Democratic State Ticket.

For Comptroller of the Treasury:

THOMAS J. KEATING, of Queen Anne's.

County Ticket.

FOR THE HOUSE OF DELEGATES:
SAMUEL CACY,
THOMAS A. HULME.

FOR SHERIFF:
ROBERT W. CALDER.

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONERS:
First Dist.—CHARLES P. LOPER,
Second " —TILGHMAN SHAFER,
Third " —RICHARD C. SMYTH,
Fourth " —V. HENDRICKSON,
Fifth " —T. ROMIE STRONG.

FOR SURVEYOR:
H. H. GRESHAM.

JUDGE GEARY, of Baltimore and Judge Miller, of Anne Arundel, seem to take different views as to what constitutes a legal residence. Judge Miller thinks the fact is to be decided by the man's intentions; Judge Geary that his acts control it.

"IF a cowardly Governor will not perform his duty, let the Courts deal with the offenders."

This is the way Gov. Hamilton is referred to by the Frederick Examiner, the special organ of Mr. Gorsuch, in speaking of the officers of registration in that county.

GORSUCH represents Creswell, and Creswell represents Grant and Conkling in Maryland politics. Deny it if you choose, it is a stubborn fact nevertheless, and it will be interesting to see whether the moderate element—the conservative republicans—will swallow such a nauseous dose!

A GRAND DEMOCRATIC MASS MEETING will be held at Easton on Tuesday next, and the following eloquent and distinguished gentlemen are expected to be present and address the meeting: Hon. Thomas J. Keating, candidate for Comptroller; ex-Gov. John Lee Carroll, Hon. Spencer C. Jones, Hon. James A. Buchanan, Col. Henry Page and James A. Pearce, Esq.

MR. PARNELL, the Irish agitator and member of Parliament, has been arrested and imprisoned under the coercion act, for advising Irishmen to disregard the land act, lately passed by Parliament. The arrest caused great excitement in Dublin. The English ministry are determined to maintain law and order, and to exact obedience to the law. Mass meetings have since been held in various cities in Ireland and resolutions passed advising the payment of no rent until Mr. Parnell is released. Other arrests have followed.

HON. LOUIS A. WILTZ died at New Orleans on Sunday last, of consumption. Until compelled by ill-health to vacate the office some three weeks ago, he was Governor of Louisiana, having been elected in 1879. Although he was only thirty-eight years of age, he filled the highest and most responsible position within the gift of the people of his city and State. Lieut. Gov. S. D. McEnery has taken the oath of office as governor as prescribed by the constitution.

LUCKY MISSES.—Mr. Riddleberger, of Virginia, met two of his adversaries on the "field of honor" and escaped unhurt. In the first place the belligerents forgot their percussion caps, and the duel, instead of the pistols, went "off." In the second they forgot the bullets, it is fair to presume, as six point blank shots failed to make any impression on either principals, seconds, surgeons, spectators or adjacent fences and barn doors. Riddleberger fought both of these "duels" in one day and then made a political speech at night.

MR. OSWALD TILGHMAN, of Talbot county, who is a lineal descendant of Lieut. Col. Tilghman, aid de camp to Gen. Washington, and his confidential secretary during the revolutionary war, has been appointed aid to Gov. Hamilton, with the rank of colonel. Col. Tilghman attended upon the Governor at the Yorktown celebration, upon which occasion he wore the epaulets, spurs and gloves worn by his ancestor at the capitulation of Cornwallis, and the sword presented to him by resolve of Congress, dated October 29, 1781, ten days after the surrender.

MAHONE'S speech before the New York Union League Club, where he was introduced by Judge Noah Davis, of the U. S. Court, has frightened the New York Republicans, who justified the action of the Virginian Republicans in supporting Mahone. His ideas of finance scare the business New Yorkers when they hear the expounding thereof from Mahone's own lips. The Post says Mahone's financial crotchet, that the poorer the State the cheaper it can borrow money; and the richer the State the higher the rate of interest it must pay, may do to talk to the Virginia negroes, and even to them it will be most mischievous, but New Yorkers are not such asses as to listen patiently to such stuff.

