or as to the cause of their death. There was nothing found upon the person of either except two tickets for Pittsburg via the Northern Central Railroad. The bodies were in such a state of decomposition as to render it impossible to recognize their features, even had there been any one present who had known them before death. When the body which was lying upon its face was turned over the head rolled off. It was first thought the men were colored, but upon their clothes being ripped open it was found they were white. One of the pistols was empty and the other loaded, but had no cap upon it.

Both men were large in statue, about six feet in height, and both were well dressed. They had on black coats, pants and vests, and gray ribbed hats. One had on a pair of gaiters, and the other a pair of slippers. Justice Lehman, who held the inquest, took charge of the pistols and had the bodies buried. The circumstance caused considerable excitement in the neighborhood, and considerable speculation as to the cause of the death of the men. Some supposed that they had been murdered, and others that they had fought a duel and had killed each other. The mystery may never be solved, and remain forever a mystery, like the woman of the Chase's Station tragedy, whose body was never identified.

THE PENNSYLVANIA OCTOBER ELECTION.—Hon. Samuel J. Randall, Chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee of Pennsylvania, in an address to the Democracy of the State, dated September 4th, uses the following emphatic language in reference to the coming important State election to take place in October:

"Victory in October is certain. I make this declaration with full appreciation of its import, and the weight which should attach to such a statement when emanating from one in whom high confidence has been placed. I state it from conviction, and it is made after careful review and full knowledge of the condition and tendency of the public mind throughout the State. The contest is simple. It is an issue between capacity and incapability, and between honesty and corruption in the future administration of the State. The people will make overwhelming choice in favor of future good government with a majority beyond the reach of all ballot-box polluters."

THIS is the way Senator Hendricks puts it, in one of his late campaign speeches in Indiana: "Suppose," said the Senator, that, "as I am going to be elected Governor in October, some citizen was to present me with his best blooded horse. You would think that queer. Yes; but if I were to accept that horse you would think that queerer, but if I were to appoint that man to a judgeship, you would say that it meant business from the beginning. Now, suppose that was to occur four times in my office, how many votes do you expect I would get in Jeffersonville, after having received those gifts and rewarding the donors?"

THE STRONGEST MAN OF WAR.—Last month the turret ship Peter the Great, said to be the strongest man of war afloat, was launched at St. Petersburg, Russia. The Peter the Great is 329 feet 8 inches in length between perpendiculars. Her greatest outside breadth is 65 feet. The builder's measurement is 5,352 tons, draught 23 feet 9 inches. The plates on the ship's sides and raised building amidships vary from 12 to 14 inches, and the armor plate protects the ship to a depth of six feet below the water line. The vessel has no spug, but the upright stem is heavily plated and of enormous strength.

MR. O'CONOR'S FINAL REFUSAL.—In reply to the persistent solicitations of the committee appointed by the Louisville Convention and others, Mr. Charles O'Conor, of New York, has published a letter positively refusing to serve as a candidate for the Presidency. This leaves Blanton Duncan and his few sore-headed followers without a candidate, and all the efforts and money expended by the friends of Grant to create a division in the Democratic party have been fruitless of their object. Hon. D. W. Voorhees made a speech at Greenville, Ind., a few days before the meeting of the Louisville Convention, in which he referred to that assemblage as follows:

"I have told you that I had great respect for that class of Democrats who found it necessary to reason themselves into the support of Mr. Greeley. I belong to that class myself, and have reached the position is which I stand in this canvass by a careful survey of the field of duty, and not from impulse or mere personal inclination. I have weighed the calamities which will accrue to the country from Grant's re-election against the benefits which are procured by the election of Greeley, and have taken my stand accordingly. (Applause.) We hear, however, of another convention to take place at Louisville. I have no word of abuse to hurl at the men engaged in calling it, but their purpose cannot be mistaken. Every intelligent man in the United States knows that it is a movement solely in the interest of Grant, and directly tending to his re-election, the prolongation of the ruin of the South, and the further growth of corruption in every department of the Government. If any one conceives it his duty to support Grant let him do it openly and directly. But let no one deceive himself, or be deceived, as to the purpose and result of that convention. (Applause.) It is the hope of the Grant party. It is in the mouths of all his followers. It is praised by his adherents. It is countenanced by Morton and upheld by the money of the Administration ring. These facts are full of warning to the Democrats who honestly desire the success of their party and the reformation of public affairs. (Applause.) Let us, then, stand by the only man who can defeat Grant and bring peace and reconciliation to the country. Mr. Greeley may not have been your first choice, as he was not mine, but is now the only choice we can make by which to accomplish this great and noble end."

THE NORTH CAROLINA ELECTION FRAUDS.—A Contest Probable.—It appears from a published letter from Judge A. S. Merrimon, late democratic conservative candidate for Governor of North Carolina, that he will contest the election if sufficient evidence of fraud is collected, of which he seems to entertain no doubt.—Judge Merrimon says:

"I am satisfied by a great variety of facts and circumstances that have come to my knowledge, and by incontrovertible evidence already in the possession of the executive committees, that enormous frauds were perpetrated at the election, and that great numbers of illegal votes were cast against me and the other candidates associated with me on the democratic-conservative ticket for State offices. I sincerely believe that we each received a majority of the lawful votes cast; but whether those who perpetrated these frauds, directly and indirectly, did it so artfully as to avoid complete legal detection remains to be seen.

If it turns out upon the examination now being made by my friends through the executive committees that substantial ground for contest can be established, I will contest the election and vindicate the rights of the people, and, as I believe, the best interests of the State and country by so doing, to the utmost of my capacity and to the last extremity."

AN enterprising reporter recently called upon General Banks and asked him "what he thought of public opinion," to which he laconically replied that it was "healthy and revolutionary." General Banks is one of the closest and shrewdest observers in the country; and none of the political doctors of the day pays more attention to the pulse of the patient. When the General says "healthy," he no doubt means "Greeley," and if he were called upon to define the word "revolutionary," in the sense he uses it, we imagine he would at once explain it as referring to the positive intention of the people to "get rid of Grant." All the signs of the times certainly look in that direction, and no one sees it plainer than the Massachusetts convert to Liberalism.

THE Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun says that Col. Forney was in that city on Tuesday, and expressed the opinion that ex-Senator Buckalew would be elected Governor of Pennsylvania.

MONEY, MONEY, MONEY!

WE want money, and must have money. We respectfully remind our forgetful friends, for whom we have done work "long, long ago," that coal and iron and lumber, as well as the necessities of life call for cash, that for most of things the credit system is about played out, and we must have money. An immediate settlement of all old accounts will prove to be true economy.

WE WANT MONEY AND MUST HAVE MONEY!

We would call the attention of our customers to this fact, that we shall expect them to settle up with us at a very early date. Some have been owing us a long time and need not expect further indulgence,—for times have changed.
