WHEAT—Longberry $1.51@1.58; Fultz $1.40@1.48, for fair to good. CORN—White, prime, 88@90; yellow 71@72. OATS—Maryland 53c.

Letter from Galena.

GALENA, Sept. 21, 1881.

Editors News:—It is a matter for hearty commendation that some of the citizens of our section could show enough respect for our Chief Executive's proclamation to observe it in the closing of stores, shops, &c., and the attendance upon religious services. The Presbyterian Church at Georgetown was tastily draped on Sunday last, and services held on Monday following at 2 P. M. The pastor, Rev. W. W. Reese, presented some very excellent thoughts upon the solemn events of the hour. We learn also that the Shrewsbury and Masseys P. E. Churches were handsomely draped and the usual funeral services observed on the same day. Some of the merchants and other business men of Galena, we blush to say, lacked sufficient patriotism to close their respective places of business in accordance with our President's expressed wish, and the sound of workmen's tools and hum of industry jarred rather inharmoniously upon the quiet air.

One great improvement—the beautiful Odd Fellows' block—looms up in artistic grandeur and is being pressed on to completion with all possible rapidity. It has become a conspicuous object for miles about, and reflects great credit upon the organization that caused its erection as well as upon the contractor, Mr. Thos. Sallaway.

The surveyor for the contemplated ocean ship canal was through this vicinity a few weeks since again surveying the proposed route. There is every prospect in favor of the Sassafras river route. We shall hold our breath and wait patiently. OBSERVER.

[COMMUNICATED.]

Messrs. Editors:—Home enterprise should be encouraged by being patronized. Whilst visiting St. Paul's neat and certainly well kept cemetery, a few days since, our attention was called to some excellent work done by Mr. Register, of your town. The latest is two beautiful Italian marble stones, one to Elma Lamb, wife of James T. Lamb. This stone is certainly very handsome; it has a handsome tablet with bay windows, and is beautifully lettered. The other to the late James Lamb; this stone has a beautiful drapery cut on it, with side tassels, and also a monogram with the letters J. L. engraved in the centre. In the yard of Mr. R. can be seen one that will soon be ready, intended for the late Mrs. Howard Meeks, which is also a handsome stone. It has been purchased by her son-in-law, James Thomas Lamb. MORGAN'S CREEK, Sept. 26.

The Joshua Chapel M. E. Church, colored, situated here, held memorial services on the death of the President last Monday. The sermon, delivered by Rev. Chas. Jones, was very eloquent, vividly picturing before his audience the loss the country had sustained in the death of such a man. The sermon was one truly worth hearing. *

OUR NEW PRESIDENT.—Chester A. Arthur, now President of the United States, was born in Vermont, October 5, 1830. His father was the Rev. W. Arthur, a Baptist clergyman of much prominence. President Arthur graduated at Union College, New York, in the class of 1849. He entered the law office of ex-Judge Culver as a student. He was a delegate to the convention which formed the Republican party. He formed a law partnership with his friend and roommate, Henry D. Gardiner, and the firm of Arther & Gardiner prospered exceedingly. Arthur was appointed by Gen. Grant Collector of the port of New York in November, 1871, and renominated to that position four years later. He was removed by President Hayes in July, 1878, despite the fact that two committees appointed to investigate his administration found nothing on which to base any charges. A petition for his retention was signed by all the prominent men of the bar, and by the business men of the city generally. He was a delegate to the national convention at Chicago last year and supported Grant with the utmost consistency. He was chosen Vice-President with great unanimity upon the Republican ticket of that year. How he will demean himself in the new and responsible position to which he has been called remains to be seen.

DR. TALMAGE ON PRAYING FOR GUITEAU.—The Rev. Dr. Talmage, in an address in the Tabernacle a few evenings since, described a visit he paid to the White House last spring, when he saw President Garfield. "At times," he said, "I am almost sickened, body and mind and soul, that that man of such splendid physique should be lacerated first by the bullet, then necessarily at the demand of surgical skill, till nothing but the call of the Archangel can mend that robust frame; that a man all right should be put out of the world by a man all wrong, [applause]; that a brave woman should be made a widow, that an old mother should lose her favorite son, and the nation orphaned, all because a brainless fool could not get a foreign consulship. On the principle that all men, however bad, ought to be prayed for, I have tried for eight Sundays to get myself up to pray for that wretch, but I can't do it. [Applause.] Perhaps before the day of his hanging I may grow in grace enough to pray for him; but until then I must leave it to the old minister who have got so good that they can do anyteing."

THE Medical Record of New York, in reviewing the President's career, thinks it is quite easy to offer criticism, but also says that it must be recollected that there were peculiar difficulties in the case. "However greatly we may regret that, in view of the great public importance of the case, a correct opinion as to the course of the ball was not made at the beginning and was not proven at the end, it is quite difficult to see how the error could have been avoided." * * * "There is nothing to show that in consequence of that error the patient suffered." * * * * "Considering the parts involved, the strange deflection of the missile, and the extent of its penetration, any satisfactory and safe explanation would have been impossible." It thinks that all doubts in such a direction have been cleared up by the autopsy, and asks, "As nearly two hours were consumed finding the ball at the autopsy, what might have been the chances of extracting the missile during life?"

