Married Politeness.

"Will you?" inquired a pleasant, persuasive voice.

"Yes, my dear, with pleasure," answered the husband.

It was quietly, but heartily said; the tone, the manner, the look, were perfectly natural and very affectionate. We though how pleasant that courteous reply—how gratifying it must be to the wife. Many husbands of ten years experience are ready enough with the courtesies of politeness to the young ladies of their acquaintance, while they speak with abruptness to the wife, and do many little rude things without considering them worth an apology. The stranger, whom they have seen but yesterday, is listened to with deference, and although the subject may not be of the pleasantest nature, with a pleasant smile; while the poor wife, if she relates a domestic grievance, is snubbed or listened to with ill-concealed impatience. Oh, how wrong this is—all wrong.

Does she urge some request—"Oh, don't bother me!" cries her lord and master. Does she ask for necessary funds for Susy's shoes or Tommy's hat—"Seems to me you're always wanting money," is the handsome retort. Is any little extra wanted by his masculine appetite, it is ordered and not requested. "Look here, I want you to do so and so—just see that it is done;" and off marches Mr. Boor with a bow and a smile of friendly sweetness for every casaul acquaintance he may meet.

When we meet with such thoughtlessness and coarseness, our thoughts revert to the kind voice and gentle manner of the friend who said, "Yes, my dear, with pleasure." "I beg your pardon," comes as readily to his lips, when, by any little awkardness he has disconcerted her, as it would in the presence of the most fashionable stickler for etiquette. He loves her best—why should he hesitate to show it, by preferring her pleasure and honoring her in public as well as in private? Though words seem little things, and slight attempts almost valueless, yet depend upon it they keep the flame alive, especially if they are natural. The children grow up in a better atmosphere, and learn to respect their parents as they see them respecting each other. Many a boy takes advantage of a mother he loves, because he sees the rudeness of his father. "Only his mother—why should he thank her?—father never does." Thus, the home becomes the seat of disorders and unhappiness. Only for strangers are kind words expressed, and hypocrites go out from the hearthstone prepared to render justice and politeness to everyone but they who have the most just claims. Ah, give us the kind glance, the happy household of the friend who said so pleasantly, "Yes, my dear, with pleasure."

By all Means be an Editor.

An editor is the happiest being on earth. He has little or nothing to do, and his pay is all that heart could wish. His sanctum with its Persian rugs and Turkish carpets, its costly rosewood furniture, its magnificent mirrors, its beautiful pictures, its complete library of splendidly-bound books, its silver bell to summon an attendant, and, in short, with its everything that human ingenuity can devise for his comfort and pleasure, it is a perfect little paradise, where he sits or lounges and reigns a young lord, with the world of fashion and pleasure at his fect. And then anybody can be an editor—no study, no preparation, no brains, nothing but a little money to start with, and once started the money pours in upon you in a steady stream, and the chief labor of your life is to spend it. As for the labor of editing a newspaper, that is mere moonshine. A mere glance at the columns of a newspaper is enough to convince you that it requires no labor to edit it, and less brains. It is certainly a glorious life, that of an editor; a life of luxurious ease and of elegant leisure—a life filled, like that of the young lover in his first dream of requited love, with flutes and rose leaves and moonbeams. That all men are not editors is one of the strangest things beneath the stars. True, there must be doctors and lawyers and merchants and shoemakers and peanut dealers and the like, and all these callings must be filled by somebody, but there are enough to fill them, and why they don't become editors and lead the life of opulent princess is a thing that staggers us. But after all, it may be that it is a mere matter of taste. It may be repugnant to some natures to become editors. The life of ease and elegance and luxury, and exemption from all care and toils and debts and duns, would soon become a bore to him, and he would spend his nights dreaming of ploughs and pitchforks and repairing machines, and squander his days in devising some plan for swapping places with a blacksmith's apprentice or a stage driver.

THE NEW ORLEANS BILLIARD TOURNAMENT which has just ended with Sexton first, Slosson second, Rudolphe third, and ex-champions Daly and Dion at the foot of the list, suggests how the freshness and zeal of youth tell in games of skill and endurance. The billiard king holds his sceptre, his champion cue, during a reign comparatively short. It seems not long ago that Phelan was the acknowledged master of the table; but presently he was outdone by Kavanagh; not many years elapsed before Kavanagh made way for Derry; then Derry resigned his laurels to Joseph Dion; Jos. Dion in turn was forced to admit, for a time, the superior powers of Cyrille; Cyrille Dion was soon overcome by Daly; Daly reaped his honors only to have them wrested away by Albert Garnier; the brilliant Garnier, who promised to have a longer reign than any of his predecessors, fell a vittim to the young Vermonter who is now at the top of the heap; and Sexton on his part will probably yield much sooner than his astonishing prowess now indicates, to some phenominal player of the future. Occasionally an old monarch of the baize seems to resume his superiority for a moment, even after dethronement, but the recovery is not permanent. He may still be among the best of his day, but his rapidity of these changes is striking. One would suppose that experience, practice, and the cool head of age would be great advantages. So they are; but with the requisite amount of experience, practice, and coolness once secured, the alertness and vigor of youth may turn the scale.

