A LECTURE ABOUT "DOCTORS."

BY PROF. N. R. SMITH.

Prof. Nathan R. Smith lectured on doctors at the Masonic Temple last night to a fair and intelligent audience, among which there were many prominent physicians. The attendance was not as large as was expected in view of the speaker and subject, but the very disagreeable weather had the effect of keeping away many who had purchased tickets. The professor used a conversational style and tone, and remained seated while speaking.

Being introduced by Mr. W. H. Sadler, the professor said he needed no introduction, as he knew those present, or was known to them, if not professionally, as a semicen-tenarian citizen of Baltimore. He was not present to traduce that profession, so many of whose members he himself had taught, for in so doing he would traduce himself. His friend, Gov. Pratt, had asked him some time ago if doctors at large did not do more harm than good, and he had replied that taking the legitimate members they did not, but if quacks in and out of the profession and patent medicine were included he must answer in the affirmative.

There is empiricism in every profession; there is much of it in religion, and very much in the law; but not so much in medicine as law, because there is less chance for humbug. [Laughter.] There is no profession so much maligned as the medical profession. If a doctor is put on the stage he is invarably made ridiculous, and even children are taught to dread doctors. Ma says "be a good boy, Willie, or I will send for the doctor," and Willie is afraid, as he knows the doctor will come for a fee. [Laughter.] He told an incident where a boy had an abcess, and when Prof. Smith was mentioned he said he would not have him.

Something had to be done that, while not according to moral principles, was necessary. He (the professor) was introduced as Uncle John, from California, and talked with the boy about his disease. The surrounding parts had to be shaved of hair, and the boy wanted to do it himself. While he was doing it the professor said he was working awkwardly, and asked the boy to let him have the razor. The boy did so, cheerfully, and in an instant the abcess was opened, but the boy cried out, "You devil! you're not Uncle John; your name's Smith!" [Laughter.]

Great men, as well as small, maligned doctors. Napoleon did not like doctors, but favored a certain surgeon. This inconsistency was plain in view of the fact that no one can be a good surgeon without a knowledge of medicine. Frederick the Great was also inconsistent in sending for the great physician, Dr. Zimmerman. The King said, "I presume doctor, you have put a great many souls out of the world;" to which the doctor replied, "Not so many as your Majesty, nor with such glory to myself."

If the medical profession have done nothing else they have at least benefited humanity. In the matter of small-pox particularly look what it has done. Here the professor detailed the progress made by the profession in the treatment of that disease. During his remarks on this subject he said the prevailing impression that Job had the small pox is a mistake, for it is related that his comforters sat seven days and nights, whereas if Job had "broke out" there is not the slightest doubt but that his comforters would have taken quick leave. [Laughter.]

Another benefaction given by doctors is that of such medicines as guard against malarious influences. Some thirty years ago a vessel went up the Nile some three hundred miles, and after awhile she came floating back with every soul that had been on board lying dead on deck. Now vessels visit that place regularly without any effect, and all on account of quinine. Of late England has gained a victory over Ashantee, not by improved cannon or well drilled armies, but because quinine enabled them to brave the insidious miasma of the place. Quinine will gain another victory. When, as it surely will be, the Darien ship channel will be built, it will be done as much by the sovereign power of quinine as by enterprise and industry.

It is estimated that there are 2,400 distinct diseases, out of which 1,500 are spontaneous. Scarlet fever is often spontaneous, and it is a question if any treatment is good for it except nature's own. The belief that diseases cannot be cured or broken up without herculean medicines is a great mistake. Even pulmonary consumption has been cured ere now by nature herself, and in this connection Dr. Smith related a great many very interesting circumstances attending wonderful cures.

He once prescribed for a sick girl, and afterward met her mother, who said the girl got well from a home cure, and not from the medicine. The professor was anxious to know what it was, and the woman was diffident in telling. At last she said it was simply the burned ashes of seven hairs cut from the ears of a black cat. [Laughter.] The force of imagination is certainly very great, but much of the good attributed to the results of imagination come from nature's law.

Prof. Smith stated it as a fact that whisky and tobacco bring more diseases than all other causes in the world. Even the proportion of accidents are mainly owing to nervousness or intemperance produced by these articles. They did more harm than the entire 2,400 remedies of meteria medica did good. They were also mainly instrumental in shortening the average life of people generally. He believed that nature intended man to live one hundred years, and invariably when dying before that age it was owing to causes brought about by the individual. He argued that all domesticated animals live to five times the age of their maturity, whereas man matured at 21 and died according to the average in civilized countries at 33 years.

FROM OHIO.

The women's temperance war now raging in different parts of the country, particularly in the west, with such unparalleled success, recommends for persons who claim whiskey a necessity for medicinal purposes, to use Green's August flower, which contains no intoxicating spirits, and is a gentle laxitive, and a certain cure for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Indigestion, Costiveness, Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, coming up of the food after eating, purifies the Blood and System. Just what is needed in the Spring of the year by everybody. Try it. Sold by C. F. STAM & BRO., and THOS. W. WICKES.

The Great Antagonist of Disease.

