SATURDAY - - - - - JUNE 14, 1879.

THE PRIMARIES.

The Democratic Nomination Election for this county took place last Saturday. The vote polled is larger than that ever cast for the Democratic ticket at an election in this county, being 2,107, against 1,937 for Tilden in 1876, and 1,693 for Henry in 1878. This result may be accounted for mainly by the unusual number of candidates in the field, all of whom brought their friends to the polls, while many Republicans came boldly forward and renounced their allegiance to that party and expressed a determination hereafter to support the Democratic ticket. The agitation gotten up by the Republicans in Congress against the South and their refusal to strike out the harsh and unconstitutional measures authorizing the army to be used at the polls and of the appointment of numerous Marshals and Supervisors to attend on elections at great expense to the country, is enough to cause conservative and thinking Republicans to hesitate, consider and to vote for Democratic and Conservative candidates. The agitation kept up by Messrs. Blaine, Conkling and others is calculated to prolong the return of prosperity, better feeling and better times.

Notwithstanding the defection of a few persons who have gone off with the Hanson movement, the result shows that the Democratic party in Kent county was never more thoroughly united than it is to-day, and never more confident of victory by a large majority in November.

THE Legislative primaries were held in Baltimore on Tuesday and the nominating convention on the following day. The friends of Senator Whyte have secured rather more than half of the delegation, which, it is claimed, however, will fall far short of assuring his re-election. The following are the nominees:

First Legislative District.—Senator, John H. Cooper; House of Delegates, Thos. J. McCosker, Henry Cashmyer, Chas. R. Hamilton, Eugene A. Early, Jesse N. Bowen, Levin H. Morris.

Second Legislative District—Senator, Wm. A. Fisher; House of Delegates, George Rinehart, Daniel Murray, Martin Emerich, James A. L. McClure, Thos. G. Hayes, W. Campbell Hamilton.

Third Legislative District.—Senator, Wm. H. Bians; House of Delegates, Edward O'Mahony, John S. Campbell, M. W. Donavin, E. W. Albaugh, A. A. Rose, Wm. A. Boyd.

THE BEAUTIES OF EDITORIAL DISCUSSION.—Some of the Baltimore dailies are having a heated discussion over the fight for office in that city, and the personalities indulged in have been of a most refreshing character. One day the Gazette calls the Evening News a "subsidized organ of the Court House Clique," and in reply the News dubs the Gazette an amateur Ananias," a "Pennsylvania parasite and York refugee." The next issue of the Gazette declares "There is a touch of animal vindictiveness in the distressful grunts which issue from the official wallow in which the oleaginous hog of the Evening News has ensconsed himself," and further makes reference to Mr. Brewer, one of the owners of the News and a candidate for office, as "one of the most culpable and corrupt of the would-be ring managers of Baltimore; that men of equally good impulses and motives are working to-day in the striped clothes in our State prison, and we have no hesitancy whatever in saying that gentlemen of more refinement and less offense have been repeatedly tied to the tails of carts and whipped from Newgate to Tyburn!" The News in reply is willing to compare characters with the "vulgar and vulnerable editor of the Gazette, whose extravagant mendacity defeats his malignity."

The following from the Morning Herald will serve as a cap sheaf to the above beautiful productions: "We believe that our esteemed contemporary, the Gazette, was the first to discover that the scribe who during the past years regaled the readers of the American daily with an editorial, was an aged female! But judging from the editorial mire which the readers of that paper have been compelled to wallow in lately, she has evidently worn herself out and retired from the field to recuperate her exhausted energies, and a fresh and verdant summer man—a spring poet, or a refugee from the backwoods,—as it were, has evidently taken her place."

The Bulletin also takes a hand in the fight and is bitterly hostile to the renomination of the present clerks of the courts. It cuts right and left, but to its credit may be said refrains from personal vilification.

GOVERNOR COCHRAN, of Delaware, a gentleman well known for his most excellent judgment in agricultural matters, is of opinion that the country around Middletown has ceased being valuable for peach growing. It is his opinion that hereafter the peach region will be bounded by Smyrna on the North and extending down the Peninsula. Eminently practical, as the Governor is, he is reducing his opinion in this regard to practice, and is gradually going into general farming. There will be no peaches this year north of Milford, on the line of the Delaware railroad, worth talking about.

THE Zulu war costs Great Britain $2,500,000 per week, and well-informed persons think that it cannot be terminated until some time next year, since Cetawayo, having taken up a position where it will be very difficult to assail him, has again rejected the British proposal for his unconditional surrender. It is even thought probable that he will reassume the offensive and precipitate his whole strength upon one of the British columns. Parliament will be inclined to doubt if victory over a South African chieftain be cheap at a cost of $20,000,000, besides the heavy losses of soldiers by casualty and disease. These already amount to 2,500 men.

