The Kent News.

SATURDAY, - - - - MAY 23, 1874

NEWS IN BRIEF.

Both houses of Congress have passed a resolution to adjourn on the 22d of June. This is the most sensible thing they have done during the session.

The marriage of Miss Nellie Grant to Mr. Sartoris, of England, took place on Thursday morning in the east room of the Executive Mansion. Only about one hundred and fifty guests were present, and these mainly the most intimate friends of the President's family. The bride was the recipient of a large number of splendid and valuable presents.

A most disastrous flood occurred about eight o'clock on Saturday morning last in Hampshire county, Massachusetts, caused by the apparently almost simultaneous breaking of three reservoirs, or rather dams, on Mill river. The water swept through the manufacturing villages of Williamsburg, Hardensville, Leeds and Florence, with resistless violence, destroying dwellings, mills, manufactories and other descriptions of property in its course. The loss of life—men, women and children—was about two hundred. The loss of property is put at several millions of dollars. Had the breakage occurred at night it is supposed that several thousand persons would have been drowned.

Delaware furnishes a most refreshing instance of speedy justice. Lewis Robinson came from New Haven, Conn., to Wilmington on Wednesday morning of last week. At noon he attempted to commit a rape on a little girl on Market street, was arrested a few minutes afterwards and sent to Newcastle jail. The next morning he was arraigned and put on trial.—At 5 P. M. he was convicted and sentenced, the time between the commission of the crime and conviction being just twenty-nine hours. He was whipped on Saturday with thirty lashes, stood in the pillory one hour, and was then put in prison for ten years.

Forty-three praying temperance women were arrested in front of a saloon in Cincinnati on Saturday, by the police, several of them the wives of clergymen.—They refused to accept bail, which was offered by their friends, but were finally released on parole to appear before the Police Court. During the previous day they had assaulted the driver of a beer wagon with prayer and song, and his friends came back at them on Saturday in something of the same fashion. As the ladies sung or prayed the crowd struck up their choruses. Christian patience gave way at last, and the upshot of the business was that fighting commenced, the women had to be protected by the police, and the Mayor issued an order that the praying bands should be kept off the streets in the future.

Prescott, the Boston lawyer to whom Sanborn paid $48,000 to be distributed to certain parties, refuses to tell the investigating committee who got the money. What the committee will do with him remains to be seen. The custom heretofore has been to imprison all such in one of the basement rooms of the Capitol until Congress adjourns. It is a pleasant punishment which most of these rascals bear with cheerful equanimity.

The case of Governor Moses, of South Carolina, is becoming serious. The Grand Jury of Orangeburg indicted him on the charge of grand larceny, and a bench warrant was issued for his arrest. When the Sheriff's officer went to take him he declined to step within the clutches of the law, but eventually surrendered and was admitted to bail. There is much excitement over the condition of affairs.

At New Castle, Delaware, on Saturday, seven prisoners—two white and five colored—were publicly whipped for acts of burglary and larceny. They seemed to feel their punishment keenly, but except shrugging their shoulders and squirming, gave no other sign of bodily pain.

The Pimlico Races, at Baltimore, will commence on Tuesday, the 26th instant, and continue four days. A large number of noted horses have arrived, and it is believed this spring's meeting will be one of the most interesting yet held at that place.

The Committee of Ways and Means of the House of Representatives on Wednesday authorized Mr. Foster to report a resolution censuring the Secretary of the Treasury, the Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, and Solicitor Banfield for the lax and careless administration of the law in the Sanborn contract cases.

From reports received from the lately submerged districts of Louisiana it would seem that the contributions sent from the North for distribution to the destitute sufferers by the flood have fallen far short of giving substantial relief. The Mayor of New Orleans writes that unless the relief fund be increased in some way to a million dollars many thousands must perish by famine. Even that sum will no more than suffice to save the lives of the people until the flood subsides and the overflowed lands are again tillable.

