Hiring Farm Labor.

This is a subject in which, at this season of the year, every farmer in need of help is more or less interested. Who shall be employed, young men or married? Shall they be boarded, or hired to board themselves? When speaking strongly in favor of men boarding themselves, I speak from many years' experience. I recommended it on the ground that they can do it cheaper than any one else. If a man boards himself, and is inclined to live extravagant, he has the benefit of it. If, on the other hand, he is content with plain, wholesome fare, he has his reward by the money saved in this way. And the same can be said of the farmer. But if the farmer boards his laborers, these things cannot be arranged so satisfactorily to all parties. It has often been observed that a style and manner of living that would be entirely satisfactory to a man boarding himself, would be quite out of place in the employer's family. Again, all it costs a man extra to board himself, is the food he eats—as in most cases his family can do the extra work. Very many times in the farmer's home there is not only the extra expense of indoor labor, but the farmer's wife is a little less than a slave to the cooking, baking, washing and ironing, which is needful care for the laborers whose home is at the farm dwelling. Again, boarding help promotes a familiarity between employer and employee, which many times is productive of no good. Where each board at home, all can keep their family matters more sacred, which is desirable. Manufacturers, who employ the greatest number in their business, learned years ago that it was better for all parties that each should board himself, and why should not the experience be the same with farmers? In order to do this, however, there must be homes convenient in which men may live. My preference is largely in favor of the married man, for several reasons. He can be more easily paid; his mind is more on your business; he will work more steadily—and above all, he has had more experience in work, which is our great teacher. Of course these suggestions are for the benefit of the larger class of farmers who need to hire much help, and who can have convenient tenements. There are always worthy young men who wish to work, and there are places for them among farmers who are not so situated as to be able to give extra homes to married men. There are nitches in this world that all may fill with credit and honor if they will but strive to do it. In discussing this subject I would not wish to be selfish, but to advocate that which would be for the greatest good to the greatest number.—Country Gentleman.

PRACTICAL RESULTS OF FISH CULTURE.—Those economists who were so eager for abolition of our Fish Commission last winter will doubtless congratulate themselves on their own failure ere long, for it is becoming more and more evident that the increase of our supplies of food fishes on a large scale will at no distant day be quite as practicable and quite as much a matter of course as the raising of a crop of wheat or corn. The remarkable success achieved by Prof. Baird at Washington in acclimating the carp affords a striking evidence of the progress that is being made. The carp is a beautiful and valuable fish, and in Europe is cultivated with great success. The experiments of Prof. Baird, extending over a period of three years, have demonstrated that carp ponds can be established and worked with profit in this country. Carp are easily fed and grow to a large size, especially in stagnant ponds or sluggish streams. The hatching at the Government fish-ponds has been very successful and it is believed that there will be fully five hundred thousand for distribution this summer. What is true of the carp is true of other species of fish, and if the anxious economists will only give the pisciculturists sufficient time our streams and ponds will ultimately be stocked with salmon, shad, trout and carp in numbers sufficient to return the money expended on the experimental work an indefinite number of times.

THE Chinese who fled in terror from Kearney and San Francisco to New York are not faring much better in Gotham. About a thousand of them settled in Mott street and vicinity, near a Roman Catholic church. They are quiet, orderly, industrious and thrifty, and paid their rent like a Melican man—more so, in fact. But their landlords have given them notice to quit, and assign no other reason than that the Christians of the neighborhood refuse to live near the heathen. According to the tenets of the Good Book, that should be chosen ground for Christian warfare; but Christianity and race-prejudice have come to be convertible terms in many Christian lands. And the Mott street saints say, with saint Kearney, "the Chinese must go."

THE RUSH TO EUROPE.—The New York papers state that the applications for passage to Europe at the steamer offices exceed those of any previous season since the close of the war. Several of the finest vessels to arrive have already every stateroom engaged, and it would not be difficult to transfer many of these for a handsome premium. If the pressure continues extra steamers will have to be put on. The great majority of the people who have recently left are city families, but the West and Northwest, as well as the South, are coming now with a "rush," some on business and some for pleasure and recreation.