GUITEAU, the assassin of President Garfield, was brought into the District Criminal Court at Washington on Friday of last week and arraigned for trial. Mr. Scoville, his counsel, fully disclosed the line of defense which is contemplated. An affidavit sworn to by Mr. Scoville alleges that he believes the prisoner to be insane, and gives a list of witnesses through whose testimony he expects to prove this fact; the government is asked to furnish the means for procuring their attendance. As a second ground of defense it is charged that, in the opinion of medical experts, the wound of which the President died was not necessarily fatal, and a list of eminent physicians is exhibited by whose testimony the prisoner expects to prove that the President's death may have been caused by improper surgical treatment. The government is asked to procure these witnesses and to pay them. The court fixed November 7 for trial, and the preliminary question of jurisdiction will probably be argued on Oct. 30.

MR. BAYARD'S DETHRONEMENT.—In accordance with the programme of the Republican caucus, Mr. David Davis, of Illinois, was on Thursday of last week elected President pro tem. of the Senate, to take the place of Mr. Bayard, of Delaware, who had been previously elected by the Democrats. A representative of the New York Herald met Senator Bayard soon after the action of the Republican caucus became known. He appeared in no way disconcerted by the action of the Republicans. He said that, placed in the position the Democratic majority was at the opening of the Senate, it would have been derelict to duty had it failed to comply with the law at once and elect an officer to fill the existing gap in the Government. Something higher than a mere presiding officer to go through the form of putting motions and deciding parliamentary points was then the question. In accepting the position, which he by no means sought or desired—for he had other duties requiring his attention—he did it as the soldier selected for a forlorn hope, who marches out with death almost inevitable and wounds certain. He felt it a duty that he owed to accept the position, and was prompted by no ambitious aspirations. He spoke of Senator Davis in the highest terms as an upright, honorable man of great attainments. The only criticism he indulged in was, that, to be perfectly consistent, Senator Davis, if intending to occupy the position he now does, should, when the vote was originally taken, have voted against him, and thus indicated his antagonism to his selection for the position.

ACCORDING to the Whig the editor of that sturdy old Republican sheet, the Balto. American, should be driven into the Democratic party; and all because the American is opposed to the Stalwarts.—Cecil Democrat.

HE KNOWS.—Mr. Joseph S. Heuisler, in a recent speech at Annapolis, stated that two whole Connecticut regiments have been voting in Baltimore since 1864 in the interest of the Ring! As Mr. H. has been one of the "elected" on several occasions since the date named, he ought to know about the frauds! But his confession is much like the thief's, who repented after the meat was eaten, and he would preach righteousness in order to get a chance to steal more. But—further—the statement, no doubt, is a big lie!

Now that Creswell is on top in the Republican party in Maryland, a grand victory over the Democracy is prophesied by the stalwart element as the fruit of the management of that faction. They say the Blaine faction had about run the party to ruin, and they will now show what can be done. In this they make a big mistake. It was Creswell and his faction that killed and came near burying the Republican party in Maryland before the American wing took hold, and we now prophesy an overwhelming route this fall of that party, partly as a result of the bad odor in which the stalwart wing is held.

REPUBLICAN TICKET.—The republican convention which was elected some time ago for the purpose of chosing delegates to the State Convention and a central committee, concluded to have another meeting and talk about a county ticket. And so on Tuesday they got together in the Court House, and after lengthy discussion pro and con decided to nominate a ticket. We understand that throughout the county there was much opposition to this course—many of the most prominent republicans favoring a passive policy. This action was no doubt taken with a view to assist the State ticket—i. e., help forward the ambitious schemes of Mr. J. A. J. Creswell—and if these gentlemen are willing thus to be put up "to be knocked down" why no one need complain! One of them at least—Mr. James H. Baker—peremptorily declines the proffered honor and doubtless others will follow his example. The ticket nominated is as follows: For House of Delegates, Wm. W. Coleman, of fifth district, Samuel B. Richardson, of first district; for sheriff, H. M. Thomas, fourth district; County Commissioners—first district, Jas. Moor; second, Robert Comly; third, Isaac Parsons; fourth, James H. Baker; fifth, James Kendall.

