The News.

Marcus Wolfe, a wealthy citizen of Baltimore, died on Saturday night.

The late Emperor Ferdinand of Austria left the Pope a legacy of $6,000,000, which has already been paid.

Mr. Beecher will deliver the annual address before the New England Agricultural Society, at Manchester, N. H., on the 9th of September.

Recently new side tracks have been laid at Massey's and Millington, and the platform at Sudlersville has been enlarged. These improvements have been rendered necessary by the greatly increased trade at those points.

The census of Louisiana, recently completed, shows a total population of 404,-361 whites, and 450,029 colored, being an excess of the latter of 45,668.

The Hon. Herschel V. Johnson, late candidate for Vice-President on the Douglas ticket in 1860, is now Judge of one of the Courts in the State of Georgia.

The American rifle team were received formally by the mayor of New York on Monday. At night they attended a complimentary concert at Gilmore's Garden, at which triumphal airs were performed, addresses made, and trophies displayed.

A tramp who attempted to conceal himself in the house of Mrs. Morgan Calvert, living near Milansport, Pa., on Thursday last, and who, on being discovered, assaulted the lady, was shot and killed by her.

Killing frosts on Sunday night and the night before are reported from several points along the line of Lake Superior Railway, Minnesota, destroying corn and other unripe crops. If the frost extended throughout the State the large corn crop will be an entire failure.

A committee of the State Temperance Alliance speaking authoritatively, we presume, for the Alliance of Maryland, have determined that it would not be advisable to attempt to enter the political arena as a distinct party organization, and run a ticket.

The Howard County Radical Nominating Convention met at Ellicott City Monday and nominated a full county ticket, and elected delegates to the State Convention which meets at Westminster. The delegates were composed largely of negroes, and although "reformers" had been cordially invited to participate, there were no "dissatisfied Democrats" to be found taking any part in the nominations.

The absconding Baltimore bankrupts, Cuttle and Bordley, were arrested in Canada on Friday, the former just as he was boarding a steamer of the Royal Mail Line, and the latter after a chase of twenty miles. Both are held under an old English statute concerning foreign absconding debtors.

A bold attempt at robbery was made at the Postoffice building, Washington, Tuesday by three men, who, with a horse and wagon, drove up to the F street side and began loading the wagon from the basement with what appeared to be bags of waste paper, but on the approach of a watchman they ran off, leaving the horse and wagon. Upon searching the bags they were found to contain money order blanks, worth about twenty dollars per thousand. About one hundred thousand are missing, which are supposed to have been carried off by the thieves at some other time.

One of the most cold-blooded crimes which has been committed in Maryland for many years was perpetrated at Bel Air, Harford county, on Saturday evening last. The victim is Jas. H. Monks, about 33 years of age, and the perpetrator of the crime Thos. G. Archer, Jr., aged 21 years. There had been a primary election in progress during the day, and it was of an enthusiastic character, but it does not appear that the shooting had the least connection with any excitement attendant upon the election. The wounded man is said to be of most exemplary character, and his sole offense in the premises appears to have been his interference to prevent an altercation in which his would-be murderer was about to be engaged. The greatest excitement prevails, and an attempt would have been made to lynch Archer had not precautions been taken to prevent such summary vengeance. It may be stated that, although possessing the same name as that of an honored family of Harford, he is not related.

A somewhat novel case of assault occurred at the Church of the "Fourteen Holy Martyrs," in Baltimore, on Sunday, which, if it had not been settled by the parties, a preliminary hearing before Justice Wheeler would have raised some interesting points in civil as well as ecclesiastical law. Mr. Hagermann is a member of the above named church in good standing. He is also President of the St. George's Beneficial Society. This association gave a picnic some days since, and the young people indulged in dancing. Father Jeggle, pastor of the Church of the Fourteen Holy Martyrs, objected to this proceeding, and he and Mr. Hagermann had something of a quarrel. The priest thereupon took his pew from him and forbade him to enter the church. Mr. Hagermann went into the church on Sunday morning and seated himself in one of the pews allotted to the general public. The sexton ordered him to leave, but Mr. Hagermann kept his seat. The sexton then walked forward to the altar and notified Father Jeggle of the presence of Hagermann. The priest walked down the aisle and ordered Mr. Hagermann to leave, and upon his refusal he took him by the arm and led him out. Mr. Hagermann had Father Jeggle arrested for assault on Monday, and there was a hearing at which the above mentioned facts were brought out. The case was adjourned for a further hearing, but it was compromised. Mr. Hagermann has been restored to his former status in the church.