YESTERDAY was the fourteenth day of the trial at Snow Hill of Miss Lillie Duer for the murder of Miss Ella Hearn. The case will probably run into the middle of next week. It is generally believed the prisoner will be acquitted.

HENRY	471	343	225	316	338	1693

THE eighth annual report of Jesse K. Hines, Esq., Insurance commissioner of the State of Maryland, to the Governor, has been issued. It is a more voluminous document than usual, containing 333 octavo pages, and embodying an amount of financial statistics and other information relating to insurance much more minute and thorough than has been presented in any preceding reports. In regard to the insurance business done in Maryland in 1878 the commissioner shows the receipts from premiums, within the State, to be $1,588,348; amount of losses paid $666,959; life insurance premiums received, $1,186,522; payments, $1,148,064.

One of the boldest robberies ever perpetrated in Chicago took place Saturday afternoon. Harry A. Henson, a messenger, while carrying a $9,000 package from the cashier of the Illinois Central railroad to the Merchants' Loan and Trust Company's Bank, was assailed by two men, who threw red pepper in his eyes, knocked him down with a sand-bag and made off with the package.

CHILDREN'S DAY AT THE M. E. CHURCH.—Sunday last was what is known as Children's Day in the Methodist Episcopal Church. In the morning the pastor, Rev. E. B. Newnam, preached a sermon well adapted to young people, illustrated by stories that held the children in wrapt attention. In the evening a large congregation began to gather early, and some time before the exercises were begun it was difficult to find seats, even the galleries being filled. Seats were reserved in front for the Sabbath school children, and when the hour for opening came, they filed up from their room below, in classes, bearing flowers. At each corner of the pulpit were handsome urns, filled with flowers, and in the centre a cross covered with evergreens and erected upon what appeared to be a moss-covered foundation. The exercises were opened by reading a selection from the Scriptures, the pastor and the school reading alternately. After the reading, two young ladies—Miss Effie Pearson and Miss Dellie Baker—dressed in snowy white, ascended the pulpit to receive the floral offerings. The children came up, two at a time, and presented their flowers with a scriptural quotation, to which the pastor appropriately responded, and passed the flowers to the young ladies, who placed them upon the cross. The singing was very pleasing, particularly a solo by a little girl—Miss Anna Lambert—who did not appear to be more than eight years old. An address was delivered by the Superintendent, C. H. Baker, Esq. He impressed upon the audience that Sunday schools are for grown-up people as well as children, and urged upon that class the necessity of their attending. Mr. E. N. Ebaugh read a sketch of what is being done in the way of Sabbath school work in different parts of the world. After the last floral offering had been placed, the benediction was pronounced, and the congregation dismissed.—Transcript.

THE Baltimore Gazette, which recently "sympathized" with the Hanson movement in Kent co., now expresses an entirely different view. Of the ticket nominated last Saturday the Gazette says:

"From Senator to Surveyor the names on the ticket are those of men of character and good standing in the county. There is an entire absence of any "clique" work in its composition. It is a ticket of the people and its election is certain by a handsome majority. With such a ticket in the field there is no ground for any Democrat to complain. The dissatisfied persons who organized as independent movement down there without waiting for the expression of the Democratic primaries were certainly premature. The Democracy of Kent county rank high in the State and we are pleased to learn that the ticket nominated last week will command a solid and hearty support because it deserves the confidence of every Democratic voter."

THE festival or "sociable" held by the Ladies' Mite Society of the M. P. Church, Chestertown, on Tuesday evening, yielded a handsome sum and was an agreeable occasion to the numerous participants. The ladies' deft hands had "in a twinkling" transformed the chapel into a handsome salon. Stands and seats were arranged on either side, with a large table across the rear end, temptingly laden with cake, berries, &c., while fair hands dispensed the frozen custards and creams. The officers of the society include the elderly ladies of the church as well as a number of the young, and seem to understand how to combine "pleasure with profit."

SOME of the most valuable lands in Kent county are advertised in our columns to-day. By R. Hynson and C. T. Westcott, Esqs., the two fine farms of the late J. A. Roseberry, beautifully located about six miles from Chestertown, and near Lynch's Station on the Kent Co. R. R.

James A. Pearce, Esq., the Ricaud farm, called "Afton," in the 5th dist., containing 225 acres.

James B. Willson, executor of H. E. Willson, the valuable real estate called "Ellendale," lately owned by Capt. George H. Willson.

Persons desiring to invest in real estate are respectfully invited to a perusal of these advs.