LOOK tidy in the morning, and after the dinner work is over improve your toilet. Make it a rule of your daily life to "dress up" in the afternoon. Your dress may or may not be anything better than calico, but with a ribbon or flower, or some bit of ornament, you can have an air of self-respect and satisfaction that invariably comes with being well dressed.

A LOCK of hair from a young woman's head is often a key to a young man's heart.

An Unattractive Life.

After all, what woman of refined tastes can blame the daughters of some farmers for being discontented? "I want to get away from home and earn my living somehow," said a heart-sick girl. "If I could go to school a little more I could teach; but they can't spare me." I knew all her life had been one round of cooking, and milking, and churning, of washing, and scrubbing, and ironing. I knew that her father was a wealthy farmer, and a leading church member. He has a good farm and a cozy barn—such a cozy barn!—and money in the bank. And when I looked at the ugly old farmhouse, with its black doors and small windows, its calves, and pigs, and chickens running in undisturbed tranquility over the yard, I did not wonder that she found it unattractive, and that she wanted to "get away." The finer sensibilities of her woman nature were awakening, and they called for something better. The daughters of men who consider it a waste of time to send children to school, and a waste of money to buy books or magazines for them to read, are not to blame if they are discontented. Holland tells us that farmers are afraid to be educated, or refined, or to cultivate the beauties of nature, lest they be thought "stuck up." He says that their finer nature, being neglected, becomes sluggish and dormant. When they go to sleep they merely "go to roost;" when they eat, they "tuck away grub;" that "they surprise their backs with clean shirts," and when they marry they "hitch on." In all this they recognize more of truth than poetry. Perhaps it is true the world is what we make it; but the sad part of the truth is, that some of us cannot make it what it ought to be, or what we wish it to be. No matter how hard we try to lift ourselves above the dead level, can never attain the higher standard we might have reached if loving and considerate parents had helped to prepare the way for us.

Facts for Farmers.

It is worth while for all farmers, everywhere, that thorough culture is better than three mortgages on your farm.

That an offensive war against the weeds is five times less expensive than a defensive one.

That good fences always pay better than lawsuits with neighbors.

That hay is a great deal cheaper made in summer than purchased in winter.

That more stock perish from famine than fodder.

That a horse which lays his ears back and looks lightning when you approach is vicious.

That scrimping the feed of fattening hogs is a waste of grain.

That educating children properly is money lent at 10 per cent.

That one evening spent at home in study, is more profitable than ten spent in lounging about saloons and taverns.

That cows should be milked regularly and clean.

A PET monkey in Atlanta was carefully trained to watch a baby and rock its cradle when it cried. He was considered a very trustworthy and useful brute, but one day, being left alone with the infant, and finding himself unable to stop its crying, he jumped into the cradle, scratched the child's face, bit its ears and nose, tore off its clothes, and when discovered was stuffling the bits of cloth into its mouth. He is no longer employed as a nurse.

"IT SEEMS as if I should cough my head off," is sometimes the impatient exclamation of a sufferer from a very severe cough. Quell the paroxysms with Hale's Honey of Horehound and Tar. The relief is immediate and the cure certain.—Sold by all Druggists. Pike's Toothache Drops cure in 1 minute.

"TEN dimes make one dollar," said the schoolmaster. "Now go on, sir. Ten dollars make one—what?" They make one mighty glad these times," replied the boy, and the teacher, who hadn't got his last month's salary yet, concluded the boy was about right.—N. Y. Com. Adv.

AN Indian came to a certain agent in the northern part of Iowa to procure some whiskey for a young warrier, who had been bitten by a rattlesnake. "Four quarts?" repeated the agent with surprise; "as much as that?" "Yes," replied the Indian, "four quarts; snake very big."

THE monumental city is noted for its beautiful belles; so is Leary's Compound Syrup of Wild Cheary and Tar noted as a remedy for curing Coughs, Colds, Croup and all diseases of the throat and Lungs. Only 35 cents. j26-2t.

AN exchange says: The train on the Somerset & Worcester railroad the other day passed a man on horseback, and there was a great hurrahing among the passengers, until they discovered that it was tied to a tree.

"IF I had to walk from here to Baltimore for it, I would not be without Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup in my family," is what we heard a lady say yesterday.

"AH, parson, I wish I could carry my gold with me," said a dying man to his pastor. "It might melt," was the consoling answer.

WHEN a girl gets mad and rises from a fellow's knee, but thinks better of it and goes back again, is it what they call a relapse?

A GENTLE HINT.

In our style of climate, with its sudden changes of temperature,—rain, wind and sunshine often intermingled in a single day,—it is no wonder that our children, friends and relatives are so frequently taken from us by neglected colds, half the deaths resulting directly from this cause. A bottle of Boschee's German Syrup kept about your home for immediate use will prevent serious sickness, a large doctor's bill, and perhaps death, by the use of three or four doses. For curing Consumption, Hemorrhages, Pneumonia, Severe Coughs, Croup or any other disease of the Throat or Lungs, its success is simply wonderful, as your druggist will tell you. German Syrup is now sold in every town and village on this continent. Sample bottles for trial, 10c.; regular size, 75c.

