MISCELLANEOUS.

OPINIONS ABOUT LOVE.—The following is what some of the old authors have to say about love:

Love seldom haunts the breast where learning lies.—Pope.

Hate makes us vehement partizans but love still more so.—Goethe.

In love we are all fools alike.—Gay.

Love, one time loveth burdens; another time, giveth wings.—Sir. P. Smith.

Love is the virtue of true women.—Dudevant.

In love the deceit generally outstrips the distrust.—Rochefaucauld.

Love is an affair of credulity.—Ovid.

Love at two-and-twenty is a terrible intoxicating draught.—Luffini.

Where love dwells is paradise.—Richler.

Love is precisely to moral nature what the sun is to the earth.—Belzac.

Words of love are works of love.—Alger.

Love as you should hereafter hate, and hate as you should hereafter love.—Chilo.

When we love we live.—Congreve.

Gold does not satisfy love, it must be paid in its own coin.—Madame Calazy.

She that is loved is safe.—Jeremy Taylor.

How shall I do to love? Believe. How shall I do to believe? Love.—Leighton.

Love is an egotism of two.—A. de La Selle.

I could not love thee, dear, so much, loved I not honor more.—Lovelace.

Live chastely and love dearly.—Shaksphere.

Love sacrifices all things to bless the thing that loves.—Lyton.

SOME IDOL worshipers were once disputing with a christian missionary, when one of them charged the Christian religion with the fault of not being able to see or show its God. The Missionary beckoned the man to follow him out of the tent where they were, into the open air and sunlight; then pointing to the sun shining overhead in mid-day splendor, he told the unbeliever to look at it. The man did so for a second of time, then hastily turned his eyes away.

"What is the matter?" asked the Missionary, "Why not keep looking at it?"

"Because no man can do so," was the answer.

"Learn then," replied the Missionary, "that the dazzling sun is the servant of my God. If then, you cannot look upon the servant, how can you expect to look upon the master? No man hath seen God at any time: the only Begotten Son, which is in the bosom of the Father, He hath revealed him."

THE NEWSPAPER.—Gen. Jackson when President, said to one of his fiercest newspaper opponents, "send me your newspaper. I know you are opposed to me, but then I should like to see your paper every day. I want to see how many lies you can tell on me."

"General," said the editor, "I think I do right in opposing you, and I shall continue to do so with all the ability of which I am master."

Here was a man after Jackson's own heart, and he instantly replied with an oath, "sir, send me your paper, for aside from your abuse of me your paper is a good one. Besides, I never saw a newspaper in which I could not find something worth reading."

Just so. No man can pick up any newspaper without finding something of interest. You may take the paper and tear it into fragments, and in each fragment you will see something to amuse or instruct you.

WHEN Paris was invested over seventy applications were made to the Government to employ pigeons to communicate with friends beyond the investing lines. These were at first rejected with ridicule. But as the siege went on, and ballooning became fashionable, and even members of the Government became accustomed to high and airy voyaging, the project of pigeon expresses met with more favor. The little messengers did very well, and of three hundred and sixty sent, seventy-three re-entered Paris. Two carrier-pigeons made four return voyages, and are now the especial pets of Madame Thiers and Jules Favre. Most wonderful of all, the one hundred and fifty thousand dispatches carried, after being photographically reduced, weighed as a total only the thirteenth part of an ounce.

NOBODY can sing in the streets of Paris without special permission from the authorities, and only one hundred of these permissions may be in existence at one time. The holder of a certificate must die or retire before another man can enter the ranks; and instant arrest is the penalty of singing in the street without the precious paper in his pocket. Moreover, nothing in verse or prose may be sung or recited which doesn't bear the official stamp. Some of these open air singers are said to have not only talent, but genius. Besides having excellent voices, they are not deficient in style, and show both skill and taste in the composition of simple and amusing songs, full of local and national character.

OVER-EXERTION, either of body or mind, produces debility and disease.—The usual remedy is to take some stimulant, the effect of which is the same as giving a tired horse the whip instead of oats. The true way is to fortify the system with a permanent tonic like the Peruvian Syrup, (a protoxide of Iron,) which gives strength and vigor to the whole system.

AN Irishman onced lived with his father as a hired man. The young folks had a party to which they did not invite him. Pat considered himself very much slighted, but after cogitating over the matter for a while, he brightened up, and exclaimed, "Faith, I'll be even with 'em yet; I'll have a party meself, and I won't invite anybody!"

