SATURDAY.....JULY 30, 1881.

Democratic State Ticket.

For Comptroller of the Treasury:

THOMAS J. KEATING, of Queen Anne's.

THE DEMOCRATIC PRIMARIES for this county will be held on the 13th of August—two weeks from to-day.

THE PRESIDENT is now regarded as in a more hopeful condition than at any period since he received his wound. Last Saturday morning, however, he suffered a serious relapse and grave apprehensions were entertained for his recovery. While the wound was being dressed the patient was taken with a chill which lasted nearly an hour, and was followed by a fever. This unfavorable change in the patient's condition was caused by the obstruction of the flow of pus from the wound, and the formation of what is technically called a "pus cavity" within the lacerated channel. Dr. Hamilton, of New York, and Dr. Agnew, of Philadelphia, were summoned by telegraph, and arrived at Washington at 7.30 P. M. by a fast train, which made the trip from New York in 4 hours and 46 minutes. After consultation with the attending physicians it was decided not to disturb the President, as he was resting quietly, and the fever had partially subsided. During Saturday night there was a slight recurrence of the chill. On Saturday morning the physicians, after consultation, determined to reach the "pus cavity," if possible, by making an incision through the muscles of the back. This was accordingly done, and the channel of the wound was tapped three inches from its outer opening. The spot through which the incision was made was partially frozen by the application of local anæsthetics, and the operation caused but little pain. Pus discharged through the new opening, and at the latest advices the process of suppuration was going on satisfactorily, and no indications of blood-poisoning had been detected. Several small pieces of bone of the fractured rib have since been removed, greatly to the relief of the patient. Dr. Hamilton expresses the conviction that the President is better than at any period since he was shot, and believes that he will recover.

JUSTICE NATHAN CLIFFORD, of the Supreme Court of the United States, died at Cornish, Maine, last Monday. He was born in the village of Rumney, New Hampshire, August 18, 1803, and commenced the practice of law in 1827, at York county, Maine; was speaker of the Legislature of that State in 1834; was for four years attorney general of Maine; was a member of the Twenty-sixth and Twenty-seventh Congresses; was appointed by President Polk Attorney General of the United States; was envoy extraordinary to Mexico in 1848-9, and was selected by President Buchanan in 1858 to be associate justice of the United States Supreme Court. He was, at the time of his death the senior member of the Court, and the only Democrat now left upon the Supreme Bench is Justice Field, of California. His most marked prominence in the public view was his presidency of the famous Electoral Commission which made Hayes President de facto. He voted with the minority seven every time. As a jurist and as a strict constructionist of the constitution he was held in high respect by his colleagues and by the entire bar of the Supreme Court. During several years past his mental powers were very feeble, and he has therefore taken no part in the hearing or deciding cases pending in the Supreme Court. In fact, to such extremity had his mental incapacity reached, that he was incapable of offering his resignation or of asking to be retired from judicial duties.

HON. ELBRIDGE G. LAPHAM was elected a United States Senator by the New York Legislature, on Friday of last week, to succeed Senator Conkling. The new Senator is a member of the House of Representatives from the twenty-seventh district, and was serving out his fourth continuous term. He is known as a friend of the administration as opposed to the stalwart wing of the party. This action relegates Mr. Conkling to private life, where he will find time to meditate upon his follies and, under certain contingencies, to borrow an extract from a bit of his own irony, "to practice a little law."

JACKSON GROVE CAMP.—The annual encampment of the Methodist Protestants at Jackson Grove began on Thursday and will continue fourteen days. The corporation owns a farm of about one hundred and twenty acres on the line of the Baltimore and Potomac Railroad, 17 miles from Baltimore. The grove contains about 14 acres of fine shade trees and numerous springs of good water. The encampment is located on a sandy knoll, which absorbs and shels the rainfall, thus keeping the ground in good condition. There is a large increase in the number of tents this year, and many improvements have been made during the past year. Baltimore, Washington, Georgetown, Alexandria, Westminster and Chestertown will be represented by tent-holders, in addition to Anne Arundel county. The general management will be in the hands of an executive committee, at the head of which is the well known citizen of Baltimore Mr. W. J. C. Dulany. The religious services will be in charge of Dr. J. T. Murray, of Westminster, assisted by Dr. Drinkhouse and Rev. J. D. Kinzer. An efficient corps of ministers has been assigned to support the preaching and other religious interests. A new hotel has been erected, which will be conducted by G. B. Wilbert. The original tabernacle having been crushed by the heavy snows of last winter, a new and larger one, and better adapted to the use for which it is designed, has been erected. The experience of former years suggested many changes and additions necessary to comfort and efficiency which the management have not hesitated to make, though involving a large expenditure of money.

