Agricultural.

Consumption of Cheese.

Upon this subject the American Agriculturist says:

"Our population is now fifty millions, and we ought to consume the entire cheese product of the country. It amounts annually to 400,000,000 lbs, and of this about 125,000,000 lbs are exported. England has a population of about 35,000,000, and her annual cheese consumption is over 500,000,000 lbs, or 20 pounds per capita. If we consumed annually our whole product, it would be only at the rate of 8 pounds per capita, but as we use no more than 275,000,000 lbs, the actual consumption is 5½ lbs per capita. If we used cheese as freely here as in England, our annual consumption would require one thousand million pounds. There is not the proper effort made to promote home consumption. The bulk of our finest cheese goes abroad, the poorer sorts are left for home use, and the influence of all poor, ill-flavored cheese is to check the rate of consumption. Outside the chief cities it is seldom more than one variety is offered in market, and that is a second or third class Cheddar. There is pressing demand for fine, small cheeses, of 6 to 10 pounds weight, but our dairymen seem to make but little effort to get out of the regular exportation size and style—and so long as they have an annual surplus of 150,000,000 pounds of this kind, they must expect to have prices on our whole product regulated by a foreign market. Prices fluctuate from week to week, and from season to season, according to foreign demand and Cable quotations from Liverpool and London. In 1879 the finest cheese made in this country sold on the interior market at 6 cents per pound. Because cheese sells high this season is no certainty that it will sell equally well next year. The recent developing of cheese dairying in Russia and other parts of Northern Europe, in Australia and New Zealand, will, in a few years, have more or less influence on our export trade. Our dairy interest ought to be independent of foreign shipments. Our population is rapidly increasing, and the entire cheese product of the country ought to be consumed at home, but to effect this desirable result a change must be made in our running all gonds into Cheddars. We must have more varieties and different styles to suit home wants. When this shall be fairly inaugurated, we may look forward to less fluctuation in our dairy markets, and to a very steady demand at remunerative prices."

Many of the English laborers use cheese for meat. Like the Irishman in New York who preferred his meat well done because it was rare enough that he got it in the "ould country," the majority of Britain's sons of toil see little meat. Thus bread and cheese is a staple commodity with them, and perhaps there might be worse food both for enjoyment and for sustenance.

Horse Feed.

Every good groom knows that sound oats and beans in due proportion, and at least a year old, are the very best food for a galloping horse—the only food on which it is possible to get the very best condition out of a race-horse or hunter. It also has recently become known that horses do slow work and get fat, indeed too fat, on maize, Indian corn, which is frequently one-third cheaper than the best oats. In the East, horses are fed on barley, and it is a popular idea with English officers who have lived in Persia and Syria that the change of food from barley to oats often, when imported, produces blindness in Arab horses. Now, although no men could understand better or so well how to get blood horses into galloping condition as English grooms, they do not and few of their masters do know the reason why oats and beans are the best food for putting muscular flesh on a horse. The agricultural chemist steps in here, makes the matter very plain, and shows that if you want pace, Indian corn, although nominally cheaper, is not cheap at all. When we feed a bullock, a sheep or a pig for sale, after it has passed the store stage we want to make it fat as cheaply as possible; but with a horse for work the object is, give him muscle—in common language, hard flesh. There are times when it is profitable to make a horse fat, as, for instance, when he is going up for sale. For this purpose an addition of about a pound and a half of oil-cake to his ordinary food has a good effect. It is especially useful when a horse that has been closely clipped or singed is in low condition. It helps on the change to the new coat by making him fat. A horse in low condition changes his coat very slowly.

When from any cause there is difficulty in getting a supply of the best oats, an excellent mixture may be made of crushed maize and beans in the proportion of two-thirds of maize and one of beans, which exactly afford the proportions of flesh-forming and fat-forming food. Bran is a very valuable food in a stable for reducing the inflammatory effect of oats and beans. Made into mashes it has a cooling and laxative effect, but used in excess, especially in a dry state, it is apt to form stony secretions in the bowels of the horse. Stones produced from the excessive use of bran have been taken out of horses after death weighing many pounds.—London Live Stock Journal.

A Sheffield, England, paper says: "A piece of agricultural news comes from Dakota which should make the British farmer sigh with envy. A certain man bought a farm, and invested in the purchase, new buildings and machinery, the sum of 55,000 dollars. There are 2,000 acres of wheat, and the first crop has yielded 50,000 bushels. This is only the second year of the undertaking, and the farmer expects a return of 45 per cent. on his outlay.

In California bees are owned largely by capitalists and are "farmed out,"—that is apiaries of one hundred swarms or so are placed in the grounds of farmers, generally from three to four miles apart. The farmers receive a fixed rent or a share of the honey for their compensation, as may be agreed upon. On an average, one acre of ground is estimated to support twenty-five swarms of bees, and the yield of a swarm is generally about fifty pounds a year.

