LETTER FROM REHOBOTH CAMP.

REHOBOTH, July 21, 1874.

Editors Kent News:—The lower part of Sussex county, Del., is called Rehoboth Hundred or district, and takes its name from the beautiful bay (Rehoboth) situated here. This was a name given, I believe, to one of the wells of Israel, and implied plenty of room.

REHOBOTH CAMP

comprises about four hundred acres of land running from the Atlantic Ocean a mile west. In the southwest of the tract is the prettiest white oak grove, 36 acres, I ever saw; without undergrowth, soil light and a little rolling, and will not hold water. On the east side of this grove, three-quarters of a mile from the ocean, is located the M. E. Camp of this Peninsula. The grounds, under the management of Rev. J. B. Quigg, are beautifully laid out and neatly cleaned off. There are three large boarding tents, the largest being three stories and nearly 100 feet in length. These tents accommodate a great many boarders with sleeping apartments as well as fare, which lessens the number of tents on the ground. There is also a Surf House, which is said to have at this time 400 guests, when it can accommodate comfortably only 300. The grove from the camp to the beach is laid off into lots for building, 1500 in all, with avenues from fifty to one hundred feet wide between; and in these avenues are planted trees to within a few yards of the surf. The camp is composed of persons from a distance, nearly every county and town on this peninsula being represented, also Philadelphia and Baltimore. There are a number of very handsome cottages erected near the surf; among them is Judge Fisher, of Washington, C. J. McCullough, Esq., of Wilmington, Dr. Mason, of Philadelphia, Rev. Mr. Todd and others. You would be surprised to find the cottages so large and costly, some of them being furnished with cellars. The surf house is within a few yards of the surf, and is a good house. A great deal of labor and money has been spent in leveling and grading the ground. The water in the camp ground is plentiful and good. The horse pound is large, with sheds for horses and a pump of water. I was surprised to find hard roads from Lewes here, and good farming lands; and some of the finest teams I ever seen I saw here on last Sabbath. There are a great many preachers and one bishop on the ground, and the meetings are conducted with zeal.

At 11 o'clock A. M. nearly every one on the ground prepares for the surf. The conveyances here are complete. You would be amused to see ladies and gentlemen dressed in their bathing costumes, and more so to see hundreds at a time in the surf. You cannot recognize intimate friends afterwards. I have never laughed more heartily than I have in the surf, seeing people washed from their feet and tumbling about, loosing hats, etc. This beach runs from Cape Henlopen south, perfectly straight for a great many miles, with a very little bank. It is said to be the finest bathing on the Atlantic and perfectly safe, there being no under-current, so that if one should be washed from his position it is always toward the shore. There are no shells or stones to hurt the feet. There are not at this time fifty bathing houses erected. It is said that a company of Baltimoreans by the next camp here will have a hotel on the beach to accommodate a large number of persons, the present one not being sufficient to accommodate one-half who made application. It is a grand sight to see the sun come up out of the great ocean. It is high water here about eleven o'clock in the morning.

I attended a very novel religious service yesterday, it being held on the shore of the sea, amid the roaring of its waters Bishop Scott and several others spoke on this occasion, and the hundreds present seemed delighted.

Now, Messrs. Editors, as it is not possible for me to give a minute description of this place with all the buzz around me, I might conclude by saying for the benefit of your numerous readers who have heard of the place that it is the embryo of the grandest religious enterprise ever inaugurated; and the Rev. Mr. Quigg, superintendent, is justly deserving all the credit that has been given him here for making everything pleasant and comfortable to all, and for the perfect order and cleanliness of the camp ground.

VERITUS.

☞ THE advertisement of the Fifth Gift Concert, in aid of the Kentucky Public Library, which takes place on July 31st, at Louisville, appears this week in almost every periodical published in the United States. The bold figures, "$250,000," which sum constitutes the first gift, stares us in the face everywhere. As the result of this Gov. Thos. E Bramlette, the manager, receives thousands of letters of inquiry every day—enough to require a force of twenty clerks to answer. It is no small thing to distribute $5,000,000, which feat will be accomplished by the 5th of August next. The extent of the operations of these Gift Concerts is not generally known. At the fifth Concert, July 31st, 1874, the gifts to the amount of two millions five hundred thousand dollars will be distributed, the largest being $250,000! At the New York office sales of tickets frequently reach $10,000, per day. Almost everybody buys tickets; in fact, we believe two-thirds of the post-offices in the country have representatives. Gov. Bramlette is just now the busiest man in Louisville.