THE new comet, the fifth of the year, is likely to prove an object of considerable interest during August. It will be nearest the sun on August 18, and nearest the earth two days later. Athough visible now only in the telescope, it will rapidly increase in brightness as it approaches both sun and earth, and will soon become conspicuous to the naked eye. When the comet which is now disappearing was first seen, its distance from the earth was only thirty millions miles. Schœberle's comet will never be nearer us than fifty millions, but, on the other hand, it will approach ten million miles nearer the sun than did its immediate predecessor. The probabilities, therefore, are that the new comet will be no mean rival of Dom Pedro's, now sensibly taking leave of us by way of the Pole Star.

THE DELAWARE CONFERENCE of the M. E. Church, which met at Snow Hill last week, adjourned on Sunday. The following are among the appointments: Chestertown, T. H. Johnson; Crumpton, J. Q. Dennis; Edesville, C. H. Hutchings; Fairlee, D. R. Dunn; Millington, E. E. Parker; Sassafras, I. H. Winters; Still Pond, J. S. Willis.

CAPT. JAMES HADDAWAY has been elected president, W. Scott Roberts secretary, and Chas. E. Harman treasurer, of the Carpenter's Island club—a famous club of Centreville, which repairs to Carpenter's Island, in the Chesapeake, every summer, encamps there, and spends a week in fishing and other enjoyments that can be picked up. The club will meet on the island this year August 16.

THE Montgomery Sentinel says that what Dr. Henkle and Mr. Bannon do not know about reform is not worth knowing, as they have been in the business many years and have made money out of it.

THE $2,000 bribery fee that was captured by the New York Legislature was voted to a poor woman whose husband had been killed on the State capitol building. It was, says an exchange, an act of charity intended to cover up a multitude of sins, and this is the last the public will ever hear of the Bradley-Sessions matter.

STEAMBOAT TROUBLES AT CAMBRIDGE.—A committee of citizens of Cambridge, Md., appointed for the purpose, served notice a short while ago upon Capts. Crosby, of the steamer Highland Light, and Leonard, of the steamer Ida, of the Maryland Steamboat Company, and upon Capt. Beckwith, of the steamer Georgeanna, of the Potomac Steamboat Company, that criminal proceedings would be instituted against them if they continued to land freight on the wharves at Cambridge on the Sabbath day. These notices were placed in the hands of the presidents of each of the steamboat lines by the captains receiving them. The result was that Capts. Crosby and Leonard were instructed by their superiors to continue to land freights as heretofore, but Capt. Beckwith was instructed by his company to discontinue the landing of freight on Sunday. Last week Capts. Leonard and Crosby were arrested by a constable, on a warrant sworn out by one of the Sabbatarian committee referred to, and taken before a justice of the peace, when they waived an examination and gave bail for the action of the grand jury. This will bring the matter directly before the courts for adjudication in case the grand jury finds indictments against Capts. Leonard and Crosby. The court does not meet until next fall, and in the meantime the Maryland Steamboat Company will continue to land their freight as heretofore. The Hon. Clement Sullivane has been retained as counsel for both Capts. Leonard and Crosby. The steamboats have all along landed freights on Sunday, but have never delivered any until the succeeding Monday. The steamers all carry the United States mails, and their running cannot be prohibited, nor can passengers be prevented from landing, but the State law imposes a fine of $5 in each case for every employee who is found working on Sunday.

A FIRE in Baltimore Tuesday morning destroyed the L shaped warehouse of Cassard Bros. & Co., extending from Caroline street around to East Fayette street; the can factory of Black and Krebs, adjoining, was badly damaged, and other buildings in the vicinity more or less injured. The total loss is estimated at $120,000.