What is the natural antagonist of disease? It is the vital principle. From the moment that disease is developed in the system, this champion fights the intruder until it either conquers or is conquered. Which side should medical science espouse in this life and death struggle? Should it depress and cripple the physical energies of the patient, thereby helping disorder, or should it reinforce the the vitality of the patient and thereby assist in quelling the ailment? Of course the proper answer to this question must be obvious to every one above the grade of an idiot or a lunatic, and hence it follows that the weak and broken down invalid who chooses to dose himself with depleting slops, instead of toning, invigorating and vitalizing his enervated frame with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, must be either feeble minded or deranged. Surely nothing short of imbecility or insanity could induce a person laboring under bodily weakness and nervous prostration, to take day after day powerful doses of some drastic purgative in the hope of gaining strength thereby. Although charlatans may advertise preparations of this character as tonics, people in the full possession of their reason can not, one would think, accept them as such. If they do the penalty of their credulity may be the shortening of their lives. The rheumatic, the dyspeptic, the bilious, the debilitated and nervous, and all who are subject to intermittents, or other diseases brought on by the inclement weather which prevails at this season, will do well to strengthen their nerves, tone their stomachs and regulate their bowels with the Bitters. The two-fold operation of the restorative as an invigoratke and an aperient, in addition to its direct and specific effect upon the disordered liver, renders it a most efficient remedy for complaints of the digestive, secretive and excretive organs, at present in use. This fact is conceded by eminent members of the faculty whose testimony to that effect is published in Hostetter's Almanac for 1874.

PROTECT YOUR BUILDINGS!

Which may be Done with Less than Quarter the Usual Expense by the Use of GLINES' PATENT SLATE ROOFING PAINT!

A Roof may be covered with a very cheap shingle, and by the application of this Slate be made to last from 50 to 80 years. Old Roofs can be patched and coated, and made to look much better, and last longer than new shingles without the Slate, for

ONE-THIRD THE COST OF RE-SHINGLING

The cost of Slating new Shingles is only about the cost of simply laying them, and the Slate is Fire-Proof against sparks and live coals falling upon it, as may be easily tested by any one, and as appears from the fact that Insurance Companies make the same tariff that they do for slated roofs. For tin and iron it has no equal, as it expands by heat, contracts by cold, and

NEVER CRACKS OR SCALES.

For Cemetery Fences it is particularly adapted, as it will not corrode in the most exposed places. Roofs covered with Tar Sheathing Felt can be made water tight at a small expense.

The Slate or Paint is Extremely Cheap!

Two gallons will cover a hundred square feet of shingle roof, or over leaf, boarded or tin or iron. Price of the Slate, ready for use, is $3 qts., $6 per gallon, $10 per half-bbl., or $35 per bbl. of about 6½ gallons, with a liberal discount to the trade. We furnish and apply the material at $2.50 per 100 square feet in the vicinity of this city. We use therefore it does not affect the water from the roof if it oozes off from our slates for the first one or two rains. The Paint has a very heavy body, but is easily applied with a 4 or 6 inch colored brush. It did not rotten Shingles it fills up the holes and pores, hardens them, and gives a new and substantial roof that will last for years. On curved or warped shingles, it brings them to their place and keeps them there. It fills up the holes in Tin or Felting Roofs, and stops the leak. One coat is equal to ten of ordinary paint. The color of the Slate when fresh applied is a dark purple; in about a month it changes to a light, uniform slate color.

NO TAR IN THIS COMPOSITION

And is to All Intents and Purposes Slate.

It is a slow dryer, but rain will not affect it in the least in one hour after it is put on. Samples sent to any part of the country by Express, C. O. D., at the following prices. If ordered to be sent by freight, the money must accompany the order:

A Certain Cure for DYSPEPSIA, LIVER COMPLAINT, Jaundice, Billiousness, Sick Headache, and Habitual Costiveness.

WHAT is life without the enjoyment of health? If you had the wealth of Crœsus, and afflicted with Dyspepsia, or its kindred diseases, you could not enjoy life. Dyspepsia is a prevalent disease in the U. States, brought about by our habits and irregularities. The Materia Medica has been exhausted to find a remedy, and the skill of the most learned Physicians has failed to effect a cure. Notwithstanding this declaration we unhesitatingly say—"MILLER'S DYSPEPSIN" is a Certain Cure for Dyspepsia and the many complaints incident thereto. It has been before the public a sufficient length of time to fully test its merits, and in every instance where it has been used according to directions, it has resulted in giving relief and effecting a cure. With each bottle is a Circular, describing the symptoms of the diseases named, and for which only we claim it as a specific.

Give it a fair trial, and rest assured you will be benefitted.

Iron in the Blood

PERUVIAN AN IRON TONIC SYRUP

MAKES THE WEAK STRONG.

The Peruvian Syrup, a Protected Solution of the Protoxide of Iron, is so combined as to have the character of an aliment, as easily digested and assimilated with the blood as the simplest food. It increases the quantity of Nature's Own Vitalizing Agent, Iron in the blood, and cures "a thousand ills," simply by Toning up, Invigorating and Vitalizing the System. The enriched and vitalized blood permeates every part of the body, repairing damages and waste, searching out morbid secretions, and leaving nothing for disease to feed upon.

This is the secret of the wonderful success of this remedy in curing Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrhœa, Boils, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fevers, Humors, Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, and all diseases originating in a bad state of the blood, or accompanied by debility or a low state of the system. Being free from Alcohol, in any form, its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, infusing strength, vigor, and new life into all parts of the system, and building up an Iron Constitution.

Thousands have been changed by the use of this remedy, from weak, sickly, suffering creatures, to strong, healthy, and happy men and women; and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial.

See that each bottle has PERUVIAN SYRUP blown in the glass.
