MOODY and SANKEY ECLIPSED.

SIX HUNDRED CONVERSIONS IN SIX WEEKS—EXTRAORDINARY RELIGIOUS REVIVAL.

A remarkably successful revival is in progress at Union-square M. E. Church, Lombard and Calhoun streets, Baltimore. Rev. Thomas Harrison, a Boston revivalist, is conducting the services with the assistance of the pastor, the Rev. Joseph France. Mr. Harrison has been in the city about four months, holding revival meetings at several churches before coming to this. The present services, which were commenced early in February, are held twice a day, afternoon and evening, and several days of each week, three times a day. Mr. Harrison has been doing a very effective work. During the short period of six weeks he has made nearly six hundred conversions. The converts have been composed largely of young men and women, though numbers of children and some persons advanced in life, have yielded to his pleadings. At all of the meetings now held the sittings in the body of the church are always filled, and numbers are standing. Mr. Harrison is only twenty-four years of age, tall, and of slender figure, smoothly-shaven face, and wears his brown hair brushed back from the forehead. His face gives no evidence of special power, and is of a type often met with. He dresses in the latest style, and has the air of a business man. His face gives no evidence of special power, brisk and business-like. He speaks in an easy, colloquial way, as if in a parlor company. He treats the congregation to no set sermons or long talks, but speaks a little from the rostrum, then goes among the people exhorting one, cheering another, and constantly passing between the pulpit and the congregation. He relies largely upon singing and prayer for the impression he desires to make. In speaking he aims to win the hearts of his hearers, and not to arouse their fears. The rant peculiar to so many ministers engaged in this kind of work has no place in his oratory, and consequently what he says takes a stronger hold upon his hearers than is wont. His ministrations have been so successful that the month which he at first intended to devote to this church has lengthened into six weeks, and now the time of his stay is indefinite.—Baltimore Gazette.

TWO WEEKS IN A COFFIN, YET ALIVE. A most remarkable occurrence has taken place in Minneapolis, Minnesota, which rivals the resurrection of Lazarus. About three weeks ago Jonas Nelson, a lumberman, while working in the woods on the upper Mississippi, was crushed beneath a falling tree, and, after suffering several days, died. His comrades placed his body in a rude pine box and forwarded it to his friends in that city. It was over a week before the body arrived. At the same time the weather was quite cold. The remains were taken to the residence of John Peterson, where for two or three days they were visited by friends. Finally one who had not yet seen the body called, and after examining it for some moments exclaimed: "Why, Jonas is not dead." Those who heard him were astonished at this remark, which seemed incredible; but nevertheless efforts were made to resuscitate the body by placing it in bed and imparting warmth to it. After a while color began to show itself in the cheeks, and shortly after his eyes opened. The spectators were almost overpowered with a sense that they were in the presence of an unseen power. Finally one asked the reviving man: "Nelson, are you cold?" Without moving, fixing his eyes on his questioner, he answered: "Yes." The exertions to restore him were now redoubled, and his condition since has been gradually improving. These are facts, that a man who has been apparently dead two weeks, and must have been frozen in transit to the city, has come back to life.

HANGING OF FOUR MURDERERS IN SOUTH CAROLINA.—On Nov. 2, 1876, two quiet Germans named Hauseman and Portmann, living four miles from Aiken, S. C., were murdered, their house robbed, set on fire and burned to ashes. Suspicion attached to five colored men named Nelson Brown, Lucius Thomas, Adam Johnson, Jno. Henry Dennis and Stephen Anderson, who were arrested. Proofs accumulated that they were the right parties, and they finally made confession, and also confessed burning the Baptist Church at Aiken, murdering a white man named Levy, and other crimes. On January 5 they were tried by a jury composed of twelve colored men, convicted and sentenced to be hung on the 16th of March. On Wednesday Gov. Hampton respited Anderson for thirty days. On the day appointed the execution of the four others, Nelson Brown, Lucius Thomas, Adam Sohnson and John Henry Dennis, took place in the presence of about 5,000 people. The sheriff had a posse of 100 armed men guarding the gallows. The prisoners were attended with preachers of their own color. All addressed the crowd, confessing the murder and acknowledging the justice of their sentence. Johnson insisted upon the son of his owner during slavery standing by him to the last. No efforts were made by the friends of the condemned men to rescue them, although threats were previously made. Each confessed his share in the murder. The drop fell at 12 o'clock and the murderers expired almost without a struggle. The crowd then dispersed. Perfect order prevailed.