CRAMPTON'S
Imperial Soap
IS THE "BEST."
Crampton's Imperial Soap is the Best!
Crampton's Imperial Soap is the Best!
Crampton's Imperial Soap is the Best!
Crampton's Imperial Soap is the Best!
THIS SOAP is manufactured from pure materials, and as it contains a large percentage of Vegetable Oil, is warranted fully equal to the best imported Castile Soap, and at the same time possesses all the washing and cleansing properties of the celebrated German and French Laundry Soaps. It is therefore recommended for use in the Laundry, Kitchen and Bath room and for general household purposes; also, for Printers, Painters, Engineers and Machinists.
As it Will Remove Stains
OF INK, GREASE, TAR, OIL AND PAINT from the hands.
The Huntington (Pa.) Monitor of April 5, 1877, pronounces this Soap the best in the market, as follows:
"Reader, we don't want you to suppose that this is an advertisement, and pass it over unheeded. Read it. We want to direct your attention to the advertisement of 'Crampton's Imperial Soap.' Having used it in our office for the past year, we can recommend it as the best in use. It is a rare thing to get a Soap that will thoroughly cleanse printing ink from the hands or from linen, but Crampton's laundry soap will do it, and we know whereof we speak. It is especially adapted for printers, painters, engineers and machinists, as it will remove grease of all descriptions from hands or clothes with little labor. For general household purposes it cannot be excelled.
Manufactured only by
CRAMPTON BROTHERS,
2, 4, 6, 8 and 10 Rutgers Place, and 33 and 35 Jefferson St., New York.

Wm. A. Hyland & Co.
WE beg leave to call the attention of the Farmers of Kent and the adjoining counties to our new COMPETITOR REAPER,
and the many IMPROVEMENTS we have made this year. Our Self-Oiling PITMAN BOX, which will run two hours without stopping to oil; also, case hardened Journals, which we think is a great advantage, preventing the wearing of the Journals, a trouble that all other machines have to contend with. We are now using a Guard with concaved centre, which will PREVENT CHOKING and always present a Sharp Cutting Edge, a thing that must present itself to the farmer at once. Also, a Knife with Steel Back, thereby adding Strength, Lightness and Elasticity; and our PATENT STEEL WIRE DROP, that overcomes all objections to a Dropper, working as well in light as heavy grain, a thing that has been long needed and found at last by us.
We make the Reapers of two sizes, for two and four horses. The four-horse Reaper cuts a Swath of six feet, and will cut from twenty-five to thirty acres of grain per day, and will not work the horses as hard as ordinary farm work. The five foot machine is intended for two horses, and is handled very easily. Farmers, call and see, or write to us and learn what we have for sale.
They are the proprietors of a Corn Sheller with Fan attachment, which with their one and two horse power, will shell and clean seventy-five bushels in one hour, of which fact good reference can be given.
REPAIRING
they do neatly, and all their work is done at reasonable prices, and say to all, encourage home manufacture, or at all events give them a trial.
THE CRAWFORD MOWER
so justly celebrated for its light draft, and good work done by it, they also keep for sale.
Also, the Celebrated Taylor Rake
WE GUARANTEE every Machine that leaves our Works.
WM. A. HYLAND & CO.
We are also selling the Celebrated
Hubbard Self-Raking Reaper
AND MOWER COMBINED.
Farmers will please give us a call before purchasing elsewhere.

Wheat Seeding!
HIGH GRADE FERTILIZER

STANDARD
Bone Super-Phosphate,
UNEXCELLED
FOR ALL CROPS!
We again offer to the public our Standard Phosphate this, our ninth season. It is sold on an increased demand, not only in this State but Delaware, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Virginia, and for the last two years it has been extensively used as a test side by side of various higher priced Phosphates sold in the market, upon Wheat, Corn, and other crops in Kent and Queen Anne's counties, by many of our best farmers, who pronounce it to be equal to any in result, and superior to many, while the price is much less. There are other advantages in favor of the use of our Standard, which will be proven on trial.
1st. It is sold at $35 cash per Ton, at the Factory.
2d. It can be easily applied, with safety and profit, upon all crops.
3. It is always guaranteed to be in excellent order for drilling.
4. It is especially adapted to the growth of each and every crop.
5. The Base of the Standard is pure animal Bone, of which we invite inspection.
6. Animal Bone is a permanent improver of the soil.
7. Chemistry has enabled us to demonstrate with a degree of certainty that our soils lack principally Nitrogen, Potash and Phosphoric-acid, they being the three substances most essential for the profitable growing of crops and the Farmer to buy. Hence
We ask but ONE TRIAL
to convince all of the valuable properties contained in our Phosphate as a CROP PRODUCER, and we pledge ourselves to keep it up to its well known HIGH STANDARD, believing that our success depends entirely upon the QUALITY of our Fertilizer. We refer below to the names of a few Farmers who used our Phosphate on their wheat last Fall, which yielded an abundant Harvest:
