Public Local Laws

For Talbot County,

PASSED BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF MARYLAND, AT THE JANUARY SESSION, 1882.

(OFFICIAL.)

A BILL

Entitled an Act to authorize the Commissioners of Easton to borrow a sum of money, for the payment of a certain debt due by said Commissioners, and heretofore contracted to meet the necessary expenses of the town of Easton, to issue bonds for the payment of the same, and to levy and collect taxes for the redemption of said Bonds, and the payment of interest accruing thereon.

WHEREAS, The Commissioners of Easton the municipal corporation created by the laws of the State, is indebted in the sum of ten thousand dollars, heretofore contracted on account of sundry necessary expenses of said Corporation, over and above its annual revenues, and whereas the annual revenues derived from taxes now authorized to be levied on the taxable property within the limits of said Corporation, after discharging the current expenses of said Corporation, are wholly insufficient for the payment of the said indebtedness or any part thereof,

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, That for the purpose of paying and discharging said indebtedness, the Commissioners of Easton, duly elected and qualified in accordance with the Acts of Assembly in such case made and provided, be and they are hereby authorized and empowered to borrow from time to time the required sum of money, not exceeding in the whole the sum of Ten Thousand Dollars.

SEC. 2. And be it enacted, That the said Commissioners of Easton, duly elected and qualified as aforesaid, be and they are hereby further authorized and empowered to issue bonds in the name of "The Commissioners of Easton," in sums of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars, to be signed by the said Commissioners, and counter-signed by the Clerk of said Commissioners, not exceeding in the whole the sum of ten thousand dollars as aforesaid, bearing interest at six per centum per annum, payable semi-annually, on the first day of January, and on the first day of July, in each and every year, provided due notice shall be given in the newspapers printed and published in Talbot County, inviting proposals for the purchase of said Bonds, and the same shall be disposed of to the highest cash bidder, and for not less than the par value thereof, and the said bonds shall be exempt from county and municipal taxation.

SEC. 3. And be it enacted, That the said bonds shall be issued payable ten years from the date thereof, and redeemable at any time after the expiration of three years from the date thereof, at the pleasure of said commissioners of Easton duly elected and qualified as aforesaid, and the said bonds shall be consecutively numbered as the same shall be issued.

SEC. 4. And be it enacted, That the said Commissioners of Easton, duly elected and qualified as aforesaid be and they are hereby authorized and required in each and every year to levy and collect a special tax not exceeding ten cents on every one hundred dollars worth of taxable property of all kinds and descriptions, liable to assessment and taxation within the corporate limits of the town of Easton as now established by law to pay the interest on the outstanding Bonds, by them issued under the provisions of this act, as the same shall fall due, and to gradually redeem and retire such bonds, until they shall have all been redeemed and retired; and the proceeds of such tax shall be paid to the said Commissioners and forthwith applied by them to the redemption of said bonds, when and as soon as they become redeemable, and the said proceeds are hereby inviolably pledged to the payment of the interest and principal of the said bonds.

SEC. 5. And be it enacted, That so much of the proceeds of the tax hereby authorized and required to be levied and collected, as may be applicable to the redemption and payment of the principal of the bonds issued under this act, and which may be collected and received by the Commissioners of Easton for and during the three years next preceding the time after which the said bonds are made redeemable at the pleasure of the said Commissioners, when and as soon as the same may be received in each of said years, shall be invested by the said Commissioners in the purchase of said Bonds, provided, the same in the judgment of the said Commissioners, can be obtained at a fair and reasonable price, and if said Bonds cannot be so obtained, then and in that case such proceeds, as soon as conveniently may be, shall be invested by the said Commissioners, in such other interest bearing securities, readily convertable into money, as the said Commissioners may determine, and the said securities shall be sold and the proceeds thereof applied to the redemption of the said bonds, when and as soon as the same are redeemable at the pleasure of the said commissioners.

SEC. 6. And be it enacted, That the said Commissioners of Easton shall cause a separate and distinct account to be kept of the number and amount of the Bonds which may be issued under this act, of the person or persons by whom the same may be taken or held, of the amount received in each year from the tax hereby authorized to be levied, and of the disposition thereof, and when and as soon as one or more of the said bonds are purchased or redeemed, the same shall be cancelled and destroyed, and a memorandum of such cancellation and destruction, describing such bond or bonds, shall be entered on said account.

