The Public Roads and Streets.

Messrs. Editors:—The general complaint at the present time among those persons who are compelled to leave their homes is the condition of the public roads. Many places are impassable with a loaded team. The question is often asked, who is responsible for their condition? Some say it is the local supervisor; others say it is the County Commissioner in the district where he resides. It is thought by some that when the law was changed, making five county commissioners instead of three, it required each commissioner to pass over and examine the condition of the roads as often as once in each month, and it entitled him to the sum of two dollars per day for his services. Some think that the County Commissioners are the public servants of the people of the county; they levy taxes for various purposes, and the law compels the property holder to pay all taxes levied. Now, the average tax-payer does not complain that the taxes are too high, but are willing to pay more, if it is necessary, to have passable roads; and if the County Commissioners neglect to examine and keep the roads in a condition as the law requires, are they not liable to indictment for neglect of duty; or, if the local supervisor is responsible, is it not the duty of the commissioners to compel him to keep good roads, or remove him and substitute some one else who will?

A neighborhood is judged by the public improvements in it. I am sorry to inform you that the condition of the streets in Chestertown are but little, if any, better than the roads in the country; and as every resident of this county is interested in the appearance and improvement of the county town, I am of the opinion that the tax-payers are willing to be taxed for a reasonable amount to improve the streets, as I am informed that the only tax that is now used for the improvement of the streets is the town tax, and that is certainly insufficient. Give us good roads and good streets, and I assure you that the average tax-payer will not complain of his tax bill, but will justly complain of bad roads and streets. We will ask who is responsible, and let a remedy be applied, if possible. Some think that if the County Commissioners would have published in your paper the name of the supervisor and the road assigned to him, it would cause him to keep his road passable.

I will report the condition of the public improvements occasionally, if desired.

TAX PAYER.

A VISION OF WASHINGTON.—In his reminiscences, in the last number of the Independent, the Hon. Josiah Quincy, of Massachusetts, relates the following: "The scene of my father's only ghost story—if so it may be called—was laid at Mount Vernon, and this alone was sufficient to make the occasion memorable to a boy. The chamber in which his uncle had died was assigned by Judge Washington to his guest; the host, as he withdrew, mentioned the rumor that an interview with Washington had been granted to some of its former occupants. If this were true, my father pondered upon the possibility that he might be found worthy to behold the glorified spirit of him who was so revered by his countrymen. And during the night he did see Washington, and this is all I have to say about it. If I gave the particulars I should feel bound to give a full explanation of them by Dr. Hammond or some other expert in cerebral illusions: and this would occupy too much space for an epistle. It may be worth while to say that nothing my father saw, or thought he saw, was useful in confirming his faith in a spiritual world. His assurance in this matter was perfect. He believed that brain action (if that is the correct expression) was at times set up in us by friends no longer in the flesh, and that his own life had been guided by these mysterious influences."

COLORED MEN AND THE FEDERAL OFFICES.—A committee appointed by the convention of colored republicans which recently met at Douglass Institute, Baltimore, waited upon President Garfield in Washington last Saturday, and presented the resolutions and address adopted by the convention. Isaac Myers, chairman of the committee, read the address, which set forth the grievances of the colored republicans of Maryland, and asking at the hands of the President a fuller recognition of their claims. The President replied briefly that he would examine into the matters complained of, and said that in the appointments to public offices, fitness and the qualifications of the individual should be considered; his color, whether black or white, could in itself be neither a recommendation nor a bar. The committee say they were pleased with the reception accorded them by the President.—Sun.

A REPUBLICAN PAPER'S OPINION OF SENATOR HOAR.—If there is one man in the United States more responsible than another for the continued and persistent revival of sectional issues between the North and the South that man is George F. Hoar. His whole career in the House and in the Senate has been that of a ghoul who has stood over the grave of hate, murder and rapine, shovel in one hand and club in the other, to keep back those who have earnestly sought to close forever the bloody chasm. In fact, Mr. Hoar deserves the terrible name of chief political grave-robber, and yet the very moment serious trouble threatens to result, the man who rattles around in the chair of former statesmen rushes up to the combatants and begs them to desist. A fomenter of discord one minute, a frightened peacemaker the next, but never a statesman, never a patriot. What a record for the successor of Henry Wilson!—Phila. Evening Telegram.

A NEW idea in sinkers for gill-nets is being adopted by our fishermen. It consists in the use of iron rings about six inches in diameter, made of one-eighth inch wire, instead of a lead line. These rings are attached to the lower side of the net, and no line except the cork line is used. The advantage of this is that when the net becomes fast upon any obstruction at the bottom of the river it can be detached with the loss of a ring or two, whereas, in many instances where a bottom or lead line is used, and it becomes entangled upon snags or other obstructions, many fathoms of both line and net are lost before it is cleared.—Cecil Whig.

THE haste of the Mahone Republicans to readjust the Senate, although executive business is neglected, is due simply to the suspicions of Mahone, who wants his pay. He is like a Park row bootblack, who, when he suspects his customer, demands his fee before beginnig upon the second shoe. Mahone has blackened the committee shoe, but before he will blacken the executive-session shoe he wants his Riddleberger in hand. Half-pay may be good enough for the creditor of Virginia, but it will not do for Mahone.—World.