PEACHES IN DELAWARE.—The peaches about Middletown, Smyrna and Odessa are falling badly from the effects of the curculio. At Milford, according to the News, "the peach prospect is excellent." Reports received at the Delaware Inquirer office, at Georgetown, "agree in indicating a large peach crop." The Inquirer estimates the yield at "500,000 baskets of prime fruit." The Seaford Citizen says: "There never was a better prospect in Sussex."

ORPHANS' COURT, Tuesday, June 10th, 1879.—Present, Judges Nicholson, Shallcross and Willson. Benj. F. H. Caulk, adm'r of Charles Hessey, passed his first and final administration account, which was filed and ordered to be recorded. On application of Samuel C. Cacy, and Harry C. Cacy, minors, Lewin Usilton was appointed their guardian, who filed his bond in the sum of five thousand dollars, with security approved by the court.

THE "Ford Guards" of Centreville are advertised to make an excursion on the George Law to Tolchester Beach next Monday. The advertisement states that "the Kent Guards of Chestertown, Capt. H. W. Vickers, have been invited as guests, and are expected to attend and participate in the drill and parade at Tolchester Beach. Both commands will be in full dress uniform and equipments and give a public parade at the beach."

ST. JAMES' PARSONAGE.—The festival held at the fair grounds, Worton station, on the evenings of the 5th and 6th inst., by the ladies of St. James' M. P. Church, netted the handsome sum of $135. The proceeds are to be applied to assist in the erection of a parsonage, a lot having been secured for this purpose immediately opposite the church. Rev. Mr. Little, the pastor in charge, is an indefatigable worker, and, having the zealous cooperation of the Worton community, hopes to complete the parsonage enterprise before the end of the year.

THE excursion of the M. P. Sabbath School of Centreville to Annapolis was a successful affair. Quite a number took passage at our wharf and after the additions received at the other stoppages the company footed up about 600. Annapolis was reached about noon, and the excursionists enjoyed themselves till five o'clock looking at the attractions of the "Ancient City," returning home at a seasonable hour.

PROF. REIDER, the converted Rabbi, lectured in Chestertown this week at the M. P. Church. On Wednesday evening his subject was "The Jewish Tabernacle;" Thursday, "Jewish Feasts and Fasts;" and on Friday the "Present and Future of the Jews." They were very interesting to all, and especially to Bible students.

MARRIED.—The St. Joseph (Mo.) Gazette gives a brilliant description of the marriage in that city on the 3d instant of Rev. C. O. Melvin of the Maryland Annual Conference, to Miss Mittie Crouch, daughter of Capt. I. N. Crouch. The bride is described as "one of the most pleasing, agreeable and accomplished young ladies in the city, bright as the morning and beautiful as the rose."

EXCURSIONS TO BALTIMORE.—The steamer Ford, on and after Monday, June 23d, will change her schedule so as to give round trip excursions every Wednesday and Thursday. See advertisement. The steamer is in splendid condition, and her accommodating officers do all in their power for the pleasure of passengers.

SALE OF A WATERING PLACE.—The Smyrna Times states that William Reybold, of Delaware City, has purchased of John H. Hoffecker, trustee of the real estate of Jas. W. Spruance, the Pierson Cove farm, 500 acres (Wakeman House) at the terminus of the Smyrna and Delaware Bay Railroad, on Bombay Hook, for the sum of $5,000. It is understood that Mr. Reybold has bought this in the interest of the steamboat company of which he is President and that excursions will be run there during the season and will also be a stopping place for their Cape May line. It is understood that the boats stopping there will also stop at Collins' Beach, the fare to each being the same. Substantial improvements are contemplated in both the buildings and pier.

WHAT promises to be one of the most enjoyable excursions of the season comes off on the 18th inst. We refer to the Presbyterian Sunday School excursion from Georgetown, Md., to Annapolis. It is to be an excursion and festival combined. Vocal and instrumental music form an inviting feature of the affair. Fare for adults only 75c.; children 50c. The steamer Chester has been engaged for the occasion.

MR. DAVISON has arranged to give an Illustrated Gospel Exercise at the M. E. Church, Galena, (Rev. J. E. Bryan, pastor) to-morrow evening. He had a full house at St. James' last Sunday evening. His address hereafter will be "E. W. Davison, Nyack, Rockland co., N. Y."

WHEAT HARVEST in Kent will begin the latter part of next week but will not be general before the middle of the following week, about the 25th. Hot weather, however, will bring it several days earlier.

FARM FOR SALE.—Hon. Geo. Vickers, as trustee, will sell on Wednesday next at Galena, the "Money Farm," situated near that place. See adv.

