SATURDAY - - - - JUNE 30, 1877.

Letter from Chesterville.

Friend News:—A letter appeared some time since under the nom de plume of "Mack." When that article was written it was not, nor is it now, the intention of the writer to enter into a personal harangue in defence of the truth. What it becomes us to write we always have unquestionable authority for, and if we are assailed by some one who is suddenly stricken with that terrible malady "furor scribendi," and entertains not the slightest regard for the veracity of his statements and accusations, we then do not cast off the title of correspondent as easily as the "Old Residenter" would have us to do. Every word in our letter was truth, and although the Old Residenter thinks our foundation of glass, we have the pleasure of enjoying an easy conscience by knowing our foundation is upon TRUTH, and the "truth is great and will prevail." To enter into a concise and strict criticism of that unmanly attack is beneath our dignity, and we would not have stooped to answer such a vast amount of unwitty and untruthful sarcasm had it not been for the request of citizens who are superiors socially and morally, within our knowledge of the oldest, or old residents that stoop to put such an article before the public. When a little more age has improved the manner of language used by that old resident, then he will be considered as a good citizen, and not one who has only age to speak for praise, for age without veracity is a dishonor to gray hairs. Not only has the old residenter broken one of the commandments, "Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor," but has deepened the crime by encouraging the youths of our village, by means of the public press, to still continue in the ways of vice. To all intents and purposes a pint of whiskey bought from an ex-legislator will produce as great evil as if it had been purchased at the lowest grog shop; and would we be doing our duty toward our neighbors if we allowed the youths of our village to drink and carouse in the streets unknown to their parents? Conscience will not permit us, and we will not cloth truth in a hypocrite's garb, but place it in plain language for men of balanced minds to peruse. The "Old Residenter," whoever he is, finding himself in danger of being defeated by keeping to the truth, leaves the points charged by "Mack," and addresses himself to the task of raising a laugh by ridicule against his adversary But in this that low retort has utterly failed, and will only bring ridicule upon the promulgator of any argument that denies a fact. Has not the country been ablaze with "Murphy Meetings," and does it not become every civilized man to use all the means in his power to convert the adherents of alcohol? If the author of that reply has never seen youths of Chesterville under the influence of alcohol, it was because he is blind or purposely did not try to witness such a depraved sight, for nearly every Saturday night it has been the state of some youth in the village. Why an old resident should defend a dispenser of "fire-water" we know not, as we said nothing that would criminate the innocent.

To the young men and youths of our community and county we will say: Idle no longer, and believe not the defense of a would-be son of Momus, and let not your future be shattered by the false flattery of an old and near-sighted resident, and as a motto for you future analysis we offer: "Run from the white man when you find he smells of Holland Gin," and alcohol in any shape. Any further communication will not be noticed by 'Mack,' as self-respect prohibits us from stooping to reply to the persons who in the nineteenth century defend the cause of intemperance. And if the "Old Residenter" will adopt as a maxim, "Be sure you are right," etc. he will be spared the guilt of knowing that he has defended Satan's own course; and let every person who assumes the title of correspondent remember the motto, "Magnaest veritas, et prevalebit."

Locals are of a scarce nature, and the only thing for one to be instructed from is nature. The grain fields that have now assumed a golden hue will yield during the present week to the sickles of the harvesters, and every farmer that has been seen is in an exceedingly jovial mood over his prospects. MACK.

Galena Seminary Commencement.