A SUCCESSFUL peach grower living near Middletown, Del., believes that the crop will be generally good, though considerable damage has been done in certain sections. He says that the fact that all the buds have black specks in them does not prove by any means that they are dead, or even materially injured. In 1875, he adds, when the largest crop on record was marketed, the buds had much the same appearance which they present to-day.

THE Philadelphia Times has an interesting article on "the inhuman traffic in human beings "which is practiced in Hancock county, West Virginia," where the paupers of the county are sold yearly to residents who will keep them for the smallest sum. This is an appalling practice. If it had not been borrowed from New England, and if Hancock was not one of the few Republican strongholds in West Virginia, this would clearly be a "typical Southern" custom.

THE Governor of Tennessee has appointed his brother Commissioner of Agriculture, and the Commissioner has appointed his son Clerk to the Commission, the youth being the fourth of the family enseconced in office at the Capitol. As soon as our esteemed contemporaries get through howling about this flagrant case of "Southern nepotism" it may be well to mention that Governor Hawkins is a Southern Republican who has "set his face towards the morning."

EX-SENATOR THURMAN expresses the opinion that much good will result to the commercial world from the monetary conference to be held in Paris. He says Mr. Evarts is also very sanguine that the conference will prove a success. Mr. Thurman says after the conference is over he thinks of looking around Europe a little, as Mrs. Thurman is going with him.

ONLY one grandson of General Lafayette in the direct male line is now living. This is Edmond de Lafayette, younger brother of the late Marquis. He is unmarried, and when he dies the name will become extinct. The late Marquis Oscar de Lafayette was a sad and solitary man. He made a marriage of affection, but early lost his young wife and child, and never ceased to mourn them.

THE French contract for tobacco for the coming season will be for 10,000 hogsheads of Maryland and 7,200 hogsheads Ohio. The Maryland crop for this season, it is estimated, will not exceed 20,000 hogsheads, and the requirements for France, will be fully 50 per cent. of the entire crop, which is a very large proportion to be taken by a single purchaser. The contracts for France are expected to be awarded.

THE University of Virginia has been presented with a magnificent telescope and all it needs now is on observatory to hold the instrument. The observatory is coming, too, however, for the University is fast raising the $50,000, the contribution of which W. H. Vanderbilt made the condition of his giving $25,000.

CUT THIS OUT.—It is presumed that barely one-fourth of purchasers of Clothing are fair judges of their purchases; and it is therefore important to know where you can buy with confidence that you will get your money's worth. C. N. Oehm & Son, 230 W. Pratt St., through to 55 Hanover St., have been in the business in Baltimore for over a quarter of a century; they manufacture every garment sold by them. Their experience enables them to give satisfaction in quality, prices, material and workmanship. No one in need of Clothing should neglect to call upon them. It will pay you.

LIBERAL GIFTS.—Mr. George I. Seney, president of the Metropolitan National Bank, of New York city, recently gave $10,000 to the endowment fund of Emory College, Oxford, Ga. Mr. Seney has recently raised this gift to $50,000, and also gave $50,000 to Wesleyan Female College, at Macon, Ga.

DEATH continues to mow a wide swath in New York. The mortality for the quarter of the year which ended with March shows an alarming increase, there having been 2,303 deaths more than for the same period in 1880. Meanwhile, the good people, encompassed by filth, wait for the city authorities to bring them relief.

COLLECTORS' BONDS.—Comptroller Keating, in conjunction with the State departments, is sending out bonds to be executed by new collectors of taxes when they come into office. These bonds are prepared under the direction of the Attorney-General.

THE Democrats in Chicago have elected Harrison mayor and nearly their entire city and town tickets by a fair majority. Harrison's majority is about 6,000. The official count of the Cincinnati election gives Wm. Means, democrat, for mayor, 2,514 majority.

IN a list of thirty-two varieties of the peach, cultivated by E. R. Cochran, Esq., Middletown, Del., and numbered in the order of their ripening, we find that the peach ripens, on the Peninsula, as early as the 25th of June, and extends to the end of October, four months.

THERE'S nothing like being modest. Several gentlemen have recently called President Garfield's attention to the fact that they have made no application for office, and would be greatly surprised were he to startle them with an appointment.

THE New York board of aldermen have approved a bill now before the State Assembly to regulate the rate of wages in all cities in the State of over 100,000 inhabitants.

NEVER in our day has the M. E. Church of this community had a more popular pastor than Rev. E. E. Hoffecker, and we are pleased to see that he is returned.—Cambridge Era.

JUDGE STUMP sentenced Jesse T. Boulden, convicted of an assault on his uncle, John T. Boulden, all of Cecil, to $50 fine and sixty days imprisonment.

ONE Dorchester county man, who ownes an interest in half a dozen oyster boats, has cleared $5,000 this season.

THE Cincinnati Enquirer devotes four columns to an "incomplete list" of Ohio office holders at Washington.

A WAR of races has broken out between the negroes and Chinese in Peru, and over 2,000 of the latter have been murdered.

IT is said that all the peach orchards bordering on salt water streams in Dorchester county give promise of large yields.

VICE PRESIDENT ARTHUR has a son sixteen years old who is six feet two inches tall.