SERENADE.—The Kent Cornet Band last Tuesday night serenaded our young friends, Wm. A. Wheatley and his bride, at their residence on Mill street, near Cannon.

THE Protestant Episcopal Sunday School of Centreville will make an excursion to Tolchester Beach, on the steamer B. S. Ford, on Tuesday, July 1st.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—In perusing the columns of your most valuable paper, I noted an error in the letter from your correspondent "Walter," which I beg leave to correct. Miss Emma Osborne, of Kent, was the lady whom the Knight of Ambrose crowned as second maid of honor, and not Miss Williams, of Sudlersville, as was reported in your last issue. A KNIGHT.

CHURCH HILL ITEMS.—The people of Church Hill on Monday of last week elected E. S. Valiant, Wm. C. Smith and John H. Carter commissioners of the town for the ensuing year. Mr. Carter was elected clerk of the board and Wm. Walraven town bailiff.

The members of Unity Lodge, of Church Hill, were instructed in the secret work of the order by Grand Instructor John M. Jones on Thursday evening, after which they marched to the M. E. Church, where James A. Pearce, Esq., of Chestertown, and the Grand Instructor delivered able and interesting addresses. The members appeared in their new regalia, which has recently been procured from Baltimore, and which is neat and attractive. The order is now very thriving at Church Hill.

R. E. C. Downes, A. M., has returned from a short visit to his wife, who is sojourning elsewhere for the present.—Observer.

A SEA TURTLE was caught in the Delaware last week, which weighed 700 pounds and measured seven feet three inches in length and twelve feet across the back! Phew!

Notes for the News.

Bugs—Berries—Festivals—Salem School—Children's Day—Grange Item—James Kendall.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—Paris Green is now in demand, for the voracious potato bug is omnipresent, seeking, like a Colorado gourmand, what he may devour. I presume, however, as "every dog has his day," so the beetle, which delighteth in the succulent potato vine, will have his and then pass away. The youngest of your readers can doubtless remember well the more active yet equally destructive potato bug of former days, not one of which is now to be seen; and not a few of maturer years can call to mind the greedy rose bug, from the ravages of which our cherries, grapes and roses so seriously suffered. Now a rose bug would be to many a curiosity. An interesting subject for naturalists this—What has become of the rose bug and the blister-raising potato bug? What will be the fate of his Colorado cousin? May there not be a periodicy about their appearance, or some kind of regular succession? The Science Association no doubt can solve the questions, and to that august body they are respectfully referred for investigation.

The close of the strawberry season does not by any means imply a cessation of the festival season. It is possible to fall back on the delicious raspberry, and why not go through with dewberry, blackberry, whortleberry and all the catalogue? I intimated in a previous letter that the pupils of School No. 10, at Fairlee, would repeat the good time enjoyed last June by a festival and fair. What was then probable is now assured. Their festival, to which they invite "all the world and the rest of mankind," will occur on Saturday, 21st instant, at 3 o'clock P. M. A good supper will be set on the campus, ice-cream and other refreshments provided, and a variety of articles, useful and ornamental, offered for sale. The net proceeds will be applied to the improvement of the paraphernalia of the school. Should the day be unpropitious, it will take place on the Monday following. Much might be said in commendation of the enterprise of the children of this school in turning to good account the usual annual picnic, but your space and my time presents a double veto.

The Fairlee Grange festival, noticed in last week's News, took place, notwithstanding the weeping clouds, the rushing mighty wind, the rolling thunder and the flashing lightning with which it was inaugurated. A good supper and an abundant supply of ice-cream, strawberries and other delicacies satisfied the serious, the "grave and reverend seniors," while the more youthful found enjoyment in the giddy mazes of the ball room.

Children's Day at Salem was not so well attended as in former years. Various circumstances prevented the speakers who were expected from being present, and the whole burden fell upon the broad shoulders of pastor Jewell. His fluent utterance and impressive manner were, however, fully equal to the emergency, and the congregation were well satisfied. One familiar face was missing. Superintendent Kendall is at the Hygeinic Institute, Dansville, Livingston co., N. Y., seeking a restoration of his impaired health. Dr. Jackson holds out a faint hope of success, and while the age of his patient (50) is adverse thereto, his great vitality, his cheerful, hopeful temperament, and a life free from bad habits and devoted to usefulness, are all in favor of his recovery. This allusion to James will be gratifying to hundreds of the readers of the News and is fully justified by the fact that, though only an humble citizen, he is a man of the people, and not only respected but beloved by the people.

SIMON SHARP.

Kent Co. Agricultural Association.

CLUB ROOM, June 9, 1879.