The trial of Prof. Swing, pastor of the Fourth Presbyterian Church of Chicago, has ended in the acquittal of the accused. He was charged by Prof. Patton, editor of the Chicago Interior, with preaching doctrines not authorized by the Presbyterian standards. The Chicago Presbytery cited Prof. Swing to answer, and Prof. Patton was appointed prosecutor. The accused had the popular sympathy with him, and comes out of the trial a more distinguished man than he was before Prof. Patton charged him with heresy. The vote stood 15 for conviction and 45 for acquittal. An appeal has been taken to the Synod of Northern Illinois.

Seventy thousand dollars have been voted by the Mexican Congress to provide for the purpose of the representation of Mexico at the centennial exhibition in Philadelphia in 1876.

JUDGE ROBINSON intends during the summer to build himself a new dwelling on his farm, a few miles from town, and come there next year to live. The Judge prefers old Queen Anne's to Annapolis. Sensible, Judge.—Cent. Observer.

END OF THE ARKANSAS IMBROGLIO—Federal Interposition.—Attorney General Williams has given an elaborate opinion on the Arkansas case. His conclusions are that the Courts had no authority to act in the matter; that the State Constitution clothed the Legislature with power to decide upon contested elections, and that Baxter is entitled to recognition as Governor of the State. President Grant accordingly issued a proclamation recognizing Baxter, and commanding the Brooks faction to disband and return to their homes, which order has been obeyed.

The truth is, says the Baltimore Gazette, that Brooks was legally elected and illegally counted out; that he seized the Governorship on the strength of the decision of an incompetent tribunal, and that, tho' legally chosen, he is illegally in possession. On the other hand Baxter obtained possession by fraud, but was confirmed in his seat by the only body nominated by the State Constitution to pass upon his claim to the office. Both men have repudiated their former allies and exchanged positions politically. Brooks has thrown himself into the arms of the Clayton faction that opposed his election and kept him out of the Governorship by fabricating a majority for Baxter; whilst Baxter, dishonestly chosen, but with honest instincts, has revolted against the dictation of the Clayton ring, and has sought to save the State from being plundered by it. The opinion given by Attorney General Williams is therefore in consonance with what has now become the desire of the best disposed voters of both parties in Arkansas.

The troubles, however, it seems, are not yet ended. Baxter has obtained possession of the Governorship, and he wields the power of the State; but the demoralization caused by the shameful contest which took place in Little Rock has spread through the State, and in some sections outlawry prevails to an alarming extent. Immediately after the President's proclamation was issued Brooks disbanded his men, and they left the capital. Instead of proceeding to their homes they divided themselves into squads and began to prey upon the people. For the most part these men are ignorant negroes who have been taught by the discipline of Brooks to disregard the obligations of law, and as they find themselves now with arms in their hands, in a community which is already distracted by anarchy, the inducement to rascality seems to be overpowering. We may therefore expect from Arkansas for some time to come stories of robbery, outrage and murder, in which these roving brigands will be the chief actors.

COUNTY SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION.—The next session of the Kent County Union Sunday School Convention will be held at St. James' M. P. Church, Worton, on Wednesday and Thursday, June 3d and 4th. Rev. A. N. Gilbert, of Baltimore, has promised to be present and deliver the regular Sunday school address on Wednesday night. The subjects for debate, as published elsewhere, embrace almost everything that is of interest to the Sabbath school, and their discussion cannot fail to be interesting and edifying. The convention has never before been held in Worton, and the warm-hearted people of that section await to extend to its members and invited guests a cordial and generous greeting, as well as an opportunity to enjoy their hospitality, which is proverbial.

