SATURDAY ... NOV. 10, 1877

LOSSES.

Upon the white sea sand
There sat a pilgrim band,
Telling the losses that their lives had known,
While evening waned away
From breezy cliff and bay,
And the strong tides went out with a weary moan.

One spake with quivering lip,
Of a fair freighted ship,
With all his household to the deep gone down,
But one had had a wilder woe,
For a fair face long ago,
Lost in the darker depths of a great town.

There were some who mourned their youth
With a most loving truth,
For the brave hopes and memories ever green,
And one upon the West
Turned an eye that would not rest,
For far-off hills whereon its joy had been.

Some talked of vanished gold,
Some of proud honors told,
Some spoke of friends that were their trust no more;
And one of a green grave,
Beside a foreign wave,
That made him sit so lonely on the shore.

But when their tales were done,
There spake among them one,
A stranger, seeming from all sorrow free,
"Sad losses have ye met,
But mine is heavier yet,
For a believing heart hath gone from me."

"Alas!" these pilgrims said,
"For the living and the dead,
For fortune's cruelty, for love's sure cross,
For the wrecks of land and sea,
But, however it came to thee,
Thine, stranger, is life's last and heaviest loss."

LUDICROUS.

An English lady, who lived in the country and was about to have a large dinner-party, was ambitious of making as great a display as her husband's establishment—a tolerable large one—could furnish. So that there might seem to be no lack of servants, a great lad, who had only been employed on farm work, was trimmed and dressed for the occasion, and ordered to take his stand behind his mistress's chair, with strict injunctions not to stir from the place, nor to do anything, unless she directed him—the lady well knowing that although no footman could make a better appearance in still life, some awkwardness would be inevitable if he were put in motion. Accordingly, Thomas, having thus been duly drilled and enjoined, took his post at the head of the table, behind his mistress, and for awhile found sufficient amusement in looking at the grand "set out" and staring at the guests. When he was weary of this, and of an inaction to which he was so little used, his eye began to pry about among nearer objects. It was at a time when the ladies followed the French fashion of having the back and shoulder, under nape of the neck, uncovered much lower than accords with the English climate or with old English notions. This lady was in the height, or lowness, of that fashion, and between her shoulder blades, not far from the confines where nakedness met, Thomas espied something. The guests were too much engaged with the business and the courtesies of the table see what must have been worth seeing—the transfiguration produced in Thomas's countenance by delight when he saw so fine an opportunity of showing himself attentive and making himself useful. The lady was too much occupied with her company to feel the flea; but to her horror she felt the great finger and thumb of Thomas upon her back, and to her greater horror heard him exclaim, with exultation, to the still greater amusement of the party: "A vlea! vlea, my lady! Ecod! I'v caucht 'em!"

Civilizing the Indians.

The proper method of civilizing the Indian, in the belief of a Catholic Missionary, Father Raveille, who has long lived among the Sioux, is to learn his tastes and then lead him along toward civilization by ways that do not harshly cross his tastes. It is necessary to break up the tribal organization, stop their wandering from place to place, and protect them when they are trying to become farmers. The nomad instinct is strong. Father Raveille relates this anecdote: "One bitter cold night while I was with the Sioux up near the Canada line, a well-known chief named Left Bear, came into my hut. I said to him: "Look at me here in this room, Left Bear. See what civilization can do. The wind on the prairies is sharp; the snow is deep, but here is a stove that warms the air. Here is a bed where I can sleep and not freeze. Here is my table with books, so I can read and learn. Is this not much better than roaming about without a home?" He repeated all these advantages approvingly. "But," said he, with a splendid air about him, "you are not free. You cannot put your house on your back and go to some new place when you want a change."

What Our Presidents were Worth.—Washington left an estate valued at over $800,000; John Adams died moderately well off, leaving about $700,000; Jefferson died so poor that if Congress had not purchased his library at $20,000 he would have been a pauper; Madison was frugal, and left about $150,000; Monroe died so poor that he was buried at the expense of his relatives; Jno. Quinay Adams left about $50,000; Jackson died worth about $80,000; Van Buren left some $400,000. It is said that he did not draw his salary while in office, but at the expiration of his term of service drew the whole $100,000; Polk left an estate valued at $150,000; Taylor had saved something from his pay while in the army, and died worth $150,000; Tyler married a lady of wealth; Filmore was always frugal, and added to his savings by marrying a lady of wealth, and was worth about $200,000; Pierce's estate was valued at $50,000; Buchanan left $200,000; Lincoln about $75,000; and Johnson $50,000.—Exchange.