CHILDHOOD is like a mirror, catching and reflecting images from all around it. Remember that an impious or profane sentence, uttered by a parent's lip, may operate on the young heart like a careless spray of water thrown on polished steel, staining it with rust which no after scouring can efface.

"FIRST class in philosophy stand up.—Thibbets, what is life?" "Life consists of money, a horse, and a fashionable wife." "What is poverty?" "The reward of merit which genius receives from a discriminating public."

SOME women have no memory; when they want to remember a thing, they actually write it down and stick it on the looking-glass.

IF a girl injures your offer, don't disguise or hump yourself; but bring her sugar plums and kisses and confectionary generally; keep combating her of sweet things. That will make it all right.

A CARD

To my Fellow-Citizens of Kent County:

I am induced by many considerations to announce myself to you as an INDEPENDENT CANDIDATE FOR THE HOUSE OF DELEGATES of Maryland. There is no reason why labor should not be represented in the State Legislature by one of her own sons and not always by a gentleman of property.—I am not ashamed to be the poor man's candidate. I am opposed to all cliques, rings and conventions, by means of which the few rule the many, taking care to provide office and emolument for themselves to the exclusion of the rank and file. I am against all party machinery and trickery, and am not a caucus candidate, but simply ask and hope for the support of all independent men.

I am your ob't servant.

ap12-6m* JAMES M. AYRES.

Dissolution of Partnership.

THE partnership heretofore existing between J. T. Twilley and Fredus Aldridge in the Coal Business, has been dissolved by mutual consent.

All outstanding claims due the late firm must be settled by June 1st, or they will be collected by legal process.

J. T. TWILLEY is authorized to receipt for the late firm. J. T. TWILLEY

TO THE PUBLIC.

THE subscriber most respectfully informs the public that he has made arrangements with Dr. Thos. H. Whaland to carry on his near Chestertown, for the present year.

His long experience in the business and his reputation as a Miller warrants him in the belief that he can give universal satisfaction.—As soon as practicable he intends to keep on hand a good supply of

CORN MEAL,
WHEAT FLOUR of all Grades,
HORSE FEED, &c., &c.,

which he is determined to sell at reduced prices.

He only wants to make the regular toll, and will be compelled to sell for Cash only as his capital is small and he does not intend to keep books.

He will use all means to make the Mill a public convenience as well as a source of profit. A trial is all he asks.

Most respectfully,
SAMUEL A. ANTHONY.

THE EUREKA
FANNING MILL.

THE GREATEST INVENTION OF THE NINETEENTH CENTURY!

Farmers Look to Your Interest

THE attention of Farmers and Mechanics is particularly directed to the combined economy, utility and practicability of the Eureka Mill, and to the many other advantages it possesses over every other Fanning Mill which has been introduced to the public.

It is the fruit of long and patient investigation by the inventor, who has made it his constant study for over twenty years. He has secured several patents for Mills, and has always been rewarded with the best of success. But not feeling satisfied with his former attainments, he determined to reach the climax, and he now believes that his new invention will warrant him in exclaiming in the joy of his heart, like the philosopher, Phythagoras—EUREKA!—signifying in the Grecian language, "I have found it." This has given the name to this new Mill.

In this Mill are all the former improvements to which have been added several more, adding still greater advantages than were at first anticipated, or even thought possible by the inventor himself. It embraces the three great essentials necessary in every invention:

It combines ECONOMY, UTILITY and PRACTICABILITY!

THE "EUREKA" MILL

Is small and lighter, and is capable of doing more and better work in a given time than any other Mill ever invented.

IT IS THE ONLY MILL

that will successfully remove from wheat all such pests as Cockle, Garlic, Oats, Rye, &c.

Should an extra quality of grain for seed or gristing purposes be required, it can be so arranged as to catch in one box perfect grain, and in the other, grain fit for market or mill. Here is made a great saving usually lost sight of: for nearly one quarter of the grain cleaned in the common Mills is lost when sown, on account of shrunken kernels and inferior grain. The Eureka Mill saves all this, and gives seed every kernel of which will grow when put nto the ground, and this saving will, in a hort time, pay for the Mill.

HINES & BURCHINAL,
Chestertown, Maryland,

Owners of the Mill, are having them manufactured at the Sash Factory and Planing Mill of Noland & Co., Port Deposit, Md., which is a guarantee that they will be put up in the best manner. jel7-tf.