MR. E. B. EMORY, of the Poplar Grove stock farm, Queen Anne's county, made sale of some fine Shorthorn stock last week to Mr. C. Wright Spry, near Crumpton. The sale comprised one bull calf and four heifer calves, from which he realized $450, an average of $90 a head.

MR. WM. J. JONES, of Cecil, appears to be the coming man for the Republican nomination for Comptroller. The convention meets to nominate on the 12th of September.

PEACHES IN NEW YORK.—A reporter in a late issue of the New York Post, who interviewed the commission men on the question of peaches, learned from them that the Delaware crop was a failure, and if it were not for the Hudson river crop New York would be badly off for peaches this year. The following is what he says of the latter crop:

"Mr. D. M. Wygant, of the firm of Woods & Wygant, said: We deal largely in New York State peaches and expect an excellent crop, both as regards quantity and quality. Not enough has been said about the splendid prospects of the Hudson river counties as the great peach district of the future, but some of the newspapers have overestimated the bearing capacity for this year. About a million and a half of trees are planted, but not half that number are yet bearing. It takes from four to five years for a peach tree to yield fruit. From the present indications I should say that we may expect fully half a million baskets of excellent fruit from the river districts. Of course, the failure of the Delaware crop is a benefit to the North river growers, and I may say that a quarter crop of peaches is better for the growers and the commission men than a superabundance, for when the market is glutted the railroads make all the money that the peaches sell for. The amount of money which the New York peach growers will make this year will result in the planting of thousands of new orchards. The fruit gets to New York in better condition than from Delaware, and the suppianting of the Peninsula peach by its northern rival is only a matter of time.

"Even Michigan sent us some peaches last year and expects to do so again, although this year its crop has failed. A notable feature of the peach market this year, so far, has been the arrival this week of two carloads of peaches and apricots from California. The experiment has been tried before, but never with success until now. Both carloads of fruit were in excellent condition. From other persons engaged in the business the reporter learned that about half the usual crop of peaches is expected."

EFFORTS TO PREVENT INSURANCE GAMBLING.—Mr. Jesse K. Hines, State Insurance Commissioner of Maryland, has issued a circular to agents in Maryland, designed to break up the practice of speculative life insurance in this State. The evil of this sort of gambling has been long felt, and the circular of the State Insurance Commissioner is a step in the right direction. Mr. Hines says:

"It has become a matter of public notoriety that a large amount of business is being done by a certain class of companies in this State in the way of insuring solely for speculative purposes the lives of aged and infirm persons. The insurances so effected being made for the use of persons who have no insurable interest whatever in the life that is the subject of the insurance, are nothing better than a most demoralizing form of gaming. Recognizing this system as being at once contrary to public policy and dangerous to good morals, it is my intention to inquire into all cases that may come to my knowledge in the future, and to appear before the grand juries in the respective counties and the city of Baltimore and present all persons whom I may find engaged in transactions of this description."

ORPHANS' COURT, Tuesday, July 26.—Present, Judges Nicholson, Shallcross and Willson.

Harrison W. Vickers, guardian to Ruth M. Willis, returned his final guardian account for said ward.

Letters of administration on the personal estate of Thomas P. Dixon were granted unto Jas. T. Dixon, who filed his bond in the sum of $4,000, which was approved and ordered to be recorded. Thomas N. Frazier and David Biddle were appointed to appraise the estate.

Letters of administration on the personal estate of George S. Diehl were granted unto Richard S. Diehl and Adam Diehl, who filed their bond in the sum of $3,000, which was approved and ordered to be recorded. Thomas Gale and George R. Beck were appointed to appraise the said estate.

COLORED CAMP.—A camp-meeting of colored people was commenced in Jewell's woods, near Worton Station, last Saturday, which was largely attended on Sunday, the steamers Pentz and Pilot Boy bringing excursions from Baltimore, and the Cannon from points down the river. Quite a large number also came down by rail from Smyrna and other stations. The camp will hold over until Monday, but no excursionists are expected to-morrow. No disorder has been reported.