THIEVES IN GALENA.—The store of Mr. Thomas H. Horsey, in Galena, was entered on Tuesday night last and goods to the amount of about $150 stolen. The robbery was perpetrated, it is supposed, about two o'clock, as just about that hour an effort was made to enter the store of Mr. Jere. Peacock, near by. Mr. Peacock heard the attempt and frightened the thieves away. A file and jackscrew were taken from the blacksmith shop of Mr. Wm. Hicks, and the front door of Mr. Horsey's store forced open—a large pane of glass being broken out, and falling upon the floor without arousing any one, though one of the clerks, Mr. J. C. Rasin, was asleep in a room immediately over the store. The thieves also took the precaution to extinguish a street lamp in front of the store. Mr. Horsey had a case in court on Tuesday in which a negro boy was convicted of stealing $30 from his safe, and on the night of that day the above loss occurred.

On the same night thieves broke into the stable of Mr. George W. Chrisfield, near Galena, and stole two of his horses. Mr. Chrisfield's sons started out next morning in search of them, and tracked them all the way through Warwick and up near Middletown, where they were both found grazing along the public road. They had evidently been ridden that far and then turned loose.

From the number of robberies which have occurred in Galena and vicinity of late, it would seem that a regular gang of thieves curse that neighborhood, and the citizens had better be careful in the future to provide against their raids. Store-keepers should sleep with one eye eye open and a revolver handy.

ANOTHER RAID.—Two worthless curs from Chestertown made another raid upon the sheep flocks of Mr. Wm. H. Stewart last Wednesday afternoon, killing two and severely injuring others. This is the third time within the year that Mr. Stewart has been thus afflicted. The Lynchburg Virginian thus discribes an ingenious trap, devised by a Virginia farmer, to capture sheep-killing dogs:

"Having suffered from the depredations of dogs upon his sheepfold, he built around a number of sheep that dogs had killed, an enclosure of rails twelve feet high and about ten feet square at the ground, the sides of the trap sloping inward until an opening was left about five feet square. Any dog could easily climb such a sloping fence and enter the pen, but not even a greyhound could jump out of it. In three nights the farmer captured forty-six dogs, including fifteen or twenty that had never been seen before in that neighborhood. After this there had been a public slaughter of all dogs suspected of sheep-killing save one, whose master could not be convinced of his guilt. The trap was built for his especial benefit and it caught him the first night."

SECOND CROP.—Mr. William Watts, of Still Pond, has left at our office a small basket of a second crop of peaches, called Pullen's Seedling. They are small, but retain much of the flavor of the original crop. Mr. Watts sold some of them at 75 cents per box.

Mr. Theo. Diel, "Rock Point," states that he has several varieties of yellow fruit and White Heath with a good second crop now maturing. They are about the size of walnuts, and he expects to begin shipping them next week.

JOHN W. CARROLL, the actor and manager, who died in New York on Friday of last week, was born in Chestertown in 1837, and went to Baltimore city just before the war, and entered the dry goods house of Dugan & Co., then on the corner of Gay and High streets. He did not remain there long, but applied to Mr. John T. Ford for a position in the theatrical company. He was engaged, and for a number of years played under Mr. Ford's management, and became one of the many actors started in the world by this manager. Mr. Carroll played minor parts, but was such a gentleman off and on the stage, that he became one of Mr. Ford's standbys. About the end of the war he joined Sherry's dramatic company, which had its headquarters at Harrisburg, but traveled through Pennsylvania. It was not until he joined the Conway Company, under the management of Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Conway, at the old Park Theatre, Brooklyn, that he began to show his real ability. Here he achieved much success as Fagan, in Oliver Twist, and John Learoyed, in the Long Strike. He acted as the Conway's business manager for a time, and then went back to his old love-acting and joined Wallack's company, playing "heavy" parts. He was much esteemed by Lester Wallack. His greatest successes were in The Romance of a Poor Young Man, and The Rivals. About six years ago he took the management of Miss Lotta's company. He acted as well as managed. He was in Baltimore last winter. He was a member of the Free Masons, Order of Elks and the Lotus Club of New York. He leaves a wife, who was Miss Jennie Melville, one of the Melville sisters, whom he married one summer while playing under Mr. Ford's management. She was a tender nurse during his long illness. He was buried on Tuesday from "The Little Church Around the Corner," New York, and his funeral was attended by the Elks and other organizations.