Messrs. Editors:—On the evening of the 14th it was my privilege to attend the closing exercises of the above institution. The stage was most exquisitely decorated and showed that taste of no mean cultivation had been employed in its arrangement. Oil paintings hung tastefully upon the walls, the subjects of which were at once landscape, portraiture, poetical and historical, giving proof that "the art" could be well handled by some one at the Seminary. Numerous boquets of beautiful flowers, all in wax, made by the pupils, were placed in and on brackets just where they afforded the relief required. A cross of brilliant leaves showed that America's autumn tints had met with due appreciation; opposite this was a fuschia tree, filled with graceful branches of crimson blossoms, which we were told was made by a little girl of eleven summers, Miss Minnie Jones, of Caroline co. In the centre was a handsome stand, on which was placed "competitive work in wax." I admire flowers, but I cannot tell you the beauty of these. Miss Ella M. Williams, of Queen Anne's county, won the prize in this ornamental branch; the "Art of Modeling in Wax," handsomely bound, was the premium. The swelling tones of the organ, at the right of us, now called attention to the fact that the students were about to enter, and when we heard from all sides "here they come," we turned and gazed upon the lovely youthful throng with emotions of delight. One by one, in perfect time and order, they marched to the stage and around until all were on; then fainter and still fainter grew the organ peals, till the taking of the last seat brought that dead silence that should ever precede the asking of God's blessing; this was invoked humbly and Christ-like by Rev. Mr. Irwin. "The Greeting Song" by the students came next, in which "the language of the heart" was said to be spoken by "the shaking of the hand." "A Little Boy's Attempt," by Ambrose Williams, followed, and if that little boy keeps his word and does in the future as he did that night, he will make his mark. Master Oscar Williams then spoke in manly tones of "Men Boys." This is decidedly a Female Seminary, but these little boys we heard were taken as a special favor, at the earnest appeal of a mother, since deceased. Her boys were delicate, and she wanted them gently dealt with in their younger life. The oldest is but nine years old, but they are little gentlemen. A selection, "Bee, Clock and Broom," was then rendered by Fanny Williams, Lizzie Spencer and Maggie Knighton; this was well done by all, but the articulation of Miss Knighton evinced careful training, and her "sweeping statements" showed that old brooms "know where to find the dust." Next came the senior students. "Bachelor's Confession," was finely rendered by Miss Ella M. Williams. All the selections reflected credit both upon teacher and pupils, but "Dead in the Doorway," by Miss Myra Benny, was decidedly the piece in elocution. The music, including solos, ducts and trios, both vocal and instrumental, was truly fine, and in conversing with those around me was told that this branch received great attention; so thoroughly had the knowledge been imparted that its pupils, many of them, could occupy important positions as organists, and in various ways serve the public, as well as enliven many home circles. A vocal duet, by Misses Busteed and Kibler, gave much satisfaction, and "Call her back and kiss her," by Miss Myra Benny, was highly applauded. Miss Kibler's "Fete Des Fees" was a masterpiece in the way of instrumental music, and to this young lady was awarded the premium for the highest attainment in this branch during the year. The compositions evidenced careful preparation and deep thinking. "The Human House," by Miss Noland, was a fine thing, but the "Valedictory," by Miss Busteed, subject—"Why Sould we Fail," gave evidence of even deeper thought. In delivering it embarrassment was evident, but that added a charm to it; others were also well delivered.

After the reading of the valedictory premiums were awarded by the Preceptress as stated above, and in addition a second premium was awarded to Miss Archibald for music. A boquet of wax flowers to Miss Lizzie Spencer for highest, attainment in the junior department; a volume of Longfellow to Miss Noland for scholarship and superior deportment; but that "Cook Book" to little Miss Benny brought down the house. Miss Busteed, who figured most conspicuously during the evening, was presented, first, a "Memorial Gift," to which each of her classmates and teachers contributed; second, an oil painting, in appreciation of kindness rendered her teacher, Mrs. Eichholtz, first assistant; third, the "excelsior medal," for general excellence. The last and most interesting scene of the evening was the conferring of the diploma upon Miss Maggie Busteed by the principal, Miss E. L. Benny, after which the class of '77 sang the Parting Ode. And here let me say that to Miss Linthicum, the vocal teacher, is due great credit for her usefulness in that department. Congratulations were now offered by friends and patrons, and when we left the rostrum was crowded with visitors discussing the merits of the evening. Showers of boquets were sent from all parts of the house during the evening. "Long live Galena Seminary." A VISITOR.

JURIES DECIDING THAT TILDEN WAS ELECTED.—A very singular lawsuit came up in the Circuit Court at Goshen to-day. Last fall, several days after the Presidential election, Isaac Ayres of Elkhart offered to bet $100 that Tilden and Hendricks had received a majority of the electoral votes east. Several Republican politicians accepted the offer of Ayres, and Jas. F. Hunt, a dry goods merchant, was appointed the stakeholder. When the result of the election was declared by Congress Hunt turned over the money to the Republicans under protest, Ayres, at the time declaring that he would sue him for the money. Ayres sued Hunt in Elkhart and was beaten, and appealed the case to the Circuit Court, which came up before Judge Woods and a jury this afternoon. The jury, after hearing the testimony, returned a verdict in favor of Ayres for $100. This is the third case of the kind that has occurred in the United States, each one resulting the same as this one did.—Chicago Times.