DEATH OF A WORTHY COLORED CITIZEN.—Sam'l Anderson, one of the oldest and most respected colored citizens of this town, died last week, aged 68 years. He was afflicted and confined to his house for a long time, but bore his sufferings with meekness and resignation.

FINE POTATOES.—Mr. William Burke, of this town, left at our office a few days ago some fine specimens of Early Rose potatoes raised in his own garden. He attributes his success in growing these potatoes to such perfection to the use of coal ashes as a phosphate.

NOMINATIONS IN ANNE ARUNDEL.—The Anne Arundel democratic convention met at Annapolis on Tuesday and nominated a full county ticket as follows: For sheriff, H. Sellman Anderson; register of wills, John W. Brashears; House of Delegates, Dr. George Hammond, Sam'l G. Acton, John G. Hopkins, Frank A. Bond; county commissioners, Dr. D. C. Handy, Jno. W. Williams, George U. Potee, John W. Shipley, Thos. H. Arnold; surveyor, Thos. W. Hall.

MRS. FLETCHER, a spiritual medium, when on trial in Boston for swindling a dupe, asked permission of the court to introduce the testimony of a disembodied spirit. The judge was emphatic when he said "No."

REV. ENOCH STUBBS' daughter, about 10 years old, was severely burned at Chester Heights camp one night last week by the explosion of a coal oil lamp.

REV. S. A. HOBLITZELL, of Pocomoke city, had the misfortune to lose a valuable horse last week. The disease was supposed to be blind staggers.

THOMAS DEFORD, near Centreville, had his hand nearly cut off by a band-cutter knife while threshing last week.

THE EXCURSION TO CAPE MAY last Wednesday was a great success. It was under the management of the M. P. Church of this town, in connection with Col. Gerker, the lessee of the Kent Railroad. The train left Chestertown with a large company, and the number increased at each station; at Masseys four cars from the Queen Anne's road, and at Clayton a train from the Delaware road joined it, so that, reaching Bombay Hook, the excursion numbered about twenty cars, divided into two trains with three engines. The steamer was behind time in reaching that point, and having an excursion on board for Woodland Beach, it took some time to make the exchange, and the great numbers caused the usual squeeze in getting off and on. The late arrival at Cape May, also, gave only about three hours there, which was considerably less than was promised, but no fault is attributed to the managers. There was ample accommodation by the railroad for all in the way of coaches, but if the owners of the steamer do not provide additional seats for such occasions, the fair fame of their excellent boat will be seriously marred. The bathing at the Cape was splendid, and the visitors enjoyed it very much. C. T. Westcott, Esq., and family, and George W. T. Perkins, Esq., and others took quarters at the hotels for a longer stay and a more perfect enjoyment of the pleasures afforded at this popular seaside resort. On the return the steamer reached Bombay Hook at 7 P. M., the trains were promptly made up and departed, and all reached their destination at a seasonable hour without a single accident or mishap to mar the pleasure of the day, other than the jammings and squeezings above referred to in getting off and on the steamer and the "dummy train," at Cape May. The enjoyment of the Methodist Protestants especially was heightened by the presence of so many of the ministers of that denomination; the number including Revs. Neepier, of Chestertown; Little, of Worton; Valiant, of Kennedyville; Greenfield, of Centreville; Jones, of Warwick; Arnet, of Seaford; J. W. Trout, of Baltimore; and W. R. Graham, of Philadelphia. Revs. S. C. Roberts, of Chestertown, and J. N. Watson, of Masseys, of the P. E. Church, also honored the excursion with their presence.

RESULTED FATALLY.—We noticed last week that Mr. John C. Burchinal, residing near this town, had been stricken with paralysis on the previous Sunday night. The disease reached his lungs, and his symptoms becoming suddenly worse, he died on Monday morning. From the time he was stricken he was not able to speak, his throat being paralyzed. He was a young man of many noble traits of character, and leaves a widow and three children.

THE COUNTY LEVY.—The levy list has been made out and will be published next week. It will be gratifying to tax payers to learn that the tax this year is only 74 cents on the $100, as against 80 cents last year. But for a number of bridges which it was found necessary to rebuild, the tax would have been reduced to 70 cents, if not less.