THE BEST TIME.—Many of our most prudent customers and citizens are now buying their clothing for themselves and boys for the fall and winter. We have everything ready and there is no reason for delay, and there is reason for buying now. You may as well have a house full of Clothing to select from and plenty of time to pick it out, as to come in a crowd after awhile, after the first cold snap has caught you unprepared. Largest stock in Baltimore. Lower prices than all the rest, at C. N. Oehm & Sons, one-price Clothiers, Hanover and Pratt streets. We have not asked permission, but will chance it and refer to to the publishers of this paper.

AN AFFLICTED FAMILY.—Mr. Joseph Guest, of Church Hill, is having a serious affliction in his family. On the 27th of August his wife fell from the front porch step, caused by paralysis, and died Sept. 2d. Her niece, Miss Jennie Harrington, was taken sick Aug. 29th and died on Sept. 23d. The hired girl, Miss Katie Lynch, was taken sick Sept. 21st and also died Sept. 23d, at his house, and still another member, his wife's daughter, Mrs. Wm. Wright, is laying at the point of death, with no hope of recovery.

THE FIFTH CROP.—The Comet, a week or two ago, made mention of a peach tree on the farm of Mr. D. P. Cox having produced three crops of fruit this season; but as a successful fruit grower, Mrs. Elizabeth Bryan, of St. Michaels, is entitled to the prize. She has a peach tree in her yard which now has the fifth crop of well-matured fruit on it. If there is a fruit-grower on the peninsula who can beat five crops in one season, from a single tree, let him step to the front.—St. Michaels Comet.

THE WAYS OF POLITICS.—Gen. Louis Wagner, who was made recorder of deeds of Philadelphia by the powers of the dominating ring, having served his day of usefulness, has been set aside for another fellow, whereupon he sets up a wail in regard to ring wickedness in politics. Gen. Wagner says: "According to the code of ethics in vogue in the politics of today a candidate should have a silver mine at his back, a drinking capacity equal to the camel and be able to smoke like the stack of an iron furnace."

SOON after the noble Garfield was shot on the 2d of July last he asked Dr. Bliss what his prospects were. He said: "Are they bad, doctor? Don't be afraid; tell me frankly. I am ready for the worst." "Mr. President," replied Dr. Bliss, "your condition is extremely critical. I do not think you can live many hours." The President calmly said, "God's will be done, doctor; I am ready to go if my time has come."

PATRIOTIC.—Mr. E. G. Booth, a wealthy Philadelphian, and a native of Virginia, is erecting a handsome villa on the bluff at Yorktown, Va., at a cost of $10,000, for the use of President Arthur at the coming centennial celebration. He has also offered to erect such stands along the bluff for the benefit of prominent visitors as might be required.

As a passenger train was being taken across the Detroit river Tuesday morning the transfer boat was run with such force against the docks at Grass Isle as to throw the sleeping car in the water. There were fourteen passengers in the car, and a rescue was had, but it is feared that one man was drowned.

SENATOR BAYARD ON THE POLITICAL SITUATION—His Views on the New Administration.—The Wilmington News of Wednesday publishes an interview with Sen. Bayard with regard to the political situation consequent upon the death of the President and the elevation of General Arthur to the presidency. He thought comment at present was peculiarly unfitting, but after giving expression to his sorrow, he went on to say that, after all, the country was going under an administration that it had in a great measure prepared itself for; there would be no crisis nor no evil resulting from it. Referring to the question as to the immediate resignation of the cabinet, he said, he, of course, took it for granted that the members would at once resign. Such a course would be proper and according to custom. He said the people would not take in good part any change in the administration that would stop in any measure the good work, for instance, like that against the instigators of the star route frauds, and that Arthur was a dexterous political manager he would, of course, see this, and put off for present, at least, any change in the cabinet. The Senate was democratic when it adjourned, said the Senator, "and it will be democratic when it assembles, and consequently Arthur's administration will be antagonized as intensely as was that of Hayes'." "Do you at present remember how it was that there is no President pro tem. of the Senate?" was asked, to which the Senator said slowly, "I have understood that Vice-President Arthur refused to vacate the chair because of my name having been mentioned to him as the choice of the democratic side. The democrats," said the Senator, "will assist the administration in all good government, but if he takes steps to create cabinet officers who will be likely to cease the prosecution of the star route cases, then not only the people but the democratic party in Congress will antagonize the administration. But this is not the proper time," said he, "to talk about these things, some other time will do better. The future looks bad enough, I must confess. I cannot say more while yet the shadow of death is upon the land."

GOV. HAMILTON has granted a respite until the 11th of November to Felix Munshower, convicted in the Circuit Court of Frederick county for the murder of his cousin, James L. Wetzell, and who was to have been hung yesterday week.

EX-SENATOR WHYTE and Hon. J. F. C. Talbott have been appointed by the Yorktown centennial congressional committee as a committe to assist at the reception of the French visitors in Baltimore.
