

ATLANTIC • 1832

EVER since 1832, the Atlantic has been in more or less continuous operation upon the lines of the Baltimore and Ohio. Built by Phineas Davis in the historic Mount Clare shops of the company at Baltimore, it represented a distinct advance over the pioneer York.