AGRICULTURAL.

A Model Gardener.

Bill Heiger was a gardener
With edges mighty sharp;
By selling onions all day—
His trade was hard to beat.

He was a man of tender parts,
And thoughtful for his years—
E'en when he cut his onions down
His eyes would fill with tears.

He was so pitiful and kind,
He'd dread to cut his lawn;
But though he'd never shock his friends,
He'd often shock his corn.

A score of carrots oft he'd give
To feed a widow's kine;
Such gems of charity are rare—
Full twenty carats fine.

His wretched horse could hardly creep,
But proped him while he graned,
He said he'd have a better steed
When his celery was raised.

He'd sometimes cauliflower to him
When he had done his work—
He loved it stewed in buttermilk,
Or boiled with greens and pork.

But death at last mowed William down,
And they planted him in loam,
And gave him for his epitaph—
"He's found sweet peace at home!"

Flora Temple.

Flora Temple was small—so diminutive in size, and plain in appearance, that she sold for $12 when a colt, and afterward would have exchanged for as many thousands when in the palm of her greatness and glory. Flora was purchased, when four years old, for a livery stable, a firm at Eaton, N. Y. One year finished her career in the livery stable. In the month of June, 1850, one of her owners started with Flora, in connection with a drove of cattle, for New York, and disposed of the future queen of the turf for $175 to Mr. Velie, of Washington county, N. Y., who afterward sold her to George E. Perrin, of New York, for $550, who commenced training this wonderful mare for speed. Her first race was a match with Vanderburgh's gray stallion for $300 a side, mile heats, the stallion to draw a 250 pound wagon, Flora to go to harness. The mare won her maiden race in gallant style. She was soon after started against some of the fastest trotters then on the course, and seldom found her equal. As a campaigner she had no superior. She was constantly on the go, and slept on the cars with all the equanimity of a veteran tourist.

She was the first mare to beat 2:20, which crowned her Queen of Trotters of her day. She lowered the record, at Kalamayoo, in 1859, down to 2:19¾, which remained unequaled for nine years. On August 16, 1859, she trotted a two mile race with Princess over the Eclipse course, Long Island, winning in 4:50½, which remained the fastest two-mile record for twenty-one years. Flora Temple started ninety-nine times, and made the ample return to her owners of the enormous sum of over $100,000.—National Live Stock Journal.

Treatment of Dairy Cows.

Mr. J. A. Smith, a Western dairyman, writing of the importance of feed and proper treatment of dairy cows, gives some excellent suggestions on this topic. He says that dairymen are often surprised at the light weight of their milk the next morning after a cold rain storm, through which their cows have suffered unstabled, and it is only a natural result of such treatment. The cow does not eat as much, for one thing; and another is, part of what she does eat goes to repair the waste of her system in withstanding the effects of the storm, and that keeps a per cent. out of the milk-pail until she has recovered from the effects of such exposure. It is also true that a cow, affected by short feeding or painful exposure, not only loses in the quantity of her yield of milk, but in the amount of fatty matter it contains. In a word, nature has so organized the cow that she revenges herself on her owner's pocket for cruel neglect and short feed; and a farmer might just as well try to dodge taxes and death as to escape the unwise treatment of a cow. In point of fact, when thus treated, she takes the cream first, and gives the owner what skim milk she cannot assimilate. The only way to get a profit out of her is to fill her so full that she runs over, and take the surplus for your gold mine.

Previous to 1820 the sickle was used almost entirely in harvesting grain; then came the cradle, and between 1830 and 1850 a variety of mowing and reaping machines, but not until the improved cord binder made its appearance a year or two since, was perfection attained. One machine will do the work of six men, so that at the end of the day there will be six hands less to pay, and there will also be six mouths less to feed at the table, thereby saving the women of the household a large amount of worriment in cooking and preparing meals for farm hands. The scarcity of farm labor has compelled farmers to procure the most improved labor saving machines. With the addition of a man to shock, a cut of from 15 to 20 acres per day, binding the grain nicely, can be made. The great economy of the machine will thus be readily seen.