The average results of experiment and theory make fifty-seven pounds of Indian corn equal to one hundred pounds of hay, or 1,140 pounds of corn to the ton of hay. But it must be remembered that the nutritive effects of food upon an animal are varied by many causes, and also that the comparison of foods is effected by the object sought, as fat, growth, labor, milk, &c.

The wool trade of San Antonio, Texas, is very large, the shipments North from there already this year being 4,000,000 pounds, and as much more will be handled during the season. Corpus Christi handles still more. The largest sale from one ranch was between 125,000 and 150,000 fleeces. The business has increased four-fold in three or four years.

The test of time and the experience of thousands have proved it the best, safest and speediest remedy for all diseases of the Liver, Stomach and Spleen. As a remedy in

MALARIOUS FEVERS,

Dyspepsia, Mental Depression, Sick Headache, Jaundice, Colic, Constipation and Biliousness,

IT HAS NO EQUAL!

We could fill a good sized volume with such like distinguished testimonials as the following:

"I have used Simmons Liver Regulator for constipation of my bowels, cause I by a temporary derangement of the liver, for the last three or four years, and always when used according to the directions with decided benefit.

"ALEXR. WARNER,
"Late Chief Justice of Ga."

"I occasionally use, when my condition requires it, Dr. Simmons' Liver Regulator, with good effect.

"Hon. ALEXANDER H. STEPHENS."

The Baltimore Episcopal Methodist says: "Simmons Liver Regulator is acknowledged to have no equal as a liver medicine, containing those Southern roots and herbs which an all-wise Providence has placed in countries where liver diseases prevail."

The CENTURY MAGAZINE,
(SCRIBNER'S MONTHLY,)
FOR THE COMING YEAR.

With the November number began the new series under the title of THE CENTURY MAGAZINE, which will be, in fact, a new, enlarged, and improved "SCRIBNER." The page is somewhat larger and wider, admitting pictures of a larger size, and INCREASING THE READING MATTER ABOUT Fourteen Additional Pages.

The following is a summary of the leading features of the new series for the year:

A NEW NOVEL BY MRS. BURNETT (author of "That Lass o' Lowrie's," etc.), entitled "Through One Administration," a story of Washington life.

STUDIES OF THE LOUISIANA CREOLES By Geo. W. Cable, author of "The Grandissimes," etc. A series of illustrated papers on the traditions and romance of creole life in Louisiana.

A NOVEL BY W. LAIRD CLOWES, author of "A Chance Acquaintance," etc., dealing with characteristic features of American life.

ANCIENT AND MODERN SCULPTURE. A "HISTORY OF ANCIENT SCULPTURE," by Mrs. Lucy M. Mitchell, to contain the finest series of engravings yet published of the masterpieces of sculpture. There will also be papers on "LIVING ENGLISH SCULPTORS," and on the "YOUNGER SCULPTORS OF AMERICA," fully illustrated.

THE OPERA IN NEW YORK, by Richard Grant White. A popular and valuable series, to be illustrated with wonderful completeness and beauty.

ARCHITECTURE AND DECORATION IN AMERICA will be treated in a way to interest both householder and housewife; with many practical as well as beautiful illustrations from recent designs.

REPRESENTATIVE MEN AND WOMEN OF THE 19TH CENTURY. Biographical sketches, accompanied by portraits, of George Eliot, Robert Browning, Rev. Frederick Robertson (by the late Dean Stanley), Matthew Arnold, Christina Rossetti, and Cardinal Newman, and of the younger American authors, Wm. D. Howells, Henry James, Jr., and George W. Cable.

SCENES OF THACKERAY'S, HAWTHORN'S AND GEORGE ELIOT'S NOVELS. Succeeding the illustrated series on the scenes of Dickens's novels.

THE REFORM OF THE CIVIL SERVICE. Arrangements have been made for a series of able papers on this pressing political question.

POETRY AND POEMS IN AMERICA. There will be studies of Longfellow, Whittier, Emerson, Lowell, and others, by E. C. Stedman.

STORIES, SKETCHES AND ESSAYS may be expected from Charles Dudley Warner, W. D. Howells, "Mark Twain," Edward Eggleston, Henry James, Jr., John Muir, Miss Gordon Cumming, "H. H.," Geo. W. Cable, Joel Chandler Harris, A. C. Redwood, F. D. Millet, Noah Brooks, Frank R. Stockton, Constance F. Woolson, H. H. Boyesen, Aldrich, Stickney, Winslow, Glaiden, Jean Burnham, Parke Godwin, Tommaso Salyini, Henry King, Ernest Ingersoll, R. L. Gordon, E. P. Washburne, and many others.

One or two papers on "The Adventures of the Tile Club," and an original life of Bewick, the engraver, by Austin Dobson, are among other features to be later announced.

THE EDITORIAL DEPARTMENTS throughout will be unusually complete, and "The World's Work" will be considerably enlarged.