SECRETARY SHERMAN made a speech before the board of brokers at Philadelphia on Saturday last, in which he said the government has an overflowing treasury, and the best investment for the surplus is the public debt. He then referred to the recent heavy purchases of bonds. The main point in our financial situation he added, is that the public debt is reduced at the rate of $10,000,000 a month. This indicated abounding prosperity, but rather than this he would like to see the goods which are imported from abroad made at home.

A REPORT is in circulation to the effect that James Gordon Bennett intends to establish a chain of two cent morning newspapers from New York to the Pacific coast, including such cities as Buffalo, Cincinnati, St. Louis, Chicago, Kansas City and San Francisco. It is said that the papers will be backed by Mr. Bennett's immense capital, and will share in the Herald's telegraphic system and facilities. They are also all to be independent in politics.

EX-PRESIDENT WOOLSEY, of Yale College, writes: "I should regard the nomination to a third term in itself to be highly undesirable and that to break through an old habit of three generations for which the best reasons exist, without a most imperious necessity, would be very unwise, and would deservidly expose those who would set it aside to defeat."

THERE is trouble in a Richmond colored church. Brother Holmes, pastor of the First African Baptist congregation, has had the ill luck to inspire a tender passion in the hearts of the dusky sisters of his flock. Unfortunately for him, Mr. Holmes had a wife, and still more unfortunately, his feminine admirers decided to settle their rivalry by a personal combat. The result is not stated except that a "split" in the congregation followed and Brother Holmes was requested to "resign." On Sunday afternoon a meeting of the congregation was held at the church and the matter was discussed. That is to say, that the Holmes and anti-Holmes factions assailed each other and the police were finally called in to prevent an impending free-fight.

EX-GOV. HORATIO SEYMOUR is quoted as saying that he has always had great admiration for the red men, and as, adding: "They are natural orators and diplomatists. The finest speeches that were made to me when I was Governor were made by the Iroquois Indians. Yet they would not speak except in their own language and through an interpreter, though they spoke English perfectly well. They reminded me of Talleyrand, who would not allow himself to speak English or be addressed in that tongue while he was in Great Britain though he was a fluent English scholar."

A CONFERENCE of delegates representing the anti-third term republicans of New York, Massachusetts and Pennsylvania, was held in New York on Friday of last week, and the following resolution among others was adopted: "That this conference recommends to the associations here represented a strenuous opposition to either the ex-President or Blaine as the republican candidate for the presidency, and the use of their efforts to prevent such nominations."

HANDSOME TRIBUTE TO A WIFE.—Gen. Garfield was his wife's instructor and taught her Latin so thoroughly that she has been able to prepare her boys for college. He honors himself by thus speaking of her: "She is one of the coolest and best balanced women I ever saw. She is unstampedeable. There has not been one solitary instance of my public career were I suffered in the smallest degree for any remark she ever made."

IT is certainly not the fault of the Cincinnati Commercial, a republican paper, if its sentiments are not understood. It says: "Grant is not to be President again, no matter who nominates him. If the Republican party becomes a third-term party it is done for." What a pity that Cameron and Conkling never read the papers!

"Any in need of his (DR. WORTMAN'S) services may employ him without hesitation. From knowledge of his practice for the past two years, I have no doubt that he will cure nine hundred and ninety-nine cases in every thousand. I speak, not only from personal experience, having been cured by him after twenty-two years of suffering, but also from a knowledge of a host of patients who applied to me as a reference. Recognizing the fact that the relationship existing between the counties of Maryland and the City of Baltimore is such that residents of the Counties have occasion to visit the city frequently during the year; in consideration of these facts and the liberal patronage extended the "Maltby" in the past, I deem it but a matter of justice that some discrimination should be made in their favor. I have therefore concluded to feeling confident that the same will be fully appreciated by them, and at same time merit and secure an increased share of their patronage. Assuring them that nothing will be left undone that can add to their comfort during their stay.