Mr. Carroll was 44 years of age; he was the son of Mrs. Susan E. Barrett, who died of cancer some years since, and his father's name was Samuel Carroll, long since deceased. His nearest relatives now living here are cousins. He leaves some real estate in this town.

THE labors of Messrs. Bannon and Henkle were not appreciated by the Anne Arundel republicans in convention on Tuesday, which nominated a straightout ticket, and they are left to curse their folly in running after strange gods. Serves them right. It was noticeable, says the correspondent of the Sun, that a good many of the O. L. D's were present in the convention, including Mr. M. Bannon. It had been anticipated that a fusion ticket would be the result of the deliberations of the convention, and the nomination of a straightout ticket was, therefore, quite unexpected to the masses.

VISITING ATTORNEYS.—The following visiting attorneys have been at our Court this week:—Hon. J. B. Groome and Wm. J. Jones, Esq., of Elkton; Chas. Beasten, Jr., of Baltimore; and W. Scott Roberts, Esq., of Centreville.

PROGRESS IN CHURCH MUSIC.—The choir of the M. E. Church of this town had a cornet accompaniment last Sabbath by Prof. Perry C. Orem, Jr. The addition contributed much to the volume and sweetness of sound, and was admired generally by the congregation. It will likely become a permanent acquisition to the choir.

HARD ON LOCUST GROVE.—"Mr. Joseph Davis," a colored witness in the case of Louisa Morgan, tried for keeping a disorderly house, in the course of his "argument" on the witness stand, declared that Locust Grove was "naturally a noisy place." Now, as we have always understood the Grove to be a very quiet place, some of the peaceful denizens of that village must "rise and explain" when its nature changed.

IMMENSE FOR CHESTERTOWN.—The amount of Clothing at the store room of Bordley Bros. is indeed very large for Chestertown, and as they seem to be overstocked they are determined to sell very low in order to get rid of this immense stock. Don't spend your money elsewhere when home people (Bordley Bros.) can furnish what you want in their line at city prices. Give them a call.

JUDGES OF ELECTION.—The Board of County Commissioners of Kent county, at a meeting held Tuesday, Oct. 18, 1881, appointed the following judges of election:

First District—Wm. A. Hyland, George A. Ireland, Thos. J. F. Smith.

Second—D. U. Dewees, H. Creighton Wallis, William P. Norris.

Third—Col. George Gale, Luther J. Handy, Alexander R. Parks.

Fourth—John R. Gray, William S. Walker, Levi Fiddis.

Fifth—Benjamin F. Beck, William F. Baker, William W. Coleman.

AS TO THE LOCAL OPTION LAW.—Judge Wickes in his charge to the grand jury Wednesday morning, defined explicitly what, in the Court's opinion, constituted a violation of the local option law. In the opinion of the Court, as has been before expressed, it is no violation of the intent of the law for a regularly licensed druggist to sell on the bona fide prescription of a physician. But it is a violation of the law when a druggist sells intoxicating liquor, even on the prescription of a physician, when the druggist has reason to believe that the prescription was given only to obtain liquor to drink as a beverage. The Court expressed regret that any physician should so far forget the dignity and honor of his profession as to give a prescription that should aid in violating the law; and was of opinion, further, that an amendment should be made to the law for this county, that should impose a penalty—as is already imposed by the law in force in Cecil county—upon any physician who should give a prescription to enable the procuring of liquor as a beverage.

ARRIVAL AT YORKTOWN.—The steamer Mason L. Weems, which left Baltimore last Saturday afternoon with the Fifth Regiment, the Kent Guards and other State Militia, arrived at Yorktown at an early hour Sunday morning. There was a full brigade drill of the Maryland State troops on Monday afternoon, Brig. Gen. Herbert commanding, concerning which the Sun's correspondent writes:

The brigade comprised seven hundred men, including the Fifth Regiment from Baltimore city. The first battalion, composed of companies from Hagerstown, Frederick city, Frederick co., Towsontown and Catonsville, and the second battalion, composed of two companies from Cumberland, one from Oakland and one from Chestertown, Md. The Western Maryland and Chestertown companies are very large and well drilled and officered.