THE DUMMY MEMBERS OF CONGRESS.—It is a curious fact that many of the names of men that have recently been telegraphed to the press as renominated to Congress are of persons who seldom if ever appear in the debates on great measures in Congress. These men comprise the greater number of members who are known as "dummy" members, and figure only in the yea and nay records of the House.—Very few of the whole number of the members of the House are working members, and these have all the legislation thrown upon them. The "dummies" draw their mileage, occupy seats in Congress, live well, and have a good time generally.

GOVERNOR OF THE DISTRICT.—A contemporary suggests that in order to give the Vice President of the United States "something to do," he ought to be made Governor of the District of Columbia. It would be well if the Vice-President of the United States had some duty to perform apart from presiding in the Senate, and which by the way, is generally avoided to a large extent by the election of a president of the Senate. The very first vice-president of the republic wrote that it was a most useless office as it stands.

THE MARYLAND AND VIRGINIA BOUNDARY LINE.—The Maryland and Virginia boundary line commissioners have appointed ex-Governor Jenkins, of Georgia, umpire, by authority of the agreement between the two States.—Richmond (Va.) Dispatch.

THE GREAT TROT AT SAGINAW, MICH.—Goldsmith Maid beats Dexter's Time.—The great trot at East Saginaw, Mich., on the 16th instant, between Goldsmith Maid and Judge Fullerton, was one of the greatest events of the turf season. The attendance was estimated at 8,000 people. The track was in splendid condition. The race course is one mile and a fraction over three feet in length. In this race Goldsmith Maid trotted the fastest three heats ever made. The slowest of these heats is better than the best recorded time ever made by a trotting horse. The following is a detailed statement of the race:

First Heat.—Judge Fullerton had a slight lead, which was increased at the first turn, the Maid going off her feet, and was at least four or five lengths behind at the quarter; but from this time out it was straight work Slowly, but surely, the gap narrowed, and at the half-mile post the Judge was only a length the leader, which he maintained around the turn; but as the horses swung into the home stretch the Maid collared and passed Fullerton, taking the lead and winning the heat by a scant length. Goldsmith Maid's time 2.19¾; Judge Fullerton's 2.20½.

Second Heat.—The horses got a good send off, with but little annoyance, the Maid taking a slight lead. Both horses settled down squarely to work from the outset; not a skip or a brake, but good solid business. The quarter was reached at 33½ seconds, nearly a second better than the first heat, and the Maid two lengths ahead. Gradually the space between the leader and her fast trotting competitor increased, and at the half-mile post there was five or six lengths between the two horses. Handsomely she sprang into and came down the home-stretch, and, although the Judge was closing up the gap, it was only an incentive to renewed efforts. A thousand voices were hushed. There was a breathless silence for an instant or two, as the two panting steeds flew down the track toward the stand, that was only broken by the harsh voices of the drivers and the crack of the whips. At first there was a little shout from some of the assembled multitude, mingled with clapping of hands, as the Maid crossed the string the winner of the next heat by two full lengths. Two sixteen and a half came from a dozen quarters; while others, more prudent and less excited, demanded the official time. Not a little suprise was manifested as the timers reared their board and 2.16¾ was exhibited in bold outline. Then there was a conference of timers and judges, at the conclusion of which the the official time was announced as 2.16½, as the time taken by no less than five watches of official timers, and one quarter of a second better than the best time on record. Fullerton's time was 2.18.

Third Heat.—On the send off the Maid had a full length the advantage. The quarter was reached in thirty-three seconds, when it struck the observers that she was making faster time than ever before. The half-mile post was reached in 1.07½, a second better than in the former heat, and Judge Fullerton full six lengths behind. Oh, but it was a fine sight, such an one as will not, perhaps, be witnessed for years. Not a skip or a start, close down to the pole, the mare moving like some intelligent machine, stimulated with an intellectual motive of ambitious conquest, seemingly aware that breathless thousands awaited the result, while Judge Fullerton, a short distance in the rear, was doing fully as handsome trotting, but with a little less speed, although overcoming in a large measure the wide gap exposed to view as the horses swung around the lower turn. Once, just as the Maid passed the distance pole, she shook her head, and every one thought it was a brake; but not a brake or a skip; and she passed under the line amid the most deafening shouts. Time, 2 16.