A TERRIBLE ACCIDENT.—A distressing accident, resulting in the death of a young man, occurred at Collins' Mill, near Edward C. Coppage's on the Delaware line, on Tuesday of last week. Mr. Peter Bedwell, aged 18 years, was in the mill, and the saw was running at a rapid rate. Bedwell tripped and fell across the carriage and before he could recover was carried into the teeth of the saw (a five feet circular) and one of his legs was cut entirely off, excepting the skin. Drs. Cooper and Temple were summoned and attended the unfortunate man, but he died the next day after suffering great agony.

CAPSIZE AND LOSS OF LIFE.—The schooner Alphabet, Capt. Charles Rinard, was capsized in the bay near Drum Point, on Friday of last week, during a heavy gale. The captain and two men, who were on deck when the vessel went over, were saved, but three of the crew, whose names we could not ascertain, being in the cabin of the vessel at the time of the capsize, were drowned before any assistance could be given them. The vessel will prove a total loss.—Calvert, Md., Journal, March 17.

AN English bull dog of enormous size attacked a little girl who was feeding him at Cincinnati, on Monday, and began to devour her flesh. A police officer shot the brute through the head. After he was wounded the dog sprang upon the officer and nearly threw him to the ground, and also bit the mother of the child severely in the hand. The little girl cannot live.

THE ELECT OF THE PEOPLE.—We published recently, says the New York World, a table showing the popular vote by which Mr. Tilden was elected President, though the electoral votes in which the popular vote was represented find great difficulty in getting secured by the United States Returning Board, called the Electoral Commission.

We now print another table, showing the immense suffrage for Mr. Tilden compared with that given to any other man at any previous election since the war:

1876.
Tilden	4,305,636
Hayes	4,040,807
Tilden's majority	264,829
1872.
Grant	3,579,793
Greeley	2,842,425
Tilden's vote in 1876 larger than Grant's in 1872	725,843

Out of 366 electoral votes Grant had 286 given him by a popular vote three-quarters of a million less than that given to Tilden.

1868.
Grant	3,013,188
Seymour	2,703,600
On a popular majority of 309,000 Grant had 214 electoral votes out of 294.
Tilden's popular vote in 1876	4,305,636
Grant's popular vote in 1868	3,013,188
Tilden's vote in 1876 larger than Grant's in 1868	1,292,448

THE RELIGIOUS TEST in the New Hampshire State constitution, upon which the people there voted in the late election, has existed in New Hampshire for ninety-three years. By the old constitution no Catholic is allowed to vote for a Governor or Legislature, and none but Protestants are permitted to hold any position in the common schools. As a cotemporary justly says, the New Hampshire heart would be fired with indignation if Louisiana should adopt a State constitution stripping Methodists or Congregationalists of the elective franchise on the Governor and Legislature and shutting out all but Catholics from the public schools, and then they would be able to form an idea of the sentiment which their own stupid intolerance excites among the people of the less benighted States. Nevertheless the people of New Hampshire have just refused to adopt the proposed amendment abolishing the religious test. Had the State been carried by the democracy in the late election there can be no doubt that the result would have been different. There has been much talk about the duty of guaranteeing a republican constitution as an excuse for long-continued federal interference in the Southern States. New Hampshire is a field which affords greater justification for interference in such behalf.

EX-GOV. HENDRICKS, while on his way to California, stopped in Omaha a few days. He refused any formal interview, but talked unreservedly of public affairs. The Omaha Herald reports him as "defending Mr. Tilden from the assaults made upon him by a certain class of the disappointed democracy and democratic newspapers. Mr. Hendricks thought if Mr. Tilden had been inaugurated not a newspaper nor a politician of his party would have lifted up its voice against him. Cox and Knott and Blackburn and Springer and all the others would have been found thankful for the bone of patronage that was bestowed upon them. He thought by 1880 their tunes will have changed again if Mr. Tilden would consent to be a candidate for a second time. Mr. Hendricks discussed the present aspect of the presidential question, and trusted that the administration of Hayes would be such that no one could complain."

ATTORNEY GENERAL DEVENS is rapidly coming to the conclusion that he has done one very big thing for himself in giving up a life position on the Supreme Bench of Massachusetts to accept the precarious tenure of a place in the cabinet, with all its attendant annoyances and inconveniences. His judicial turn of mind and his habits are put to a sore test by the crowd of place-hunters and other people, who take up almost his entire time. In speaking of the subject the other day to a Senator he said: "You see before you the biggest fool in Massachusetts. I gave up a place which suited me exactly, and where I was comfortably and permanently fixed, for one which does not suit me at all."—Cor. Balt. Sun.

