HE AND SHE.

I'll be at the window as he goes by,
As he goes by—
He'll lift his hat to look at the sky,
The western sky,
To see if the sun has set for fair—
And suddenly there
Against the sky in the golden air
He'll see a pair
Of familiar eyes; and I shall see
As he looks at me
A sudden smile and a nod, maybe;
All this in three,
Or perhaps in four swift moments—then,
Ah then,
In another moment the world of men
For him, or, when
The street is turned, a different face
To take my place,
While I by my window here retrace
Each line of the face
Which smiled at me, as it passed me by
With a glance of the eye
That swept me in with the western sky,
The sunset sky.
To-morrow I shall be at the window when
He passes again;
He will smile and nod—and then, ah then—
The same old story over again!

BETTER TIMES COMING.

From the Philadelphia Times.

The business world paid little or no attention to the "theorists," as the political economists were called, when, eight or nine years ago, they predicted the business stagnation, the panic and the bankruptcies that came like a crash in 1873. The practical "men" saw that times were brisk, and trade booming; they did not see, they refused to see, that the whole structure was undermined. They are as little inclined to listen to the theorists now, when they say we are now richer than ever, and that nothing is needed but confidence to start us again in a new and splendid era of business activity. It was predicted in 1869 that contraction would come whether it was legislated or not, with a force as irresistible as the tide. "If," said the theorist, "contraction does not come through voluntary legislation, it will come through involuntary bankruptcy." The prediction was fulfilled to the letter.

The panic retired money from circulation and locked it up in safe deposit vaults; the stagnation of business kept it there. People were afraid, and are still afraid, to invest in any venture. Thus there came the natural contraction of idle money. It would have been far wiser to have done this by law. It would have lessened greatly the severity of the panic and the duration of the dull times. Now however we have gone through the abyss. We have passed through "the contraction of involuntary bankruptcy," and our currency has been brought practically to par, and we are thus in a condition to carry on a prosperous foreign trade. For three successive years our crops have been enormous. The harvests of cotton, of corn, tobacco and wheat, and the yield of pork and bacon have been vast beyond precedent. The exports have been proportionately great.

Our shipments abroad have never been so heavy, our agricultural productions never so great as now, and yet the complaint of dull times is as loud as ever. It is because there is still that lack of business confidence, which is essential to business activity. Men are deterred from investing their money in ventures, even though they promise well, for there are risks in addition to the ordinary chances of trade. There have been so many Savings Banks, Railroads and Insurance Companies shown out as sound by fraudulent statements when they were on the eve of bankruptcy, so many perjurers and swindlers in the higher walks of life, so much unwisdom in the financial administration of the country, so many dangerous financial delusions afloat, that people who have money are timid about letting it go out of their possession. There it lies making business dull, though the whole country is immensely rich. Times are dull because capital lies idle, yielding nothing to the capitalist and labor is consequently unemployed. This state of affairs cannot be cured by "more money" for there is already more than is in use. If Greenbacks were to be issued by the ton, it would not make things any better, but worse. The despised "theorists" who predicted the troubles that have now come to pass, tell us however that the skies are brightning all around. The follies of financial legislation or attempted legislation may still retard the return of better times but they cannot delay it long. Our people have during the past four years worked hard, spent little, and have now on hand lots of money, which have more than made up the losses of the panic. There are symptoms that they are going to spend it, then business will be brisk.

"ONE OF DE CHURCH SONGS."—Riding a little further on I espied to the right, some several hundred yards from the road, an opening supposed to be a field, from which I was now confident that the singular sounds proceeded. Turning my horse in that direction, I rode cautiously through a narrow strip of dense woodland, not knowing what moment I might be at a colored camp-meeting or disturb the harmonious meeting of a Union League. But, startling revelation! Behold a dozen or more of Africa's sons and daughters in the centre of a large cotton field, shouting at top of their voices:

"When I git to heaven,
What shall I see?
I'll see de angel
A-lookin' arter me.

Chorus—Who shall I vote fur?
Who shall I vote fur?
Who shall I vote fur?
Daniel H. Chamberlain."

This does not signify any particular love for the crafty Daniel, for upon questioning one of them he informed me that it was "one of de church songs," and that he would vote for Gov. Hampton next fall.—Charleston News and Courier.

A LEETLE TOO MODEST.—A lady on northside wishing to test the mirits of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup thought it would never do to ask the druggist in the name of "Bull." "Why, dear me, she couldn't say Bull to save her life," and called at last on a neighbor woman for suggestions on the matter. Dr. Cow's, Dr. Calf's, Dr. Buffalo's and Dr. Oxen's Syrup were all mentioned. The latter suited. "Yes, that will do—Dr. Oxen—the very thing, the druggist will understand that." A walk of two squares found her at the counter of Dr. H—'s store, when the following dialogue occurred:

"I wish a bottle of Dr. Oxen's Cough Syrup."

"Dr. Oxen, Oxen, why, mam, I don't believe I keep that. You mean Cox's Hive Syrup, don't you?"