THE LAWS.—We send out with this issue, in supplemental form, the remainder of the public general laws passed at the late session of the General Assembly of Maryland. The two supplemental sheets can now be bound together and preserved for convenient reference. These, however, do not comprise all the general laws passed, but only those that took effect from the date of their passage. The others go into effect on the first day of June, and are not required to be published in the papers, it being presumed that all the laws will be published in book form and made public before that date.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—Mr. Henry Tonkin, principal teacher at the academy in Millington, walked out to the Unicorn Mills on the evening of the 13th instant for the purpose of a little exercise, and while there engaged in jumping with a pole over very high crutches, and unfortunately his foot slipped as he made a "Sam Patch" leap, which caused him very violently to sprain one of his legs and ankle, which disabled him from walking, and has given him excruciating misery for several days; but we are informed by his physician that he is recovering, and will soon be able to take charge of his school again.

ROUND TRIPS.—Those daily excursions to Baltimore, which were so popular with our community last year, will be resumed by the George Law on and after Monday next. The steamer will leave Chestertown at 6½ A. M., arrive at Baltimore at 12 M., and leave at 2 P. M., giving passengers two hours in the city. We are pleased to learn that Capt. McConner has entirely recovered from his recent protracted illness and will resume command of the steamer.

CHURCH ORGANIZATION.—On Tuesday, May 12th, a Presbyterian Church was organized at Kennedyville, in this county, by a commission from the Presbytery of New Castle. Dr. Wm. Maxwell and Mr. Robert P. Stewart were then elected elders and Mr. Stewart ordained. The new church starts out with twenty-two members, and more are expected at its first communion. A movement has been started towards building a church for the new organization, and a considerable sum has already been subscribed.

NEW PAPER.—We have received the first number of The State Sentinel, published at Dover, Del., Wm. Sharp, Esq., editor. It is a neatly printed seven-column paper, republican in politics, and its editor seems to handle his pen with ease and ability.

ORPHANS' COURT, Tuesday, May 19.—Letters of administration on the personal estate of Benjamin R. Crouch were granted unto Samuel Beck, and Wm. W. Stephens and John P. Nicholson appointed to appraise said estate, and the usual notice to creditors ordered. S. A. J. Wickes, guardian to Emily Stevens, was authorized to pay said ward $50 out of her estate. Ann E. Willson, guardian to Alice J. Willson, returned guardian accounts for 1872 and 1873, and final guardian account to Emma C. Willson.

RESULTED FATALLY.—The accident to Richard Larrimore, at Leary's saw mill, near Grey's Inn wharf, resulted fatally on Friday morning of last week. Lockjaw supervened, and he died after a few days of excruciating suffering.

WINE FROM WINE PLANT.—Dr. Massey has sent us a bottle of wine made from wine plant, which he pronounced in his communication last week to be superior to wine made from grapes. It has a very pleasant flavor, but as we do not profess to be a judge of wines, the merits of the respective articles will have to be determined by those more competent to settle the question.

WE take this opportunity of calling the attention of our art-loving public to the fact that Messrs. Lowrey & Garwood, of Baltimore, are making arrangements to give a series of Art Entertainments or Illustrated Lectures, of a very superior, instructive and amusing character, at the Court House, of which specific information will be given next week.

HINES & BURCHINAL have on exhibition at their warehouse a Buckeye Miller Table Rake Reaper. It is one of the best ever used in Kent county—cuts 5 feet 6 inches; two motions, one for reaping and one for mowing—and we would advise the farmer in want of a good machine to call by all means and see before purchasing any other.

CHESTERVILLE AND VICINITY.—A communication from our correspondent at Chesterville, received too late for our last week's issue, contained the following:

Much to the surprise of every one, our old friend, H. Mulliken, mentioned in our last letter as not expected to recover, is again in the enjoyment of usual health, much to the gratification of his friends.

There is no man in our neighborhood who has a finer stock of horses than S. W. Aldridge, Esq., and there is no one who succeeds in obtaining better prices for the same. He has just sold his fine young colt, Roan Chief, for $335 cash, with harness. This is one of the most handsome colts we ever saw, is of excellent disposition and great bottom. He goes to Dover, Delaware, being the third of Mr. A's stock now in that town, the Governor having purchased a span of him about a year since.