Why not work the bulls? It is no wonder that bulls so often become vicious. They having nothing to do but to "study" deviltry. For some inexplicable reason they are considered too good for any sort of labor. In this age of rapidly doing things we do not expect to see an increase of the use of oxen on the farm. But we have the bulls, and if working them will not only do them no harm but will have a tendency to make them more harmless, why not put them under the yoke? The American Agriculturist says that it is a common thing in West India to work bulls, and that they are so docile that they are handled even by small boys. The bulls are not worked hard, but are handled so frequently that they have "no time to concoct wickedness."

The chemist of the Agricultural Department, in his report, gives it as a scientific fact, that the fittest time for cutting grasses in order to obtain the most nourishment is at the time of bloom. At that time the weight will be the largest in proportion to the nutritive value of its constituents, and the hay will be much more digestible than if cut late, as the shrinkage will be much less.

A Tilt With Time.

LADIES in their attempts to baffle old Time are bound to receive some wounds in the encounter. These, however, they can conceal, as far as the complexion is concerned, by a timely and regular resort to the use of "GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP." Without obstructing the pores, or in any way injuring the health of the skin, it removes from the surface pimples, redness, and the various disfigurements caused by increasing age or exposure to the sun. See that "C. N. CRITTENTON, Proprietor," is printed on each packet, without which none is genuine. Sold by druggists and fancy goods dealers.

FARMERS,

USE

ORCHILLA GUANO

"The Best and Cheapest"

FOR ALL

CROPS.

The history of Agriculture for the last seventeen years records no greater triumph than has been exhibited in the annual results of the use of

ORCHILLA GUANO

IN THE PROMOTION OF THE GROWTH OF

GRAIN AND GRASS

and in the improvement of the soils to which it has been applied. The large aggregate to which its sales now reach, proves at once, its popularity and its worth.

Its claim to favor arises from—

1st. The Valuable Constituents of which it is Composed; being just what growing plants require for perfect growth, and just what is needed to make poor land rich.

2d. Its Perfect Chemical Combination; which no human skill or mechanical contrivance can successfully imitate.

3d. Its Perfect Purity; there being only 1½ per cent. of dross, contained in it. In other words, it is all fertilizer.

4th. And all this at a Low Price.

The most eminent Chemists of our land have repeatedly analyzed it and certified to these facts. But farmers have been so often imposed upon in buying fertilizers, that they have learned caution, and therefore, even so valuable an article as ORCHILLA, has to win its way,

BY ITS MERITS.

This it is doing; and as it makes friends, it keeps them. Those who have used it longest, use the most of it.

Our claim for the value of Orchilla Guano is a high one; but we have the testimony of thousands of farmers who use it, that it is not an extravagant one.

And now comes additional evidence so conclusive that all controversy is silenced:

THE DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE OF VIRGINIA,

WAS ESTABLISHED PARTICULARLY FOR THE protection of farmers in the detection and prevention of imposition in the preparation and sale of fertilizers, the purchase of which, to our day, constitutes so large, important and necessary a portion of a farmer's expenditures. DR. J. M. BLANTON, himself a successful farmer, and for a number of years past, the GRAND MASTER OF THE STATE GRANGE OF VA., was placed in charge of the Department last year, and immediately proceeded to take vigorous measures to carry out the intention of the law. Among other things he dispatched his "samplers" all over the State to obtain samples of any and all fertilizers offered or sold to the farmers of the State wherever they could find any, and forward them to his office at Richmond. There they were numbered and given for analysis to Dr. W. J. GASCOYNE, the Chemist of the Department, who also calculated and certified to the actual value of each, according to the constituent parts he found in them. The result of his work for the fall season of 1882 is embodied in the official report published. In this report, analyses of 76 samples of fertilizers are given; and the commercial value of the constituent parts of each, is stated. According to it, many of them are not worth the prices asked for them! Of those which are, very few can show an excess of 10 per cent., whilst ORCHILLA, far surpassing all others, is certified to be worth about 50 per cent., over the price asked for it! [Send to us for a copy of this Report.]

We take pride in having this high, disinterested and incontrovertible endorsement of our claim that Orchilla Guano is the

"CHEAPEST AND BEST" FERTILIZER IN THE MARKET.

☞ Send for our little book containing verbatim copies of letters from some of the most successful farmers of the country, who have used Orchilla Guano for years and will have nothing else, the burden of whose story is—

"IT HAS MADE OUR POOR LANDS RICH."