He had not slept a wink for twenty-four hours, coughing all the time. His sister bought a 25 cent bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup at the nearest drug store, gave him a dose, and the cough was broken at once and he slept quietly during the night.

"No, ma'am," said a grocer to an applicant for credit, "I wouldn't even trust my own feelings."

Ask Yourself these Questions.

Are you a despondent sufferer from Sick Headache, Habitual Costiveness, Palpitation of the Heart? Have you Dizziness of the Head? Is your Nervous System depressed? Does your Blood circulate badly? Have you a Cough? Low Spirits? Coming up of the food after eating? &c. &c. All these and much more are the direct results of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint and Indigestion. Green's August Flower is now acknowledged by all druggists to be a positive cure. 2,400,000 bottles were given away in the U. S. through Druggists to the people as a trial. Two doses will satisfy any person of its wonderful quality in curing all forms of Indigestion. Sample bottle 10 cts. Regular size 75 cts. Sold positive by all first class Druggists in U. S.

The Returning Board.—It is not thought that the criminal prosecution of Wells and Anderson, members of the Louisiana returning board, has any political object, but it is understood that the retention of Wells as surveyor of the port and the appointment of Anderson as deputy collector by the President have caused deep dissatisfaction in New Orleans, where those two men are not thought to be of character sufficiently high to fill federal offices. Their holding these important places is regarded even by many of the President's friends in New Orleans as a public scandal, and Louisiana suggests that if they had not been placed in conspicuous offices there would have been no effort to indict and try them.

There is a short and rapid passage between the heart and the mouth; it is out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh; our words, as a rule, are a reflection of our state of mind. When the tap is turned the liquid which flows will be that which the vessel contains. We know the nature of the metal by the ring which it gives, so our words must partake of the state of our minds. It is our words which declare our character and determine our destiny; for the great Teacher asserted, "By thy words thou shalt be condemned." If, therefore, gratitude for God's mercy, and trust in his faithfulness, predominate in our hearts, we shall sing and give thanks.

The Washington correspondent of the New York Tribune lets out in the following the true inwardness of radical hostility to Hayes: "Many of the old members, accustomed to the spoils system, are at a loss to know how they are going to keep their places without it, and many of the new ones come here with debts in the way of promises of office which they cannot pay. When they discover that they cannot dispose at their pleasure, of the federal appointments in their districts, they begin to lament the downfall of the Republican party."

Kellogg takes things very coolly. He says he doesn't propose to give himself any unnecessary concern about his admission to the Senate, and may not even take the trouble to go to Washington at all. As the Senate is sure to be democratic two years hence, it is "immaterial" to him whether he is admitted or not. There are times when it is quite easy for one to be resigned to his fate. Kellogg's attitude would be heroic if it were not absurd.

With a cake of Glenn's Sulphur Soap and a commodious bath-tub, the victim of chronic cutaneous eruptions can improvise a sulphur bath, which no professed bathing establishment can supply. Sold at Druggists. Hill's Hair and Whisker Dye, black or brown, 50 cts. o27-4t.

THE SUN.

1878. NEW YORK. 1878.

As the time approaches for the renewal of subscriptions, The Sun would remind its friends and wellwishers everywhere, that it is again a candidate for their consideration and support. Upon its record for the past ten years it relies for a continuance of the hearty sympathy and generous co-operation which have hitherto been extended to it from every quarter of the Union.

The Daily Sun is a four-page sheet of 28 columns, price by mail, post paid, 55 cts. a month, or $6.50 per year.

The Sunday edition of The Sun is an 8-page sheet of 56 columns. While giving the news of the day, it also contains a large amount of literary and miscellaneous matter specially prepared for it. The Sunday Sun has met with great success. Post paid $1.20 a year.

The Weekly Sun.