THE CAPE MAY EXCURSION.—The excursion to Cape May on Wednesday, by way of the Kent County Railroad to Bombay Hook and thence by the fine steamer City Point, was a most enjoyable affair to all who participated in it, except the unavoidable detention at night. The heavy rains and very disagreeable weather of the two preceding days deterred many from going who had fully made up their minds to do so, and consequently the excursion, pecuniarily, was not a success, there being not many over two hundred in the company. The Island was reached about 10½ o'clock, and the excursionists amused and enjoyed themselves in various ways. The large and magnificent hotels, of which there are quite a number, was a source of attraction to those who had never been on the Island before; but beyond these there is not much in the shape of architecture to admire, although most of the cottages present a very neat and inviting appearance.

The bathing grounds at Cape May are said to be the best in America. At eleven o'clock on Wednesday there was estimated to be not less than two thousand persons enjoying the bath, and it was certainly a grand and exhilarating spectacle to the beholder. With a comparatively quiet atmosphere, the breakers would lash the shore with incessant fury, swaying to and fro the great mass of humanity as so many decoys upon the surface.

The pleasure boats, many of which can be seen at what is called "the landing," are worthy of inspection. Their style of build and outfit are altogether different from any in our waters. They are broad and roomy, and many are constructed with movable upper decks, which, when put on, gives the whole vessel the appearance of a cabin. A short trip in one of them convinced us of their superior sailing qualities, and of the inability of our fastest canoes to cope successfully with them.

The company embarked for home at four o'clock, but on reaching Bombay Hook the engine had not arrived, and it was soon learned that it was off the track at Black's Station. Mr. Taylor, the superintendent, immediately started, by private conveyance, for Clayton, and it was after eleven o'clock when he returned with an engine. The train was then started, stopping some time at Smyrna and Clayton, and when Black's was reached it was found that the Delaware was still off the track, all efforts to get it on having proved fruitless. After some time, however, things were righted, and the train went on, reaching Chestertown at five o'clock Thursday morning.

As compared with Cape May, no other place ought to be mentioned for an excursion from Chestertown and intermediate stations on the Kent road. We learn that, at the request of many persons who accompanied the excursion and others, it will be repeated at an early day; and we would say to all, especially to those who have never been to Cape May, go and see the place and take "a dip in old ocean."

DROWNED.—An Englishman, name unknown, who was employed by Mr. Massey, residing on the Diehl farm above Chestertown, on the Queen Anne's side of the river, was drowned at Capt. Taylor's wharf on Monday morning last. He and another man rowed down to the wharf after a load of peach boxes, and while engaged in putting them on the boat he fell overboard, but was rescued. Afterwards he pulled off his shirt and went into the water, apparently for the purpose of taking a bath, but soon disappeared and was drowned. The body was recovered shortly afterwards, and was interred the same afternoon in the old grave-yard in the rear of the court house.

OFF THE TRACK.—The engine Delaware got off the track at Black's station, on Wednesday afternoon, in consequence of a misplaced switch, and remained there until the Cape May excursion train came down about three o'clock the next morning. The large number of peach cars that had accumulated on the road were gotten off and connection made at Clayton the same morning.

THE CATTLE SHOW AND FAIR.—The Fifth Annual Exhibition of the Kent County Agricultural Society will be held at Worton Station on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, the 28th, 29th and 30th of September. For particulars see advertisement in another column.

A Reliable Fertilizer.—We invite the attention of our readers to the advertisement of Whann's Raw Bone Super Phosphate which appears in another column. This Fertilizer enjoys the enviable reputation of being one of the most thoroughly reliable manures in the market, and possesses a degree of popularity among our best farmers which few other commercial fertilizers can claim. It has been used on all crops and in every section of the country with the most gratifying results, and one peculiar feature pertaining to it is the fact that where it is once introduced into a locality its use invariably increases. Farmers who try it for the first time as an experiment, almost always buy it again year after year, being convinced that it possesses all the qualities which a good manure should contain. In these times of commercial depression and low prices farmers cannot afford to trust their crops to unknown and untried fertilizers. The only true policy is to employ those whose reliability can be entirely depended upon and as Whann's is entitled to this distinction, the demand for it this year will probably be great.

