Medical.

SENSIBLE MEN and women knowere this that of the many diseases and derangements of the body each has a separate cause or origin, and that each needs a different method of treatment in order to effect a cure, and a moment's reflection must convince that any of the quack nostrums foisted upon the public claiming to cure all of a number of diametrically different diseases, must prove failures, even if we do not call them humbugs.

POOR PEOPLE and people of moderate means, and even people well-to-do or wealthy find that the enormous charges of practising physicians are a serious burden to them, and also find that after paying themselves poor that no benefit has accrued to them, that in fact they have thrown their money away. To overcome these evils we offer Wheeler's No. 96 Sure Remedies to the sick and suffering, one Remedy for each disease, without for a moment claiming that one remedy will cure any other disease than the one claimed for it, and as these remedies have stood the test of years without a single failure, we agree to refund the money paid in every instance where a cure is not positively effected. The remedies are entirely vegetable, can do no harm, and will positively cure every disease for which they are prescribed.

RHEUMATISM, Gout, Lameness of Joints, Sciatica and Neuralgia are relieved at once and positively cured by the use of Wheeler's No. 96 Rheumatic Remedy. We say boldly that in the worst cases of no matter how long standing, how serious or how painful, we can not only give relief but positively cure for all time. Failing to do this we will positively refund the money paid for the treatment, and if your sufferings are not positively stopped for all time you have not thrown your money away as you would on any other than these guaranteed remedies. The price of Wheeler's No. 96 Rheumatic Remedy is only 50 cents, obtainable from druggists or sent free by mail on receipt of price. Stamps taken.

SUFFERING WOMEN. Many a lady endowed by nature with a pretty face, beautiful figure, faultless complexion, as well as the sweetest of tempers and faultless mental qualities grows prematurely old, gray and wrinkled, her form loses its perfect contour, the complexion becomes sallow, the brightness leaves the eye, a feeling of languor takes the place of the once buoyant spirits, an irritable nervous fractiousness makes life a burden, things that once were trifles worry her till life becomes unbearable. All this being caused by the physical derangements so common to women, which the false modesty of feminine nature prevents their making known, and of which the ignorance of the medical profession prevents a cure. Lady Reader, cause and consider, 'tis a duty you owe yourself, your family and your God, that you should cure yourself of these troubles and once more feel the glow of perfect health and spirits that nature intended for you. Wheeler's No. 96 Prescriptions are pleasant and palatable to take, contain nothing of an injurious nature, and may be taken by all ages at all times and in all conditions without possibility of ill effects, and will positively cure any of the peculiar diseases to which females are subject. Failing to produce a perfect cure the proprietors will refund the money paid for the treatment. If you have a solar complexion, constant or intermittent headaches, backache, restlessness, loss of appetite, suppression of monthly flow, or irregularities thereof accompanied by headaches, nervousness, hysterics and similar symptoms, Wheeler's No. 96 Prescription "B" will positively restore you to health. If you have a sensation of heat and throbbing in the back, frequent fainting spells, Leucorrhœa or white discharge, painful or scalding sensation in urinating, reddish or white deposit in urine, hot and dry skin, Wheeler's No. 96 Prescription "C" will give immediate and lasting relief. The price of Wheeler's No. 96 Prescriptions "B" and "C" are 50 cents each, obtainable from druggists or sent by mail secure from observation postpaid on receipt of price. Postage stamps taken.

CATARRH. It is needless to decribe the symptoms of this nauseous disease that is sapping the life and strength of only too many of the fairest and best of both sexes, old and young, suffering alike from the poisonous dripping in the throat, the poisonous nasal discharges, the fetid breath and general weakness, debility and languor, aside from the acute sufferings of this disease, which if not checked can only end in loss of palate, hoarseness, weakened sight, loss of memory, deafness and premature death if not checked before it is too late. Labor, study and research in America, Europe and Eastern lands have resulted in Wheeler's No. 96 Instant Relief and Sure Cure for Catarrh, a remedy which contains no harmful ingredients, and that is guaranteed to cure every case of acute or chronic catarrh or money refunded. Wheeler's No. 96 Instant Relief and Sure Cure for Catarrh will cure every case of catarrh, hay fever or asthma, price $1.00 per package, from druggists or sent by mail postpaid on receipt of price.

Wheeler's No. 96 Sure Cure for Kidney and Liver Troubles cures all weakness and soreness of kidneys, inflammation of kidneys or liver, price $1.00.

Wheeler's Vegetable Pills are the only remedy that cure constipation, giving natural action of the bowels without physicing, purging, griping or pain. Price 25 cents, of druggists or by mail.