THE P. E. CHURCH.—The work of remodeling the P. E. Church in this town is progressing satisfactorily. All the brick work has been done except the annex for the choir and organ, which will probably be completed next week. Carpenters are at work on the interior of the building, and it is expected that the church will be finished and ready for occupancy not later than the first of October.

THE one that misses the Presbyterian Sunday School excursion to Bay Ridge, on August 4, will certainly regret it. Not only is Bay Ridge the most inviting of seaside resorts, but the other attractions in the way of charming music, cheap, abundant and delicious refreshments and sociable company, are bound to make the excursionist supremely happy. Take our advice and go.

ANOTHER CAPE MAY EXCURSION.—The M. E. Sabbath School of Chestertown will give an excursion to Cape May on Wednesday, August 10. There is no place comparable with Cape May for an excursion from Chestertown and stations on the way, and our people never tire of going. Consequently we shall exoect a big crowd at the height of the season on the 10th.

CONCERT AND FESTIVAL.—A grand concert of vocal and instrumental music will be given at Masseys on Tuesday evening, August 9, by distinguished talent from home and abroad. Also, on Thursday, August 11, at the same place, a free entertainment of the same character. Proceeds for the benefit of St. Clements' P. E. Church. For particulars see handbills.

THE POET PRIEST.—Father Ryan, who has a wide reputation over the country as a poet and lecturer, will lecture in the Catholic church, in Chestertown, on Thursday evening next, August 4th. Subject: "What is the most beautiful feature in the Christian religion." He has attracted the best audiences in the large cities. See adv.

PICNIC AND SUPPER.—Mr. John Brice and his associates on the committee promise to give the people of Kent county a grand afternoon and evening picnic on his beautiful lawn, near Lankford, on Tuesday, August 9. We guarantee it will be a pleasant occasion, and all should attend. See advertisement.

MESSRS. T. R. HUBBARD & SON advertise elsewhere their standard phosphate, for the fall crops. They claim to have at their factory the best machinery in use for manipulating fertilizers, and are prepared to manufacture a first-class goods. Mr. William Houston is associated with them as general salesman.

THE Kent Guards will have a target practice next Monday afternoon, at 4 o'clock, for the handsome prize offered by Mr. C. M. Lucas. The Guards are also to give a series of concerts, commencing about the 15th of August, in which they will be assisted by Philadelphia and Baltimore talent, for the purpose of enabling them to raise funds to visit Yorktown.

TO CORRESPONDENTS.—All communications addressed to the NEWS must be accompanied by the writer's full name and address in order to insure publication. It seems strange that it should be necessary to call attention to this when it is published every week under our subscription terms. jy16-3t.

THE DROUTH.—We had a good shower of rain yesterday, the first for more than two weeks, and the drouth was telling fearfully on corn fields, pastures and young clover. Farmers say that early corn is already badly stunted.

AN important meeting of the Kent County Agricultural Association will be held next Monday. The members should all be present.

REMEMBER the $2 excursion to Philadelphia next Wednesday. See adv.

Undertaking Revolutionized!
NO PACKING OF BODIES IN ICE.
THE DEAD PRESERVED by Cold Air.
I HAVE just received direct from the manufacturers and patentees one of the VERY LATEST IMPROVED PATENT ICE CASKETS, for preserving the dead. By the use of this Casket a corpse can be dressed ready for burial and placed in it and kept for several days or weeks if necessary, perfectly natural, with no odor arising at all. The ice does not come in contact with or touch the body. When in use this preserver has the appearance of a handsome burial casket. I have been in correspondence with all the leading patentees and selected this one because I believe it to be the best in use, as it is the very latest improved. JOHN N. DODD,

NEW SODA FOUNTAIN!
T. W. WICKES,
CHESTERTOWN, MD.,
IS dispensing a purer article of SODA WATER, from his handsome new fountain than is ordinarily purchased in the city, for these reasons: 1st. He has the advantage of home spring water, which is better than hydrant water; 2d. He has the new improved block tin lined steel fountain, which makes any metallic contamination of the beverages impossible; the copper fountains, tin washed, are liable to poison; you are taking a great risk in drinking a beverage which when you discover the poison may be too late to remedy.
Ice Cold Cream Soda Water and all the popular syrups.
