LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.

KENT CO. AGRICULTURAL CLUB, No. 1.

CLUB ROOM, April 10.

A pleasant day and large attendance. The condition and future of the grove on the fair ground was the subject of a long discussion, and it was finally resolved "that the grove be named and known as the Centennial Grove," and that all the members of the Club are requested to bring more trees and plant them on next Monday afternoon, April 17, when the regular meeting of the Club will be held at the fair grounds. The trees planted by any member will be known by their names, and a careful and accurate record kept of the same, thus creating a beautiful and enduring memorial to the present members of the Club when they have passed away. Members will bring the best trees they can—no fruit trees, except cherries, and plenty of material to mulch them.

A resolution was adopted, unanimously, that public notice be given that all stock trespassing on the fair grounds will be taken up and dealt with according to law. The present fence is of but little protection, and while the law affords ample protection it should be relied upon to restrain the stock from trespassing on the public. All other property in the roads, except that necessary for travel, remains in the original owner, and as the most lines of deeds run to the middle, and the purchaser buys the land to the middle of the road, and pays taxes to the middle of the road, the pasturing of stock on the road is just as much a tresspass as if in the field, and makes the owner of said stock liable. The tims has been when two or three breechy, three-quarter starved cows, kept by some one who had nothing to feed them on and no place to pasture them, could keep a whole neighborhood in a constant state of anxiety and watchfulness. It almost seems as if this kind of stock have an instinct that enables them to discover a weak rail, a low pannel, a bar inadvertently left down, or a gate not securely fastened, when none of their senses of which we have any knowledge could possibly give them the information, and then note the result: The farmer, surveying his fields in the early morning, finds his beautiful young orchard, or his wheat, on which he has spent so much of cost and toil, has been depredated upon all night; and, moved by an indignation that even the consolations of religion are not always sufficient to abate, he calls his men and boys, arms them with clubs and stones, calls the dogs, and the stock is dogged and stoned and clubbed, private rights violated, the law broken, crops destroyed, and perhaps a life-time hate engendered. But now a healthy public sentiment is being created, which, backed by a wise law, will soon put a stop to that grievous nuisance knewn as 'road stock.'

The regular question, "Can corn be raised at a profit at fifty cents a bushel?" was discussed. One member having made a close calculation of all the expenses, &c., showing that by allowing five dollars an acre for the fodder and forty bushels of corn to the acre, a small profit could be made, but that less than forty bushels to the acre would bring a loss. But, although his calculations were in the main correct, for one who had to hire all his labor and horse, and worked only able bodied, full-priced men, yet so much work is done by boys, and there are so many ways by which small economies can be practiced that, by a vote, the Club decided that, with average land and season and judicious use of labor, a living profit could be had at fifty cents per bushel; but in this very much "depends."

The question for next Monday, at the fair grounds, is, "Can wheat be raised at a profit at $1.20 per bushel?" At least, I think that is the way it was stated. I write entirely from memory.

The character and arrangement of the buildings at the fair grounds not being satisfactory, it was proposed to have a carefully prepared plan made attending to beauty, utility and permanency, but owing to the lateness of the hour nothing definite was decided on. When everything like jockeyism is eliminated from our exhibitions, as I am fully satisfied will be the case, and they become purely agricultural, much more interest will be taken in the products of our farms, and much better provision should be made for their display. PARTICEPS.

CHESTERVILLE AND VICINITY.

Our village and neighborhood were both startled and pained, on Sunday morning last, to hear of the very sudden demise of Adeline E. Spry, relict of the late Rev. Wm. Spry, which occurred at the residence of her relative, Mrs. Mary A. Spry, near Chesterville. Mrs. Spry arose and came down stairs in usual health. Taking a seat in a rocking chair, she had been seated but a few minutes, when some one in the room noticed her gasping for breath. Several of the family were immediately summoned to her side, but in a few minutes her life had departed. Her death is supposed to have been caused by heart disease, from which she had been a sufferer to some extent. The deceased was a person of rare excellence; was very much beloved by those who knew her; and her virtues won for her many friends who will weep because she is now no more.

Connected with her death is a somewhat striking coincidence. On just such a Sabbath morning as was the last, about 29 years ago, her husband died. A that time Rev. Chas. Hill was the colleague of Mr. Spry, and was present at his death. Upon the decease of Mrs. Spry, Mr. Hill was fulfilling his duties as Presiding Elder at this appointment, being entertained at the same house where she died, and witnessed her death, also.

The quarterly meeting held in the Chesterville M. E. Church last Sabbath was well attended, and the new Elder, Rev. Charles Hill, made a decidedly good impression.

Several of the parties to whom the roads have been let are now at work on them. If as much judgment is displayed in their repair as in selecting the time for the work, we may look for much better roads than we have had. The thoroughfare leading from the Chestertown and Millington road to Crumpton is being much improved, but unless the sides are taken down more, the water will run toward the middle, instead of the gutters. Come, Billy, fix it right, and make for yourself a good reputation.