The price of THE CENTURY MAGAZINE will remain at $4.00 per year ($3 cents a number). The portrait (size 21x27) of the late Dr. Holland, issued just before his death, photographed from a life-size drawing by Wyatt Eaton, will possess a new interest to the readers of this magazine. It is offered at $6.00 retail, or together with THE CENTURY MAGAZINE for $8.50. Subscriptions are taken by the publishers, and by book-sellers and news-dealers everywhere.

"The Children's Magazine of America."
ST. NICHOLAS.

The illustrated magazine for young folks has now attained a circulation larger, probably, than that of any other monthly magazine of its class. It has been called "a marvel of perfection, both as regards its literary excellence and its artistic merit." It was the first to give to boys and girls the very best illustrations that could be had, and has earned the name of

"The Children's Art Magazine."

The greatest living writers of Europe and America are among its Distinguished Contributors:

Charles Dudley Warner, Henry W. Longfellow, John G. Whittier, H. H., Bayard Taylor, Bret Harte, Gail Hamilton, Thomas Hughes, Louisa M. Alcott, Donald G. Mitchell, Harriet Prescott Spofford, Elizabeth Stuart Phelps, George MacDonald, Washington Gladden, The Goodale Sisters, Alfred Tennyson, John Hay, Clarence Cook, Rossiter Johnson, Susan Coolidge, Edward Eggleston, Prof. R. A. Proctor, Christina G. Rossetti, Mrs. A. D. T. Whitney, Frances Hodgson Burnett, Celia Thaxter, Marion Harland, T. W. Higginson, Lucy Larcom, Noah Brooks, Author of "Alice in Wonderland," Mrs. Oliphant, T. B. Aldrich, and hundreds of others.

What England Says of It.

London Daily News: "We wish we could point out its equal in our own periodical literature."

The Spectator: "It is the best of all children's magazines."

Literary World: "There is no magazine for the young that can be said to equal it," etc.

Brilliant Features of The Coming Year.

The ninth volume, which begins with the November, 1881, number, will contain a new

Serial Story,
By Mrs. Mary Mapes Dodge,

editor of ST. NICHOLAS, author of "Hans Brinker, or the Silver Skates," etc., etc. A second serial story, full of lively incident,

"The Hoosier School-Boy,"
By Edward Eggleston,

author of "The Hoosier School-master," etc. A single article of universal interest:

"How Children Should Learn Music," By Richard Wagner,

the eminent composer. Two other serials, one dealing with campaign life in the late war, and the other with Girl and Boy Life in the 18th Century. Plays for Home and School, Embroidery for Girls, Amateur Newspapers, Illustrated Practical and Descriptive Papers, Articles on Sports, and The Treasure-box of Literature will be among the features of this great volume.

An immense edition will be printed of the Christmas Number,

which will be ready about December 1st.

Price, $3.00 a year; 25 cents a number. Subscriptions taken and magazines sold by book-sellers and news-dealers everywhere, or the publishers.

THE GOLDEN SHEAF.
A Fertilizer specially adapted to the Soil of the Eastern Shore of Maryland.
$20 PER TON.
Sold at a very small profit on cost of production and clear of Agents' commissions.
THE COMPOSITION NO SECRET.
Made Without Sand or Dirt.
FOR SALE BY
THE OXFORD GUANO CO., Oxford, Md.
W. H. SETH, Secretary.

The attention of Farmers who desire to secure a good fertilizer at a reasonable price, is respectfully called to the above named brand.

The object of the manufacturers has been to originate a compound of plant foods directly adapted to the soil of the Eastern Shore of Maryland, and to fix the price therefor at the lowest possible figures; cutting off all agents fees of $5 and $6 per ton and adding to the actual cost only a very small profit. We think this fertilizer has as much intrinsic value as most of the high price manures, and feel confident that farmers who may think proper to use it will say, that in its effects upon the soil, it will equal them.

The analysis, as made by Prof. G. A. Liebig, shows it to contain:—

Ammonia, from	.75 to 1.25 per cent.
Phosphoric Lime, from	5.00 to 7.00 "
Lime	33.10 "
Carbonic Acid	26.07 "

The lime and carbon, which are essential to plant growth, are obtained from oyster shells ground to powder, instead of being burnt. This combination not only dispenses with the necessity for dirt or sand to hold the chemicals, but is a most valuable assistant to their action.

We are also manufacturing ground lime, which we propose to put upon the market at a low price.

J. M. LAROQUE'S ANTI BILIOUS BITTERS

For Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Bilious Attacks, Headache, Costiveness, and all Diseases of the Liver and Stomach.

ARE DECIDEDLY THE MOST POTENT REMEDY THAT CAN BE USED.

It is not an intoxicating beverage, and certainly would never be used as a pleasant substitute for alcoholic stimulants, but it is truly a valuable Family Medicine, which has been used for many years by large numbers of our citizens with the most unfailing success in all the above complaints. Try it.

25 Cents a Paper, or $1.00 a Bottle.