Summary—Trotting, best three in five, to harness, for a special purse of $5,000, $2,500 to first horse, $1,500 to second, and $1,000 to the horse which beats 2.16¾:

Budd Doble's Goldsmith Maid	1	1	1
Dan Mace's Judge Fullerton	2	2	2

Time—First heat, quarter, 34½; half, 1.08¾; mile, 2.19¾. Second heat, quarter, 33½; half, 1 07¼; mile, 2.16½. Third heat, qurrter, 33; half, 1 07; mile, 216.

Judge Fullerton's time, 2.20½, 2.18, and 2.18.

TEMPERANCE DEMONSTRATION IN EASTON.—The Easton Gazette says the local option ists of Easton celebrated the victory achieved on Tuesday of last week by a torchlight procession on Wednesday night, in charge of mounted marshals, those in the procession carrying transparencies, banners, &c. Salutes were also fired and bonfires kindled, and the friends of the cause were elevated to the highest pitch. The procession was composed of not only men, but a large number of ladies in carriages, omnibuses and wagons, joined to swell the number. The colored people were also welcomed into line, and showed great zeal and energy. At ten o'clock a meeting was held on court-house green, which was addressed by several friends of the cause.

CONGRESSMEN DECLINING A RE-ELECTION.—The World considers it one of the most significant and agreeable signs of the times that so many republican Congressmen decline to stand for re-election. The prospects are that the popular branch of the Forty-fourth Congress will contain a larger proportion of new men than that of any previous Congress since the beginning of the war of 1861. But luckily the mass will be leavened by a sufficient number of old and experienced members to keep the body from any tendency to rawness in its proceedings.

A Brilliant Record of Cures.

An American humorist tells us that it would have been money in his pocket if he had been born without a stomach, and then proceeds to figure up the cost of a chronic dyspepsia, to which he is a martyr, and which he says it is impossible to cure. On this point, "Josh Billings" (for he is the party referred to) is mistaken. Unless his stomach differs from all other dyspeptic stomachs, Hostetter's Bitters will cure him in less than three months. This it would be safe to guarantee under any penalty. There are a few, a very few, actual specifics for disease in existence, and Hostetter's Stomach Bitters may be set down as one of them. In cases of indigestion it never fails. Persons who had suffered for many years almost every conceivable species of torture from this agonizing complaint, have been permanently cured with the Bitters in six weeks. Hundreds of such instances are on record, authenticated by the testimony of prominent men in every walk of life, eminent physicians among the number. But this celebrated vegetable preparation is something more than a stomachic and tonic. It is also an alterative of wonderful virtue. In liver complaint its effect is as direct and immediate as that of calomel or blue pill, and far more salutary; and in all diseased conditions of the bowels, notably in cases of constipation, its regulating properties are in the highest degree serviceable. The new settlements in the west and all low-lying tracts of country infested with miasmatic exhalations, so fruitful at this season, of the various types of intermittent fevers, should be always well stocked with this incomparable chologue, which will cure any case of fever and ague in a periods varying from three days to three or four weeks, according to the violence of the complaint. Nervous disorders which are always aggravated by the adulterated liquors usually prescribed by physicians, are readily cured by a course of this admirable combination medicine, in which the properties of a stimulant, a tonic and alterative are happily blended.

GOVERNOR MOSES AND HIS ABUSE OF THE PARDONING POWER.—Judge Macky of South Carolina, in pronouncing sentence the other day upon a criminal convicted of arson, in his concluding remarks said: "I do, therefore in the name of violated law, protest against executive clemency being extended in this case by the chief magistrate, F. J. Moses, Jr., who has so prostituted the pardoning power as to make the administration of the criminal law a mockery of justice, and convert the broad seal of the State into the symbol of approved crime."