Gardening and corn planting are in full blast. Wheat never presented a finer prospect. There will probably be some peaches and a good many apples. Mr. J. F. Newnam has one of the prettiest fields of clover in the neighborhood.

DIED:

On the 12th inst., at the residence of James A. Roseberry, Mrs. ELIZA SNYDER, in the 77th year of her age.

In St. Michaels, on the 17th instant, Mrs. SARAH QUIGLEY, wife of the late Rev. T. J. Quigley, in her 75th year.

At his residence, Bacchus' Mill, on Friday morning, 15th inst., of erysipelas, BENJAMIN R. CROUCH, aged about 38 years.

On the 16th inst., at her residence near Duhamel's corner, Queen Anne's county, Mrs. REGISTER WOODALL.

Very suddenly, at the residence of James B. Stevens, Queen Anne's co., WILLIAM BRAMBLE, Jr., on the 17th instant in the 35th year of his age. He was in apparent good health at breakfast Sunday morning, but complained of not feeling very well soon after and went up stairs to lie down, where he remained until noon, when one of the family went up to call him to dinner and found him lying on his face upon the bed with life extinct. He had been subject to fits, and it is thought by the inquest that it was from that cause he died.

OBITUARY.—Departed this life, in Sassafras, Kent county, May 16th, at 11, P. M., Mrs. EMMA BRICK, wife of R. Augustus Brice, in the 27th year of her age. Thus has passed away a kind and most affectionate wife, and loving mother, and this community cannot fail to mourn the loss of such an amiable woman. She was beloved by all who knew her, and many are the friends who are called upon to sympathize with the bereaved husband and two little children in this their affliction.

She had been in failing health for more than a year. She bore with Christian fortitude her sufferings, which were great, and which were heightened by the increasing inability to swallow, induced by the disease of her throat. She embraced religion last Fall and united with the M. P. Church in Sassafras, and has since been a consistent member. In the latter part of her illness she would say to those who came to see her, "Brothers, Friends, meet me in Heaven." On the morning of the day she died, we heard her saying, with a smile upon her countenance, "I am coming, Lord;"—and then to those around her bed she said, "I see my Jesus with his hosts of angels coming for me." Heavenly thoughts filled her mind.—At noon she sent for her children, and gave them a mother's last words, and to her husband, charging him to bring them up to love Jesus, and with them meet her in Heaven an unbroken family. Afterwards she sang, "Oh! that will be joyful, to meet to part no more;" and said, "I want to shout, but am too weak." Such a death-bed it is not often permitted us to see. The funeral services were held in the M. E. Church, Galena, and the sermon preached by her former pastor, Rev. J. E. Bryan, of Odessa, who also united her and her husband in marriage. The text was: "She hath given up the Ghost: her sun hath gone down while it is yet day." E. D.

The Valuable Real Estate

OF MR. H. H. RASIN, called

WHICH LIES IN KENT COUNTY, MARYLAND, NEAR GALENA.

This Estate contains about

of which much the larger portion is arable.

In the advantages and convenience arising from location, such as beauty and salubrity of situation, convenience to churches, schools, mills, &c., frequent and cheap communication with the cities of Baltimore and Philadelphia, this estate will bear the most favorable comparison with the best and most desirable in the county. It lies directly on Sassafras River, adjoining the lands of Col. Geo. W. Spencer and Mr. James Hurtt; is within three miles of the steamboat wharf at Georgetown, and not more than four from Lambson's Station, on the Kent County Railroad; while the deep water of the river from its shores may be reached by a short and cheap wharf, which would be directly on the line of the contemplated Chesapeake and Delaware Ship Canal.

Among the many handsome and salubrious situations on Sassafras river, this is acknowledged to be the handsomest and most healthy.

To any one desiring a healthy and beautiful residence, and therewith remunerative returns for his investment, this estate offers inducements to purchase far superior to those usually presented in property offered at public auction.