SEC. 7. And be it enacted, That this Act shall take effect from the date of its passage.

We hereby certify, That the aforegoing is a correct copy of an Act of the General Assembly of Maryland, passed January Session, 1882.

EASTER.

O Earth, forget thy winter; O Nature, bud and bloom,
And clothe the slopes with greenness that late were hung with gloom.
O clustered Pasture Hills, your dreaming verdure lift,
Forth comes the mighty victor, the rocky tomb to rift.

O gentle Easter angels, to swift to greet the day,
When from the guarded chamber the stone is rolled away!
And Christ the King steps onward, with death beneath his dead,
And leads his ransomed homewards, with glory on his head.

Three days ago they laid Him, all pulseless, on the bier;
The thorn marked brow was paling; their hearts stood still in fear.
Three days of solemn stillness, three days of grief unblime—
A pause when seraphs waited to hear the throbs of Time.

And now? No burst of music, as when a Babe he came,
Though heaven is filled with rapture, and cherub anthems flame.
In soundless flight on sweeping, the shining ones descend
To give our earth the keynote of songs that shall not end.

What though there are who listen in vain for voices hushed,
What though there are who languish o'er sweet hopes early crushed,
Still peal the Easter chorals adown the lonely years,
And yet the Easter promise hath solace for our tears.

The Christ for us hath conquered our one relentless foe.
Our vanished ones forever with Him are safe, we know.
O fragrant Easter lilies, like tapers fair ye stand,
To light the silent portals that guard the deathless land.

Haste, gentle Easter angels, who rolled the stone away,
Come melt our loveless spirits, chase unbelief this day,
And help us tread it under our footsteps as we sing
The joyous hymns of Easter around our risen King.

Our Progress.

As stages are quickly abandoned with the completion of railroads, so the huge, drastic, cathartic pills, composed of crude and bulky medicines, are quickly abandoned with the introduction of Dr. Pierce's "Pleasant Purgative Pellets," which are sugar coated, and little larger than mustard seeds, but composed of highly concentrated vegetable extracts. By druggists.

It is said that if you have presence of mind enough to face a raging bull and look straight into his eyes, he is powerless to do you harm. "We tried this experiment once," says an agricultural contemporary, "and found it worked admirably. The fierce animal tore the ground with his feet, and bellowed with all his might; but something seemed to hold him back like magic, and he did us no injury. Perhaps we ought to add, in order to be correct historically, that the bull was on the other side of a fence. We never try an experiment of that kind without taking proper precautions beforehand."

Consumption Cure.

DR. R. V. PIERCE: Dear Sir—Death was hourly expected by myself and friends. My physicians pronounced my disease consumption, and said I must die. I began taking your "Discovery" and "Pellets." I used nine bottles and am wonderfully relieved. I am able to ride out.

A Bucks county man, at a church fair thought it would be a good joke to put up a leather medal to be voted to the most unpopular man in the ward at ten cents a vote. But he was not so much tickled with the motion when he was unanimously elected to take it. He couldn't see anything funny in the result.

We were greatly amused some days since, by seeing one of our venerable citizens, who had been bowed down with rheumatism, throw away his crutches, and declare himself just as young as he used to be, and now he is recommending Roberts' Embrocation to every old lady in the town. Great liniment, that.

A tobacconist in London, whose name was Far, hung out the sign, "The best tobacco by Far." A rival dealer across the street not to be outdone, put up the sign, "Far better tobacco than the best tobacco by Far."

It is very discouraging to the industrious farmer's wife, as well as foolish, to have her poultry die from cholera or other disease, when she can buy of her druggist, Roberts' Poultry Powder for 25 cents a package. Guaranteed to cure.

A young lady Sunday School teacher remarked that she had the worst scholars in creation. "I only way I can keep them quiet is to say, now little boys, if you don't keep quiet, I will kiss you."

The "Golden Bloom of Youth"

may be retained by using Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription," a specific for "female complaints." By druggists.

"Is that your little boy?" "No not exactly; when he was a week old he was left on the doorstep." "I see, you may say, his step-father."

"John," said a teacher, "I am sorry to have to punish you." "Then don't, I'll let you off this time," responded John.

A quarryman said he couldn't see any danger in smoking while he was handling powder. He can't see anything now.

When is a foot like a heap of snow? When it is adrift.