Wheeler's Nervine Tonic for mental depression, loss of manhood, languor, weakness or over taxation of the brain is invaluable, price 25 cents.

WE GUARANTEE Cures in every case or will refund money paid. We place our price for these remedies at less than one-twentieth of the price asked by others for remedies upon which you take all the chances, and we specially invite the patronage of the many persons who have tried other remedies without effect or depleted their purses by paying doctor bills that benefitted them not.

HOW TO OBTAIN your druggist and ask for them. If they have not got them, write at once to the proprietors, enclosing the price in money or stamps, and they will be sent you at once by mail, postpaid. Correspondence solicited. Address plainly Road for Sale.

Notice is hereby given that the County Commissioners of Talbot county will sell at the front door of the Court House in the town of Easton, on to the lowest bidder, the contract to straighten and build the piece of public road between Harrison Austin's and the store of Wm. G. Stitchberry on the Centreville road, as laid down by A. A. Pascault, T. J. Rowins and Charles Rathell, Examiners, and T. F. Chance, surveyor. This road is 249 perches long and is to be thirty feet wide, clear of ditches. All trees, grubs and obstructions of every kind must be grubbed up and taken out of the road, and a good ditch three feet wide cut on each side of sufficient depth to drain the road of all water. The contractor will be required to put in all necessary bridges (the commissioners finding material), and to clear a space at least two feet wide outside the line of the ditch so that the whole width of clearing for road will be forty feet. The entire road must be well raised in the centre so that no water will stand upon it, and the work must be done under such supervision as the County Commissioners may appoint. This work must be completed by August 1, 1884, and the contractor will be required to give bond and security for the faithful performance of his contract. When completed and approved the work will be paid for. By order of the Board,

TUESDAY, 27th inst.,

J. S. ROBSON, Clerk.

By the Light of Day.

Past Impossibilities the Facts of the Present—Help in the New Era.

"I remember when they were putting up the poles for the first telegraph line in the State of New York, and now look there!" exclaimed a citizen of the metropolis to his friend, as the two stood on the summit of the tall Equitable Building in Broadway. "The city is strung with wires like a harp, and electric communication is the daily miracle of the world. People no longer wonder and laugh at it as they did at Morse when he first suggested its possibility."

The age marches on and prejudice must give way. Nobody has a mohopoly of truth. Even the conservative guild of physicians admit that the secrets of medicine are shared by all men. "I dressed his wound, and God healed him," said old Galen. Once that terrible disease, Rheumatism, was supposed to be a shifting local ailment, now attacking the joints and now the muscles. To-day it is demonstrated to be a disease of the BLOOD.

Mrs. Henry Bogert, of No. 454 Atlantic Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y., writes to Messrs. HISCOX & Co., of New York, proprietors of PARKER'S TONIC, that "she had been completely disabled from Rheumatism and pain in the back and limbs. She was advised to take the TONIC for Kidney disease. She did so, and her Rheumatism disappeared. The reason is simple. Diseased Kidneys produce rheumatic symptoms. Cure them and you destroy rheumatism. This is now admitted by all intelligent physicians. It is the new light thrown on their time-worn and mistaken theories.

PARKER'S TONIC which has combination of the best remedies for the blood known to science, is universally successful in combatting this terribly common complaint. Those who, like Mrs. Bogert, suffer from Kidney or Liver diseases or any complaint arising from impure blood, will find the TONIC a prompt and certain remedy. Prices, 50 cents and $1 per bottle. The larger size the cheaper.

MADE ON PURPOSE.

One of those Mistakes(?) Which are More Frequent than Profitable.

"Why, my child, this is not BENSON'S CAPCINE POROUS PLASTER," said a father to his little daughter, after examining a package she had just brought from the drug store.

"Law, Papa! I'm sorry, but I asked the man for Benson's—I know I did, and he took the twenty-five cents you gave me to pay for it with," exclaimed the child positively. "Maybe the drug man made a mistake."

"I'll go 'round myself and see," was the gentleman's comment, as he donned his coat and hat.

"Why didn't you send me Benson's plaster, instead of this cheap and trashy thing?"

"Why, I—I thought that would suit you just as well—and—"

"You thought! you thought! What business had you to think? I don't pay you for thinking, but for filling my order," said the indignant caller, contemptuously. "There take that thing back and give me my money, I'll get what I want elsewhere."

TUTT'S PILLS

TORPID BOWELS, DISORDERED LIVER, and MALARIA.