"Oh, no, I mean, mean, Dr. Oxen," and then she seemed wrapped in solemn thought for a moment, when a bright idea seemed to beam forth. "Hasn't Dr. Oxen got a relation or—"

"Oh, yes, you mean Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, yes, yes." The lady sat down a moment and all was over.—Indianapolis Exchange.

JESSE GRANT says the ridiculous stories published pretending to give a conversation between himself and Queen Victoria were concocted by a person connected with the New York Herald.

STATE RIGHTS IN THE GOVERNMENT—A Nice Question of Law.—In April, 1865, at the time of the collapse of the Southern Confederacy, the State of Virginia had on deposit in the Exchange Bank of Richmond, twenty-one thousand dollars in gold. From this sum H. W. Thomas, then Lieutenant Governor of the State, and other State officers, drew, by formal and regular warrants through the auditor of State, certain amounts due them as salary. In March last year the United States district attorney brought suit in the Federal Circuit Court at Richmond, Va., against Thomas to recover the money (five hundred dollars) which he thus drew, on the ground that the gold on deposit, belonged to the State of Virginia, one of the Confederate States, became the property of the United States by right of conquest, and the court decided in favor of the United States. Thereupon the case was brought before Secretary Sherman under a motion to instruct the district attorney to discontinue the suit, and Mr. Kenneth Raynor, the solicitor of the treasury, now delivers his opinion that the claim of the United States has no merit and that the suit ought to be discontinued. He admits that the United States fell heir by conquest to all the property of the Confederate government, but not to the property of the State governments whose people chose to take sides with the rebellious organization. If, he says, Virginia had set up an independent national government of its own, had established or tried to establish international relations, and assumed to be a sovereign nation, in that case when the United States conquered Virginia its property would have passed under international law into the possession of the conqueror. But there was no pretense of such a condition; on the extinction of the Confederacy the State of Virginia remained a State as before, and the State could lose no right to its property or the United States gain any. Referring to Mr. Rayner's opinion, the New York Herald says it is odd that this question has never come up before the Supreme Court of the United States for adjudication, but thinks it probable that this court would hold with the solicitor of the treasury.

RAILROAD BUSINESS IN 1877.—The summary of operations of the railroads of the United States for 1877, as given in Poor's Manual, shows total earnings on 74,112 miles reported of $472,909,272, a decrease of $24,348,687 as compared with the previous year. This decrease is distributed throughout the country, but chiefly in Middle States, which show a falling off in gross earnings of $21,670,286, due almost entirely to the depressed condition of the coal trade and the decrease of travel, as compared with the centennial year. Omitting the decrease on the 13,607 miles of railroad in the Middle States, the gross earnings on the remaining 60,505 miles show a diminution of only $2,678,401, which is due to the low rates of freight, the amount of freight moved being greater than in any former year. The same is true of dividends as of earnings. The total dividends paid amounted to $58,556,312, being $9,583,356 less than for the previous year. Of this sum $8,799,631 was in the Middle States, of which over $5,500,000 belongs to the Pennsylvania railroad. The railroads of the West and South have shown only a slight decrease either in earnings or dividends. In net earnings the decrease is less by $8,872,632 than in gross—the total net earnings being $170,976,697, against $186,452,752 for the previous year.

THE USES OF INDIAN WARS.—One of the few discoverable uses of Indian wars like the one now going on in Idaho is the extension of popular knowledge of geography. French John's Ferry, Sucker Creek road, the Sheep Ranch, Parade valley, Kemler's store and other localities, till lately unheard of, now develop into places of importance, and divide our wondering admiration with Tin Doy, Captain Jim, Pocatello, Sarah Winnemucca, Sandy Otter Bear, Sam Tygre and other red men and women till lately unknown to us. Thus we live to learn.—New York Sun.

LOUISIANA people say that the late Congressman Leonard is the only person to whom Mrs. Jenks' testimony, in regard to her amanuensis in writing the Sherman letter, could possibly apply. She said that her amanuensis held a State office (Leonard was State Judge at the time referred to.) That she had seen him within six months (she saw Leonard in January last), and that he had passed to the land of shadows. Leonard died in Cuba, it will be remembered, in March. Mrs. Jenks will not say that Leonard was the man referred to, nor will she deny it.

THIS is the end of a letter Murphy, the temperance revivalist, wrote in reply to some people who wanted him to go to New Haven:

I shall want $150 a week and board at the best hotel. Yours in Christ,
FRANCIS MURPHY.

There are a number of people throughout the country who are willing to become Christian brothers at this salary.—Exchange.

That almost equals Philip Philips, who "sang for JESUS and $200 a night."

IT is stated by the Philadelphia Inquirer that a well-known dentist of that city has nearly completed a telephonic apparatus which can be placed inside the human ear, and be scarcely perceived by the observer, which will restore hearing to the deaf, and that without any other means of communication than through the air as a medium. He began this instrument two years ago, and late developments, as the telephone, confirm the plan and convince him that it will succeed.

