FIVE-STORY YEAST PLANT AT COLGATE BURNED.

Fire destroyed the big five-story yeast plant of the Federal Yeast Corporation at Colgate.

Thousands of gallons of vinegar and thousands of gallons in tanks were destroyed. A large amount of yeast and fermented yeast stock was located in the plant and an explosion was feared.

Firefighters from Baltimore City, Dundalk and Camp Holabird fire companies responded. A third alarm was sounded shortly after the arrival of the firemen.

Before a single stream of water could be directed on the fire by city apparatus the main plant was a mass of smouldering ruins and the yeast manufacturing plant and water tanks near by were blazing fiercely.

Although the engines in the boiler room of the plant were started to pump water into the tanks, the pressure was inadequate and the supply limited. After almost an hour of fruitless effort to get sufficient water attempts were made to run hose lines from the distant Colgate Creek.

COULD NOT WALK BECAUSE OF PAIN

Bad Case of Woman's Illness Remedied by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

St. Louis, Missouri.—"I had such a bad case of female trouble that I could not walk because of the pains from inflammation. My back was all done up. I could hardly bend, could not go up stairs because of weakness, and no one could possibly be in worse shape than I was. I have taken twelve bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am a strong woman now and can work down any of my neighbors. They wonder how I can do so much work. I dare say that I have recommended your medicine to a thousand women. A little book was thrown at my door, and that is how I first learned of it."—Mrs. D. M. Beauchamp, 1104 Morrison Avenue, St. Louis, Mo.

Letters like this bring out the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. They tell of the relief from such pains and ailments after taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

In a recent country-wide canvass of purchasers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, 98 out of every 100 report they were benefited by its use. For sale by druggists everywhere.