FOR the first time in the history of the United States District Court in this city, says the Balto. Gazette of the 23d instant, a colored man was yesterday admitted to practice at the bar of that tribunal. The applicant for admission was Charles Taylor, of Massachusetts, in the courts of which State he has for some years been a regular practitioner. He is about thirty-five years of age, of rather stout physique and good address. The unusual incident attracted the close attention of all in the courtroom. In moving his admission as an attorney of the court, Archibald Stirling, Jr., district attorney, stated that Mr. Taylor was a lawyer of high standing at the Massachusetts bar, and came with recommendations from the various courts of that State in which he had practiced.

FREIGHT RATES FOR PEACHES.—The Delaware Peach Growers' Association has received notice that the freight rates for peaches have been reduced five dollars per car from the rates of 1875 between Jersey City and Boston, empty baskets to be returned at one cent each from Jersey City. On Western shipments to points reached by the Pennsylvania railroad and Baltimore and Ohio railroad west of and including Pittsburg and Wheeling a reduction of thirty per cent. from the rates in force in 1875 will be made. The chartered car system will probably be abandoned and the basis of calculation made upon car loads of 16,000 lbs. each.

CAPT. JNO. A. WEBSTER, the hero of the six-gun battery which played such an important part in the defense of Baltimore city against the British in the war of 1812, has been spending a few days recently at the residence of Dr. W. S. Richardson, Belair, Harford county. The captain bears his age, 90 years, remarkably well, and is still as erect as an Indian warrior.

GEN. GRANT has at last expressed his opinion of English horses, after viewing them critically on the track and road. He thinks the American running horses, racers, quite equal to the English; that the English carriage horses are better than ours, and that in trotting horses "America is A No. 1 and England nowhere."

Delays are Dangerous.—If this axiom is true respecting the ordinary affairs of life, still more obviously so as regards the exigencies o approaching disease. Unquestionably! Yet how many neglect to practically recognize this plain truth when health is in the balance. Of the many premonitory symptoms of disease a hacking cough is the most prophetic of peril. Arrest it at the outset with Dr. WISHART'S PINE TREE TAR CORDIAL, and so avoid Consumption. Bronchitis, Inflammation of the Lungs, Coughs, Colds, and, indeed, all Affections of the Respiratory Organs, are entirely cured by this sovereign remedy, which also eradicates Dyspepsia, Piles, Gravel, Nervous Debility, Torpidity of the Liver, Urinary Difficulties, Constipation, Palpitation of the Heart, Scrofulous Affections, and the infirmities peculiar to the gentler sex. This Cordial derives its virtues from the vegetable kingdom, and is infinitely to be preferred, both on account of its superior efficacy and freedom from nauseous and injurious properties to the officinal drugs so often administered with no other effect than to offend the palate and disorder the stomach. The Pine Tree Cordial can always be relied on to do what is claimed for it. Sold by all Druggists. Principal Depot, 916 Filbert street, Philadelphia. mr24-3m.

HUBBARD'S STANDARD Bone Super-Phosphate,

Again before the Public at $35 Cash per Ton of 2000 lbs. at the Factory.

Farmers, Read

For yourselves and be CONVINCED that those who pay CASH for our Phosphate on delivery, or in 30 days from date of bill, will find that money is worth to them much more than legal interest, showing a decided advantage both to the

FARMER and MANUFACTURER

—the latter working upon a small margin above the actual cost per ton.

The satisfactory results that have been so universally given to our customers can only be attributed to the large percentage of actual Fertilizer, essentially BONE, employed in its manufacture, of which

WE INVITE INSPECTION,

Making it UNDOUBTEDLY

The BEST MANURE for All Crops.

We refer below to the names of a few Farmers and others who have used our Phosphates with satisfaction and profit:

THE CLIMAX

IRON FRAME

CULTIVATOR

Invented and Manufactured by

Chapman & Lambert

CHESTERTOWN.