IT is the wish of ex-President Grant that when he sets out on his grand European tour, the coming May, he may not the object of official courtesies from obsequious foreign governments. This is a very proper spirit for so distinguished an exemplar of republican simplicity to show but we are not aware that any of the powers have so far shown a disposition to obtrude their attentions upon the dethroned Cæsar; while we are almost positive that the country of the Grand Duke Alexis, if it meditates any action at all, meditates one quite the reverse of hospitable. In fact, the new "innocents abroad" are likely to enjoy all the obscurity they desire.

AFTER being inaugurated as Fraudulent President, Hayes told Grant that if there were any special friends of his in office who he might desire to have retained, and of whose names he would make a memorandum, they should not be disturbed. The list furnished is said to be long and embarrassing, but Grant holds his successor to the offer and expects a fulfillment of the bond. Hence the Cramers and the crew of loafers and adventurers, who were pensioned on the Treasury by Grant are likely to continue on the rolls during four years of usurpation, and all for the sake of civil service reform as preached by Hayes, Evarts, and Schurz.

NONE SO POOR AS TO DO REVERENCE.—In all the political discussions of the day it is remarkable that the Grant administration, though but a few weeks dead, seems to be almost as completely forgotten as if it had existed before the flood. No reference is made to it except in the language of condemnation. It is only remembered as one of the cities of the plain to warn other generations of mankind against the crimes which brought upon it destruction. There are a good many things, however, only worthy to be remembered in order to avoid them in the future.

A DIVORCE CASE.—The Middletown Transcript says there is a big divorce case pending before the Delaware Legislature. R. E. Randall, brother of Hon. S. J. Randall, Speaker of the House of Representatives, asks a divorce from his wife for unchastity. Mrs. Randall makes the same accusation against her husband, averring that he had deserted her and twice went to Europe with a woman whose divorce from her husband he had procured. The bill has passed the House, and will probably pass the Senate.

A SEVERE shock of earthquake, lasting forty seconds, was felt at North Troy, Vt., Tuesday morning.

THE PEACH CROP.—Already the voice of the people is beginning to be heard in the peninsula, despite the snows and freezes and devastating "peach birds."—The Cambridge (Md.) Chronicle says it seems to be the general impression of the leading fruit growers in Dorchester, and of others in different parts of the peninsula, that the prospect for a full peach crop this year is very flattering. The trees are filled with buds, and there is every reason to believe that if none of those unforeseen circumstances which so often occur to the peach crop do not come this year, there will be the largest yield of peaches on this peninsula that has been known for years. If the crop should fail in Dorchester this year it would no doubt throw many of our farmers into bankruptcy, owing to the failure of the fruit and wheat crops last year, and the present starvation prices of corn. Besides the bulk of the crop, which will be freighted over the railway lines to Philadelphia and other places, it is understood that the facilities for shipping the fruit to Baltimore from the lower peninsula are greatly increased, and that the varieties raised on the peninsula are so much finer than those raised in Virginia that the trade in peaches between Baltimore, Norfolk and Richmond will be so enhanced as to increase the drain upon the Delaware and Maryland orchards very preceptibly.

DOUGLASS AND BLAINE.—In the debate in the Senate, which occurred upon the nomination of Fred. Douglass for marshal of the District of Columbia, Mr. Blaine is reported to have said that "he had invited Frederick Douglass to his house and treated him as an equal when to do so was almost a crime." What a dreadful period of the world's history it must have been when public opinion was shocked at the idea of Fred Douglass being equal to Mr. Blaine!

JOE COBURN, the prize-fighter, whose latest mill was with two metropolitan policemen, is now running a lathe in the axle-shop of the Auburn penitentiary.—Joe Goss, another champion of the ring, languishes in a Kentucky prison, while Johnny Clark and Weeden, two famous Philadelphia pugilists, are serving out a term in New Jersey under a sentence of manslaughter. The "manly sport" has evidently got a very black eye.

A SOP FOR PARSON NEWMAN.—It is announced from Washington that hereafter the President's family will divide their church attendance between the Foundry church and the Metropolitan, "to show that they have no disposition to snub the latter." This is the most amusing instance yet of the strength of the President's conciliation policy and his desire to inaugurate an era of good feeling.