Messrs. Editors:—Generally the association gives me so many instructive things to write that the only difficulty is to select. Not so to-day. But little interest was manifested in the regular question, "The best breeds of poultry and how to raise them." Men, as a rule, are exceedingly fond of eating poultry, from roast turkey, with all the fixings, down to fried spring chicken; yet, judging from my own experience and observation, they are very willing the wives should have all the honor of their care, and from the indifference to-day they have but little competition, and I do not know that the members were much wiser for the discussion. One member had a Black Spanish hen that laid right along for four years every day, with but few intermissions, until it was killed by an accident. Another member gave an instance where $4 a bushel was realized for wheat by feeding it to poultry. It was admitted that as far as the experience of the members present went, the Black Spanish and Leghorn were the best layers and Brahmas best for market. Nothing was said about the best breeds of turkeys, ducks, geese, or guinea pigs, and your correspondent came to the conclusion that the majority of the members knew just about as much about poultry as he did; but when it comes to the eating, I give you my word for it, you can depend on the members of this organization.

The two weeks that have elapsed since the prospect for peaches was passed upon has not changed the views of the members as to the probable crop. Some have fallen off, but no more than was expected, and the crop is progressing favorably.

The association resolved to adjourn on Monday next, June 16, to meet July 14. Any member having business for the club will please present it on Monday, when a full attendance is requested.

Question for June 16, "In view of the location of Kent county and the past experience of farmers, is it advisable to plant many peach trees; or if a farmer has, say 200 acres of land, how much would be about the right proportion to plant in peaches?" Some persons claim that peaches have damaged the county, and it is hoped the members will come to the meeting well prepared to give an intelligent and definite opinion on the subject. Two important questions suggest themselves: 1. Does a peach orchard, when taken up, leave the land in a better or worse condition than when it was planted? 2. Counting the failures, the low prices, &c., does the average peach orchard pay as well during a term of say twelve years as the same land would in regular grain tillages? PARTICEPS.

CELEBRATION OF THE FOURTH OF JULY.

Messrs. Editors:—A large number of the most prominent and enterprising citizens of Millington having determined to celebrate the ensuing Fourth of July in a becoming manner, met on Thursday evening last in Dr. Baird's office and regularly organized by unanimously electing Dr. J. N. Baird president, Mr. J. H. Hurtt secretary, and Mr. C. P. Loper treasurer. A lengthy discussion followed in regard to the order of the day, which was finally settled by appointing Dr. E. J. Power, Mr. Harry Tonkin and Dr. Baird a committee to draft a suitable programme for the day and report at next Monday evening's meeting.

On Monday evening, pursuant to adjournment, a large and enthusiastic meeting of the citizens was held at the town hall (the president in the chair) and unanimously adopted the report of the committee on programme for the day, which consisted of the reading of the Declaration of Independence, addresses by several prominent gentlemen, a balloon ascension, wheelbarrow race, sack race, foot race, tub race, bell ringing and a grand display of fireworks in the evening.

The committees are determined to spare no labor or expense in making this celebration one of the grandest, amusing and entertaining of any that has ever taken place in this section of the country. More anon. CHESTER.

THE Denton Journal says there is "what might be called a seventy-five cent revolt in the Democratic ranks in Kent county, Md. Why it is called a seventy-five cent revolt is explained by some cruel wretch who says that it wouldn't cost more than seventy-five cents to treat the entire 'Hanson movement.'"

SAMUEL TOWNSEND, of Townsend, has turned his attention to the propagation of fish. The Philadelphia Times says he is a dear old porpoise himself.

TUESDAY,
The 1st day of July, 1879,

225 ACRES,

About 175 acres is cleared land, and is in good tillage. The residue is in meadow and wood. The land is mostly light, with good red clay subsoil, and yields good crops of grain and grass. The whole farm is well watered, and the meadow, if thoroughly ditched, would be very valuable standing pasture, besides affording plenty of good marl.
There is a good APPLE ORCHARD on the farm, and about 800 old PEACH TREES.
THE DWELLING
is a FRAME BUILDING, with two good rooms down stairs besides Kitchen and Pantry, and four rooms up stairs in fair repair.—There is also a good dry Cellar under the house, and a Smoke House, Ice House and Carriage House. The Out-buildings consist of Granary, Stable & Corn Houses sufficient for the farm, and in tolerable repair; also, a Tenant or Overseer's house.
This place is within a mile of Church, Mill and P. O., and within ¼ mile of an excellent country store. It is within 3 miles of Steamboat Landing at Grey's Inn Creek and the Kent County R. R. extension to Chesapeake Bay passes just in the rear of the farm.