From these sources arise three-fourths of the diseases of the human race. These symptoms indicate their existence: Loss of Appetite, Bowels costive, Sick Headache, fullness after eating, aversion to exertion of body or mind, Dyspepsia of Dull, Irritability of temper, Low spirits, A feeling of having neglected some duty, Dizziness, Flutering at the Heart, Dots before the eyes, highly colored Urine, CONSTIPATION, and demand the use of a remedy that acts directly on the Liver. As a Liver medicine TUTT'S PILLS have no equal. Their action on the Kidneys and Skin is also prompt; removing all impurities through these three "scavengers of the system," producing appetite, sound digestion, regular stools, a clear skin and a vigorous body. TUTT'S PILLS cause no nausea or griping nor interfere with daily work and are a perfect

ANTIDOTE TO MALARIA.

POETRY.

THE END.

I lay upon the headland height, and listened
To the incessant sobbing of the sea
In caverns under me,
And watched the waves, that tossed and fled
and glistened,
Until the rolling meadows of amethyst
Melted away in mist.

Then suddenly, as one from sleep, I started;
For round about me all the sunny capes
Seemed peopled with the shapes
Of those whom I had known in days departed,
Apparelled in the loveliness which gleams
On faces seen in dreams.

A moment only, and the light and glory
Faded away, and the disconsolate shore
Stood lonely as before;
And the wild roses of the promontory
Around me shuddered in the wind, and shed
Their petals of pale red.

"Oh, give me back!" I cried, "the vanished
splendors,
The breath of morn and the exultant strife,
When the swift stream of life
Bounds o'er its rocky channel, and surrenders
The pond, with all its lilies, for the leap
Into the unknown deep."

And the sea answered, with a lamentation,
Like some old prophet wailing, and it said:
"Alas! thy youth is dead!
It breathes no more—its heart has no pulsation;
In the dark places, with the dead of old,
It lies forever cold!"

Then said I: "From its consecrated cerements
I will not drag this sacred dust again,
Only to give me pain;
But, still remembering all the lost endearments
Go on my way, like one who looks before
And turns to weep no more."

Into what land of harvests, what plantations
Bright with autumn foliage and the glow
Of sunsets burning low;
Beneath what midnight skies, whose constellations
Light up the spacious avenues between
This world and the unseen.

Amid what friendly greetings and caresses—
What households, though not alien, yet not mine—
What bowers of rest divine;
To what temptations in lone wildernesses,
What famine of the heart, what pain and loss
The bearing of what cross!—

I do not know, nor will I vainly question
Those pages of the mystic book which hold
The story still untold.
But without rash conjecture or suggestion
Turn its last leaves in reverence and good heed,
Until "The End" I read.

MISCELLANEOUS.

MACVEAGH TO BRISTOW.

A PUNGENT CRITICISM OF ARTHUR.

The Ex-Attorney-General Gives the Ex-Reform Ex-Secretary of the Treasury Some Telling Points.

Ex-Attorney General Wayne MacVeagh has furnished the Philadelphia Times the following open letter to Ex-Secretary Bristow:

PHILADELPHIA, May 19, 1884.

MY DEAR SIR: I notice that you are announced to address a meeting to-morrow night in New York in support of the proposition that the political career of Chester A. Arthur makes his elevation to the Presidency by the votes of his fellow-citizens more desirable than that for instance of Senator Edmunds or Senator Sherman, or any other of our eminent public men whose names are frequently used in connection with that great office.

As you extorted my admiration and support, and Mr. Arthur's contemptuous hostility, eight years ago, by your efforts to bring the guilty in high places to punishment, I am sorry to find myself differing so radically from you as to the present duty of men who care for a higher and purer public life. But my warm personal regard for you makes me desirous that your speech should be a good speech, even in a bad cause. I venture, therefore, to offer you a few suggestions.

ARTHUR'S LOTTERY OF ASSASSINATION.

At the threshold I ought to warn you that while nobody envies Mr. Arthur the great prize, as far beyond his expectations as his deserts, which he drew "in the lottery of assassination," yet nobody has forgotten the pregnant fact that Guiteau was the original Arthur man, that he killed President Garfield expressly to make Mr. Arthur President, and that he did make him President by that act for nearly four years. Now, in view of this awful tragedy and its results it has seemed to a good many people, outside of Wall street, of course, that a proper sense of decency and of the fitness of things would have led President Arthur and his friends to see that his true course was to be satisfied with the one term thus secured to him and not to challenge his countrymen to review his political career and to express their opinion of it. As, however, you propose to hold up that career as worthy of especial honor, and even of the highest office in the gift of the people, in preference for example to the political career of Senator Edmunds or of Senator Sherman, I will gladly help you to a few points in the line of your argument.

