COURT ROOM PACKED TO HEAR CASE OF MRS. FEDELI, CHARGED WITH MURDER OF HUSBAND.

Hermine Ullman, "Woman In Case," Testified Woman Shot Mate After Struggle, In Which He Pulled Hair And Abused Her.

night of October 1, was placed on trial in the Circuit Court at Towson before Judge Frank I. Duncan and a jury. The prisoner is defended by Wm. Curran, and State's Attorney H. C. Jenifer and his assistant, James C. L. Anderson conducting the prosecution.

Miss Hermine Adler Ullman, the young woman who was riding with Fedeli, testified that Mrs. Fedeli had shot her husband after a quarrel between him and her had ended. No one had spoken, the witness stated, for several minutes before the fatal shots were fired. Miss Ullman denied that anything improper had occurred between her and the deceased. She said that Fedeli had struggled with his wife and pulled her hair, but their quarrel had ended, when Mrs. Fedeli opened fire on the deceased.

She testified that Arthur Fedeli, the sixteen-year-old son of the couple had handed the pistol to his mother.

Relatives and neighbors of Mrs. Fedeli testified that her husband had beaten and treated her with cruelty. The defense is that Fedeli was shot while making a brutal attack on his wife.

The court room was taxed to its capacity, and nearly half of the spectators were women.

TRACKLESS TROLLEY, LOSS.

Gwynn Oak-Randallstown Line Cost Too Much, Says United.

the line to the extent of $10,000 the first year, $7500 the second year and $5000 per year thereafter, until 37,500 had been paid.

The trolley was placed in operation in July, 1922, and the Liberty road residents have had to pay the first two years' installments on the deficit guarantee. The contract has three years to run.

Raymond Tompkins, assistant to the president of the United Railways, said:

"The United Railways has been steadily losing money on this line.

"The guarantee has never equaled the deficit. Our officials have been conferring with officials of the Public Service Commission for some time in an effort to work out a satisfactory solution.

"The Company has no intention of abandoning the territory. We will continue to give the people there adequate transportation service, but some way must be found to minimize our losses.

"Operating economies will have to be brought about. Perhaps that can best be done by substituting gasoline motorbuses.

"The Company has no intention of asking for an increase of fare on the line, nor an increase of the guarantee fund posted by the citizens there."

How To End a Cough Quickly

Specialists say to actually end a cough in the shortest possible time the medicine should not only soothe and heal the soreness and irritation, but should also loosen and remove the phlegm and congestion which are the real cause of the coughing. When this is done the worst cough quickly disappears.

This "double-action" method has been brought to perfection in the prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs. A few drops stop the coughing spells almost instantly, and people who have hardly been able to sleep at night for coughing usually get their full night's rest even after the first doses. It has been very successful, too, for children's spasmodic croup, for bronchitis, laryngitis, bronchial asthma and hoarseness. On sale at all good druggists. Ask for vorites forged ahead in the voting, and the shouts of the Democrats were heard as Tydings swept ahead of his opponent, Simpson. The Republicans voiced their expressions of approval as Coolidge was given big majorities in the eastern and western States. It soon became evident that the President of the United States was to be returned to the White House, and at midnight he was assured of 211 votes in the electoral college with a possibility of even reaching the 317 mark.

To liven the occasion movies were shown at intervals. It was estimated that over 1500 people were assembled to get the returns. By midnight The Jeffersonian had collected the final tallies from all but a "hand full" of county precincts. This service was made possible through a corps of special representatives on hand at the various voting places to get the counts as soon as they were completed. Requests for election news kept four phones busy, and the offices were kept open until 3 o'clock Wednesday morning in order to secure the latest retrns over the direct wire.

That the income the State receives under the 2 cent gas tax, which became effective January 1, more than doubles that obtained from the former 1-cent tax, is shown by comparative gross receipts for the first seven-month collection periods for 1923 and 1924. A total of $875,-117.68 has been received for the seven months in 1924, while $387,-873.74 was paid in the corresponding months last year. The cash refunds made in these months this year totaled $19,255.23, and from January to July, 1923, they aggregated $6,575.86.

The cash refunds were made to those buyers of gasoline who used the fuel for motor boats, farm tractors, stationary engines and other purposes. The tax is placed only upon gasoline used in motor cars.

State's Attorney.

Statements made by the State's Attorney prompted Chief Judge T. Scott Offutt to issue attachments for Miss Louise Phillips, a witness; an unnamed foreman in a shop where Miss Phillips is employed and Deputy Sheriff McKinley of Baltimore city.

It is alleged that McKinley attempted to serve a subpoena on Miss Phillips in the shop and was forcibly restrained by the shop foreman. In attaching the deputy sheriff also, Judge Offutt held that he was derelict in his duty when he permitted the foreman to interfere with service upon Miss Phillips.

Jenifer declared in open court that James C. Businsky, formerly confidential clerk in Klecka's office, had disappeared from Baltimore and that there was no likelihood of his returning until the case against Judge Klecka is ended.

Fedeli bought the bonds and gave them to Moricone to be deposited with the casualty company, it is alleged.

...NTY SPORTSMEN ORGANIZE TO PROTECT GAME—FORM GROUP TO CURTAIL HUNTING

Agreement Reached Whereby Members Will Hunt But Two Days Each Week—Property To Be Closed To Outsiders.

So depleted are game stocks becoming that in that section of Baltimore county north of the city that property-owners have been forced to band themselves into a protective association to preserve what little game is left.

The opening of new sections to development and continued trespassing are fast ridding it of game.

At the last meeting of the Pot Spring Road Game and Fish Protective Association it was agreed that all the members would hunt game only two days each week and that hunting by guests of the members be allowed only two days in each season.

It was also agreed the owner of the property would accompany his visitors while hunting.

The game protective section, containing approximately 4000 acres, lies north of the Joppa road and extends to the city's water system on the Gunpowder river, being bounded on the east and west by York road and Providence road.

The following own farms in the preserve and are members of the association:

J. T. Chilcoat, C. C. Dennison, Dr. D. Gorsuch, Harry Groom, Frank Gould, R. Baldwin Tomer, E. F. Kelly, W. W. Lanahan, H. L. Merryman, S. Howard, W. G. Parks, W. A. Price, W. C Pearce, H. C. Parks, E. F. Parks, A. G. Price, Miss M. B. Price, Neville Ridgely, Benjamin Ridgely, Stewart Ridgely, John Ridgely, Julian W Ridgely, G. L. Stryker, H. B. Stryker, George Skipper, Henry M. Warfield, R. Emory Warfield, Dr. Lloyd Whiteman, J. F. Wheeler, Joshua T. Wheeler and J. B. Wier.

Governor Ritchie has no constitutional right to postpone the opening of the hunting season because of the danger of forest fires resulting from the protracted dry spell, it was decided following a conference between the Governor and Swepson Earle, State Conservation Commissioner.

A proclamation requesting hunters voluntarily to stay out of the woods until a heavy rain breaks the drouth is the only recourse, it was said.

Such an appeal probably will be made in the event 'he dry weather continues over Monday, when the general hunting season opens.

Meanwhile letters from various farm organizations and owners of forest areas are pouring into the office of F. W. Besley, State Forester, urging that the season be postponed.