Who does not know The Weekly Sun? It circulates throughout the United States, the Canadas and beyond. Ninety thousand families greet its welcome pages weekly, and regard in the light of guide, counsellor and friend. Its news, editorial, agricultural, and literary departments make it essentially a journal for the family and the fireside. Terms: $1 a year post paid. This price, quality considered, makes it the cheapest newspaper published. For clubs of Ten, with $10 cash, we will send an extra copy free. Address

Order of Publication.

THOMAS MURPHY AND JOHN R. HALL, Executors of Thomas Murphy, versus
ERASTUS S. MEAD AND SARAH A. MEAD, his wife.

In the Circuit Court for Kent County, in Equity. November 2, 1877.

THE OBJECT of this suit is to procure a Decree for the sale of certain mortgaged premises in Kent County, State of Maryland, which were on the Eighteenth day of May, in the year Eighteen hundred and seventy-six, mortgaged by the defendants, Erastus S. Mead and Sarah A. Mead, his wife, to Thomas C. Murphy and John R. Hall, executors of Thomas Murphy, deceased. The Bill states that on or about the eighteenth day of May, in the year eighteen hundred and seventy-six, the said Erastus S. Mead and Sarah A. Mead conveyed certain real estate, which is particularly described in the Bill and its accompanying exhibit, unto the said Thomas C. Murphy and John R. Hall, executors of Thomas Murphy, by way of mortgage, to secure the payment of the sum of eleven thousand dollars, with interest from the fourth day of May, in the year eighteen hundred and seventy-six, which was owing from the said Erastus S. Mead and Sarah S. Mead to the said Thos. C. Murphy and John R. Hall, executors, and payable in instalments as specially set forth in said deed; which further provides that in default of payment of any of said instalments of money or the interest thereon, or any part thereof, the whole of said debt shall be immediately due and payable, which default having been made, the said mortgaged premises are liable to be sold for the payment of said debt and interest; and the said Erastus S. Mead and Sarah A. Mead reside out of the State of Maryland.

IT IS THEREUPON ADJUDGED AND ORDERED, that the complainant by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper printed and published in Kent county, Maryland, once in each of three successive weeks before the first day of December, 1877, give notice to the said absent defendants of the object and substance of this bill, and warn them to appear in this Court in person or by solicitor on or before the first day of April, 1878, to answer the premises and show cause if any they have why a decree ought not to pass as prayed.

GALENA MACHINE SHOPS!

Wm. A. Hyland & Co.

WE beg leave to call the attention of the Farmers of Kent and the adjoining counties to our new and the many IMPROVEMENTS we have made this year. Our Self-Oiling Pitman Box, which will run two hours without stopping to oil; also, case hardened Journals, which we think is a great advantage, preventing the wearing of the Journals, a trouble that all other machines have to contend with. We are now using a Guard with concaved centre, which will Prevent Choking and always present a Sharp Cutting Edge, a thing that must present itself to the farmer at once. Also, a Knife with Steel Back, thereby adding Strength, Lightness and Elasticity; and our Patent Steel Wire Drop, that overcomes all objections to a Dropper, working as well in light as heavy grain, a thing that has been long needed and found at last by us.

We make the Reapers of two sizes, for two and four horses. The four-horse Reaper cuts a Swath of six feet, and will cut from twenty-five to thirty acres of grain per day, and will not work the horses as hard as ordinary farm work. The five foot machine is intended for two horses, and is handled very easily. Farmers, call and see, or write to us and learn what we have for sale.

They are the proprietors of a Corn Sheller, with Fan attachment, which with their one and two horse power, will shell and clean seventy-five bushels in one hour, of which fact good reference can be given.

THE WONDER OF THE AGE!

Mallet's Improved Patent WASHING MACHINE!

WORKS by pressure of Air and Water Power, works by itself, no labor required like other washing machines, no rubbing necessary, and it saves four times its cost yearly in time and expense.

Clothes will wear twice as long by not rubbing them on a Wash Board or forcing them through wooden machines, which are equally destructive.

☞ The subscriber having purchased the right in the above Machine for Kent and Queen Anne's counties, is prepared to sell them at low prices, according to size. Persons are referred to Mr. DANIEL E. JEWELL, near Worton Station, who is prepared to furnish all necessary information. RICHARD COLEMAN.