ARTHUR AND HIS MACHINE.

I assume that your first words of eulogy will be devoted to what is your cannidate's chief political acnievement and upon which his admirers have always rested his title to fame—the building up and managing of the Republican "machine" of New York—a machine the latest triumph of which at Albany causes the hearts of all true patriots to throb with joy, for the defeat of Mr. Roosevelt leaves Mr. O'Brien at liberty to continue those "deals" with corrupt Democratic politicians which gave Mr. Arthur his first renown as a "practical" statesman. As the merits of this wonderful mechanism are not generally appreciated as they deserve you would do well to explain them in some detail, and you can triumphantly ask what "machine" did Senator Edmunds or Senator Sherman ever set up or "boss?"

ARTHUR'S TRIBUTE TO CIVIL SERVICE REFORM.

Then you will naturally pass, with glowing words of praise, to the noble attitude Mr. Arthur maintained towards the civil service orders of President Hayes—defying both the President and the Secretary of the Treasury and refusing either to obey their orders or to resign his office. You will no doubt introduce copious extracts from the commission which investigated Mr. Arthur's administration of the Custom House and found it worthy of such high commendation, and a rebuke could be neatly administered at this point to Mr. Roosevelt, the son, by reminding your audience how his honored father was rejected with contumely as Collector of the Port, in order to keep Mr. Arthur in that important office in spite of the expressed opinion of both his superior officers that he was an unworthy official and deserved to be turned out.

ARTHUR AND CONKLING AS CHIEFS.

You will next praise him for the prominent part he acted in the effort in 1880 to settle by packed conventions and the unit rule the voice of a large majority of the Republican party against a third term for anybody and particularly for one whose second term had been as unsatisfactory as that of General Grant. You may, however, feel some personal delicacy in dwelling upon this part of your favorite's career and if so you can easily blame Mr. Conkling for it and represent Mr. Arthur as a reformer in disguise.

If at this portion of your address you wish materials for a pathetic and thrilling picture you will readily find them in some of the well known incidents of the Chicago convention four years ago. You can tell how everybody was determined that Mr. Conkling must be placated at any cost and how everybody begged him not to force Mr. Arthur upon the convention, and how Mr. Conkling refused to consider any other name and by his chivalric devotion to his friend compelled his nomination for the Vice-Presidency. But I would not, if in your place, weary the audience by the details of the grateful return Mr. Arthur has made for this devotion.

ARTHUR'S SINGLE PUBLIC SPEECH FOR DORSEY.

After all, you must reserve your highest flight of eloquence for an adequate description of that occasion where your candidate displayed his true nobility of soul and made his only recorded public speech. I need not say I allude to the Dorsey banquet at Delmonico's in February, 1881. Refresh your memory if necessary by reading the Nation of about that date, and an extract or two from its files of that period would be interesting reading for your hearers. Mr. Arthur's words upon that occasion deserve to be "written on the palms of the hands and worn as a frontlet between the eyes" by every signer of the call for your meeting—if for no other reason—for their praise of the free use of "soap." You can tell your audience, without fear of contradiction, that it was the first and last occasion in our history when one man publicly praised another for bribing voters.

ARTHUR'S DOUBTFUL CONVERSION.

Mr. Arthur's part in the resignations of Mr. Conkling and Mr. Platt, and his conduct at Albany until summoned to Washington by the sound of Guiteau's pistol, perhaps you had better touch lightly. There are some "sentimental" Republicans in this State, as well as in New York and Ohio, who don't quite enjoy those reminiscences, and I would not advise you to dwell too long upon that mad riot of calumny and defamation of the dead Garfield, in which for many months the most intimate friends and associates of Mr. Arthur indulged, without any signs of disapproval by him, and, in the cases of Mr. Gorham, Mr. Hatton and Mr. Hastings, with abundant signs of approval. You will, of couse, admit that when Guiteau promoted him to the Presidency Mr. Arthur was proud to be known as an enthusiastic supporter of the "boss" system, the "spoils" system, a third term for General Grant and the unit rule. He was then fifty years of age, and your task is to persuade anybody you can that his desire for a second term has effected a complete change in the methods, standards and habits of his whole life.

ARTHUR'S MONUMENT'S OF REFORM.

You will offer the appointment of Mr. Chandler to the Cabinet as one proof of this change, and the stab dealt General Burt, because of his services to civil service reform as another. Then by long stages of descent you will interest your audience in the pleasing story of the alliance with Mahone to secure the repudiation even of the compromise bonds forced upon the unhappy creditors of Virginia, the alliance with Chalmers in Mississipp