THE Misses Schurz will preside over the residence of their father, Hon. Carl Schurz, in Washington. They are quite young; the second daughter has not long been out of school. Both were educated chiefly in Germany, and have been taught music, the languages, and all branches of useful knowledge more thoroughly than is usual with young ladies. The elder, Miss Agatha, is an especially excellent musician.

THE patriotic octogenarian of Hoboken, who lately bequeathed a million dollars toward the payment of the national debt, must have entered into wedlock at the ripe age of eighty-five, if the woman who now turns up as his wife and the claimant of his property, is to be believed. Other relatives of the venerable patriot, who declared that he had no relatives, are turning up.

GRANT'S brother-in-law, Sharp, has been kindly looked after by Hayes. Frederick Douglass had no sooner displaced him as Marshal of the District of Columbia, than Sharp was appointed a Major and Paymaster in the army, and assigned to duty at Washington. This is a very soft place. Is Hayes going to look out for the whole Grant family with like solicitude?

THE LAST UTTERANCE of the late Chief Justice Moses, of South Carolina, is stated to have been—"Hampton is Governor." The Charleston papers state as a creditable fact that Judge Moses never took a hand in the many jobs which disgraced the republican administration in South Carolina, and up to the day of his death was dependent upon his salary for a support.

GOVERNOR CARROLL has decided not to interfere with the sentence of the law in the case of Slater, the gambler. Determined efforts have been made by numerous friends to induce the Gavernor to pardon him, but without success, and Slater, it is now thought, will be compelled to serve out his full sentence.

MORTON starts into the race for President in 1880 with full control of over 20,000 Post Offices.—Kansas City Times.

And with Returning Boards in Louisiana and elsewhere all ready to count him in without regard to the vote of the people.

IN the opinion of the New York Herald the President's first mistake was in making Mr Frederick Douglass marshal of the District of Columbia. His proper place was as collector of the port of Boston. "Mr. Douglass should go to cool and breezy Boston."

IN Somerset county pea planting is over, and potato planting, and strawberry mulching is the order of the day with farmers and truckers. A good crop this year is anticipated.

THE healthiest woman in Cambridge eats rare beef, onions, potatoes, oatmeal, eggs and stale bread, and no desert; wears a loose corset and a broad toe shoe.—Cambridge Chronicle.

JOINTS and Muscles, Stiff and painful with rheumatism and gout, are promptly relieved by Glenn's Sulphur Soap. Local diseases of the skin and defects of the complexion are also remedied by this standard article. Depot Crittenton's No. 7 Sixth Avenue, New York. Hill's Hair and Whisker Dye, black or brown, 50 cts. m17-4t.

Delays are Dangerous.—If this axiom is true respecting the ordinary affairs of life, still more obviously so as regards the exigencies of approaching disease. Unquestionably! Yet how many neglect to practically recognize this plain truth when health is in the balance. Of the many premonitory symptoms of disease a hacking cough is the most prophetic of peril. Arrest it at the outset with DR. WISHART'S PINE TREE TAR CORDIAL, and so avoid Consumption. Bronchitis, Inflammation of the Lungs, Coughs, Colds, and, indeed, all Affections of the Respiratory Organs, are entirely cured by this sovereign remedy, which also eradicates Dyspepsia, Gravel, Piles, Nervous Debility, Torpidity of the Liver, Urinary Difficulties, Constipation, Palpitation of the Heart, Scrofulous Affections, and the infirmities peculiar to the gentler sex. This Cordial derives its virtues from the vegetable kingdom, and is infinitely to be preferred, both on account of its superior efficacy and freedom from nauseous and injurious properties to the official drugs so often administered with no other effect than to offend the palate and disorder the stomach. The PINE TREE TAR CORDIAL can always be relied on to do what is claimed for it. Sold by druggists. Principal Depot, 91[illegible] mar24-3m.

NOTICE!

ALL PERSONS INDEBTED TO ME for Taxes, or on private account, are requested to make immediate payment, as further waiting will do you no good and would place me in a very embarrassing position. I have been compelled to borrow money to pay some of the claims against the county, and in a few days that money will be due. Now, I tell you that this money must come, and you will find it both policy and economy to pay your debts promptly, even if you have to borrow the money to do it with, as discount at the bank would amount to much less than officers' fees and printers' bills. Hoping you will not disregard this notice—as I intend to collect this money and that very soon—I await your decision. JAMES A. SHAW.