THE GEORGIA INSURRECTION.—The reported confessions of the ring-leaders of the Georgia insurrection show that it was more serious than was at first believed. The plot was to rise and take possession of the lands, to kill the men and the ugly women, and save the pretty white women. There is something in that latter clause that is well calculated to make the Georgia blood to boil. It is, therefore, a matter of the sincerest congratulation that the whites have acted with such singular clemency and coolness. When the plot of a negro insurrection was once discovered in New York, little more than a century ago, alarm was so extreme that it manifested itself in ths most remorseless cruelty, and the accused blacks could not find a lawyer who would see that they had a fair trial in the courts. This so-called plot, which was never proved, created the greatest panic. Upon evidence which would now be considered worthless one hundred and fifty-four colored men and twenty whites were imprisoned within six months, of whom seventy-eight negroes were transported, twenty were hanged, and thirteen burned at the stake! The people in the disturbed districts of Georgia are not likely to follow this example.

NOMINATIONS IN CECIL COUNTY.—The Democratic County Convention met at Elkton on Wednesday and nominated the following ticket: House of Delegates—William Ward, Albert Constable, Alexander Brisco. County Commissioners—B. M. Crawford, Walter Armstrong and Samuel Geary. The present judges of the Orphans' Court were renominated, viz: McCauley, Lewis and Evans. Sheriff—Chas. W. Simpers. State's Attorney—Clinton McCullough. County Surveyor—John Worth.

REGATTA AT QUEENSTOWN.—The annual canoe race at Queenstown came off on Friday of last week, and was witnessed by a large number of persons. There were nine canoes in the race, six first class, which included boats of 26 feet in length and over, and three second class, which included boats under 26 feet in length. The canoe Wm. H. Jones, belonging to Mr. Sewell, of Piney Neck, came in ahead, Minnie second, Madaline third. Of the second class boats, Capt. Jack came in ahead, Hannah second, and Ocean Wave third. The prizes were $20 to the first and $5 to the second boat of the first class, and $12 to the first and $5 to the second boat of the second class.

LAND SALE.—C. T. Westcott, Esq., as trustee, sold at the Voshell House on Tuesday the farm in Still Pond, known as a part of the "Trulock farm," containing about 132 acres, to James A. Roseberry for $3,715 43.

"THE MORNING HERALD" is the title of a new daily just started in Wilmington, Del., by O'Byrne Bros. The first number gives evidence of ability and enterprise. It deserves success, and we hope will realize it.

ORPHANS' COURT, Tuesday, August 24.—Present, Judges Beck and Scott. The last will and testament of Jonn K. Bluff was admitted to probate and ordered to be recorded. James A. Roseberry, guardian to Harry C. Cacy and Samuel C. Cacy, returned his separate guardian accounts for the year 1874, which were filed and ordered to be recorded. In the matter of Robert H. C. Ayres vs. James B. Lewis and John L. Lewis—the "commission to take testimony" was returned with interrogatories and answers. The commission to assign guardian for respondents, was also returned with answer of said guardian.

TILTONISM.

Messrs. Editors:—The first intimation the citizens in and about Lynch's had of the suspension of their Postoffice was through the Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun, a few days since. Two or three regular Tiltonians, of Still Pond, with malice deep and long-lived as the fiends below, have persisted in maligning and misrepresenting the postmaster, until their malicious spirits have succeeded in the suspension of this much needed office. On the 23d instant a certain pugnacious individual of Still Pond, claiming authority from Washington, stepped into the store at Lynch's and demanded the postoffice fixtures. He was politely referred by the clerk to the P. M. The people hereabout are very indignant. A petition is out for its re-establishment, and the appointment of Mr. Wm. Hepbron P. M. One of the Tiltons above referred to is the gentleman who is reported to have bought a disputed account some years since in order to enjoy the extreme pleasure it would afford his satanic nature to bring a law suit against his sister.

LYNCH'S.

THE PEACH TRADE—Good Prices.—The Baltimore Sun of Thursday says:

There were 8,000 or 10,000 boxes of peaches at Light street yesterday, the demand for them being brisk at full prices. The shippers took 5,000 boxes, which were sent West. Prices ranged from $1 to $1 50 per box, but $1 75 and $2 were paid for choice lots. Some fruit, not wanted by shippers or packers, sold for 75 cents a box. Packers, as a rule, still kept off for lower prices. The low prices of last week seem to have demoralized them, and commission men think some of the packers will be disappointed in their expectation to find equally favorable markets again this season. The peaches were nearly all of prime quality, some of them of the large and luscious varieties to be found nowhere else except on the peninsula. The receipts to-day are expected to be large. Information from the West yesterday quoted the Cincinnati market at $2 25 to $2 50 a box, and Chicago at a little better figures than Cincinnati.

THE meetings of the various organizations of the Citizens' party in the city continue, their work being devoted mainly to making up slates of nominees for the City Council and the Legislature, which will be publicly announced as soon as they are completed. As to the State ticket, the prospects are that nothing will be done in advance of the Independent Democratic meeting to be held at the Maryland Institute on Tuesday. It is said that the movement is attracting great attention in the counties, and frequent applications are received for the extension of the organization in the rural districts of the State.—American.

We cannot speak for other counties, but so far as Kent is concerned "the movement" attracts very little attention outside the ranks of the Radical party. Democratic sympathizers with "the movement" are few and far between.

THE State Teachers' Association is now in session at Cumberland.

LETTER FROM MILLINGTON.

Messrs. Editors:—Extensive arrangements are being made for the Millington camp, to commence on the 3d of September, in Segar's woods, and sites have been taken for twenty-five tents, including two boarding tents from Millington. The privilege of the bread-stand has been awarded to T. M. Britton, at a bid of $152.50, and the horse-pound to B. P. Walters at $30. Good pumps are being settled on the ground, and doubtless there will be an abundant supply of excellent water.

There is a colored camp now in progress in Riley's Neck, which will certainly exceed all others on the Peninsula in regard to numbers, judging from the peach wagons and other vehicles passing loaded through this place all Saturday night and up to 12 o'clock on Sunday, with little intermission between them, annoying our citizens very much with inhuman singing and clapping during the entire night. The Kent county train arrived here on Sunday morning with five cars loaded with passengers for the camp, who, with those already on the ground, must make an exceeding concourse of colored people.

The No. 8 engine, which was wrecked at Centreville last week, has been raised out of the pit and has resumed her regular trips with the peach train. Shippers as well as the mail were disorganized for a time in consequence of the accident, but, through the perseverance of the officials and the active performance of the "Queen Anne," things were set right again on Friday.

We are shipping from six to eight car loads of peaches from this place per day, which is not more than two-thirds of what might be shipped if it would pay.

Millington has become quite a summer resort for strangers, as we have quite a number of visitors spending the hot days of August with us. They are principally ladies from Washington, Philadelphia and Baltimore, which, of course, makes it pleasant hereabouts, especially for the beaux. TRAVELER.

August 25, 1875.

WATER VIEW COTTAGE NOTES.

Messrs. Editors:—We all have our trials in this life, and well that it is so. The heaviest one that fruit growers ever had to bear is at the present time. Rain all the time, and no prospect of it clearing up very soon. Peaches have done remarkably well, considering the unfavorable weather. If they will net ten cents per basket, they will pay twice as well as wheat will at one dollar and fifty cents per bushel. Fruit growers have wisdom and know what to plant, and generally get paid for what they sell. But so many farmers that grow fruit have not the wisdom they should have, and get stuck, and so they ought. A man has no business undertaking that which he knows nothing about. Any fruit grower that will plant Early Yorks, Yellow Rareripe and Crawford's Early peaches, ought to be stuck. We have discarded them long ago, and others will do the same after this season.

With us the Grangers have done a good deal, and deserve much credit. They bought peach baskets lower than they ever were offered for in this county before. They encouraged a line of steamers to Philadelphia in opposition to the Shriver line, which has proved of the greatest benefit to many of us. Our fruit gets to market in time, which it has never done before since Mr. Shriver has monopolized the trade. Eureka Grange has employed two trustworthy young men to travel on the boats and collect empty baskets, so we can now make our commission merchants pay us for what baskets we do not get back. We are getting back more empties than we ever got before. The Baltimore packers have been expecting to get our peaches at a mere trifle, and they are doing it; but we don't think they can pack many of them. Smock will be upon them in ten days or two weeks, and we hope their pocket-books will have to bleed to get them.

Well, the nomination is over, and we are glad to see so much good feeling and harmony prevailing in the party. True party men may feel sore over the defeat of their favorites—it is natural—but they never make a noise over it. The Republicans expected there would be a great deal of dissatisfaction in our ranks; this is not the case, and they are sore over it. They are crying, give us an Independent or Temperance ticket, and we will vote it. We say let it come, and we will beat it. The Democratic party of this county can elect any ticket it nominates. They are crying about our State ticket; well, let them beat it, and they will be smart.

Our friend and neighbor, John P. Vandyke, met with a sad loss week before last. He had six valuable horses that died within forty-eight hours. The cause of their death was a mystery, until he discovered they had been eating the Swamp Sumach. Swamp Sumach, like Poison Oak, is uncertain in its action. We have known persons that could handle and eat both without unpleasant effects, while others become poisoned by the smoke from the burning of either one. The horses were all attacked alike, and some died in an hour or so afterwards. Mr. Vandyke lives near Barnard's Wharf, and is one of our most worthy citizens. Having a large peach orchard, with at least 20,000 baskets of peaches to market, the loss of his work horses is a great misfortune to him.

Well, time is money nowadays, and we will close, hoping our fruit growers will have more favorable weather the balance of the season.

Kent Co., Aug. 25, 1875.

THE GEORGIA INSURRECTION—A Murderous Plot—Specimen Document.—Augusta, Ga., August 23.—Several of the prominent negroes connected with the troubles in the counties below here have made confession. Jake Mooreman, first lieutenant of a negro company, testified on oath that nineteen counties were to be embraced in the insurrection. Last Friday was appointed for the uprising. All white men and ugly white women were to be killed, but pretty white women were to be spared, and land and spoils were to be divided among the negroes.

All who have so far confessed testify substantialy the same as Jake Mooreman.

The following is the grand order for slaughter issued by Candy Harris, the negro party leader:

August 6th, '75.

To Inna Waters you and your company must start to cilling wites on August 20 cill every one you can find tell Harrison Tucker to cill all the wites can find and go toward 11 station and near will meet General Morris and General Rivers and his staff you do as I tell you and Captain Tucker this must be Cerat you tell Brother Luke cill every wite man git anything you can Make out to the wite man that you are sorry that day tink we will hurt them. And if you now of any man dat got money make them give it to your treasy and we will vide it Hab all your company ready cill with axes and pitchforks and git your powder shot as you cill So calls to depend on you.

Corery Harris ceatory.

By order General Morris and from General Rivers.

MR. H. M. WARFIELD is willing to be an independent candidate for Mayor of Baltimore.

SADIE, beloved daughter of Thomas and Theresa E. Clements, died of Dropsy Aug. 2nd, 1875, aged 3 months and 2 days.

Where is the form of beauty's mould,
Those arms of mine didst late enfold—
Where, where is she?
Her beaming eye, her tinted cheek,
Like the sweet rose, with crimson streak,
No more I see.
I hear no more my sweet one's cry,
The little garments round me lie,
Where, where is she?
I say I hear no more her cries,
But to my ears in dreams they rise
So plaintively.
I wake! and round my couch I seek,
And think to touch her tiny cheek;
Where, where is she?
Oh then each hope within me dies,
The painful truth I realize—
Gone, gone from me.
For death has sealed my darling's eyes,
Lone in the little grave she lies,
Far, far from me.
Ah no! 'tis but the casket's there
To heaven has fled the genial fair.
Angel to be! MOTHER.

WHEAT SEEDING!

WHANN'S
Raw Bone Super Phosphate
MANUFACTURED BY
WALTON, WHANN & CO.,
WILMINGTON, DEL.

In the culture of Wheat, true economy implies the use of such manures as produce the greatest yield, and at the same time leaves the land in the best condition for grass.

Whann's Raw Bone Super Phosphate

is extensively used on this important crop for the reason that it fulfills these conditions.—The grass often paying for the fertilizer, leaving the increased yield of wheat clean profit. No fertilizer has ever excelled it. Combining the active qualities of the best Peruvian Guano with the most lasting properties of dissolved bone, it is unexcelled as a manure for wheat.

Those farmers who have used

WHANN'S RAW BONE
Super Phosphate

need no reminder as to its worth. Their continued use of it year after year is the strongest argument which can be brought to prove its merits.

Farmers who have not yet used this renowned fertilizer are earnestly requested to TRY IT!

Its mechanical condition is excellent, especially fitting it for use with the Drill.

The Bickford & Huffman
IMPROVED
Farmers' Favorite,
An Entire New Style for DRILLING PHOSPHATE for 1875.

The attention of Farmers generally is respectfully called to the Great and Important Improvements

made in the Bickford & Huffman "Farmer's Favorite" Grain and Compost Drill for 1875. Do not invest in any until you have seen and examined the IMPROVED.

We have reduced the weight one hundred pounds. We have transferred the Fertilizer Attachment to the rear, and so perfected the Drill by our Improvement as to make the distribution perfectly even and uniform.

We now use both running wheels in the driving process. The machine is so nicely balanced that all the weight is removed from the horse's neck. All the attachments are thrown out of gear before the teeth leave the ground by the same motion that raises the teeth. The friction has been so lessened that we are not only enabled to offer you the l