THESE celebrated and highly popular Cultivators are now being manufactured by the above firm, and are guaranteed not to choke in grass or corn stubs. The attention of farmers generally is invited to the following recommendations:

Near Hynson's Chapel, Apr. 28, 1877.

Messrs. Chapman & Lambert—Dear Sirs: The Climax Iron Frame Cultivator that I bought of you last year gave entire satisfaction and will not choke. You will please make me another one. I would not take $25 for the one you made me if I could not get another like it.

Respectfully, &c., A. J. HYNSON.

Near Chestertown, Apr. 28, 1877.

Messrs. Chapman & Lambert—Sirs: The Climax Iron Cultivator which I purchased from you last fall gave me entire satisfaction, and I shall want another. I broke up my corn ground for wheat with it and used no plow. I have never seen its equal and it is everything you claim for it.

Yours, &c., WM. MORRIS.

Near Fairlee, April 30, 1877.

Messrs. Chapman & Lambert—Sirs: Your newly invented Cultivator is a big thing for farmers, and I advise all in want of Cultivators to give them a trial. Last fall I put my corn ground in order for wheat with it, and it never choked once. You will please make me another.

Yours, &c., B. F. JOINER.

Rich Neck, near Rolph's Wharf, April 30, 1877.

Messrs. Chapman & Lambert—Dear Sirs: The newly invented Iron Frame Cultivator I bought of you gave entire satisfaction, and I think they are the very thing for farmers. Your Steel Cultivator Teeth, that I have been using for years, have no equal, and I can recommend them to all farmers.

Yours, &c.,
THOS. J. TUCKER.

We also refer to the following well-known farmers who have used our new Cultivator:

ROBERT NICHOLSON,
ROBERT G. NICHOLSON,
JOHN. T. SKIRVEN,
WILLIAM FORD,
I. R. LEVERTON,
GEO. W. SMITH, Queen Anne's.
AARON WELCH, " " and others.

N. B.—We have now on hand Two Hundred sets of the Best STEEL CULTIVATOR TEETH. Every tooth is carefully tempered. For sale as low as $2.50 per Set. Also, recollect that we do all kinds of Blacksmithing and Wheelwrighting, and repair Machinery. A full lot of Plows and Harrows on hand, at old time prices.

GALENA MACHINE SHOPS!

Wm. A. Hyland & Co.

WE beg leave to call the attention of the Farmers of Kent and the adjoining counties to our new and the many IMPROVEMENTS we have made this year. Our Self-Oiling PITMAN BOX, which will run two hours without stopping to oil; also, case hardened Journals, which we think is a great advantage, preventing the wearing of the Journals, a trouble that all other machines have to contend with. We are now using a Guard with concaved centre, which will PREVENT CHOKING and always present a Sharp Cutting Edge, a thing that must present itself to the farmer at once. Also, a Knife with Steel Back, thereby adding Strength, Lightness and Elasticity; and our PATENT STEEL WIRE DROP, that overcomes all objections to a Dropper, working as well in light as heavy grain, a thing that has been long needed and found at last by us.

COMPETITOR REAPER,

We make the Reapers of two sizes, for two and four horses. The four-horse Reaper cuts a Swath of six feet, and will cut from twenty-five to thirty acres of grain per day, and will not work the horses as hard as ordinary farm work. The five foot machine is intended for two horses, and is handled very easily. Farmers, call and see, or write to us and learn what we have for sale.

They are the proprietors of a Corn Sheller with Fan attachment, which with their one and two horse power, will shell and clean seventy-five bushels in one hour, of which fact good reference can be given.

REPAIRING

they do neatly, and all their work is done at reasonable prices, and say to all, encourage home manufacture, or at all events give them a trial.

THE CRAWFORD MOWER

NOTICE

To Fruit Growers

SHIP nothing but your BEST, and dry your Callings.

I WOULD respectfully call the attention of Fruit Growers to my Improved Fruit Evaporator.

My Evaporator has 2,000 square feet of drying surface, and will dry from 200 to 300 baskets of peaches per day, at a cost not exceeding 1½ cents per pound for preparing and drying the fruit. Fruit dried by this process commands double the price of Sun dried fruit. I have samples of fruit dried by this dryer last year, which can be seen, with a model of the dryer, by calling on me.