THE TELEPHONE AT SEA.—The telephone has lately been successfully used in France to communicate between a vessel being towed and one towing. The wire was carried along one of the hawsers, and circuit was completed through the copper on the bottoms of the ships and the water. Conversation was carried on distinctly.

THE CONSUMPTION OF TOBACCO.—Last year 27,000,000 pounds of tobacco and nearly two billions of cigars was smoked, snuffed and chewed in this country, an increase of about 8,000,000 pounds of tobacco and 50,000,000 cigars as compared with the year previous.

GEN. TOOMBS says there is no danger in this country at present from communism, but there will be if the goverment becomes unjust and the laws oppressive. In that case he would be willing to lead the attack himself to secure justice.

An Undeniable Truth.

You deserve to suffer, and if you lead a miserable, unsatisfactory life in this beautiful world, it is entirely your own fault and there is but one excuse for you,—your unreasonable prejudice and skepticism, which has killed thousands. Personal knowledge and common sense reasoning will soon show you that Green's August Flower will cure you of Liver Complaint, or Dyspepsia, with all its miserable effects, such as sick headache, palpitation of the heart, sour stomach, habitual costiveness, dizziness of the head, nervous prostration, low spirits, &c. Its sales now reach every town on the Western Continent and not a Druggist but will tell you of its wonderful cures. You can buy a Sample Bottle for 10 cents. Three dose will relieve you.

MRS. MCCORMICK, of Salesville, Ohio, one day last week, gave birth to a litter of five children. The demand for Ohio people is very great in this country but at this rate the market will soon be overstocked. The mother and children are doing well. Mr. Hayes should provide his fellow citizen, Mr. McCormick, with a consulship in an extremely cold climate. He seems to be far more deserving of consideration than the rascally ballot-box stuffers of Louisiana.—Balto. Gazette.

HON. CHARLES FOSTER has prepared a Campaign Document in which he shows that the total amount appropriated by Congress to cover deficiencies since its assemblage last October is $15,192,438 87. This shows the folly of a Democratic House trying to economize when all the Departments are in the hands of Republicans, who refuse to co-operate, and who augment their expenditures for no other reason in the world than a desire to render all efforts at economy nugatory.

TIME flies and so do diseases of the skin when that incomparable purifier of the cuticle and beautifier of the complexion, Glenn's Sulphur Soap, is used to disperse them. Pimples, blotches, sores and bruises, and the like are invariably removed by it. Hill's Hair and Whisker Dye, Black or brown, 50cts. j29-4t

AGNES JENKS made her last appearance before the Potter-Butler Committee on Monday. She left the stand like Sam Weller, seemingly anxious to know whether any other gentlemen desired to ask her a question. She thanked the committee for its courtesy.

BABY shows are the fashion now, but as long as mothers continue to nurse their little ones with Laudanum or other opiates, they cannot expect their Babies to look bright. If your Baby needs medicine get a good and harmless one such as Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup. Price 25 cents.

SPEAKING of a tornado which had visited her town, an old lady said:—Everything was swept as with the beeswax of destruction.

A DOZEN democratic county conventions in Ohio have already declared in favor of Senator Thurman for the next presidency.

UNDOUBTED patience is necessary to bear not only with ourselves, but with others.

GALENA
MACHINE SHOPS!
PLOWS, CASTINGS, &c.
Wm. A. Hyland & Co.
WE beg leave to call the attention of the Farmers of Kent and the adjoining counties to our new COMPETITOR REAPER,
and the many IMPROVEMENTS we have made this year. Our Self-Oiling PITMAN BOX, which will run two hours without stopping to oil; also, case hardened Journals, which we think is a great advantage, preventing the wearing of the Journals, a trouble that all other machines have to contend with. We are now using a Guard with concaved centre, which will PREVENT CHOKING and always present a Sharp Cutting Edge, a thing that must present itself to the farmer at once. Also, a Knife with Steel Back, thereby adding Strength, Lightness and Elasticity; and our PATENT STEEL WIRE DROP, that overcomes all objections to a Dropper, working as well in light as heavy grain, a thing that has been long needed and found at last by us.
We make the Reapers of two sizes, for two and four horses. The four-horse Reaper cuts a Swath of six feet, and will cut from twenty-five to thirty acres of grain per day, and will not work the horses as hard as ordinary farm work. The five foot machine is intended for two horses, and is handled very easily. Farmers, call and see, or write to us and learn what we have for sale.
They are the proprietors of a Corn Sheller with Fan attachment, which with their one and two horse power, will shell and clean seventy-five bushels in one hour, of which fact good reference can be given.
☞WE GUARANTEE every Machine that leaves our Works.
Plows, Plow Castings,
HARROWS, CULTIVATORS, and Cultivator TEETH, can now be had at the old Foundry, in Chestertown. Our Castings are the best we have ever offered.
We give strict attention to all business and guarantee promptness in the execution of all orders.
☞Farmers will please give us a call before purchasing elsewhere.