There is a very great anxiety upon the part of some individuals to establish in our midst one or more places of allurement where a poison may be had which crazes the brain, kills the body, and dams the soul; and which seldom fail to cast forth such a net-work of influences as will first fascinate, and then hold with iron chain, the young. By far the greater majority of the more intelligent, industrious and thinking people of the village and neighborhood, cannot see the necessity for any such institution in our midst, and with unanimous voice cry to the grand jury, to spare us the infliction. If there be places which do not see proper to use all legitimate means toward the extirpation of this crying evil, for Heaven's sake let the grand jury give heed to the appeals of these communities which have the fortitude and discretion to ask that these dens of iniquity shall not be established in their midst! WALTER.

LETTER FROM MILLINGTON.

Messrs Editors:—You are aware that Spring has at last opened upon us in her wanted mildness, and vernal beauty, causing all hearts to rejoice at her pleasant approach. The farmer now goes forth with a cheerful heart in the preparation of the soil to receive the grain and seeds which he expects with the blessing of an allwise Providence to yield unto him a bountiful harvest. The merchant will now replenish his stock in view of a lucrative business during the Spring trade, and the mechanic is busily employed in prosecution of his daily toil which he expects will yield unto him a rich return in due time. The fields of wheat and grass now begins to spring up and present a beautiful green, while the gardens are being supplied with seeds for the subsistance of man and all seem to rejoice after passing through the unpleasant storms of March in anticipation of a pleasant season and a golden harvest both of a temporal and a spiritual nature.

The first quarterly meeting for Millington circuit will be held at the M. E. Ch., Millington, on Sunday next, at which time the P. E., the Rev. Mr. Hill, will preach at 7½ o'clock in the evening. Bishop Lay will preach in the academy at Millington on the 16th, at 7 o'clock, in the evening, and the Rev. Doctor Ball, P. E. will preach at the M. E. Church (South) on the 23d, at 7 o'clock, in the evening that being quarterly meeting occasion.

We are glad to see that Millington and vicinity is getting into a spirit of improvement. A gentleman by the name of Enoe of Philadephia has purchased the old (Turner's) mill seat 2 miles from Millington whereon he has erected a grist and flour mill to be run with turbine wheel and patent box, he also is erecting a substantial saw mill at the same place. Messrs Hurtt & Hyros of Millington have bought a steam saw mill of D. Styre, which they have removed and will soon have in operation on the Depot lot at Millington. T. B. Quimby has furnished himself with a splendid new herse which is a credit to his profession and other improvements are in anticipation which we have not time to speak of now. TRAVELER.

THE death of Mr. A. T. Stewart will cause no interruption in the business of the firm, and on Saurday morning next the two stores in New York will be reopened, and busines resumed as usual under the direction of Mr. Libby, the surviving partner, and Judge Hilton, who had long been Mr. Stewart's confidential business manager. It is stated that there are 7,000 persons on he pay roll of the firm, and the sudden stoppage of the business would result in great distress to a large number of worthy people.

HUBBARD'S
IMPROVED
STAR BONE PHOSPHATE
Manufactured by
HUBBARD BROS.,
—AT—
CHESTERTOWN, MARYLAND, And WYOMING, DEL.

THIS Phosphate has merits commensurate with its reputation, which is equal to any in the market, and is sold at a much less price, which is a matter of great consideration.

Farmers who pay cash for our Phosphate on delivery, or in 30 days from date of bill, will find that money is worth to them much more than legal interest, showing a decided advantage both to the farmer and to the manufacturer, who is working upon a small margin above the actual cost per ton.

The satisfactory results from its use can only be attributed to the large percentage of actual Fertilizer, essentially Bone, employed in its manufacture, making it undoubtedly the BEST MANURE FOR ALL CROPS. Farmers will also derive great benefit from its use to prevent Frenching in corn, and the annoyance of the troublesome insect that so many of our farmers have to contend with.

In view of the increasing demand for this Fertilizer, we have doubled our facilities for manufacturing, and shall be able to furnish in early Spring in such quantities as may be required. We ask but one trial to convince all of the valuable properties contained in our Phosphate as a Crop producer, and pledge ourselves to keep it up to the present high standard, believing that our success depends upon the quality of our Fertilizer.

☞ In order to avoid disappointment and delay we advise that all orders be sent in early.

NO FERTILIZER ever offered to the public has met with the great success which the Guano achieved. Its sterling merit has made it indispensable for all who require a cheap first-class manure. In consequence of its high quality its sales have increased in a larger ratio than those of any other fertilizer. On all crops to which it has been applied it has produced the most gratifying results—largely increasing the yield.

On Corn, Oats, Garden Vegetables, Berries, and Small Fruits,

The SUN GUANO Acts Promptly,

And has frequently DOUBLED the ordinary Crop.

Although we have made a liberal reduction in price, we WARRANT THE STANDARD TO BE FULLY EQUAL TO ANY HITHERTO MANUFACTURED. Farmers should send in their orders to local agents early, as during the Centennial year the demand for the Guano will undoubtedly be large.

The SUN GUANO is spoken of in the highest terms by parties in this neighborhood who have been using it for several years on Spring Crops. They recommend its use especially on CORN—pronouncing it on that crop as fully equal to the higher priced Fertilizers. T. W. ELIASON, JR.