VENDUE NEXT WEEK.—On Friday next, James T. Lamb, at his father's late residence in Quaker Neck.

THE Frederick Examiner, a Grant-Conkling organ, calls the leaders of the Garfield-Blaine wing of the Republican party in Maryland "a Ring of desperate and defeated political tricksters." Yet this ring will no doubt be called upon to vote for the Examiner's particular pet, Mr. Thomas Gorsuch, for Comptroller.

FROM all parts of Maryland comes the good news that the Democratic party is in high spirits, and confident of a glorious victory in November over the Grant-Conkling-Creswell ticket. The attempt to drive the third term down the throats of the Marylanders won't work.

ATTENTION is called to the advertisement in this issue of Messrs. J. C. Densten & Co., proprietors and sole manufacturers of Densten's Antimorbific, or throat, head and lung remedy, Woodbury, N. J. Their remedy is highly recommended.

Chesterville and Vicinity.

Messrs. Editors:—"Jeems the Original," J. W. Jarman and C. H. B. Spry left this immediate vicinity for Yorktown, on Saturday last, with a company that sailed on Harrison's schooner.

Mr. Jonathan Hodgson, Jr., who left this place for Kinsale, Va., last year, is now on a visit here. He is much pleased with the "Old Dominion," and says all that is needed for a man to get along well there, is a little money and plenty of pluck.

John W. Clothier, a former citizen of this place, died at Deakyneville, Del., last week. He was quite aged and had been very feeble for a long time previous to his death. Every one who knows anything about Chesterville years ago, remembers old "Uncle Wes," as he was familiarly called.

Rev. W. M. Warner and Rev. Mr. Chase, of Cecilton, will exchange pulpits to-morrow, the latter preaching at Chesterville at 3 P. M. Mr. Chase has a fine reputation as a preacher.

Extra services will begin in the above church to-morrow night.

Mr. Ben. D. Quimby, having finished selling "raw bone," has now engaged in the sale of Scull's, with which he purposes supplying the Peninsula. However singular it may appear, yet the demand for the article is very great, and is constantly increasing. WALTER.

Galena Items.

GALENA, Oct. 18, 1881.

Messrs. Editors:—A few ripples that disturb the calm upon the quiet sea of life in our pleasant village may be observed with interest by your many readers.

We are creditably informed that the Rev. Geo. S. Bradford announced to his congregation on Sabbath last that the contemplated sale and transfer of the vacated Meth. Prot. Church, in Galena, had been effected, and that shortly the building would be dedicated for the use of the Catholic society, now worshipping at Lambson's.

The new street (Phelps avenue, we believe,) directly east of the main street, in our village, will be open to public use in a few weeks by R. H. Phelps, of Hartford, Conn. It has been surveyed out and several fine building lots already sold off.

The friends of Rev. E. W. Gaylord, late pastor of the Georgetown Presbyterian Church, will be pleased to learn that he preaches at the said church on Sunday next, the 23d inst. The friends of this society held a very pleasant social gathering at the church parsonage on the evening of the 19th, and very many and cordial were the greetings extended to their old pastor and his family. He has visited among his people nearly a week. OBSERVER.

FIFTY HORSES LOST.—The blind staggers or "Pink Eyes" yet prevails to an alarming extent on Kent Island. As many as fifty valuable horses here have been lost within the last two weeks. The most conspicuous indications are a drooping of the animal affected, a lowering of the head and ears, stiffness of the head and limbs, swelling of the ankles and leg joints and a disposition to step tiptoed with the hind feet. The eyes are dull and heavy, and the whites show a pink color with a little yellow, especially when the disease is of the bilious type. The eyes discharge water freely, and in the advanced stage a milky matter. These are the indications of the bilious type. The other type is the rheumatic, and in this the legs appear very stiff and swollen and the animal moves with great reluctance; ceases feeding, with great thirst and breathes quickly with accelerated pulse and takes but little notice of anything. The doctors say when any of these symptoms are noticed the animal should at once be taken from work, put in the stable, kept from food and treated. The loss of so many valuable animals is the result of working them after symptoms become developed.—Centreville Record.
