...ARGARINE — Congressmen Shown ...rticle is Manufactured.—The ...e American Manufacturing ...nufacturers of oleomargar... ... Cross street, Baltimore, ...few days ago by members ...ees of Congress on Manu... ...griculture, the object of ...g to make a thorough in... ... process by which oleomar... ...e, and the materials enter... ...mposition.

...ican says: The process of ...omargarine was explained in ... the factory was seen in full ...n. On the first floor were the ...anks for washing the caul fat which ...received daily from the various butch... ...ers of the city, and less fibrious part of ... the cow. On the second floor this fat, ... having been thoroughly purged in clean ... water, is cut up into fine particles and ... passes into the melting tubes. While in ... the tubes the oil separates from the tal... ...low and is by itself drawn off into a ... series of vats. In these it cools and ... granulates and forms into a cake. The ... cakes are then placed in heavy canvass ... sacks and are put into a heavy hydraulic ... press, where the oil is again tried out and ... of the residuum, which is the finest quality ... of stearine, is put to one side to be sold ... to candle manufacturers. The oil is run ... through a trough into another department ... of the factory, and, being mixed with ... milk, is placed in a large steam churn. ... The proportion of milk, is 12½ gallons, ... or 125 pounds to 500 pounds of oil. Af... ...ter being worked for twenty minutes, the ... oil and milk are churned into butter and ... are drawn off into a large tank filled with ... crushed ice. Being carefully mixed with ... ice, the oleomargarine, or butter (for it ... was unanimously agreed by all present ... that the article was really butter), is sep... ...arated from the water produced by the ... melting of the ice and, after being pro... ...perly salted, is packed in ferkins and ... tierces ready for the market. The facto... ...ry employs sixty hands and turns out from ... 4,000 to 6,000 pounds of oleomargarine ... per diem. At various stages of the man... ...ufacture members of the committee were ... prevailed upon to taste the oil, and found ... it of a very agreeable and buttery flavor. ... The question being brought up as to the ... keeping qualities of oleomargarine as ... compared with that of butter, samples ... were shown which had been sent as an ... experiment to Rio Janeiro, and after re... ...maining there for some months were ... brought back to Baltimore and were ... found to be as sweet and as free from ... rancidity as when they left the factory.

VOLUMINOUS PRINTING.—In the course of the investigation into the conduct of the government printing office, and the discussions which have taken place since the report was made, it has come out that the amount of printing done by order of Congress is prodigious. It was stated in the House of Representatives that in a single day, March 9, the House ordered the printing of 150,000 copies of the two reports of Dr. Hough on forestry, large, substantial volumes, both of them; 20,000 copies of the report on beet sugar and its manufacture, 300,000 copies of the report of the commissioner of agriculture, and 100,000 copies of the report on diseases of swine—570,000 octavo volumes in a single day. The printing of the "usual number" of documents at the present session will amount to 1,916,675 copies, some of the documents running to the size of large volumes. The printing of the last session of the Forty-fifth and extra session of the Forty-sixth Congress made, exclusive of the Record, 44,118 octavo pages and 2,699,625 octavo volumes or copies, 26,862 quarto pages and 270,374 copies, or 69,000 volumes, and 2,969,999 copies in all. Many of these books are illustrated with costly engravings. These books would fill a space eight times as large as that occupied by the Congressional Library. It might be thought that this was rather overdoing the printing business, if it were not to be considered that it is all in behalf of the dear people, who need to be enlightened on all the important subjects referred to; and certainly it is highly creditable to they disinterested representatives that they display so much solicitude in securing and embalming in print all this information. It is doubtless much better to spend public money in this way than in many others that the people get no benefit from.

A FEW WORDS FROM JOHN KELLY.—Mr. John Kelly, of New York, has written a letter to a prominent gentleman at Annapolis on the presidential question. He says: "We cannot support Mr. Tilden, nor will we under any circumstances. It is very unfortunate that the party should be distracted by the ambition and intrigue of one who has shown himself so unworthy. But I am under the impression that the good sense of the National Convention will select a candidate the party can support with entire unanimity. Our organization has no candidate nor do we intend to have. We only hope, whoever the nominee may be, that he will inspire the confidence and respect of the people. Our opposition is not of a factious nature, as some people imagine. It arises from the fact that we have full knowledge of the man and have no confidence in him. I might write a long letter citing causes and giving reasons which have warranted us in coming to such a conclusion, but will not tire your patience by relating them here."

AN old man called "Barefoot Walker," because he was never known to wear shoes, is employed on a farm near Columbus, Georgia. As he is about ninety-five years old, his neighbors supposed him to be dead a few days since when he was found insensible in his hut. They placed him in a coffin, and were gathered about it in their sympathy for the poor old man, when he arose from his recumbent position, and demanded what they meant by such treatment. His friends fled, leaving him master of the situation, with a coffin thrown in.

The symptoms of Liver Complaint are a bitter or a bad taste in the mouth; pain in the back, sides, or joints; sour stomach; loss of appetite, Heahache, loss of memory, debility, low spirits, and a thick, yellowish appearance of the skin and eyes. A remedy, which gives permanent relief, is Laroque's Anti-Bilious Bitters, sold everywhere. 25c. a package, or $1 a bottle. W. E. Thornton, Propr., Baltimore, Md.

In these words a correspondent lately introduced a piece of poetry to the notice of the editor of a newspaper: "The following lines were written fifty years ago by one who has slept in his grave merely for his own amusement."

A YOUNG LADY in Brooklyn is working a motto, "No Ice Cream." She says, "You know it is leap year, and the ice ...

Recognizing the fact that the relationship existing between the counties of Maryland and the City of Baltimore is such that residents of the Counties have occasion to visit the city frequently during the year; in consideration of these facts and the liberal patronage extended the "Maltby" in the past, I deem it but a matter of justice that some discrimination should be made in their favor. I have therefore concluded to
